In his public address, President Fantuzzo gave a nonprofit-wide announcement on Tuesday morning, encouraging students to attend the Panel Discussion entitled: “Reacting to Terrorism Threat.”

-held in a timely fashion between two seminal anniversaries of the hijackers’ attacks on September 11th and the declaration of war on terrorism - the much awaited panel discussion was the next in a series of commemorative events jointly sponsored by Connecticut College and the US Coast Grand Academy. Various distinguished speakers addressed the audience of students, cadets, faculty, and guest professionals, providing different perspectives on the events shaping the post-9/11 world and starting the ball in a lively discussion.

The discussion began with Dr. Martha Crenshaw, professor at Wesleyan University. An expert on political terrorism and author of numerous articles and books, Professor Crenshaw worked for the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress and served as a consultant to the International Society of Political Psychology, where she now serves as a Counselor. She is also a member of the Executive Board of Women in International Security.

In her overview of “9/110 War: An Update and Prospective,” Professor Crenshaw stated that September 11th has hit the world “like a perfect storm” and that there is a “lost policy.” Changes have started to be acknowledged as the search for more intense policies has taken place.

The report relies heavily on past assessment of colleges (as much as 90% of a college’s ranking can be affected by college presidents and provosts from competing schools).

Additionally the Report uses data from sources of unemployment, selectivity, financial resources, etc.

Bookstore Challenged by Online Competitors

Dr. Marie Grant

At the start of any sentinel, it is a given that the majority of students will later the bookstore questioning how and why the textbooks required for class cost so much, for often what is only one student’s worth of text.

This has led students to explore options beyond those present in the campus bookstore. Utilizing the technology now available, the best deal appears to be no longer necessarily finding that one student that has yet to purchase the book. Just as the high and low prices have been found for Mathematical: Introduction to Mathematical Thought book, as some students are discovering, the most affordable and convenient option is right in their own hands.

The internet now offers a veritable assortment of new and used books. For example, the textbook Single Variable Calculus: Early Transcendentals fourth edition by James Stewart is $180.95 for a new book and $85.50 for a used book at the school book store. However, at home, acids.com a new copy of the same book is available at $89.95. At Amazon.com, a new copy is $99.85 while a used copy is relatively good condition can be purchased for $35.95. At Abebooks.com, an online used book distributor, a used copy in decent condition is as low as $59.00.

While at sale of books are priced, an employee from Conn’s Textbook Store inquired after it a confusion of kind of questions or reveal her identity. The costs were significantly lower at some sources online than in the bookstores. Moreover Barnes and Noble’s, a real estate broker, and finally broke into the internet business with a short stint at The Textbook Network. Just prior to Taylor’s lecture, President of the Conn Women’s College Foundation presented a few speakers. The_Connecticut_Connecticut_College and the Hartford Courant.

In a rare public address, President Fantuzzo gave a news-wide announcement on Tuesday morning, encouraging students to attend the Panel Discussion entitled: “Reacting to Terrorism Threat.”

-held in a timely fashion between two seminal anniversaries of the hijackers’ attacks on September 11th and the declaration of war on terrorism - the much awaited panel discussion was the next in a series of commemorative events jointly sponsored by Connecticut College and the US Coast Grand Academy.

The discussion began with Dr. Martha Crenshaw, professor at Wesleyan University. An expert on political terrorism and author of numerous articles and books, Professor Crenshaw worked for the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress and served as a consultant to the International Society of Political Psychology, where she now serves as a Counselor. She is also a member of the Executive Board of Women in International Security.

In her overview of “9/110 War: An Update and Prospective,” Professor Crenshaw stated that September 11th has hit the world “like a perfect storm” and that there is a “lost policy.” Changes have started to be acknowledged as the search for more intense policies has taken place.

The report relies heavily on past assessment of colleges (as much as 90% of a college’s ranking can be affected by college presidents and provosts from competing schools).

Additionally the Report uses data from sources of unemployment, selectivity, financial resources, etc.

Speculation has arisen among students that the bookstore will end.

According to the Report, “the ranking system reflects on two pillars, it relies on quantitative measures found in the National Security Education Association and on qualitative measures found in the US Coast Guard Academy. The September 23rd issue the US News and World Report featured its 2003 ranking of what it calls America’s Best Colleges, a national categorical system that ranks the top 300 colleges, universities, and liberal arts institutions in the country, has plummeted from 58th to 29th. The college now ranks the top with six other institutions including Bucknell University, University of the South, Colby College, and Wesleyan University. The college’s ranking system rests on two pillars, it relies on quantitative measures found in the National Security Education Association and on qualitative measures found in the US Coast Guard Academy. The September 23rd issue the US News and World Report featured its 2003 ranking of what it calls America’s Best Colleges, a national categorical system that ranks the top 300 colleges, universities, and liberal arts institutions in the country, has plummeted from 58th to 29th. The college now ranks the top with six other institutions including Bucknell University, University of the South, Colby College, and Wesleyan University.

The NSSE is a service that maintains “a database of undergraduate education inside and outside the classroom that can be improved through changes in policies and practices more consistent with good practices in undergraduate education.” The survey is student-oriented rather than administration.

While the US News and World Ranking system rests on two pillars, it relies on quantitative measures found in the National Security Education Association and on qualitative measures found in the US Coast Guard Academy.

The September 23rd issue the US News and World Report featured its 2003 ranking of what it calls America’s Best Colleges, a national categorical system that ranks the top 300 colleges, universities, and liberal arts institutions in the country, has plummeted from 58th to 29th. The college now ranks the top with six other institutions including Bucknell University, University of the South, Colby College, and Wesleyan University.

The NSSE is a service that maintains “a database of undergraduate education inside and outside the classroom that can be improved through changes in policies and practices more consistent with good practices in undergraduate education.” The survey is student-oriented rather than administration.

While the US News and World
Conn's New "U.S." Rating: Harbringer of boom or Merely a Tour Operator Sell Trips Earn cash Travel Free Information/Reservations 1-800-648-4849 or www.ststravel.com

Hedda Gabler Does Not Equal Courtney Love To the editors

I want to alert the school of something altogether another. All the things that have gone wrong this past spring at Connecticut College. The College Voice has apparently been uninterested in the events that have been occurring on campus in recent weeks. The spring, the theater department is doing a production of Ibsen's immortal play, Hedda Gabler. If you ask the theater department, Hedda is a heaven-sent strong woman, Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, but a heaven-sent strong woman. Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, a heaven-sent strong woman. Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, a heaven-sent strong woman.

I want to alert the school of something altogether another. All the things that have gone wrong this past spring at Connecticut College. The College Voice has apparently been uninterested in the events that have been occurring on campus in recent weeks. The spring, the theater department is doing a production of Ibsen's immortal play, Hedda Gabler. If you ask the theater department, Hedda is a heaven-sent strong woman, Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, but a heaven-sent strong woman. Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, a heaven-sent strong woman. Hedda, who is meant to George Bernard Shaw, a heaven-sent strong woman.

The entire play is to be underscored with Nirvana music. Instead of Hedda (courtesy, stardom) finding herself in the dead, she overdoses on heroin. Ramsey has it, everyone's going to wear a lot of black. College Professor, if I get something wrong, please excuse my Voice and reply to me.

If we are to alert the liberals about the accurate nature of the theater's presentation, we can credit the excellence of our academic research. Unfortunately, "U.S. News" places a college's overall academic reputation on merely figures. Specifically, it judges statistics from factors such as peer assessment, student selectivity, graduation and retention rate, and number of interdisciplinary studies, our nationally recognized certificate programs and our opportunities for student-faculty research. We continue to be ranked among the nation's top liberal arts colleges. We can credit the excellence of our academic

Selling Spring Break Trips

ALL THE FUN & ALL THE PROTECTIONS

AMERICAN EXPRESS WORLDWIDE

GUARANTEED BEST BUY

1 FREE TRIP FOR EVERY 10 AIRD

OR CALL 1-800-426-7710

FIRST BOOKING

YOU SELL—WE COLLECT PAYMENTS

WORLD CLASS VACATIONS

1-800-222-4452

#1 Spring Break

Look no further!!

2 Free Trips/Free Parties w/ MTV

Hosted by)

Free Meals Drinks

Hottest Destinations at Lowest Prices

Caribbean, Mexico, Florida, Pacive

Most Reliable Company

www.maximtravel.com

#1-800-426-7710

Attention Spring Breakers

It's Free in 2003

2 Free Trips/Free Parties w/ MTV

Hosted by)

Free Meals Drinks

Hottest Destinations at Lowest Prices

Caribbean, Mexico, Florida, Pacive

Most Reliable Company

www.maximtravel.com

#1-800-426-7710

Spring Break 2003 wih

American's #1 Student Tour Operator

Call 1-800-426-4459

www.ststravel.com

To the editors:

The United States is on the edge of launching a war without justification, and, without the proper ad mission. We are the superpower. Awar

We are the superpower. Awar
George Bush’s National Energy Policy report, which has anticipated that by 2020 the United States will require 20% of its “energy consumption” that Middle East countries will supply, and that “Middle East oil is critical to America’s prosperity.” Our country’s energy supply is inextricably tied to the Middle East. Our economy is dependent on it. This is a declared strategic goal by our government.

The U.S. supported Iraq throughout the 1980s, in its invasion of Iran, and in its subsequent occupation and support of the Saddam Hussein regime. The United States recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US allowed Hussein to develop his nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons programs. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.

The US supported Iraq throughout the 1990s, in its invasion of Kuwait and its subsequent occupation of Iraq. The US recognized Hussein as the de facto leader of Iraq and as our ally. The US gave Saddam Hussein billions of dollars in aid and loans. The US encouraged Hussein to pursue weapons of mass destruction. The US refused to inspect Iraq’s weapons programs, as demanded by the UN Security Council. The US allowed Hussein to continue his support for terrorism, including the support of terrorist groups that were involved in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1995 Khobar Towers bombing.
The Bangor Sisters is Mindless Fun

By Patricia Guerin

Rated: R

Length: 97 minutes

Starring: Goldie Hawn, Susan Sarandon, Geoffrey Rush, Erika Christensen, Eva Amurri, Robin Thomas

Directed by: Bob Dolman

Summary: Suzette is a wild female grappler, reunites with her former mythic lover, and teaches her how to have fun again, while learning a few Ike lessons herself.

In the mid-fifties, Goldie Hawn has looked almost as good on the side when she was younger, armed with a younger man. "The Bangor Sisters" gives her plenty of opportunities to do both, alight, in what she does best, and to wear revealing outfits. The movie stars at a bar in Hollywood, where Hawn's character Suzanne has been working for years. She's still living it up, having a remarkable good time, but her manager is sick of her putting ways and fires her. Distraught at losing this part of her life, Suzanne proceeds to humiliate herself by attempting to pick up a young manicurist, only to discover that he is already with a young groupie. Feeling upset and nostalgic, Suzanne remembers the days when she herself was a young and wild groupie. She decides not to let losing her job mean her life and instead decides to find her old friend Vinnie, (played by Susan Sarandon, who has moved on from being a Marine, is now the mother of two bratty daughters (played by Erika Christensen and Susan Sarandon’s real-life daughter Eva Amurri). Suzanne becomes increasingly involved in Vinnie’s life, but instead of missing her romance for Suzanne, Vinnie returns Lauren into what just much fun it was to be Vinnie.

Despite the many cases of the movie could have been so much more than it was. The two women, christened “the Bangor sisters” by the star years whose careers they “did,” do a good acting job, but the script doesn’t provide them with enough substance to last the full movie. Instead of exploring the depth of issues behind their exploitation as проститутки and Vinegar’s radical change, the script reduces to stereotypes whose motives and thought are never fully developed. Christiansen and Amurri, as the spoiled daughters, aren’t gruff enough to do his deeds while having and at the end, they never really knew. And despite the funny ending, one can't help but wish the end had been a bit more central in the story so the screenwriters would have you believe. Nevertheless, “The Bangor Sisters” has its entertaining moments and it is a good, nothing else.

Bomdai Spice A Nice Escape From Harris

By Patricia Guerin

Sick of Harris food? Crazy to get off campus? Why not try something different?

Just a fifteen-minute drive from campus, lies a true delight for lovers of Indian food. Yes, I am talking about Bombay Spice. A popular restaurant Bombay Grill and Spice is a nice place to start. The food is flavorful, and the staff is very friendly. For the start, it has a very reasonable price lunch menu. The lunch hours are 11 AM through 3 PM. The buffet offers a variety of courses. You can choose from five different curries, and another one to get your rice ready. Menus are written in both.

In the midst of the bustling city, the restaurant is a perfect escape from the daily grind. With its cozy interior, the restaurant provides a relaxing atmosphere. There is a small patio area where you can enjoy your meal while watching the world go by. The staff is friendly, and always ready to assist you with any questions you may have.

The menu offers a variety of dishes, from the classic chicken tikka masala to the more adventurous lamb curry. The dishes are well presented, and the flavors are rich and authentic. The restaurant also offers a selection of vegetarian dishes, satisfying those who prefer plant-based options.

In conclusion, Bombay Spice is a must-visit for those looking for a delicious and affordable dining experience. Whether you're on the lookout for a casual meal or a special occasion, this restaurant has something for everyone. So, why not make a reservation and treat yourself to a unique and flavorful experience at Bombay Spice?
ACADEMIC FREEDOM: WHAT I EXPECT FROM CONN'S PRESIDENT

Eldad Shochet / Opinion

Eldad Shochet is a graduate student studying in the Department of Political Science. He holds a B.A. from the University of Cape Town, where I'm attending the 59th annual Thomas Benjamin Davie Lecture, hosted by the University of Connecticut (UCONN) with the support of Student Express. The talk centres on the topic of academic freedom and academic merit. I'd like to comment on Dr. Davie's speech, which I found rather interesting and thought provoking.

Dr. Davie, who has been quoting a saying by Thomas Aquinas: "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and others have greatness thrust upon them." I believe this is very relevant to the topic of academic freedom.

As mentioned in the lecture, Dr. Davie emphasizes that the definition of academic freedom is not an absolute one, but it is rather a variable concept that evolves over time. He also mentions that the concept of academic freedom is closely connected with academic merit, which is the criterion by which academic freedom is judged.

Dr. Davie argues that academic freedom is not just about the right to speak one's mind, but it also involves the right to be wrong, the right to question, and the right to be challenged. He believes that these rights are essential for the advancement of knowledge and that they should not be compromised.

Thus, long story short, the point is that Dr. Davie believes that academic freedom is a crucial aspect of academic merit.

I, as a student, believe that academic freedom is a fundamental right that should be protected. It is essential for the healthy functioning of any academic institution. It allows for open debate and the exchange of ideas, which is crucial for the advancement of knowledge.

Therefore, I believe that Dr. Davie's speech was a valuable contribution to the discussion on academic freedom and merit. I hope that this conversation will continue and that we will continue to work towards ensuring that academic freedom is protected and that academic merit is upheld.

Eldad Shochet
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders in Congress, angered by President Bush’s critics, said Thursday that lawmakers may not be able to replicate the antiwar sentiment that marked battles against the Vietnam war.

Bush: "We’re not at war. And soon we will speak with our voices."

At a White House news conference, Bush responded to criticism by Powell, warning that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which voted to ban the administration from using force against Iraq, would not get a vote on the war because the president had already made his decision.

"I believe that our actions in the Middle East will be remembered," Bush said.

"This is a war we have to fight," Powell said.

"And if we fail, it will not be our finest hour."

In a speech on the Senate Floor Wednesday, Democrats demanded that Bush delay his plan to invade Iraq.

"We can’t let the United States fall for the Sustainable Development Group’s false promises," the president said.

"They promise that if we don’t take action, it will be too late."

"We will take action when conditions are right," Powell said.

"The United States can and will take action," Powell said. "We will take action when conditions are right."

"We will take action when conditions are right."
WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the protesters responding Washington for the world financial leaders have little for the material world, but they’ve got a mountain of practical matters to look after before they can realize their causes become.

Loquoting "anti-authoritarian" child care, said Winston and "are all pretty much of the anarchist faction. We're all pretty much of the anarchist faction."

American University student and representative of the anarchist faction, invoked by "senior management" to instruct on a quarterly basis by senior management, to assist in the commission of fraud, Myers with his role in hiding millions of WorldCom's expenses (AP-Ed Betz).

The cooperation of Myers and others was the first admission of guilt from the same corporate swindle, and it was Myers and Scott Sullivan, the former WorldCom CEO, who became the biggest corporate fraud suspect, according to court papers. Myers and Sullivan ordered WorldCom to report a profit when it actually was losing money, according to regulators.

The cooperation of Myers and others amounted to a massive fraud that inflated WorldCom's reported earnings, and it was Myers and Sullivan who signed off on the false reports with the SEC.

The cooperation of Myers and others amounted to a massive fraud that inflated WorldCom's reported earnings, and it was Myers and Sullivan who signed off on the false reports with the SEC.

Prosecutors say they directed Myers and Sullivan to strike a deal with prosecutors to get out of what they alleged was the cooperation agreements with prosecutors, according to court papers filed earlier. They had yet to appear in court.

WorldCom was indicted in late August along with Yankee on securities fraud charges. At their arraignment, prosecutors said they would not ask for Myers and Sullivan to name new suspects in the case. The cooperation of Myers and others as capital expenses.

The cooperation of Myers and others amounted to a massive fraud that inflated WorldCom's reported earnings, and it was Myers and Sullivan who signed off on the false reports with the SEC.

Prosecutors say Myers and Sullivan ordered WorldCom to report a profit when it actually was losing money, according to regulators. The cooperation of Myers and others amounted to a massive fraud that inflated WorldCom's reported earnings, and it was Myers and Sullivan who signed off on the false reports with the SEC.

Prosecutors say they directed Myers and Sullivan to strike a deal with prosecutors to get out of what they alleged was the cooperation agreements with prosecutors, according to court papers filed earlier. They had yet to appear in court.

WorldCom was indicted in late August along with Yankee on securities fraud charges. At their arraignment, prosecutors said they would not ask for Myers and Sullivan to name new suspects in the case. The cooperation of Myers and others as capital expenses.

The cooperation of Myers and others amounted to a massive fraud that inflated WorldCom's reported earnings, and it was Myers and Sullivan who signed off on the false reports with the SEC.

Prosecutors say they directed Myers and Sullivan to strike a deal with prosecutors to get out of what they alleged was the cooperation agreements with prosecutors, according to court papers filed earlier. They had yet to appear in court.

WorldCom was indicted in late August along with Yankee on securities fraud charges. At their arraignment, prosecutors said they would not ask for Myers and Sullivan to name new suspects in the case. The cooperation of Myers and others as capital expenses.
Do our misplaced commas, irk you? Do you want to come over here and do something about it? You know what? Join our copy editing staff and pay homage to Strunk and White.

College Voice, Psychology & Women in the Contemporary World, Saturday, October 5, 11:30, 12:30 with a group information session at 11:30. Admission House 308. Spring 2003 issue: "Women and Gender in Development," but also important for students and faculty to understand the role of women in society and the impact of gender on various aspects of life. The conference will feature presentations by leading scholars and policymakers, as well as workshops and panel discussions. The goal is to promote greater awareness and understanding of gender issues and to encourage action to address gender disparities and inequalities. The conference is open to the public and is free of charge. For more information, please contact the Women's Studies Program at 800.333.9900 or visit their website at www.womenstudies.org. SGA Minutes Election, October 4 The Alumni Association's "Intelligence into Curriculum," by artistic and media teachers from local middle schools and high schools.

Embassy of the Russian Federation, Moscow, Russia. The panelists were experts in the field of terrorism and counter-terrorism, and the discussion was moderated by Dr. Galina Grigorovich, a leading expert in the field of international security. The panelists discussed the global threat of terrorism, the challenges faced by countries in combating the threat, and the need for international cooperation to address the issue.

The audience remained satisfied with the range of views and ideas presented. "Today everybody seems to be concerned about terrorism," Dr. Grigoryev noted. "The Bush policy on Iraq is good, but we need to be careful not to get". Dr. Grigoryev emphasized the importance of international cooperation and multilateralism in addressing terrorism.

The next panel discussion will be held on Saturday, October 5, at 1:30 p.m., titled "Women in the Contemporary World: A Symposium on Women's Rights and Gender Equality." The panelists will discuss the ongoing war in Iraq and its impact on women's rights and gender equality. The panelists will also discuss the role of women in the post-war reconstruction of Iraq and the challenges they face in building a peaceful and democratic society.

The agenda for the next panel discussion includes:

- "Women and Peace Building: The Role of Women in Post-War Reconstruction in Iraq" by Dr. Iman Al-Saadi, a leading expert in women's rights and gender equality.
- "Women's Rights and Democracy in Iraq" by Dr. Noura Al-Quraishi, a leading expert in women's rights and democracy.
- "Women's Participation in Decision-Making in Post-War Iraq" by Dr. Fatima Al-Qasim, a leading expert in women's participation in decision-making.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Dr. Grigoryev. The event is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact the Alumni Association at 800.333.9900 or visit their website at www.alumniassociation.org.
This year, the running Camels have started off the season with a bang. Both the women's and men's cross country teams have had impressive success so far. In a recent meet, the men placed 16th out of 25 teams, with senior captain Daniel Fitzgerald leading the way. Fitzgerald has consistently run well in the upcoming meets, and we can expect to see a strong showing from him in the future.

Fitzgerald garage is not in her sentences regarding the team. "That this year's team has been my best yet, and I have a lot of new runners as well," she said. "This team has been very hard working and focused on improving at every meet. They are extremely well in the "O" Mass-Dartmouth in 4th place, placing 6th overall. Following closely behind was the women's team, placing 20th overall with a time of 18:49, and The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The men's team seems to be in a good place, with their number one runner this season, Midwest, leading the way. They have decreased the number of meets this season, and are now focusing on improving their performance in the upcoming meets. The team's number one runner this season, Midwest, is currently ranked 3rd in the NESCAC. Placing 3rd overall in the Camels a spot on the all-invitational team, from competitors and moving up from their 9th place finish last Saturday, placing 6th overall. Following closely behind was the women's team, placing 20th overall with a time of 18:49, and The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.

The Urnass-Dartmouth meet was also the section that quite frankly, I didn't know what to expect. The first race, the fall Bash, was a bit of a letdown, as the runners were a bit too slow, but more surprisingly, so was the team. And when I say cold, I mean cold. It's really exciting to try something new. I love the culture and the camaraderie. It's funny how it all came together. The team has been very supportive and encouraging throughout the season, and we are looking forward to what's ahead.
A Day at the ‘Razor’ With the ‘Rents and the Old Roomie

• For many of you (your studious narrator not included), it seems as though the days before they stop serving the pants and the funniest T-shirt you quick bagel and drink, but to no Patriots game! because we were going to the avail. They were closed, and would forgot existed, 8:00 a.m. I hopped a hour; apparently the 8:45 crowd on Sunday mornings is not large mixed in here and there. But boy can sleep in. The sun was shinning at mid-day on Saturday. And to sleeping in... Reading the Break featured a different tone to the usual cheer of most sections Friday afternoon and playing games Friday afternoon and not to be made fun of. “We’re on the up and up,” Caitlin Connolly, who is currently up off the field really help us perform to our full potential, “We all get along very well and the freshmen class

SPORTS

Field Hockey Suffers Rough Weekend

By NAIK BROW-THOMAS

Some were lucky enough to get into the better leaguers or pros. So, inevitably it • Two games in two days would be a difficult daunting task for any team; • Two games in two days would be difficult for the Connoly. This past weekend, the girls first • So, maybe the Rams are getting . • The weekend was not a com • The sun was shining as we were on the road again, being chauffeured by our mid-side acupuncture, Mums and Papa Weizenbrot. It was going to be a good day. • We pushed into the parking lot a little more than two hours before kickoff! and a nice spot between an elderly couple and a guy with two young boys. Said to be the parking lot looked more like a Patrons’ merchandise store than a place to park cars. Beaus of the tiredness of the weather; T-shirts and jeans were worn, and faces were painted to support our Super Bowl champs. Outside of every car a telethon was set up: chain and coolers and grills firing up burgers that went with beer, lots of beer. For most it did not matter that the sea was yet to reach its highest point, their inner sandisha still to finish up.

Camel Scoreboard

After Slow Start, Women’s Soccer on a Roll

By CRYSTAL GAGLIONE

The soccer ball sits more inches over the goalie’s extended hands and into the net. The crowd roars and the Camels rush the field in excitement. The goal clinched the first NECASG victory for the season. "It was really huge for us," said co-captain and goalie Brianna Balboni ’04 added to the Camel’s defensive effort with 5 saves for the game and her third shutout of the season. "When we needed to be strong, as they still only lost the game 1-0. "We’re on the up and up," Caitlin Connolly, who is currently a 10-5, Connecticut College Invitational, 2:00 p.m.

Women’s Tennis: -9/20, vs. Brandies, 1-8 -9/24, vs. Stonehill, 9-0 -9/26-29/2, at Rolles New England Tournament

Rams Tough No Longer?

The Great Show on Turf is quickly being defined by the defending Super Bowl champions, the St. Louis Rams, who have taken a 0-3 start, and are already facing the possibility of being eliminated. "The game against Tufts on Saturday, "We’re on the up and up," Caitlin Connolly, who is currently Men’s Soccer: crashing the cross-bar late into the first half. The Camels dominated both efficiently and defensively with nineteen shots to WNEC’s 1 save. The Rams look nothing like their for-

Men’s Cross-Country: -9/21, UMass Dartmouth Invitational, 3rd overall -9/28 Bates College Invitational, 2:00 p.m.

Field Hockey: -9/21, 1-0, vs. Williams -9/25, at Mt. Holyoke, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 11:00 a.m.

Women’s Soccer: -9/21, at Tufts, 1-2 -9/25, vs. Coast Guard, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 2:00 p.m.

CamelScoreboard

Women's Soccer: -9/21, at Tufts, 1-2 -9/25, at Mt. Holyoke, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 11:00 a.m.

Men's Soccer: -9/21, at Tufts, 1-2 -9/25, vs. Coast Guard, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 2:00 p.m.

Women's Tennis: -9/20, vs. Brandies, 1-8 -9/24, vs. Stonehill, 9-0 -9/26-29/2, at Rolles New England Tournament

Rams Tough No Longer?

The Great Show on Turf is quickly being defined by the defending Super Bowl champions, the St. Louis Rams, who have taken a 0-3 start, and are already facing the possibility of being eliminated. "The game against Tufts on Saturday, "We’re on the up and up," Caitlin Connolly, who is currently

CamelScoreboard

Women's Soccer: -9/21, at Tufts, 1-2 -9/25, at Mt. Holyoke, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 11:00 a.m.

Men's Soccer: -9/21, at Tufts, 1-2 -9/25, vs. Coast Guard, 4:00 p.m. -9/28, at Wesleyan, 2:00 p.m.