Wig and Candle and Athletic Ass'n Open School Year With Programs to Interest Every Member of Outstanding Freshman Class

by Mary Ann Handley ’58

President of AA

On behalf of the Athletic Association I would like to welcome you as a new member of the Connecticut College Community. The Athletic Association is one aspect of college life in which we hope everyone will want to participate because it provides a wonderful opportunity to meet girls from other classes and also to get to know those in your own class a little better. Every member of the student body at Connecticut is automatically a member of the Athletic Association, but it is the type of organization in which the amount of participation is up to the individual. There are many things for students to take part in, and we really hope that you will find lots of aspects of AA that will interest you.

I would like to take this chance to tell you a little about our Fall program, and how you will be able to join us to make the AA your own. Swimming and soccer are the main sports in which the AA provides class competition. You do not have to take these two sports yourself. Our class is divided into three groups for the AA season. Each group has a class manager in charge of the group. Your class manager is the person you should vie with for participation in the AA. You may want to take any other classes as well. In order to make a class team in one of these sports, it is necessary to attend three practices.

Each class has a class manager who will let you know the time of your class practices. If you do not get wind of this information through your class manager or your dorm representative, be sure to look on the AA bulletin board in the Post Office which will always inform you of any events you may want. Usually there is class competition within certain gym classes such as archery and riflery. Many of you may be tennis enthusiasts. Come on.

Reception Planned For Freshmen and Coast Guard Cadets

Now hear this! Now hear this! This is the Service League speaking. Attention all Freshmen, Foreign Students, and Transfer Students. Are you ready? Let us all be as many of you as possible.

The reception consists of an informal dance to be held in Knowlton Salon. The Cadets will arrive at the several hours before. The very evening of the beginning of the evening; but sticking for the date is not yet frozen upon, it is absolutely forbidden. Since the purpose of the reception is to have Connecticut girls and Cadets meet as many of each other as possible this is one of the few chances for legal birdboggling that will come your way. There is no need to worry about a shortage. 254 Fourth Classmen will be on hand, and 130 of the other classes have requested permission to attend the affair. Establish your contacts now, for there are many formal dances and afternoons of socializing to be enjoyed at the Academy across the street.

A reception program of President Park, Dean Burdick, Dean Oakes, and Dean Noyes from the college will open in the Union, and the Coast Guard Academy's very top brass will be formed to the presenter. In case of emergencies, the House Juniors will stand by with immediate relief. Connecticut's own Sheriffs will provide entertainment. Service League has also arranged minxies with Trinity and Yale. The Trinity mixer is here on Friday, October 12, and the Yale mixer is here on October 19. Details on all these mixers will be forthcoming.

Beginners in every endeavor are over-whelmed at the outset of the new phase of their existence by “good advice” from every source. You, as members of the freshman class of 1958, with your new environment, have already received information from countless sources. This information varies from personal advice freely given by parents and high-school advisers, through words of wisdom from fellow classmates, from members of the administration, and from friends of our Student Senate. To try to condense what we would like to add a few comments of our own.

Connecticut College is a small, hard school to stay in. Statistically this would seem to be the truth, but a more superficial glance at the figures will reveal something else. Here, in nearly every case, there is our “freshman problem.” As is true elsewhere, the student who is happy here stays here. One way of making the adjustment to college life is to feel that you personally belong and that you personally are doing something to the community as a whole. This feeling can be achieved in several ways, not the least of which is by participating in an extra-curricular activity. We know from the advice that we got when we were entering college that almost everyone has heard of “Dormicular activities during your freshman year.” We think this statement comes under the category of “hype.” You will find many activities active in your first year; and this is time that you cannot afford to lose by spending it in “hype.”

Connecticut is fortunate in having a wide range of activities that are designed to fulfill almost any special interest that the student may have. In this paper you will find many of these activities described. Find one of these and make it your own, for doing so you will take the first step in gaining that elusive sense of belonging.

College Awaits Freshman Choir To Make Down Sunday Night

All the “old” Connecticut College girls who are with the Freshman Choir with enthusiasm in order that the new talent will be added to the fray during the week. The choir is composed of nearly every student and many new students. Attention! All students are invited to join the choir. All who are interested will be more than welcome. The choir meets at 7:00 p.m. Monday, September 30.

Talent lurks in the hearts of all, Conn. Give ConnCensus a chance to find you. The above statements are this year’s plea to all who are interested. Be sure to send in your application early in the year. If you do not get in, you will be automatically placed on the waiting list for next year’s competition. The ConnCensus staff members are looking forward to your application.

Extra, Extra ConnCensus

Copies of ConnCensus are distributed to the students with out-the-spot charges because student copies are paid for by advertisements. If you who wish to place copies for parents, relatives, or friends may make such arrangements by filling in the following blank:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Address State</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>City</td>
<td>State</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Cut the above blank out and send it with three dollars ($3) per thousand to 308 BROTTONS, PO Box 1011, Campus Mail. The $3 charge represents cost of paper and postage, early is essential.

The beginning of the year at Connecticut College is to eat in the Stockade. The food here is so bad, so the students have a twenty-cent extra. It is right on the way to the Cafe Theatre—other movies are not as good. While you are in town, order down Bank Street, one of the most famous streets in the country. One of these is a tiny place called The Grillet. If you get the gummiest hairpin. At Malachy's, you may join the in-lated category. our favorite is Baskin's. Yours truly.

From past experience we know that as far as the dormitories and the snack shops simply do not suffice. Easily within walking distance is Ill's, which has just come from the Court Guard Academy. Bill himself is just as imitatable, as he must have been, and he is on his second tour of duty. Those who happen to enjoy meals consisting of a-la-carte service which I have mentioned before, we were somewhere on the outskirts of town. This place has good-leftovers food and remarkably rapid service, very good for things like meat and a good cocktail menu and features fowl. Their. Everything is sold with a receipt and quarter bulletin boards to choose from. The staff will be on a roll, low, low, price. We will be able to give you a good start, the organization can follow this, and the Associated Collegiate Press. After all, the Holly House share the convenience of being located very close to the center of campus. It has moderately up-to-date menus. Down the hall way you will see that the various specialties of the house are sold as individual specialties, but the marvelous selection of food is what makes it valuable. This establishment may even be called a chef restaurant. The specialty is of course, but you are more than welcome to try the food. The place is particularly crowded on Friday nights with the natural result of slow service, so if one plans to eat here before a movie, starting a bit early is essential.

Back in town—walk down Bank Street, be sure to go to the square with a status in the middle, the Trade-Wo. Right in this general area are Dante's and the Cor- d, both of which will deliver your plans. Also in this area is a rather good Chinese Restaurant named Wong's. This is not to be confused with any food places to go to for evening. New London is rich. A small re- tail square with a status in the middle, the Trade-Wo.
