Monsieur Marchal To Perform Organ Recital in Chapel

Through Mr. Arthur Quinley of the Music Department, Connecticut College officials learned that Monsieur Marchal, a noted organist, has been awarded an organ recital by one of the foremost colleges in France, Monsieur Andre Marchal.

Monsieur Marchal, who has graduated from the University of L'egleise de St. Eustace in Paris, is well known in both France during 1928 and 1929, he heard Monsieur Marchal play and after he, in 1936, became curator of the organ, he was introduced to Monsieur. Monsieur Marchal has brought him to the United States to tour. In this and in successive tours, M. Marchal in Belgium, Switzerland, and Italy, has been widely, was accompanied by his daughter, Jacqueline.

In his program, which will be played in Bacon Chapel on the twentieth of October, M. Marchal will play a varied program which will include Variations on Elmos Jungen lebt ein Herz End by J. S. Bach, Prelude in C Maj, Purcell, Cazzoni by Andre Marchal, Toccata in A Major, and on Solo by Louis Couperin; Chorale Prelude: Westphal, Buxtehude; Chorale Prelude: Goehr, Brahms; Prelude: Buxtehude; Chorale Prelude: Goehr, Brahms; Prelude: Buxtehude; and Toccata in A Major, Purcell; Canzona by An. East House,京, will also play two pieces that have been commissioned for COMM. UNO by Losy Cooper, Prelude and Fugue by An. East House, and Toccata and Trio Sonata Number 6, by An. East House. The organ is F. flat by Camille Saint-Saens. M. Marchal will also play two pieces that have been commissioned for COMM. UNO by Losy Cooper, Prelude and Fugue by An. East House, and Toccata and Trio Sonata Number 6, by An. East House. The organ is F. flat by Camille Saint-Saens.

The recital is sponsored by the New London Unit of Organists and the Connecticut Music Department.

UNReviews Accomplishments of Eight Years' Service in World Affairs

Vol. 39—No. 4
New London, Connecticut, Wednesday, October 21, 1953

by Marsha Cohen

Since this week is the eighteenth anniversary of the United Nations, it is fitting that we make an inventory of UN accomplishments.

One of the most outstanding manifestations of the UN's action has been the preservation of Korea's independence. The United States brought the problem of independence for Korea before the General Assembly in 1947. However, the UN commission was prevented from entering Korea by Russia from fulfilling its mandate. In 1950 armies from North Korea invaded South Korea, and the UN moved to the parallel and invaded South Korea.

UN to Arms

The UN Security Council then requested the assistance of UN members: 16 sent troops, and 39 offered economic aid. It is noteworthy that this is the first time that the UN has been prevented from acting by international organization against an aggressor. The UN has now accomplished an armistice and the Korean border has calmed. However, there is the end of the problem, but it is still an arms race and one that avoided wartime.

UN Reviews Accomplishments of Eight Years' Service in World Affairs

Secretary Voting Discloses New Dorm Leaders

Fifteen girls were elected to preside over house meetings and to attend intercollegiate meetings as the permanent dormitory presidents for the present college year. The new presidents were approved by cabinet, re-electitions were held by secret ballot.

Freshmen chose Jeane Krause, a residence of Windthrop, Debra Woodward for the president of Vigil, a residence of Demarest, Bernadine ("Bunny") Curts was elected to the office in the residence of Willard and Karen Klem. Miss Reynolds has the same position at the second floor in Willard and a president leader will lead North.

Blackstone, Frankford, and Plant have elected as presidents at Anne Browning, Gloria ("Skip") McGinnis, and Nancy Coder, respectively. Windham chose Carol Dunleavy as their leader.

The newly elected president of East House is Sue Benet, while Carol "(Dee)" Diefendorf was chosen for Miss Harkness. Joan Appel} was chosen for Miss Ann, and Ann Overman for Miss Adams. Diane ("Dinny") Stover was chosen for Miss Kimball and a president leader at a later date.

Ninety-five Pints Given

Blood donors from the College blood bank have given 95 pints of blood for various reasons. The dormitories have been asked for more students to become blood donors. Dorm Leaders are working to increase the blood supply to fifty pints per week.

Health and Education

Promising attacks on the old enemies of mankind have been begun by the Economic and Social Council and the specialized agencies of the UN, such as the World Health Organization (WHO), the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), and the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF). Through the UN, countries have already received medical supplies and more than 36 million children have been inoculated against tuberculosis. Also, for the first time in history, a cholera epidemic was controlled in Egypt in 1947. Through the efforts of the UN, the disease is now under control. UNICEF's goal is to provide medical care and food for the world's children.

Quarterly Contest Open for Entries

To Outline Causes and Growth of India

The third lecture of the series on the second in a series of lectures on the Indian culture is to be delivered on November 10 by former Ambassador Chester Bowles. His subject will be "Problems of Policies and Politics in India Today."
You and the UN

UN Week Urges Participation In Supporting Organization

Posters all over campus say in big, bold lettering “This is UN Week.” On the flagpole the blue and white UN colors are flying in commemoration of the birthday of this international organization. It is not enough for us to look at these sights with a passive interest; we should all actively help to celebrate this birthday of our organization. It is trying very hard to become an instrument of peace in a world still ravaged by war and war’s aftermath.

In order to achieve the goal of peace for which it is striving, the United Nations needs supporters. It needs supporters with faith in its potentialities, but this faith can only come about when we are educated to know what the United Nations have done. Then we can know on the basis of past accomplishments what they can be expected to do in the future. The UN stands for peace, the greatest hope on earth. It stands for the fight against poverty, disease, discrimination, illiteracy—all roots of war.

Celebrate the birthday of United Nations by learning about the accomplishments of this organization engendered with the ideal of peace. We then hope you will become an active supporter of this organization and work with it for peace in the world. N.E.G.

Interfaith Worker To Present Sermon On Sunday, Oct. 25

Dr. Theodore C. Speers, minister of the Central Presbyterian Church of New York will be the speaker at the 7 p.m. vespers service in Sunday. A graduate of Princeton University, Dr. Speers did his theological work in Union Theological Seminary, receiving the divinity degree in 1921.

Sunday, October 18

Theological Seminary, receiving his degree in 1925. He has served pastorates in Utica, N.Y. and New York City and was a member of the staff of the Prince’s monthly pulpit, the Harper. His monthly pulpit and educational work since 1921·22.

After his graduation at the Theological Seminary in 1925, he was an active member in World War II he was active in educational work among the members of the armed forces, working as an interfaith team visiting many army and navy camps.

Free Speech

A Forum of Opinion from On and Off the Campus

The solution expressed in this forum is the result of the views of the editors.

Banner Bandits Talk

Dear Editor:

This is a true story. It comes directly from the pen of a Banner Bandit. No claims are made to the插座 of the officers.

The banner was unappropriated from Celie Gray’s room, where it was folded across a chair, between the hours of 5 a.m. and 9 p.m., on Thursday, October 8, 1953. The banner had been under a coat, it was with relief that she met a banner of the same description a year after the criminal deed was committed in its comfortable hiding place.

Two notes were sent to Celie Gray. The first read “Catas, through campus mail. The banner was unappropriated from near the dean’s office.” The second note read “It is in your hands, the same banner from last year do against a little “noncompliance with the rules.”

In none of the cases is the situation a case different from last year.

Dawson, so可想而知 unless, for “at night all cats are the same.”

The CATS

Many Old Valuable Volumes Increase Library’s Stock

Students from the year last June, the library has been very fortunate in receiving a large amount of used and valuable books.

Looking through the most precious of those books is a single volume entitled “The History of Connecticut,” which was published (roughly) 240 years ago but is in excellent and in readable condition. The great value of this book is the fact that it was the first book to be published in Connecticut. It is of even more importance to New London students, for it is the first of its kind was published in their own city. The volume contains the Saybrook platform and was assembled by a delegation in Saybrook (the then King’s University) around 1716. Its printer, Thomas Wilson, was the first official printer in Connecticut. This book, is the latest gift to the college for its thirty-fifth graduation.

Valuable Gifts

Among extremely valuable gift is the book Elected Sermons and Homilies during his presidency during the eighteenth century, the collected sermons of a man who was living at some time during that period. This book was the first in a series of books compiled by various New England Divinity Colleges and institutions.

Plans were also made for a College of Connecticut Library Committee, presided over by Marion Goodman, head of the English department. The purpose of this committee is to select the books that are best for the college for its thirty-fifth graduation.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS
Wednesday, October 21, 1953

D A I L E N

Community

Thursday, October 22

Convocation: F. B. Northrop Auditorium, 8:00 p.m.

Monday Night Sing

Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, October 24, 1953

Movie: Sid Info Romeo and Juliet

Sunday, October 25

Vespers: Dr. Theodore C. Speers

Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, October 27, 1953

Lawrence Memorial Lecture:
Mr. Bernard Klessenberg
Chapel, 7:00 p.m.

House of Rep.
House of Rep Clarifies Rules On Chapel System Elections

The House of Rep was called to order by Rev. Tracy at 5:10 p.m. on October 13.

The meeting began when Eus Chevalier made several chapel announcements. For chapel in the Auditorium the students should sit in the front two sections and divide themselves between these two sections. In words, the distribution of students in the front two sections should be fairly well balanced. The students who have chairs for being chapel choristers should sit on the side of the Auditorium near Hill Hall. The clerk of the chapel will have the list of each student in the chapel. No list may be used in signing the cards. Those who have not signed up will be handed out for the balcony, and students are asked not to go there. On Thursdays in the Harkness chapel, cards should be handed out on each side of the center door and at each side door at the front of the chapel. The students are asked to use pen in signing the cards in the chapel as well as in the Auditorium.

Locked Doors

House parents are asked to remind the students that no student is permitted to open a door that is normally locked. The door is locked for a specific purpose. If students see suspicious men wandering around the campus, they should not open their doors for the house to_facilitate

The name of the house to have a student there is that of the house to facilitate

The door is locked for a specific purpose. If students see suspicious men wandering around the campus, they should not open their doors for the house to facilitate

The name of the house to have a student there is that of the house to facilitate

The door is locked for a specific purpose. If students see suspicious men wandering around the campus, they should not open their doors for the house to facilitate

The name of the house to have a student there is that of the house to facilitate
Recounts Experiences Abroad

Lasca is very glad to be home from Oberlin, added Lasca, a senior psychology major. "This is the last winter I'm going to be away," Lasca said.

While in the United States and home in the British Isles, Lasca spent 10 weeks in America and 12 weeks in the United Kingdom. Her major interest was to be familiar with the cultures of the two countries. Working in an insurance company in London was a part of her experience. She also traveled widely in Great Britain and in the United States.

Lasca, who lives with a "wonderful family" in London, said her impression of the Scottish people and their attitude toward Americans was outstanding. "They treated us as equals," Lasca said of the University of Edinburgh, where she studied English literature.

"I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

At the University, Lasca, a senior psychology major, said she was amazed at the correlation between the courses she is taking this year and those she is taking last year. "The courses were "marvelous" and I look forward to the next year's courses," Lasca said.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.

Lasca's trip abroad was very rewarding and has given her a more vivid impression of the country. "I was very impressed with the students," Lasca said of their enthusiasm. "The group left at noon by bus to the village of Faraday, where they were to spend the weekend. In the evening, the group spent time together and then attended a play. The following day, they went to a castle and had tea with Lord and Lady Devon. The trip was very rewarding and has given me a more vivid impression of this country.
Cats Are Culprits

English Choral Group Opens
Concert Series Successfully

Yes, it is true that English Choral Group had to face some problems while preparing for their concert series. The members of the group were not happy with the quality of the music being performed. However, after several rehearsals, they managed to improve their performance and put on a successful concert.

Do not believe that the English Choral Group was the only group that faced problems. Cats are also culprits of some problems that occurred in the university. For example, the campus was often disturbed by the meowing and howling of cats.

On the other hand, the campus was also a place where students could find some relaxation. There were many cafes and restaurants on campus where students could enjoy some food and drinks.

In conclusion, even though there were some problems, the English Choral Group was able to put on a successful concert series. The cats, on the other hand, were a source of disturbance on campus. It is clear that the university had to find a way to deal with the problem of cats.

Shwiffs’ Talents Commended By Notables of Music World

This past week will go down in the memoirs of the Shwiffs as the time when musicians of the highest caliber acknowledged them as "peers" in the entertainment world.

Thursday night, shortly before the concert by the St. Paul’s Cathedral Choir, the Shwiffs were having their usual rehearsal in the Shwiff Hall. Through the open window wafted the soft strains of "Low Bridge," and members of the Choir, relaxing before the concert, were drawn irresistibly by the melodious harmonies to the window. Upon observing the girls rehearsing, the gentlemen required that they might come in and listen. A slightly flustered group agreed, and the members of the Choir, in their full evening dresses, entered, and proceeded to have the Shwiffs run through their repertoire. At the conclusion of the impromptu concert, the gentlemen highly complimented the group on their ability, stating they especially enjoyed the number "Three Little Darkies." Before they left to give their own concert, one of the Choir members, a heartily Lancashire accent the girls, her name and address in the hopes of the hotel. Thinking the room slightly flustered group pleasant to have were the best that the Shwiffs had heard, and little by little word of the events. It appears that the Shwiffs are bound to win recognition in their field regardless of where they bound to win recognition in their field. The Melody Lounge is great for entertainment. The polished, continental air of Lighthouse Inn sets the pace. For a casual, informal date, the entertainment Shwiffs performances for celebrities were as yet at an end. On Sunday afternoon, the Shwiffs participated in a Song Fest at Columbia University. While waiting at the Biltmore Hotel for a representative of Columbia to meet them, the girls decided that they should have a brief rehearsal. The only available and reasonably secluded place that they could find was the Ladies Room of the hotel. Thinking the room deserted, the Shwiffs ran through their songs. Jan Gross, the leader of the group, remarked later that the acoustics in the room were the best that the Shwiffs had come across. In the midst of the rehearsal, a woman entered and explained that she could not help overhearing them and was so impressed that she felt that she must come in and sing. She then told the girls that she was Marguerite Moore of the Metropolitan Opera, and gave them her name and address in case the Shwiffs ever decided that they would like to do professional work on radio or television and complimented them on their excellent singing.

It seems, however, that the Shwiffs performances for celebrities were as yet at an end. On Sunday afternoon, the Shwiffs participated in a Song Fest at Columbia University. While waiting at the Biltmore Hotel for a representative of Columbia to meet them, the girls decided that they should have a brief rehearsal. The only available and reasonably secluded place that they could find was the Ladies Room of the hotel. Thinking the room deserted, the Shwiffs ran through their songs. Jan Gross, the leader of the group, remarked later that the acoustics in the room were the best that the Shwiffs had come across. In the midst of the rehearsal, a woman entered and explained that she could not help overhearing them and was so impressed that she felt that she must come in and sing. She then told the girls that she was Marguerite Moore of the Metropolitan Opera, and gave them her name and address in case the Shwiffs ever decided that they would like to do professional work on radio or television and complimented them on their excellent singing. It appears that the Shwiffs are bound to win recognition in their field regardless of where they bound to win recognition in their field. The polished, continental air of Lighthouse Inn sets the pace. For a casual, informal date, the entertainment Shwiffs performances for celebrities were as yet at an end. On Sunday afternoon, the Shwiffs participated in a Song Fest at Columbia University. While waiting at the Biltmore Hotel for a representative of Columbia to meet them, the girls decided that they should have a brief rehearsal. The only available and reasonably secluded place that they could find was the Ladies Room of the hotel. Thinking the room deserted, the Shwiffs ran through their songs. Jan Gross, the leader of the group, remarked later that the acoustics in the room were the best that the Shwiffs had come across. In the midst of the rehearsal, a woman entered and explained that she could not help overhearing them and was so impressed that she felt that she must come in and sing. She then told the girls that she was Marguerite Moore of the Metropolitan Opera, and gave them her name and address in case the Shwiffs ever decided that they would like to do professional work on radio or television and complimented them on their excellent singing.

It appears that the Shwiffs are bound to win recognition in their field regardless of where they bound to win recognition in their field. The polished, continental air of Lighthouse Inn sets the pace. For a casual, informal date, the entertainment Shwiffs performances for celebrities were as yet at an end. On Sunday afternoon, the Shwiffs participated in a Song Fest at Columbia University. While waiting at the Biltmore Hotel for a representative of Columbia to meet them, the girls decided that they should have a brief rehearsal. The only available and reasonably secluded place that they could find was the Ladies Room of the hotel. Thinking the room deserted, the Shwiffs ran through their songs. Jan Gross, the leader of the group, remarked later that the acoustics in the room were the best that the Shwiffs had come across. In the midst of the rehearsal, a woman entered and explained that she could not help overhearing them and was so impressed that she felt that she must come in and sing. She then told the girls that she was Marguerite Moore of the Metropolitan Opera, and gave them her name and address in case the Shwiffs ever decided that they would like to do professional work on radio or television and complimented them on their excellent singing.

Library (Continued from page two)

father of an alumnus. It bears the signature of the second president. A man to Waterford presented the college with two hand-written Day books, in which were recorded the current events, from 1802-1866. Aaron Rabonowitz, whose daughter graduated from Connecticut College in 1944, made many books to the library every year. This year, the major part of his gifts are works by nineteenth-century writers, such as Oscar Wilde, George Meredith, and Thomas Love Peacock.

French books have generously been donated to the library by Mrs. G. M. Well, who owns a summer cottage near the Griswold Hotel in Groton, Connecticut.

The Norwich Free Academy moved to a smaller building than the one it previously occupied, therefore, it was necessary to dispose of many books. Some representatives from Connecticut College were allowed to choose the books they believed the college most needed. Most of these are second presidents.

FREE DELIVERIES FREE PHONE 2-4461

Cosmetic Headquarters
Checks Cashed Charge Accounts

STARR BROS.

New London’s Largest Camera Department!

 reservoar of books they believed the college most needed. Most of these are second presidents.

FREE DELIVERIES FREE PHONE 2-4461

Cosmetic Headquarters
Checks Cashed Charge Accounts

DRUGGISTS SINCE 1848

A MERICAN DRUGGISTS’ ASSOCIATION

REXALL DRUG STORE

New London’s Largest Camera Department!

FREE DELIVERIES FREE PHONE 2-4461

Cosmetic Headquarters
Checks Cashed Charge Accounts

DRUGGISTS SINCE 1848

A MERICAN DRUGGISTS’ ASSOCIATION

REXALL DRUG STORE

“New London’s Largest Camera Department!”

FREE DELIVERIES FREE PHONE 2-4461

Cosmetic Headquarters
Checks Cashed Charge Accounts

DRUGGISTS SINCE 1848

A MERICAN DRUGGISTS’ ASSOCIATION

REXALL DRUG STORE

“New London’s Largest Camera Department!”

FREE DELIVERIES FREE PHONE 2-4461

Cosmetic Headquarters
Checks Cashed Charge Accounts

DRUGGISTS SINCE 1848

A MERICAN DRUGGISTS’ ASSOCIATION

REXALL DRUG STORE

“New London’s Largest Camera Department!”
Library

(Continued from Page Five)

made to the Government and Economics literature. Joan Blackburn, whose father is Vice President of the McGraw Hill Book Company has sent us many of the latest books written primarily on these two subjects.

---

Sideline Sneakers

(Continued from Page Three)

USSR Film's 'Sadko'

Uses Fact, Legend

Coming to Palmer Auditorium on October 24 is the Russian movie, Sadko. The story, partly true and partly Russian legend, is taken from the opera of the same name by Rimsk-Korsakov. The movie tells the story of a young Novgorod minstrel who sails around the world searching for the bird of happiness.

The movie tells the story of a spectacle. Scenes range from the Viking coast to an Indian Prince's palace and are filmed in brilliant technicolor.

Background music is taken from the opera, and several songs are inserted. The movie brings to the eye beautiful settings and costumes.

---

House of Rep.

(Continued from Page Two)

president is elected, election of the other officers will take place. The other officers will be vice-president, secretary-treasurer, social chairman, librarian, Religious Fellowship representative, AA representative, and a new officer, dormitory Community Fund Chairman.

---

GARDE

Wed. thru Sat. — Oct. 21 - 24

Glen Ford and Gloria Grahame in

THE BIG HEAT

also SLAVES OF BABYLON in Technicolor

Sun. thru Tues. — Oct. 25 - 27

Don Duryea and Frances Gifford in

SKY COMMANDO plus

COMBAT SQUAD

---

CHESTERFIELD

CHESTERFIELD's BEST FOR YOU

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Copyright 1953, Lorillard Tobacco Co.