Freedom Train To Visit New London
Tuesday, October 17
Special Trains Will Carry Cargo of Rare Important Documents

The Freedom Train will come to New London on Tuesday, October 7, to give the residents of this city an opportunity to view over one hundred priceless documents from the pages of American history.

The Freedom train project is sponsored by the federal government's department of justice and the American Heritage Foundation. Its purpose is to instill in the American people a deeper appreciation of their common heritage and democracy.

Precious Cargo

Two trains are carrying this cargo of historical manuscripts, pictures, and photographs. They are selected to tell the story of America's progress.

Every measure has been taken to insure the safety of the documents. The cars are lined with steel, and the contents are encased in leaden wrappers. They are protected from change in temperature and humidity, from theft, damage, fire, shock of collision. Thirty marines are on duty in the cars twenty-four hours a day.

On Thursday, October 14, Mr. Destler will speak at 11:45 a.m. in the Palmer room of the library at 4:20 p.m. Thursday, October 14.

New MLE Editors To Be Chosen

Again this year Mademoiselle is extending to all would-be editors the opportunity to demonstrate their talents in varied fields.

College board members fulfill three assignments throughout the school year. The twenty best become guest editors and work in Mademoiselle's New York offices for the month of June, get a chance to contribute to a professional magazine, earn, and learn.

New Look Is Featured in the Annual Junior Fashion Show

by Mary Bandy

This year's junior fashion show held Saturday, Sept. 27 in Knowlton Salon, was pronounced completely successful by freshmen, sophomores, and junior guests. The event, which drew a record number of students, was held to raise funds for the class of 1949.

Applicants must submit a trial report consisting of approximately two typewritten, double-spaced pages on any phase of campus life: an academic course, fashion, food, activity, organization, or trend.

Applications should indicate the applicant's occupation and include a photograph of the model and a letter of recommendation from a teacher, tutor, or advisor.

The trial report should be sent to the College Board Reader, Mademoiselle, 222 East 42 Street, New York 17, New York.

United States Must Realize Its Role In Helping Europe

by Dorothy Pauls

The second post war period of political and peace psychology has brought again an expression of the tragedy of our failure to effect a world union.

Economically we are one, culturally we are many. The more we act as one in the economic field, the easier will it be for us to continue the work of reconstruction.

At the moment Europe is looking for some "drop gap" aid from the United States until funds for the Marshall plan are available. This plan was originally sponsored by President Truman in 1948. In the past two years foreign aid programs increased by 135 per cent. Between 1948 and 1950 foreign aid increased by 300 per cent.

The Marshall plan, although one of the world's leading democracies has been consistently supporting the western countries.

The question of the birth of one of the world's greatest authors, Miguel Cervantes, is being celebrated this year in many ways. Courses, lectures, plays, articles, books, and reunions of students will be held in honor of the birth of a famous work. The first ten years of this famous work, "Don Quixote," was adorned with various works of art. A large copy of his lesser work, "The Castle of los Zepoles," was beautifully bound modern edition.

The second part of the book was written by his son, Miguel II, and was published in 1615. A copy of this book is also in the New York Public Library.

The world-wide celebration by the United States is today. As with students, the newspaper is a good textbook; our work can continue.

Around the Town

by Iris Herlits

The theatrical season is once again in full swing on campus, and the shows are better or for worse, and in the course of events, more than ever before. With How I Wonder, a comedy starring Raymond Massey.

The armory, under the leadership of Margaret Reynolds, Mrs. Eleanor Mattes and Miss Louise W. Holborn, is an interesting point that the city of Geneva is itself and its traditions are very dear to me as a lifetime programmer. One of the first things Jean noticed upon her arrival in Geneva was the charm of the Old City. She visited the Catacombs of Madame de Pompadour, and the Swiss coast during Christmas vacation and spent her spring vacation in the lakes district.

The natural beauties of Switzerland impressed Jean greatly. It is an international crossroads of mountains which one views from the Great Wall. The city's old town is the oldest in Europe and Jean found it very interesting. All of her classmates and societies at the university are Swiss and, although Switzerland is the oldest democracy in the world, Jean found her Swiss experience and I hope that many others may have the opportunity to study in the future.

Candidates for News to Meet in Plant Beef Lodge

Thursday, October 1, 1947

The Connecticut College News will be held in the News Office in Plant Beef Lodge on Tuesday, October 2, at 5:15 p.m. This will be an opportunity for all those interested in news and feature writing, or those wishing to take the News course, to meet and discuss their ideas for the future.

The News provides a real chance for the future newspaper writer. The paper is written, made up, and circulated. The activities of the college and the wide scope of all campus activities make for an interesting current news interest. Thus, the News is a means of keeping the college community aware of all its members to become well informed about the various parts of academic life.

This includes students in the senior class. The senior class, in true tradition of Geneva, has returned to Connecticut College this September after spending a year at the University of Geneva. Jean, a passionate and friendly alumnus of the city, is the general appearance of the old city of Geneva. Some of the first things Jean noticed upon her arrival in Geneva was the charm of the Old City. She visited the Citadels of Madame de Pompadour, and the Swiss coast during Christmas vacation and spent her spring vacation in the lakes district.

The Athletic Association

The athletic association is an all-college organization whose meetings are open to the entire college. The time and place of each meeting is always posted on the bulletin board in Fearing and on the athletic association bulletin board in the gym.

Every student within a minimum scholastic standing is eligible for an athletic club in each activity of every season. The clubs are chosen on the basis of interest, cooperation, sportsmanship and skill. A student's skill does not play a large role in his selection to a club; however, as do interest and spirit.

The association awards a blazer to each student belonging to two different clubs, and later, a seal to the students belonging to four clubs, two of which have to be different.

As stated in the "C", it is the desire of the athletic association to encourage play for play's sake: Because of the rapidly advancing Connecticut college Schwiffs, and spirit. So, and as soon as A. A. can find the girls wondered if that bit of jewelry meant their sloop was continuing its cruise to foreign lands.

Importance of Religion to a College Student Emphasized

by Isabelle Oppenheim

Mr. Paul Laubenstein, speaking at the first beaver service of the year, used as his theme The Importance of Religion to the Student. He emphasized that religion basically has the same import for college students as for anyone else.

Religion in general is not hypothetical or synthetic. In the last decade it has been, on the downgrade, and this merely emphasizes its importance. We have had the tendency to set ourselves above God and look for something better, he stated. As John MacMurray said, "What it tells us of moral character we can trust."

"It is hoped that Mr. Ingraham will also be present at the Tuesday night meeting. In any event, he will present his main address on Wednesday, Oct. 8th, at 4:20 p.m. His topic will include the problem of socialism with relation to the present American scene and the prospects for the continual operation of the present capitalistic system in the United States."

Mr. Coldwell will also be present on Wednesday afternoon.

Politics Club To Be Organized October 6

There will be a meeting to discuss the formation of a non-partisan politics club on Monday, October 6, at 5:45 p.m. in box 106. Students from all classes are invited.

Convocation

It is suggested that the music club sponsored an "at home" for the freshmen at Holmes Hall. Members of the class of '31 were the guests of honor, and the two new members of the music department, Miss Ann Very and Mr. Donald Currier, were featured performers in the program. The program presented by Mr. Very, Currier, and members of the music club, was preceded by a short hymn sung under the direction of Mr. Arthur W. Quinlsey, head of the music department. The singing of college songs, led by Lee Poge '48, Shirley Nicholson '48 opened the program by playing Reflections In The Water by Debussy. It is a Brachia Rhapsody. Jane Wassang '50 sang "My Jehovah," by Grieg; "Oueve tes Yeux Bleus" by Massenet; and My Lover Is a Fisherman, by Strickland. Helen Cunningham played for own Theme and Variations for flute.

Sponsor of the program consisted of a German Dance, Mozart; Nocturne, by Lilt Boulanger; and Spanish Dance, by Falla. Mr. Currier played C Major Sonata No. 8, Mozart, first movement; Impromptus. Op. 90, No. 2, Schubert; and Rhapsody in C, Dohnanyi.

Freshman Week

The three service that religion gives to college students, Mr. Laubenstein added, was the integration of the personality. Religion gives definition, direction, and adjustment to all cosmos. We are all spirituals in a sense. Mr. Laubenstein said, but oddly enough scientists and philosophers are leading dogmatists. We deny the existence of absolutes yet we adopt as absolutes everything about us.

What we give college students must gain from religion, Mr. Laubenstein emphasized, a moral and spiritual standards, the respect for law, and the help of a higher being of our self-sufficiency is not enough.

college could be so different from hearny. Friends at home would say: "It will probably take ages before I see anyone," but they will care about them selves," or "That place is like a factory." No one will even know you are there. But when we ar rived college life took on a very different aspect. Gateways of education and friendship opened. Gatherings such as the first banquet in Thursday dinner room, house meet ings, the traditional freshmen pic nic at Buck Lodge, and even the meetings to take exams eddy enough helped us to meet one an other.

New Music Faculty Presented At the Music Club Gathering

At least some of the new-comers to the college community were introduced to each other and to the old stand-bys last Sun day night when the music club sponsored an "at home" for the freshmen at Holmes Hall. Caught on Campus

by Gaby Nasworthy and Mary Randy

Greetings

As a happy-days, now-we’re-back-at-school column, this is going to consist mainly of the latest crop of girls to collect wedding and engagement rings.

Rice and Shoes

Sue Brenner ’49 became Mrs. Jack Geller during the summer also. The Gellers have arranged a nice compromise with their transportation problem. They live in Madison, Conn., and drive their gray and maroon convertibles to New London and New Haven respectively. Jack is one of Yale’s leading tennis stars and is also taking a pre-med course. After his graduation, they plan to move out to the West coast and continue their studies.

Moving on to the sophomores, we find three weddings. Joyce Minsky was married to Martin Shlansky last Saturday in a formal ceremony at the Hotel Pierre in New York at 5:30. Marty is in the process of graduating from Lehigh.

Shirley Baker Gordon, the third sophomore, will stay in school this year, and wants to complete another year. She was married August 31 to Leonard Gordon, in Springfield, Mass., their home town. They haven’t any roosting place at present, but when Bernard finishes school, they’ll live in Philadelphia, where he is to do research work for Price.

A senior married last summer was Betty Lewis Marx, June 11, in Detroit. She wed Howard Marx, her sister’s husband’s cousin—all in the family, so to speak. Several Connecticut girls attended the small formal ceremony. Howard is studying for his master’s degree at M.I.T.

Heather Pease is the pretty lady in tended by Beverly Knight ’30. She met him at Martha’s Vineyard years ago, and will marry him early in December. Allen is studying law at the University of Chicago, which he also hopes to attend.

Roommate solidarity has been admirably preserved by Ellie Al len and Peggy Enyart, who both got engaged last summer. Ellie is promised to Robert Myers, a Princeton man, plus football player, plus tower club member. He’s a senior now, and the wedding is scheduled for late next fall or early winter. Ellie tells with a sigh of the night she received her ring—July 23, at 8:03 p.m. after making him sit down and observe reverent silence until the “Lone Ranger” was over.

Hank Williams is Peggy’s fiancé. He’s from Akron, as is Petey, and will graduate in the fall from Wharton School of Finance, in Philadelphia. After a real June wedding, they’ll live in Akron, where Hank has a job lined up with Goodyear.

Enid Willard is betrothed to Bob Anderson, now a first-classman. They met at the Soph Hop (take note please) in the spring of 45, on a blind date, which Enid liked with all her might to malinger off. They became engaged at the C.G. ring dance last year, surprising no one, and will be married in Binghampton, N. Y., right after graduation.

D. S. if we have omitted any engagements or weddings, we apologize.... our under cover agents have been somewhat undone by three months of peace and quiet. Will you let us know about any additions and we will print an appendix to Life and Loves at C.C. next week.

Rumors Are Flying

Fascinating tales of cloak and dagger adventures are seeping over the campus about the doings of Ellie Roberts ’48. Ellie, senior class spectactress in absinthis, has been in Europe as C. C. delegate to the Prague Festival this summer. Her picture appeared in the New York Times in connection with certain unorthodox procedures, and she is still wandering around the Atlantic, so we are as yet unable to verify any of this intriguing scuttlebutt.

After graduation he will go into aerodynamic engineering, stress analysis and aerodynamics, no telling about future residence, but he will probably go west.

They Popped the Question

Now to get down to the serious business of engagements.
