Community Works
To Promote Peace

by Mary Ann Sill

Nearly 50 students and representatives from all phases of the New London community such as Draft Resistance, the South Eastern Connecticut Appreciation Project, Waterford High School, The Day, and the Submarine Base at Groton attended the second organized meeting for the October 15 Vietnam Moratorium on Friday, October 12.

Katie See, President of Student Government, opened the meeting by outlining the activities for October 14 and 15. There will be a Memorial Service on Tuesday evening followed by a Candlelight Vigil at 8:00, a symbolic gesture in preparation for the Moratorium.

Several seminars will be held in Crouter-Williams’ Main and Student Lounges Wednesday morning. These discussion groups will be led by professors of history, economics, sociology, and English, as well as other concerned faculty members.

Seminars topics will include the history of American involvement in East Asia and the American attitude toward this involvement, the economic aspects of the war in terms of private industry as well as government spending, the guilt thesis of the war, and domestic problems of the country.

The seminars will be followed by a rally at 12:00 outside Fanning. Katie will read the Moratorium Statement, and a general meeting will be held in preparation for the march to New London at 1:30.

The exact program for the Moratorium will be read either in front of the Court House or at the War Memorial.

At 3:30, the group will move to the Submarine Base at Groton and picket the entrance. It is hoped that some Navy personnel will join the students.

A fast is also being organized. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Following the last Student Trustee Committee meeting last spring, the Board of Trustees voted on May 16, 1969 to pass the following resolution:

"We the trustees recognize that there may be moral implications involved in College investments. "Further, we feel that in our investment decisions we can and should weigh the point of view of the College community." Preoccupied by student concern over this college’s investment in Dow Chemical Co., it was agreed by the Student-Trustee Committee to consider this year the general issue of College investment in the Military-Industrial Complex.

Thus, it appears appropriate at this time to reveal, however super-

Consumers Unite In Community Cooperative Business League

by Patricia Strong

The Cooperative Consumers of New London, Inc. is an organization formed by members of the community for the purpose of owning and operating businesses in the New London area.

The first venture of this organization, which was formed on January 16, 1969, is a cooperative grocery store to be located on Main St., the site of the old Beilt Brothers store.

Purpose of the CO-OP

The purpose of the Co-op is twofold. First, the cooperative supermarket will attempt to make a large profit while selling quality items at reasonable and competitive prices.

Secondly, the co-op will attempt to aid the unemployed and the unskilled employed by training them for jobs ranging from cashiers to managerial positions.

Funds to begin operation of the cooperative supermarket will be obtained from the sale of shares, which are selling for $50.00 each, may be purchased by any resident of the State of Connecticut.

Anyone interested in buying stock in the co-op may contact Donna Rosen in Windham or address inquiries to Box 1373, New London, Conn., 06320.

There is as yet no limit to the number of shares which may be purchased by an individual. Approximately $3700 worth of shares has been sold to date. The Cooperative Association must bring the total up to $5000 by December 31, 1969 in order to begin operation of the store.

Management

The cooperative supermarket will be managed by a board of managers comprised of local businessmen and interested citizens.

The incorporators, sponsors and board managers of the cooperative will receive no compensation. Their only investment constitutes of freely giving their time to what they consider a worthwhile project.

Every individual, regardless of how many shares he owns, has one vote.

The corporation will be run (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Former Beilt Brothers will become site of new cooperative grocery store.

Trustees Review Stock Holdings

by Linda Mann

Students receive instruction in draft counseling.

The Connecticut College Draft Resistance Group last week made several concrete moves toward its goal of bringing to light its charter: "...to create a more realistic awareness of the situation in the Connecticut College and the New London communities."

Spoking "to establish an active atmosphere of awareness here," co-leaders Phil Fergione and Mark Levin, will participate in an informal seminar at Conn on October 15, discussing questions about the Vietnam War, the Selective Service System and alternatives to the draft.

The Draft Resistance Group will publicize peace activities and act as a medium for persons who want to participate.

Interested students may attend a training session for potential draft counselors October 17-19 at the New England CNVA (Committee for Non-Violent Action).

A Memorial Death March of Americans, equivalent in number to those Americans killed in Vietnam, is scheduled for Nov. 13-14, in Washington, D.C. Also, on November 15, a mass march and rally will be held in Washington and San Francisco.

Training in "Active Nonviolence" will precede the marches, Nov. 7-9 at CNVA.

The Draft Resistance Group plans a campus radio program "to give us a platform to express our views" and a coffee house to be open every night, Levin stated.

The two leaders also hope to present a film series from Wesleyan on current anti-war activities.

Students may obtain tickets to hear Senator Eugene McCarthy speak on Thurs., Oct. 23 at the Service Desk in Crosser-Williams on Thurs., Oct. 16. Students may pick up only one ticket from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. and from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. on Thurs. Faculty members will receive one ticket. There will also be tickets on sale in Palmer Auditorium by calling 442-5391 on Thurs., Oct. 16.

Students, Faculty and the public, who are unable to obtain seats in Palmer Auditorium may obtain tickets to Charles A. Dana and Oliva Lecture Halls in the Cummings Music and Art Center where Sen. McCarthy’s speech will be piped in.

TRUSTEES REVIEW STOCK HOLDINGS

by Linda Mann

These shares, which are selling for $50.00 each, may be purchased by any resident of the State of Connecticut.

Approximately $3700 worth of shares has been sold to date. The Cooperative Association must bring the total up to $5000 by December 31, 1969 in order to begin operation of the store.

Management

The cooperative supermarket will be managed by a board of managers comprised of local businessmen and interested citizens.

The incorporators, sponsors and board managers of the cooperative will receive no compensation. Their only investment constitutes of freely giving their time to what they consider a worthwhile project.

Every individual, regardless of how many shares he owns, has one vote.

The corporation will be run (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Former Beilt Brothers will become site of new cooperative grocery store.

TRUSTEES REVIEW STOCK HOLDINGS

by Linda Mann

...Active onviolence
Satyagraha

Editorials . . .
Up From Tokenism

At last Thursday's Ad Hoc open forum, devoted to a discussion of the Instruction Committee, one of the ideas which evolved from the discussion was the suggestion that the Instruction Committee be abolished and its present function replaced by an expanded Student-Faculty Academic Committee.

The Instruction Committee too often serves as an unnecessary part of the bureaucratic machinery, which serves to delay action on much needed reform. In the words of the present secretary of the Instruction Committee, "Fifteen minutes to twenty minutes, half an hour might be spent discussing whether the word 'shall' or 'may' is used.

With the present system of both the Instruction Committee and the Student-Faculty Academic Committee, there are often long periods of overlapping material. However, all proposals formulated by the Student-Faculty Academic Committee must first be submitted to the Instruction Committee, which does not make the right to the floor of the faculty meeting.

The Instruction Committee is in a position to pigeonhole innovative proposals for consideration at a later date. The history of the Academic Committee indicates that these proposals have often been delayed for months, substantially modified, or without consultation the Academic Committee and then submitted to the faculty under the spurious assumption that they are representative of the wishes of the student body.

At the moment, the Student-Faculty Academic Committee issues are too often relegated to a subordinate role. We believe, therefore, that it should be in the best interest of the student body to abolish the Instruction Committee and in its stead to establish a joint student-faculty committee as solely responsible for formulating academic policy.

We realize, however, that the Instruction Committee must also deal with necessary but routine chores such as revising the catalog. This function could be dealt with by a subcommittee of the restructured Academic Committee.

Under this proposed system, only would students have direct access to the faculty floor, but they would have more than a token role in legitimating the academic policies of this college.

They All Must Go

We urge the Trustees to consider the moral implications of College investments, and to terminate all financial involvement with the Military-Industrial Complex.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editors:

We protect your decision to change the name of the only student newspaper on campus without consulting the students themselves. We are your readers, we are your subject matter (we would hope). Let us influence a little our own fate. If you had to go and change our name, why did you pick such a preposterous title?

Some explanations are in order.

Sterlyn,

Satyagraha

Ed. Note: The decision to change the newspaper's name from Conn Cens to Satyagraha was one feeling that although the former certainly was an adequate means of identifying the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. As explained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Friend:

Please do not treat this letter lightly as the writers, most certainly do NOT DO.

I am confident, that both you and I fully realize that this present "jet age" has contributed, to lightly, as we, the writers, most certainly the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. Asexplained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Editors:

We protest your decision to change the name of the only student newspaper on campus without consulting the students themselves. We are your readers, we are your subject matter (we would hope). Let us influence a little our own fate. If you had to go and change our name, why did you pick such a preposterous title?

Some explanations are in order.

Sterlyn,

Satyagraha

Ed. Note: The decision to change the newspaper's name from Conn Cens to Satyagraha was one feeling that although the former certainly was an adequate means of identifying the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. As explained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Friend:

Please do not treat this letter lightly as the writers, most certainly do NOT DO.

I am confident, that both you and I fully realize that this present "jet age" has contributed, to lightly, as we, the writers, most certainly the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. Asexplained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Editors:

We protest your decision to change the name of the only student newspaper on campus without consulting the students themselves. We are your readers, we are your subject matter (we would hope). Let us influence a little our own fate. If you had to go and change our name, why did you pick such a preposterous title?

Some explanations are in order.

Sterlyn,

Satyagraha

Ed. Note: The decision to change the newspaper's name from Conn Cens to Satyagraha was one feeling that although the former certainly was an adequate means of identifying the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. As explained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Friend:

Please do not treat this letter lightly as the writers, most certainly do NOT DO.

I am confident, that both you and I fully realize that this present "jet age" has contributed, to lightly, as we, the writers, most certainly the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. Asexplained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.

Dear Editors:

We protest your decision to change the name of the only student newspaper on campus without consulting the students themselves. We are your readers, we are your subject matter (we would hope). Let us influence a little our own fate. If you had to go and change our name, why did you pick such a preposterous title?

Some explanations are in order.

Sterlyn,

Satyagraha

Ed. Note: The decision to change the newspaper's name from Conn Cens to Satyagraha was one feeling that although the former certainly was an adequate means of identifying the newspaper, more can be expressed in a name. As explained in our first issue, there is a meaning within "satyagraha" which we hope to establish as an ideal.

Also, we believe that once the title becomes familiar, its aesthetic quality both visually and audibly becomes more discerned. Our decision was of good faith.

We did not wish to diminish our readers' prerogatives; rather, we exercised our privilege and duty to improve where we saw fit.
Tuesday, October 14, 1969

Forum Probes Role of Instruction Ctte.

Last Thursday, the second open forum of the Ad Hoc Committee was devoted to the issue of the role of the Instruction Committee. Miss Evelyn Omwake, chairman of the committee, opened the session by acknowledging that the committee had made its bias known in favor of the principle of student representation on faculty committees.

She indicated that the committee supported this principle because its members believed it to be in the best interests of the College.

Next, a freshman pointed out that students appointed to the Instruction Committee might be "high-ranking and well-educated," but not the most motivated students from the student point of view.

Miss Omwake explained that the committee would not be appointed, but nominated students. She added that this procedure may be complicated, but it would have to be done.

Questions Future of Committee

Mr. Willauer then suggested that the Ad Hoc Committee would consider the potential un-wieldiness of a committee composed of nine faculty members and nine students.

His point was not pursued because a student raised the possibility of direct student representation on the Instruction Committee.

She asked, "If we do get students on the Instruction Committee, would the Student-Faculty Academic Committee still serve a purpose?" Mr. Willauer suggested that it might, and put the students on the Instruction Committee?

Miss Omwake responded, "I'm trying to find out a little about that, because I think it's an important question of overall. Where is the over-looked here?

Here a student asked Miss Omwake to read the description of the Student-Faculty Academic Committee from the Faculty Handbook. It is not clear, Miss Omwake said, "It's little" than the Instruction Committee description.

One of the co-chairmen of the Student-Faculty Academic Committee explained the problem of submitting a proposal to the Instruction Committee and having no further commitment on the provisions of the proposal.

Open such proposals are substantially modified without the consent of the Student-Faculty Academic Committee.

At this point, discussion turned to possible alternatives to the present Instruction Committee.

One student raised an important question: "I agree with Mr. Willauer's point about the potential of Student-Faculty Instruction Committee would be rather large to be worked out, in light of the fact that the Student-Faculty Academic Committee serves a definite advisory function in the committee, why couldn't we abolish the Instruction Committee?"

Sponsors Agenda

In contrast to this position, Mrs. Roby Morris expressed her opinion that students might be spared the burdens of full membership which she saw as "part of the faculty's duty to their employer. Thus, Mrs. Morris suggested an agenda organization to separate matters of bookkeeping and technicalities from matters of principle.

Saying that the effect of the curriculum is perhaps best known by "capable seniors," Mrs. Morris concluded:

"The ideal arrangement would be three very capable, well regarded, top notch seniors with full voting rights and a fair load on technicalities. And, she maintained, the agenda should be classified and that amount of faculty representation maintained, as faculty knowledge with regard to the issues at stake is probably greater than that of senior students.

Speaking to this idea of limited student representation, a junior asserted that only three senior students would not provide the Instruction Committee with a representative sample of student opinion.

A freshman student added that [name] sophomores and juniors should also be represented, even if in only voting capacity.

Mr. Willauer also discussed the need for a new agenda method for the Instruction Committee. He pointed out that the faculty had had more discussion than was necessary.

The first drawback to this was that while the committee was present at the faculty meeting, they were asked to leave immediately after presenting their proposal. This prevented them from having discussion and debate on the proposal.

The Fabric Tree

THE FABRIC TREE

12031447-1771

GOODS CO., INC.

New Landon

HURRY! LAST CHANCE

Reg.$5.00-$7.00 Yd.

WOOL & WOOL BLENDS-54" Wide

DOUBLEKNITS-60" Wide

The Fabric Tree

Nearby 175 students attend second in a series of three Open Forums on student representation on faculty committees.

---photo by rosengarten---

Faculty Advice Considered

Academic Committee worked on the agenda as the Student-Faculty Academic Committee, explained that the students were taking part in the making of the College. There had been "headaches, pain and time consuming" efforts of faculty members on College committees.

Olympic Sporting Goods Co., Inc.

116 Bank Street

New London

442-0696

We Restring Tennis Racquets

HOME DELIVERY

$5.00 delivery charge on orders of any size

Reg. $4.00-$5.00 Yd.

LUXURY WOOLS-60" Wide

Reg. $5.50-$7.00 Yd.

DOUBLEKNITS-60" Wide

Reg. $5.00-$7.00 Yd.
Student Initiative Needed
To Attain More Student Power
by Val Fletcher

Student power was the main topic of discussion at the House of Representatives meeting on Wed., Oct. 8.

Questions centered around what can be done, what is being done, and, in particular, what is being left undone.

Katie See, President of College Council, emphasized that student power in academic matters can be obtained, but only if students demonstrate their support through action.

The key to academic student power, she pointed out, is student participation on faculty committees, particularly on the Instruction Committee.

Katie continued that, when students were offered the opportunity to initiate action along these lines, they failed to respond.

Several explanations were offered for the lack of active student support on campus. One representative suggested that many students want academic freedom but lacked the confidence needed to speak up.

"Guill Stephuck," 72, house president of Kappa Sigma, said that many freshmen feel that they need not bother because "someone will do it."

Life of Emperor T’ai-Tsung
Subject of History Lecture
by Gail Herbert

Professor Arthur Wright of Yale University delivered the Lawrence Memorial History lecture this year. The topic of his lecture was Emperor T’ai-Tsung of the Tang dynasty in China.

Professor Wright specializes in the social and intellectual history of premodern China. He is the author of the book Buddhism in Chinese History, which is read by the students at Connecticut College who take East Asian history.

Professor Wright began his lecture by painting a vivid picture of the Tang dynasty. This dynasty, also known as the golden age of Chinese history, was the period when the laws took shape, and the country's geographical limits were extended.

China during the Tang was the center of East Asian culture and it produced achievements in painting, architecture, and poetry, according to Professor Wright.

After giving his audience the necessary historical background, Professor Wright launched into the personality of T’ai-Tsung. He described the Emperor's early life.

Other suggestions included that publicity was poor and that there is a period of satisfied passivity following the abolition of compradors.

Katie explained the functions of several of the faculty committees and the importance of obtaining student participation on these committees. Among those cited were the Instruction, Advisory, and Administration Committees.

Katie closed the discussion with the warning that students do not have power academically and will not get it unless they actively work for it.

Another matter discussed at the meeting was the Vietnam Moratorium on October 15.

Katie announced that the entire campus will close down on Wednesday between noon and o’clock so that every student may attend the rally behind Fanning Hall.

In addition, as part of the Vietnam Moratorium activities, the march from Conn to New London has been granted a permit.

The money derived from the fast will be donated this year to the Committee of Responsibility, which aids those in Vietnam.

Katie urged that students not go to Yale or Wesleyan to demonstrate against the war but that they participate in Moratorium activities at Conn.

The representatives also discussed the role which allows for arbitrary searches of dormitory rooms. Many questioned the legality of such a role.

One representative suggested that a search warrant should be obtained from Honor Court before any search could be made. Another suggestion was that searches should be announced beforehand to the students concerned.

The concept of community government includes the involvement of the students and faculty on committees. In commenting on student-faculty committees, Mr. Philip Goldberg, Associate Professor of Psychology, raised a controversial and pertinent point.

He said that, "the student-faculty committees will be an illusion, for neither group shares the goals of the other."

The College Council is an organization composed of students, faculty, and administration, in general, according to the Constitution of the College Government Association, the College Council has the power to propose recommendations and to consider and vote on proposed legislation either already passed by the House of Representatives or in the process of consideration.

At this particular meeting, the Council gave approval to the Educational Board to change the name of the College paper from Connecticut Satyagraha to The HOP.

Katie See, President of College Council, proposed the idea of developing a community government at the meeting of the council on Thursday, October 9.

The aim of the next College Council meeting will be to find a common basis between the faculty and the students, from which future developments can be achieved in the effort for a community government.

Plans are being made to investigate the financial problems related to the custodial charges. The aim of the next College Council meeting will be to find a common basis between the faculty and the students, from which future developments can be achieved in the effort for a community government.

If I had known how bad it was the fate of boys, I would have had all of my children girls . . . .

Boys are born only to be buried in the tall grass, Still the bones of the war-dead of long ago are Beside the blue sea when you pass.

Tu Fu (712-770)

College Council to Discuss
Idea of Community Government
by Cindy Holmes

Katie See, President of College Council, proposed the idea of developing a community government at the meeting of the council on Thursday, October 9.

The concept of community government includes the involvement of the students and faculty on committees. Among those she cited were the Instruction, Advisory, and Administration Committees. Among those she cited were the Instruction, Advisory, and Administration Committees.

This increase is due to the increase of band costs as well as custodial and maintenance costs.

Grimes Cleaners
Your Sanitones Done R.i.d.
Master Dry Cleaner
54-58 Ocean Avenue
New London, Conn. 06320
443-1421
on campus daily

THE HIP HOP

THE Hip Hop to Iceland Airlines service was bb3 flying to Luxembourg. Daily flights from New York to Iceland - Luxembourg - England - Scotland - Norway - Sweden - Denmark. See your Travel Agent or write for folder OH, Iceland Airlines, 630 Fifth Ave. (Deakon Center) New York, N.Y. 10022 (212) 274-7808.

LOWEST AIR FARES TO EUROPE

ICELANDIC AIRLINES

Downtown New London at 128 State Street
Your Headquarters for Junior Fashions

Diamonds - Watches - Jewelry
Expert Repairs
MALLOW'S
74 State Street
New London, Conn.
Eastern Connecticut's Largest Jewelers

Mr. G's Restaurant
Featuring Hellenic Foods
452 Williams Street
New London, Conn.
Telephone 447-0400

GRACE SMITH HOUSE PARTY
"BACCHANAL"

OCT. 18
3:30 P.M.

3 BANDS...REFRESHMENTS...BYOB
Bring a date or come alone—Yale, Trinity, Wesleyan and Lehigh
$7.75 will be there!

GRACE SMITH HOUSE PARTY
"BACCHANAL"

OCT. 18
3:30 P.M.

3 BANDS...REFRESHMENTS...BYOB
Bring a date or come alone—Yale, Trinity, Wesleyan and Lehigh
$7.75 will be there!

FUNNY YOU'RE A GIRL...
ONCE A MONTH YOU FEEL LIKE A...FILL IN THE BLANK.

You're not as thin as usual? It's only temporary, you know. A monthly problem. But who cares when you have that puffy, bloated, "Oh, I'm so fat feeling" syndrome that TRENDAR, that help keep you slim as you are all month long. Its modern diuretic (water-reducing) action controls temporary pre-menstrual weight gain. (That can be up to 7 pounds!) Start taking TRENDAR 4 to 7 days before that time. It'll help make you look better and feel better.

TRENDAR...IT MAKES YOU GLAD YOU'RE A GIRL!
"Abbey Road" Continues
Beatle's Distinct Style
by Michael Ware

The members of the audience at Thursday night's African dance presentation left with a greater awareness of rhythm, movement and the meaning of dance.

Mrs. Martha Myers, assistant professor of physical education, arranged the African dance presentation by Mr. Duodu and Mr. Adzhenyah. Prior to joining the faculty at Wesleyan, the two men were part of Ghana's national dance company.

Mr. Duodu began the evening with a short talk on the nature of Ghanan dance by explaining that Ghanans have dancers for ritualistic occasions, such as the celebration of marriage, initiation into manhood and the crowning of the king.

In the two dances presented, the dancers attained a remarkable balance of rhythm, the basic element in Ghanan dance. At times one could not discern which instrument, the dancer's body or the drum, was leading the dance.

As Mr. Duodu remarked, the dancer need not be able to play the drums, only to "understand the language" of the drums.

Mr. Duodu showed students a slow, religious dance named Adowa. This is a relatively simple dance involving the coordination of six simple movements of hips, feet, head and hands.

In the history of the Beatles there has always been something new to look forward to and "Abbey Road" again promises us that. The album shows lineage of its ancestors and influence of its peers, but still remains interesting and alive, and in the end a distinctly Beatle accomplishment.

It is difficult, as PP&M and Dylan will tell you, to keep up with the public's insatiable and ever changing tastes. Those four musicians have had to leave their Greenwich Village beginnings behind and, many times over, recreate themselves.

The Beatles, too, in perhaps an even grander manner, have left the roots of Liverpool to live a life of recreation.

The message of "Abbey Road" that speaks so strongly about these artists mentioned as well as about itself comes down to the emotion written into the Beatles' compositions as if we've read a good story in three chapters.

"And in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make."
Students Elect Department Advisory Committee Members

The following departments have issued the results of the Student Department Advisory Committee elections. Those not listed below did not finish their elections by our press date.

ART DEPARTMENT:
Seniors: Paula Enckeshelder Vikki Gouvea Susie Thompson Liz Marks
Juniors: Candy Norton Ann Derwaide Leslie Richmond

CHEMISTRY:
Seniors: Francis Abodally Martha Bell Sue Jones Sam Mendesbhall Lisa Rowe
Juniors: Bev Ezrad Charlise Rangel Betty Furguson Phil Furguson

ENGLISH:
Seniors: Eda Reisenberg Karen Kuskin Anne Brauning

MORATORIUM:
(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) The money not used for food will be placed in the Committee for Responsibility and used in a manner appropriate to the Moratoriun. Fact sheets will also be distributed to the New London residents on Wednesday.

STOCKS
(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) contracts are awarded for research and development.

English engaged directly or indirectly in the research, development of production of the means for chemical or biological warfare are Avco, GCA Corporation and Goodyear, all of which this College invests are, if Dow is to be shown. The specific issue of Dow Chemical was raised and considered last year outside the general framework of the Military-Industrial Complex. Within this definition Dow is included as the producer of an incendiary designed for use against civilian populations.

That Dow was previously singled out as a scapegoat can no longer obscure the fact that other companies in which this College invests are, if Dow is to be condemned, equally subject to condemnation.

WRIGHT
(Continued from Page 4, Col. 2) point out, he was an exception to the rule. In addition, he knew how to make the most effective use of his ministers and of his country.

Professor Wright made the Trent period come alive for the audience and Emperor T'ai Tung became a man rather than ancient history.

Pauline Schrider.

Juniors: Jane Dibley Cheryl Savetsky Karen Keenan

HISTORY:
Seniors: Barrie Boeker Patty Bernstein Jane Wilks
Juniors: Jan Cassidy Nancy Fithen Lisa Vogt

GOVERNMENT:
Seniors: Ginny Barquist Nancy Dunton Ellis McVay Marcia Morris Regina R. White

ECONOMICS:
Seniors: Sue Freniching Mary Kiel Susan Lee Barbara Stolik

Juniors: Pat Petri Nancy Plait Sharon Vehicle

PSYCHOLOGY:
Seniors: Ruth Harris Carol Finestone

PHILOSOPHY:
Seniors: Debby McKee

CO-OP (Continued from Page 3) according to Connecticut laws regarding stock corporations.

• A Board of Directors will be elected by the corporation. These directors will then elect the officers of the corporation.

• Shareholders will receive an annual report containing financial and other information.

Because one of the main goals of the co-op is to realize the largest profit possible, anyone may shop there.

It is hoped that New London people will patronize the co-op because the money will stay in the community.

Rebate For Shareholders
Shareholders in the corporation who patronize the co-op will have an added advantage over non-shareholders because they will receive a rebate on their purchases at the end of the year, based on the profits of the corporation.

The Board of Managers is presently trying to raise money for the petty cash fund for the purpose of reaching the old Brit Brothels building for use. The money from the sale of stocks will not be used for this purpose because it is being held in escrow in order to obtain a loan for the purchase of equipment and for operation fees.

The money in escrow will not be used, however, until $5,000 worth of stock has been sold.

The corporation sponsored a youth dance Friday, Oct. 3, to begin raising funds for the petty cash fund. Cake sales and other events are also planned.

Community Involvement
Because one of the main goals of the co-op is to involve as many members of the community as possible, part of their operation will involve job training and consumer education programs.

The Board of Managers hopes to obtain federal grants to pay half the salary of individuals being trained by the co-op. In this way the unskilled will be learning a valuable skill while receiving a fair salary.

In order to begin this experiment of government-community involvement, however, the corporation must sell more shares. Members of the College community who may be interested in purchasing shares will receive benefits from the corporation as well as benefiting the corporation, trained by the co-op. In this way the unskilled will be learning a valuable skill while receiving a fair salary.

Maddoquie is offering three competitions this year: the College Board Photography, Fiction and Poetry.

Each year, Maddoquie College Competitions offer outstanding opportunities for college students with abilities in the fields of publishing, fiction, poetry, and photography.

The "Esquire College Film Festival" is designed to focus attention on student filmmakers and their yearly productions and to encourage the best growing study and practice of Cinema Arts in the nation's higher institutions of learning.

There will be a $500 first prize in each of the five categories: dramatic, documentary, animated and experimental.

Entrees will close February 1, 1970.

The Gulf American Fellowship Program announces the Edward R. Morrow Fellowship Program which will award three students scholarships to the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University.

College seniors interested must submit an essay on the topic: "The Impact of Mass Communication on International Affairs" and a completed application to Dr. Delaney between Nov. 15 and Dec. 15.

The Committee for Draft Education is planning open meetings for Thurt., Oct., 16, in the library of Harkness Chapel.

The Committee consists of local residents who are interested in advising young men of various legal alternatives to the draft. Interested students are cordially invited to attend.

The Poetry Society recently announced that poetry manuscripts are now being accepted for publication in the annual College Student's Poetry Anthology. Manuscripts should be sent to: Office of the Press, National Poetry Press, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., 90034.

On Thursday, Oct. 16, the College dance group will sponsor "A World of Dancing.

The program, which includes a masquerade in Oriental Dance at 3:45 in the Dance Studio, and a Lecture-Demonstration at 7:30 in Dana Hall, will feature Matteo, a dance artist and lecturer.