War, Peace: Community Fund Serves Areas the World Over

by Elaine Manosvits '57

Connie College casually wrote out a check to the Community Fund representative and handed it to her. This was part of Connie's eleven-year-old concern for the welfare of others. She had been part of the community for fifteen years. Her contributions are intelligible in the social and political world which has been in existence since 1940. The demands of the war gave impetus to the formation of the fund.

Fifteen Year History

The money which the fund raises are aware of the function of Community Fund in solving the problems which it has faced and the courses which it has taken. It has changed in the past fifteen years. Your contributions are intelligible in the social and political world which has been in existence since 1940.

The U.S. Relief, which has been in existence since 1940, has been the sponsor of the fund. In addition to the reviews in the field of social science and mathematics, the fund has served a global area. It has had to be aware of the function of Connie College in solving the problems which it has faced.

Faculty Members

The library of the library is open to the public. Courses at the Sorbonne and at the University of Connecticut have been available to the public. This is the first time that America at the University of Connecticut has been available to the public. This is the first time that America at the University of Connecticut has been available to the public.

To Deliver Sermon At Sunday Vesper

The speaker at the vesper service this Sunday, November 4, will be Rabbi Bernard S. Ruderman, leader of the Fall River synagoge. His period of service there is still remembered by many local residents. Among other things, he served as the first president of the city.

To Appear in Italian Edition

Ruderman was graduated from The Hebrew University and the New York University. From 1932 to 1941, he served as the rabbi of Temple Beth El, Fall River, Mass. A native of Boston, Rabbi Ruderman was graduated from Harvard University, and the Jewish Theological Seminary. He is the father of four children.

Parisian Pulse, vivid People Portrayed in Jr. Year Sketch

by Susan Adam '57

According to many renowned journalists, the art of journalism is quite as fine as the French "cuisine." Although I am inclined to agree on this point, I have other reasons for naming this subject in this manner. But allow me to go on with my own thoughts:

September 7, 1955, was quite a day in my life. New York City was the most exciting of all cities. The hustle and bustle, the crowds, the noise. Yes, and all that was so much of the city. But the crowning glory of the "city of lights" was Paris.

It was a day full of excitement and adventure. I was in Paris and I was to spend a day there. My plans had been laid out for a few days in advance. I was looking forward to a day of sightseeing in Paris. I was looking forward to a day of seeing the sights of Paris.

For some time now, I have been planning to spend a few days in Paris. I have been planning to spend a few days in Paris. I have been planning to spend a few days in Paris.

Campus Blood Bank

Eight hundred and seventeen students donated blood last week. The Red Cross Bloodmobile was on campus.

Book by Professor J. Coleman To Appear in Italian Edition

Relativity for the Layman, written by James A. Coleman, will be published in an Italian edition. Ferrinelli Editore of Milan, Italy, will publish the book in the fall. The book is part of the series, "Science for the Layman." M. J. McGillicuddy will be the Italian translator. He is the author of several books in the series.

Whitman Collector

by Lawrence W. Allen

Mr. JAMES A. COLEMAN

Face members Attending Meetings Away from Campus

Members of the Connecticut College faculty will address various organizations within the next few weeks. In making their requests, these groups have invited speakers whose fields of study have bearing on the nature of particular group interest. Other faculty members will attend meetings in areas away from New London.

Mr. Richard H. Godwin of the History Department will attend a two-day conference of the Association of American Universities, a part of the National Research Council. The session will be held at the National American Science Building, Washington, D.C.

One of the new members of the faculty, Mr. G. D. H. Mathieu, director of the Economics department, will lecture to the Connecti cut College Alumni Association. The New East Field Hockey tournament will be held at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., November 10 and 11.

On the campus, Mr. L. Seidman of the Government Department, will address the students of the London School of Economics and Political Science. The meeting will be held at the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D.C.

Miss Alice W. Schaefer, in charge of the Mathematics department, will instruct students in mathematics. The meeting will be held at the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D.C.

With the exception of the London School of Economics and Political Science, the meeting will be held at the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D.C.

Whitman Collector

by Lawrence W. Allen

Mr. JAMES A. COLEMAN

Face members Attending Meetings Away from Campus

Members of the Connecticut College faculty will address various organizations within the next few weeks. In making their requests, these groups have invited speakers whose fields of study have bearing on the nature of particular group interest. Other faculty members will attend meetings in areas away from New London.

Mr. Richard H. Godwin of the History Department will attend a two-day conference of the Association of American Universities, a part of the National Research Council. The session will be held at the National American Science Building, Washington, D.C.

One of the new members of the faculty, Mr. G. D. H. Mathieu, director of the Economics department, will lecture to the Connecti cut College Alumni Association. The New East Field Hockey tournament will be held at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., November 10 and 11.

On the campus, Mr. L. Seidman of the Government Department, will address the students of the London School of Economics and Political Science. The meeting will be held at the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D.C.

Miss Alice W. Schaefer, in charge of the Mathematics department, will instruct students in mathematics. The meeting will be held at the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D.C.
Movie Calendar
CAPITOL
November 1, November 3: Peter
November 4, November 6: Odeon
November 8, November 10: Arrivals
November 13, November 15: Parkway
November 20, November 22: New Haven
November 26, November 28: Utopia
December 3, December 5: Palace
December 10, December 12: Freeport
December 17, December 19: Newmark
December 24, December 26: Newmark
December 31, January 2: The Vogue

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS
Events Calendar
Thursday, November 1, 1956
Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.
Knowlton Saloon, 9:00-12:00 a.m.
Palmer Room, 4:20 p.m.
Yale Russian Club Visits CC Campus
For Singing Fete
by Deborah Cohen '57
Hollins Hall last Thursday was the scene of a delightful presentation by the Yale Russian Chorus, sponsored by the Connecticut Mode Club. The Russian chorus is a heterogenous group made up of Russian majors and others who simply are interested in singing Russian folk songs. Although none of them are Russian by birth, they are an eclectic group representing many different nationalities. The members present were Kit Bingham, John Francilla, David Goodwin, Mollie McGowan, Jim Guent, Denis Mackie (leader), and Barry Rubin.

The songs presented were arranged by Denis Mackie. The harmonies were interesting and sensitive, Russian in feeling, and often improvisatory in character. Occasionally there was individualistic voice leading and inflection, resulting in a kind of polyphonization. Mr. Mackie described each song briefly by way of orientating the audience about the particular Russian folk song. He is of the opinion that no country has taken folk songs quite so seriously as Russia. Furthermore, these folk songs have influenced both Russian composers and poets.

About two songs were presented, most of which told stories and made use of literary symbols. The latter song dealt with the Sailor who sang about the uncommunicable love of his girl, and how he would never be able to show her love. The Sgambugat song about the uncommunicable love of the woman and the man, and how they would never be able to show each other their love.

The songs were well rendered, with the exception of the Sgambugat song, which seemed to be flat and monotonous. The students did an admirable job of rendering the Russian folk songs, which are usually sung in a high key and are difficult to render well. The Connecticut Chorus was not present, and the Connecticut Mode Club did not have a representative present. The songs were sung by the Yale Russian Chorus, which is made up of students who are interested in singing Russian folk songs.

The songs were well received by the audience, who gave them a warm reception. The Connecticut Mode Club was represented by Kit Bingham, John Francilla, David Goodwin, Mollie McGowan, Jim Guent, Denis Mackie (leader), and Barry Rubin.

The songs presented were arranged by Denis Mackie. The harmonies were interesting and sensitive, Russian in feeling, and often improvisatory in character. Occasionally there was individualistic voice leading and inflection, resulting in a kind of polyphonization. Mr. Mackie described each song briefly by way of orientating the audience about the particular Russian folk song. He is of the opinion that no country has taken folk songs quite so seriously as Russia. Furthermore, these folk songs have influenced both Russian composers and poets.

About two songs were presented, most of which told stories and made use of literary symbols. The latter song dealt with the Sailor who sang about the uncommunicable love of his girl, and how he would never be able to show her love. The Sgambugat song about the uncommunicable love of the woman and the man, and how they would never be able to show each other their love.

The songs were well rendered, with the exception of the Sgambugat song, which seemed to be flat and monotonous. The students did an admirable job of rendering the Russian folk songs, which are usually sung in a high key and are difficult to render well. The Connecticut Chorus was not present, and the Connecticut Mode Club did not have a representative present. The songs were sung by the Yale Russian Chorus, which is made up of students who are interested in singing Russian folk songs.

The songs were well received by the audience, who gave them a warm reception. The Connecticut Mode Club was represented by Kit Bingham, John Francilla, David Goodwin, Mollie McGowan, Jim Guent, Denis Mackie (leader), and Barry Rubin.

The songs presented were arranged by Denis Mackie. The harmonies were interesting and sensitive, Russian in feeling, and often improvisatory in character. Occasionally there was individualistic voice leading and inflection, resulting in a kind of polyphonization. Mr. Mackie described each song briefly by way of orientating the audience about the particular Russian folk song. He is of the opinion that no country has taken folk songs quite so seriously as Russia. Furthermore, these folk songs have influenced both Russian composers and poets.
Community Fund

WE'RE PUTTING ALL OUR EGGS IN ONE BASKET

One Community Appeal, Your Best Deal Ever!

It's Simpler...just one contribution by check or cash, now or in April.

It's Quicker...you are not asked to give to several organizations at different times.

It's Easter...knowing that there is just one appeal for the whole year, you can act now to have a little here and there so that your one donation to Community Fund will be the most generous one that you can possibly give.

All at the same time.

Don't forget that shared capital and $10 contributions to a variety of campaigns will probably add up to much more than the $50 we ask you to give to Community Fund. We put all "our bags in one basket" and hope that each one of you will help make our "basket" overflow.

Free Speech

(Continued from Page Two)

necessarily of cheering for the same side or of spreading excess energy. Such exuberance attended high-school activities, but it holds no place in college.

I do not think school spirit in college can be measured in terms of participation in school games, concerts, or clubs, though such activities are in a loyal support of the ideas and policies of the school. It holds no place in college.

I do not think school activities are in a dualistic character. A student whose main interests evolve around intense intellectual pursuits, or who devotes herself to her studies and to attendance at evening lectures, is certainly not this does not have a lack of spirit in the college.

And then the girl who with whom I have been a friend, is of our plans. She finds a girl who is interested in the social and academic life. She finds a girl who is interested in her time and activities.

Others are furthering their interests by participation in clubs, singing in choirs, playing in sports, concerts, and various other activities that fill the social and academic life. It seems that, in trying to evoke a campus-wide enthusiasm toward the college, we are disregarding the individual. It certainly is a fact that the individual is not that well thought of in the college.

It certainly is a fact that the individual is not that well thought of in the college. It certainly is a fact that the individual is not that well thought of in the college. It certainly is a fact that the individual is not that well thought of in the college.

Sidleine Sneakers

by Linda Hess

Halloween Eve dawned bright and clear.

Even Grenell climbed out of the slime.

That people would miss the big game in the gym.

For AA was throwing a party.

Which for weeks they planned with great excitement.

Booths were set up for testing of skills.

And a horror house downstairs for all those thrills.

Seeing that so activities lagged was Nancy & a laundry bag.

And keeping their children on their too.

Were the Kranz children as scare-crows

Crossed the wise men of Gotham.

And the kids.

To the pirates named Apollos.

Before the Shiffs sang marvelous songs.

Cause the Big Kid's judging so

First prize went to a clever rig

Came up with some gold monkey and monkey.

Drumming the game of musical chairs.

A college experience infrequently

Refreshments were served until

Save in a savings bank

THE SAVINGS BANK OF NEW LONDON

MAILLOWE'S RECIPE DEPT.

The Finsest Selection in Town

Long-Playing 78s and 45s

"If you haven't any speed"

Shop at Our Modern Music Center

Complete Record Player Department

CHARGES WELLOMEN CHECKS CASHED

74 State Street Phone G1-2391

New London

STARR BROS.

REXALL DRUG STORE

110 State St., New London

Gibson 2-4461

DAILY FREE DELIVERY

Cosmetics

Chocolates

Savings

Photo Dept.

Charge Accounts

**-------

THE INSIDE-OUT PEOPLE

The tug who blows the bank apart

Is often a foolish boy at heart.

The clean-cut man with clean-cut grin

Is apt to be a sinner within.

To end this confusion, make it your goal

To take off that mask and play your real role

For real pleasure, try the real thing

Smoke Chesterfield!

You get more flavor of what smoking for...real rich flavor, real satisfaction, and the smoothest smoke ever...thanks to exclusive ACCU RAY!

Take your pleasure big...

Smoke the great King cigar, Chesterfield Cigarettes

© 1949 by Warner Tobacco
DUDEENE'S DINING ROOM

101 N. Bank Street
A Good Place to Eat

You'll love the OLD GOLDS. Old Golds taste terrific! The reason: Old Golds give you the best tobacco. Nature-ripened tobaccos...

Tri-State Home Ec Groups Meet Here

Miss Harriet Warner, Assistant Director of Home Economics and Director of the College Nurse Education School, was hostess at a meeting of the Child Development and Family Life Curriculum Section of the Tri-State Home Economics Association. The meeting was held at the college Saturday, October 26. In Fanning Hall. Dr. Russal Simson, author, lecturer, and professor of the University of Rhode Island's home economics department, was the chairman.

Each year this group meets at one of the ten colleges and universities belonging to the tri-state association. The purpose is to discuss topics relating to curriculum, content, methods, materials, current concepts and student needs. The meeting concerned the teaching of classes in those fields represented by the universities of Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Connecticut. Pennsylvania State Teachers College, St. Joseph College, Simmons College, and Connecticut College were present.

Free Speech (Continued from Page Three)

that school spirit could easily be created. Good schools have this in their athletics and, with them, it is contagious, enveloping the spirits of the students into a unified whole. Is there not some end forward which we as Connecticutans can work together with the same enthusiasm and co-operation? Is it not better to encourage and attempt to crystallize this thinking into concrete suggestions? Such thinking by all of us will, of course, create a general atmosphere of school spirit from the general school-wide attitude, and point up the important roles that each one of us can play in making it a positive and majestic one.

Tangie Schools- You're ALL OUR OLD GOLDS

Puzzle NO. 13

Puzzle NO. 14

PUZZLES

COURTESY DRUG STORE

101 N. Bank Street
A Good Place to Eat

You'll Go For Old Golds

EITHER REGULAR, KING SIZE or THE GREAT NEW FLAVORS

Old Golds taste terrific! The reason: Old Golds give you the best tobacco. Nature-ripened tobaccos...

FIVE KINGS

BEST TASTE YET IN A FILTER CIGARETTE

Need Back Puzzles? Rules?

Send five cents for each puzzle; five for a complete set. Address: ROBERT L. PERRY STUDIO, 56 Huntington St., New London, New London, Conn.

FIFE & MONDO'S

Dancing Nitey to the Eddie Turner Trio
Dining and Dancing
Waterford, Conn.

Junior Year (Continued from Page One)

Mr. Coleman received his B.A. degree in physics from New York University and his M.A. degree in mathematics from Columbia University. During 1947-48 he served as the associate head at the Applied Physics Laboratory of Johns Hopkins University. He had theoretical and research experience in guided missiles and was a consultant to the Bureau of Naval Weapons, U. S. Navy, on anti-ballistic warfare strategy as well as a consultant to the medical research laboratory at the Armed Forces Occupational Health Base, Groton. Before coming to Connecticut College, Coleman taught at John Marshall College.

Senior Year (Continued from Page One)

The action was swift-moving, never allowing interest to slacken and the play was real, not a赚空句). This was the first time that the college put on a full play in the fall term of 1956.

Puzzle NO. 16

COURTESY DRUG STORE

101 N. Bank Street
A Good Place to Eat

You'll Go For Old Golds

EITHER REGULAR, KING SIZE or THE GREAT NEW FLAVORS

Old Golds taste terrific! The reason: Old Golds give you the best tobacco. Nature-ripened tobaccos...

SO RICH, SO LIGHT, SO GOLDEN BRIGHT!

FIVE KINGS

BEST TASTE YET IN A FILTER CIGARETTE

Need Back Puzzles? Rules?

Send five cents for each puzzle; five for a complete set. Address: ROBERT L. PERRY STUDIO, 56 Huntington St., New London, New London, Conn.

FIFE & MONDO'S

Dancing Nitey to the Eddie Turner Trio
Dining and Dancing
Waterford, Conn.