Conservation Poll Reflects Varied Student Opinion

By Nancy Yanes

Last Sunday night the Presi- dent's dinner was ac- cepted by the nation a plan for conservation. The plan is three-fold, including the farmer, industrialist, and consumer. Each part of the plan is, therefore, a part of working on the staff must not be overlooked. So don't fail to try out now and urge your friends to do the same!

Currier and Very To Present Joint Recital October 16

Mr. Donald Currier, new in- structor of music, and Mrs. An- nabelle Very, new assistant in the music department, will present a joint recital October 16 in the auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Currier is a graduate of the New England conservatory of music and received his Master of Music degree last June.

Mrs. Very won highest honors in her class and has been chosen to perform with the school. She did private teaching last year, and is now teaching violin and theory.

For her portion of the program, Mr. Currier will play Toccata in D, Bach; Impromptu, Op. 90, No. 1, Schubert; Ballade in F Minor, Chopin; Impromptu No. 5 and Piano Sonata No. 6, Schumann; Toc- cata from Le Tombeau de Cons- tant, Ravel.

Mrs. Very will play the Allegro con spirito and Allegro from Sonatas No. 4 and 5. The Allegro con spirito is from Beethoven; Opus, Op. 25; Chausson; Chanson Louise XIII, Debussy; Vocalise, Op. 34, No. 14, Rachmaninoff, and Spanish Humas, Arthur Benji-

Women's League to Sponsor Lectures

The New London League of Women Voters is sponsoring a series of lectures by Dr. Destler and Dr. Cross on the currently important topic of the Marshall Plan.

Dr. Destler will deliver the first three lectures on October 9 in Hall 100 at 8:00 p.m. His talk will deal with the political and economic background of the Marshall Plan.

Dr. Cross' lecture will deal on the eco- nomical implications of the Plan on Tuesday, October 14, in Hall 100. A series of lectures of the series will be heard on Thursday, October 16. The series will be heard in Hall 100 at that time. Dr. Destler will discuss the previous lectures of the lectures of the Plan.

The foreign policy section of the League is responsible for the lectures. Recognized the importance of popular acquaintance with the Marshall plan, it secured the co-operation of Dr. Destler and Dr. Cross.

Tickets for the three lectures are available for one dollar at the information office in Fanning.
Free Speech

Dear Students:

Although the year has only begun, we feel sure that the students who would like printed in Free Speech. But so far only a few letters have reached us. Are there no important issues at Connecticut which need discussing or are students become passive about campus affairs?

Dear Editor,

Yesterday’s speeches auger well for the start of this year and the convocation series. It is a compliment to our faculty’s wise planning that they are selecting representatives from both campuses and reviewing suggestions come from student sources. It is fine to theorize about social and political problems, but we can certainly gain more insight into them if we understand them from a practical point of view rather than from insulating their functions from a text book.

We hope our readers are, as we are, eager to help free speech. Let us all help our campus as we would like to see our campus as an enlightened community, as well as a democratic one.

Sincerely,

The Editor

American Politicians Forget World Duty in ’48 Campaign

by Peggy Flint

In the light of the enormous problems of food and inflation that are facing the world today, it is disturbing to see the general indifference to the world at large displayed by our American politicians. It is easy to theorize about social and political issues which are facing the world today, but it is more important to face them.

Circulation Managers: Dorothy Inglis ’48, Mary Jane Patterson ’48

Dear Editor,

The lead traveler has returned: Elle Roberts ’48, our delegates to the World Youth festival at Prague, returned by plane yesterday afternoon. We know we are speaking for the whole college when we say we are happy to hear her report. We are looking forward to hearing her report to the college for we know she will have much of interest and value to tell us.

Sincerely, ’49

H. Cross Tells of Britain's Plight in Thursday Talk

by Elaine Title '09

"People in Europe have suffered from war in more than a material way," said Dr. Hartley C. Strang, professor of economics in a talk sponsored by the Palmer Library on October 2, Dr. Strang told the audience in the Library as he reviewed the economic development of Europe as he saw them this summer. He complimented Great Britain because they have been the least affected by the war because he considers them the most significant power in western Europe.

Great Britain and other Euro pean countries suffered from the spiritual, he continued. The up set order, due in large part to the war has caused an appalling swing away from the mor e religious ideas. This has caused an amazing increase in crime—tapes of the mind in a particular situation, which he said indicates the presence of terrifying social conditions. There is a huge increase in gambling, for another example, because people have nothing to bet their money on.

There follows, of course, a political problem, he went on. In order to establish the necessary re- construction, Socialist jet-wing governments have attained tremendous power. This is due to a good example of the normal survival of species from the capitalist regime which the people believed them to belong to the German group. In fact, he is not only one of the most powerful figures in Europe at present. The government party is backed by the majority of the people in Britain who believe its "New Order" policy, and the other political parties are not. Everything, he said. It is also significant that all nations depend on the United States to put the world back together again. He used the names of the United States and Germany to describe the economic state of Europe as it is now.

The economic problem is grave. Britain can export only two things as much as she must import. Manufacturing and mining are crippled by enormous coal supplies and lack of labor. The

Marchal, Famous French Organist, To Play Here In Chapel October 16

A committee was appointed by the Church of St. Eustache, Paris, with an orchestra in the Church and a Jesuit in Harritson chapel Sunday afternoon, October 15, at 3:30 p.m. Marchal, the famous French organist, will give a recital at this service. He will also give other programs outside of Cleveland, of which this recital is the first.

The affair is sponsored jointly by the music department and the Hartford Chapter of the American guild of organists. Tickets will be sold at Holmstalls and Ellwagen Hall, and are priced at $1.00.

College Announces 2 Radio Programs — A Week This Term

Mrs. Josephine Hunter Bay, director of college radio, announced that regular broadcast will take place twice weekly, two radio programs called "Freshman Recital Introduces New Talent to College Group." in the fall. The program will be broadcast over the facilities of station WNLC, New London, which gives the following programs:

1. Program will be offered by students and the college and the other by the University of Connecticut, Fort Trumbull campus.

2. Program of the Fair which will be voted on at a later meeting.

Beverly Tucker opened the program with "When Winter's Let," directed by Professor Paul Beem, who was accompanied by a piano and the organ. Beverly Tucker also presented plays by Ibsen, and Shakespeare for several years.

A.A. council was very pleased to have the members of the gym department present at their last A.A. meeting Tuesday, September 30th. Happy Marshall, A.A. president, spoke for the whole council when she welcomed the faculty members to the meeting and expressed the hope that this year would prove to be one of 100% cooperation between council and student body. It was one of the most successful meetings that A. A. had in many months, for the faculty members rendered many very helpful suggestions to some of the important matters on hand. Many thanks.

ATTENTION FRESHMEN

It is an A.A. ruling that no freshman may take more than one club in the fall season, a fact which many freshmen still do not know. For instance, if you are taking hockey this fall and should make the tennis club, then you cannot, by this ruling, also make the hockey club.

The reason for this ruling is that too many freshmen tend to neglect their work for sports in the season when marks are far too important. It is a ruling primarily for the welfare of the freshmen in these first three months so that they may devote their best efforts to their work. For those who are still confused, the president at A.A. or any member of the gym department will be glad to talk to you about it.

Just a little reminder of the facilities offered by A.A. to all you student, ambitious gals. There are eight clubs available at Grace Smith (see last week's GYMANGLES), and baseball equipment for all you Dodger and Yankee fans.

One opportunity which cannot be over-emphasized is the proximity of the riding ring and the trails. If you can't ride, learn; if you can ride, well, we'll see. You can stand a little practice now and then. How about taking your dates riding some Saturday or Sunday while the good weather lasts? Mr. Vaunelli and Mr. Porter are always there and always willing to make your riding pleasant and instructive.

already under way. Neither the Democratic party which controls the presidency nor the Republican party which controls Congress wants to be maneuvered into a position where it can be blamed for higher prices.

In a move to meet the immediate problem of food for Western Europe, President Truman made an appeal to the people to conserve, by voluntary methods, the food Europe needs. An appeal to Congress to vote the funds and the controls necessary to make the program work.

As citizens of the world and of the community, we of Connecticut college have a moral obligation to support the president's program. Connecticut now feels that we should not only support the presidential program, but also that we should initiate a specific food conservation program for Connecticut college dining rooms.

This program will include a pledge to eat only one slice of bread or roll per meal, to cut down on individual waste by estimating more accurately one's appetite, and to sign out for meals one is not planning to eat at any time.

The second part of our program would be to conserve by the student body not to defeat our purpose by eating double helpings of the food that is wasted in the dining rooms.

Caught on Campus

By Mary Bundy and Gaby Nosworthy

There's no need to rush, for the time is now. Here it is, the completed array of summer romances. May we repeat, if there are any of this species of celebrity who have left us out, tell us about it.

More Rice and Old Shoes

A Conn. College wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rice. The bride, a senior, was mailed into service at the start of the semester.

Nora Johnson '49 married Harriet Conklin of Monroe, Mon-roe, Mich.-igan, September 4. This seems to have been all very sudden, as no announcement has been made.

Steve Lowry, a member of the music staff, married Dorothy Horner of Tuckahoe, N. Y. Edmund Lockwood, a member of the library staff, married Marion Peterson of Providence, Rhode Island, Sunday, September 7. Edmund is a member of the library staff, and Marion is a secretary in the insurance company.

The latest engagement, announced last Saturday, is Sela Stern this Summer, and after a whirlwind romance is going to marry him. The wedding will be held in June, in Princeton, N. Y. They'll be married in June, in Princeton, N. Y. Ginny's home.

The Harriet Conklin-Donald Johnson wedding was held in the church, December 6, in Grace Church, Brook-lyn, The object of all those trips to Princeton last year, Stephen, is an instructor there, working on a fellowship in engineering. Pete and Stephen will live in the town of Princeton.

More Questions Popped

Ginny Rocke became engaged September 6 to Edmund C. Grattle, of Tuckahoe. N. Y. Edmund has finished college, and is prac-ticing law in New York City. They'll be married on a weekend in June, in Westport, Conn.

The latest engagement, announced last Saturday, is Sela Wudham's to Dick Barker, a sophomore at Yale. They have no definite plans for the future, but their betrothal was given great attention in the Bridgeport Herald, which ran a large bold headline—"Dick and Selia Engaged."

Jan Lieberman 48 met Jerry Stern this Summer, and after a whirlwind romance is going to marry him. The wedding will be held January 6, and they will go to Europe soon after.

Ride 'Em Cowboy

Polly Green, '49, tells us of high adventure in the wooly West last Summer. She traveled with a rodeo troupe, which doubled as a dance band after hours. Her career, which listed approximately two weeks, called for widespread talents.

She traveled with the company from her home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to Ada, Oklahoma, helping in the "chuck wagon"—that's a kitchen—taking tickets at the band's dances, occasionally downing with bashful stage to encourage attendance, and nursing the cuts of several horses, hurt in an accident on the road.

And at each show, Polly rode beside the big boss in the Grand Entertainers. She didn't compete, however. This outdoor life, spent night and day in the same pair of bluejeans and duds, ended abruptly at Mrs. Green's insistence.

Pride of Connecticut

At a recent Princeton game, Peter Hursh, '48, and George Mind were engrossed in the play, when George remarked of one of the players, "Somebody ought to knock that guy loose." Piped up our editor, "Lucet? Why, George, I don't see him on the program." We're proud of you, Peter, proud.
