Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1999_2000

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1999_2000/8

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1999-2000 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.
The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.
OPINION

Students face off on campus chalking, local elections, and the housing system.

A&E

No Time for Taco Tuesday. The custodial staff kicks it in Waterbury; Bolling Poetry season opens on campus.

SPORTS

Men's soccer near victory; women's soccer faces Bates for Homecoming.

---

IN THE NEWS

Conn's Clayton Running For New London Board of Ed

By Chris Carmiello

Everyday, Connecticut College student Tanzania Clayton wakes up early, goes to work in the Language Education Department and After School Program (LEAP) for four hours, goes home, and then goes to another job. In the evening, she attends more school and goes to yet another job.

After that—before doing homework, teaching Bible study, or directing the College's Gospel choir, depending on the day—she and her two roommates go out to dinner. Much of the time, Tanzania is the one most responsible for the household chores, which can include cooking, errands, laundry, and cleaning.

Last year, she moved to New London from Paterson, New Jersey. For four years, Clayton has worked actively in the New London school system. Along with being the program coordinator for LEAP at Connecticut College, she is also a member of the advisory board of the Connecticut College After School Program (CAMS)

Clayton hopes to help New London to share their ideas with the community. The Clayton family has a history of involvement in local school systems. Clayton is a member of the New London community and feels strongly about improving opportunities for children.

Clayton wants to make New London a safer place and get the community involved. She believes that the community has a responsibility to educate and support children. She encourages others to get involved in their communities and to support local organizations.

---

Municipal Election Critical for Future of Redevelopment

Pro-development PAC endorses four candidates

By Rob Knaak

Managing Editor

With elections only a couple weeks away, the race for the New London City Council has heated up. Several prominent individuals and groups are contesting the council, and the outcome of the election will impact the future of New London.

The Council's campaign committee is comprised of Peter R. Burdick (R), Peg Curtin (D), and President Gaudiani. The campaign committee's advertisement states that "The New London City Council is ready to work together to address the issues that are most important to our city."

"I believe that the City Council has a tremendous role to play in shaping our city's future," said President Gaudiani. "The Council's role is crucial in determining the direction of our city, and we are for those candidates..."

Rob Knaak

Staff Writer

---

IN OTHER NEWS

The College Voice

Main Campus

New London

Connecticut College

New London, CT

Connecticut College, New London, CT

---

Connecticut College

Main Campus

New London

Connecticut College, New London, CT

---

The College Voice

Main Campus

New London

Connecticut College, New London, CT

---

Connecticut College

Main Campus

New London

Connecticut College, New London, CT
George Baskette's View

Torn Down SOUL Poster

Indicative of Greater Problems on Campus

I thought this year would be different. I don’t know why.
Maybe I’m naïve, maybe I’m just feeling optimistical.
Especially when you’re fifteen, early April, and the weather is beautiful enough to make you leave your books at home.

On October 17th was National Coming Out Day, October 18th marked the start of a year-long, annual event in honour of Stephen’s death. And, last Sunday, less than four hours after I visited every bathroom on campus to hang up posters, I found a ripped-open poster about student suicide and mental health.

I am a SOUL member, and I am an underclassmen. We hold ourselves to principles that we believe in, principles that are not consistent with the current administration. Either way, my naiveté and my optimism have been rudely attacked. Ad rates are available on request by calling (860) 439-2813. The College Voice will not accept ads it does not approve. The final deadline for advertising is 5:00 P.M. the Wednesday preceding publication.

Letters to the Editor

The College Voice invites you to discuss a wide array of topics.
Letters should be 200 words or fewer, and should be signed.

Letters should be typed, double-spaced, and may include three e-mail addresses. The College Voice reserves the right to reject letters.

Advertising

The College Voice is a non-profit publication. Advertisements are found on the back of all home editions. The final deadline is 5:00 P.M. on Wednesday preceding publication.

Letters to the Editor

Readers are encouraged to submit letters to the editor. Letters should be no longer than 430 words, and must include a phone number for verification.

Letters to the Editor

Since we’re only “temporary” residents of New London, we, as Connecticut College students, clearly should not participate in New London elections. But if we did, we would have chosen to vote in New London, whose town residents should be carving out their own future. Right?

Absolutely wrong. It’s arguments like the one above that bring out one of the worst aspects of college life; it can too often seem like we are on a self-centered mission to extricate ourselves from caring about all of our role in our greater community. If we just inwardly focus on our own small world, we’ll prepare ourselves to do some sort of vague future good. We don’t buy it.

We, as college students, have a responsibility to the world around us. At the bare minimum, we clearly have a role to play in New London elections. Connecticut College is very much a part of New London, and accordingly, very much deserves to be represented in our community. New London residents should clearly exercise their right to vote. We at Conn College are students who, share the responsibility of voting in New London Elections.

But what of the argument that individual college students are only limited four-year tourists in a foreign town? This argument misses the point entirely. As an institution, Connecticut College is a very important part of the New London environment. The fact that those residents only reside here for four years in no way decreases the necessity of their representation in New London elections.

Students have just as much of a right and obligation to vote in New London as any resident who may choose to live here from two years to four years. The fact that our students have historically been underrepresented in the voting process serves as even more of an obligation for current students to participate in elections.

But most importantly, perhaps because of our role as college students, we have a far greater obligation to vote than even the two-year residents of New London. We know that future Conn students will reside in New London; they should have the benefit of their predecessors representing the interests of a college student in local elections.

Moreover, so, in addition to our parent and society, we have invested millions of dollars so that we may spend our days studying the ways of humanity. While it is acceptable that we choose to avoid the political scene, I do not believe, that someone who has studied how the political system works, should not use the knowledge we gained into action.

That said, perhaps this is being a bit too idealistic. In the past ten years, it has become more and more common, with increasing numbers of students volunteering to run for student government, to finance town redevelopment, and students providing utilities services available in New London.

If we do not vote in New London elections, we only serve to make that schism grow deeper—for no valid reason. Connecticut College is very much a part of New London, and accordingly, very much deserves to be represented in our community. New London residents should clearly exercise their right to vote. We at Conn College are students who, share the responsibility of voting in New London Elections.

Letters to the Editor

Students have just as much of a right and obligation to vote in New London as any resident who may choose to live here from two years to four years. The fact that our students have historically been underrepresented in the voting process serves as even more of an obligation for current students to participate in elections.

But most importantly, perhaps because of our role as college students, we have a far greater obligation to vote than even the two-year residents of New London. We know that future Conn students will reside in New London; they should have the benefit of their predecessors representing the interests of a college student in local elections.

Moreover, so, in addition to our parent and society, we have invested millions of dollars so that we may spend our days studying the ways of humanity. While it is acceptable that we choose to avoid the political scene, I do not believe, that someone who has studied how the political system works, should not use the knowledge we gained into action.

That said, perhaps this is being a bit too idealistic. In the past ten years, it has become more and more common, with increasing numbers of students volunteering to run for student government, to finance town redevelopment, and students providing utilities services available in New London.

If we do not vote in New London elections, we only serve to make that schism grow deeper—for no valid reason. Connecticut College is very much a part of New London, and accordingly, very much deserves to be represented in our community. New London residents should clearly exercise their right to vote. We at Conn College are students who, share the responsibility of voting in New London Elections.
OPINION

The Question of Human Population Sustainability
By JONATHAN MONETA

The same principle applies to the human population and the environment. Human societies must learn to live within their means. When the population growth rate equals the growth of the environment, we can have a sustainable population. If the growth rate is greater than the growth of the environment, we will deplete the environment. However, if the growth rate is less than the growth of the environment, we will have a surplus of resources.

This is a process that is occurring now in the United States and the United Nations. If the population grows too quickly, we will have a surplus of resources. If it grows too slowly, we will deplete the environment. This is a problem that we need to solve. We need to make sure that the population grows at a rate that is sustainable.

The key to solving this problem is to reduce our population growth rate. This can be done through a combination of policies and incentives. For example, we can provide education and information about family planning. We can also provide access to contraception and prenatal care. We can also provide economic incentives, such as tax breaks and subsidies, to encourage people to use contraception. We can also provide social services, such as child care and elder care, to help peoplerear their children and care for their elderly family members.

The key is to make sure that people understand the importance of family planning. We need to educate people about the importance of family planning. We need to make sure that people have access to family planning services. We need to make sure that people understand the importance of family planning. We need to make sure that people have access to family planning services. We need to make sure that people understand the importance of family planning. We need to make sure that people have access to family planning services.
Bloody Poetry Steams Up Tansill Theater

By REBEKAH PAGE

Bloody Poetry, directed by the one and only Tyler Sheinis, amounted to a cleverly presented, emotionally charged, and thematically rich drama that left audience members feeling unsettled. The four leading characters, each with their own unique storylines, intertwined to create a powerful narrative that explored the complexities of human relationships.

Set in a world where the line between fiction and reality blurs, Bloody Poetry delved into the experiences of the Roman novella by Giulio Cesare and the plays of Peter Chenot, Dan Rafferty, and Jed Georgitis. The characters, played by the talented ensemble of Clairemont (Jennifer Monroe), and Mary's half-sister Claire (Monica D'Alessandro), along with the charismatic何 involuntarily fall into each other's arms. The viewer is drawn into this world of passion and desire, with the actors delivering performances that leave an indelible mark.

The play's climax was a powerful scene where the characters come face to face with their deepest fears and desires. The set, designed by local artist, perfectly captured the essence of the play, while the costumes, created by the students, added an authentic touch to the production.

Overall, Bloody Poetry was a triumph for the PAFA theater department, offering a thought-provoking and emotionally charged experience for the audience. It is a must-see for anyone interested in the arts and for those who value a well-crafted, engaging drama.
YOUNG LOCAL TALENT SHOWCASED

PHOTO BY ANDY SEGUIN

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

GRACE ALBINSON

Have you ever wondered what different things you could have done if you had not become a musician? The answer to this question might surprise you. The music scene in this area is vast and diverse, offering a wide range of genres and styles to explore and enjoy. From the more mainstream to the offbeat and amusing, there is something for everyone to discover.

GREGORY AMENDELL, best known for his film work in the 80s and 90s, is a director of the two Austin Powers movies.

In an age where the fusion of rap and rock is commonplace, the band Future Man of Bela Fleck and the Flecktones stands out as a unique and innovative force. The band, led by composer and guitarist Tony Levin, has successfully taught himself how to play the electric cello, which he has incorporated into his performance style.

In the world of music, innovation is key. The band Future Man of Bela Fleck and the Flecktones is an example of this, as they have taken a new approach to rap music. Their music is characterized by a blend of traditional funk and modern rock, which has resulted in a unique sound that is both familiar and refreshing.

The group's most recent album, "Dreamin," is dedicated to Bradley Special Sauce. It is a testament to their commitment to engaging with their fans and providing music that resonates with their life experiences.

The album "Dreamin" is a dramatic departure from the rest of the album, featuring a rafter watertight production that is in stark contrast to the same old sound. It is a testament to the band's ability to adapt and evolve.

The group's performance is one of the highlights of this album, as they bring their unique sound to life with passion and energy. The album is a must-listen for fans of innovative rap music and those who appreciate the art of music.
RE-ELECT
LLOYD BEACHY
Democratic candidate for
New London City Council

PULL LEVER 7B

Your voice for reasonable solutions

YOUR ROLE TO IMPROVE YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME IS TO VOTE!!! MY GOALS TO IMPROVE OUR CITY ARE:

- We must open our doors to our college community to become the home away from home for students at Conn College, the Academy, and Mitchell.

- We must increase our awareness of all that we have in this marvelous city.

- We must market the dynamic advantages of our downtown.

- We must aggressively pursue neighborhood revitalization in order to enhance our quality of life.

- We must participate in regional approaches to regional problems.

YOUR VOTING DISTRICT IS THE FIRST DISTRICT WHICH IS LOCATED AT WINTHROP SCHOOL. A SHORT WALK DOWN WILLIAMS STREET TURNING LEFT UP THE HILL ONTO CRYSTAL AVENUE. I'LL SEE YOU THERE!!!

KEEP NEW LONDON MOVING FORWARD!!!

If you wish to continue the RE-Development and RE-Vitalization of New London...

PLEASE help RE-ELECT:

1A-Reid Burdick 3A-Rob Pero Republicans

3B-Peg Curtin 6B-Ernest Hewett Democrats

These four city councilors have put party politics aside and consistently worked together to support our city.

EVERY VOTE COUNTS!

Last election was won by less than 50 votes. Your decision will make the difference.

"The Committee to Keep New London Moving Forward is a non-political group of citizens who love New London and who want to see its rebirth successfully completed."

Walter V. Baker - Honorary Chairman

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1999
THE COLLEGE VOICE

You do not have any text to display.
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1999
THE COLLEGE VOICE
CONTINUED

FREE TRIPS AND CASH !!!
SPRING BREAK 2000

StudentCity.com is looking for Highly Motivated Students to promote Spring Break 2000! Organize a small group and travel FREE!! Top campus races can earn a Free Trips & over $10,000! Choose Cancun, Jamaica or Nassau! Book Trips On-Line Log in and win FREE Stuff.
Sign Up Now On Line www.StudentCity.com or 800/293-1443

SeaPony LLC
Tel: 444-0585

See the other side of the River
SeaPony is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
to carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.

STUDY IN OXFORD
Live with British students in the very
center as a Registered
Visiting Student of
a medieval college
with university privileges.
Summer and graduate study

Washington International
Studies Council
214 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E.
Washington, DC 20002
Phone Number: (202) 547-3259
Fax: (202) 547-3258

For more information:
www.wisc.org/wisc@erols.com

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Conn's Clayton Runs
Board for Ed

Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment

Redevelopment is a 36'
downeast-style
lobster
boat.
The 48hp
diesel pro-
pels her at speeds up to 52
Ride the
‘Pony

Do a Dorr или Dorm Floor Trip
Take your parents on a cruise.

Capt. Clan Water is US Coast Guard Licensed
SeaPony, the vessel is US Coast Guard inspected
To carry up to 20 passengers. Conveniently lo-
dated in downtown New London behind Neon
Chicken, on the way to Stash's.
Believe Politics has Nothing to Do with Your Life?

Skeptic about Government?

Discover the True Facts

INTERN AT THE CONNECTICUT STATE CAPITOL

Learn about state government and earn academic credit this spring semester as a legislative intern at the State Capitol. Work with a state senator or representative and develop first-hand knowledge of the real world of politics.

Both part-time and full-time internships are available. A major in political science and prior political experience is not required. Academic credit is granted by most colleges and universities. In addition, a travel stipend is awarded to cover the cost of travel to the State Capitol. To learn more about this program and obtain a campus advisor, see your campus career services.

The Res Life FROG Award

This year the Office of Residential Life and the Center for Co-Curricular Programs will be awarding a FROG (Friends, Roommates, Or Gastronomers) award to four freshmen who have been outstanding friends and roommates. This award is given to four freshmen who have best demonstrated the qualities of being a friend and roommate to the freshmen class.

FROG AWARD PLEASE SEED:BLACKSTONE FOR HELPING WITH THE FRESHMEN BBQ, AN OPEN-MINDED AND ORGANIZING A DORM DOOR DECORATING CONTEST FOR HALLOWEEN.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

Newly-elected freshman President Josh Peck ran on a platform that he is the "omnivore," a "Massachusetts leader intent on representing the interests of every student." He is also a personality, a voice and a face that students can relate to on issues such as housing, food, and academic credit. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

Not quite sure what SGA has done for you lately? The SGA held its first Honors Code Committee meeting last Friday night. Peck believes that his music background has given him a voice in the debate over new on-campus regulations. Although Espuelas was laughed at when he first presented the idea of requiring students to carry identification cards, he believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.

SGA President Mike Myers

SGA President Mike Myers believes that the information available over the Internet would give government officials a chance to track down individuals who are not even aware that they are under surveillance.
College to Open Downtown Dorm

The opening of the downtown dorm, students will look out on State Street instead of Apple trees.

While that case has long since passed, Gaudiani wants to remind students that "we don't understand why we enacted a policy that literally prohibits a relationship whether or not it would interfere with work or personal security."

"It's all about the comfort of students," he said.

"I think that this policy阿拉rea good news because we don't think that there is a problem with faculty student relationships."

On the opposite side is Katie Brady, "If that is their policy to negotiate it with another student or anyone else an argument against conflicts of interest with Mitchell, professors."

"We need to be very optimistic and need to anticipate, examine issues."

The non-specialized skills that we teach you, such as the ability to write and speak persuasively, are considered vital in law. We currently have openings available at Watson Wyatt for actuaries. For more information, or to apply, contact Career Services.

"Come see us at the following events:"

- October 22
  - Connecticut College Career Fair
  - Campus Interviews (For more information, or to apply, contact Career Services.)

- Fall 2019:
  - William and Mary School of Law
  - University of Pennsylvania Law School
  - University of California, Irvine School of Law
  - University of Chicago Law School
  - University of Chicago, Booth School of Business
  - University of Chicago, Law School
  - University of Chicago, Booth School of Business

- Winter 2019:
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law
  - New York University School of Law

- Spring 2020:
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School
  - Harvard Law School

- Summer 2020:
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law
  - Stanford University School of Law

- Fall 2020:
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
  - University of California, Berkeley School of Law
While we all know the socks rule... Loyalties Divided Among Hall Staff Over Sox/Yankees Fandom

B. CODY WARD
associate news editor

The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.

"The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams filled a TV during games to offer their support. Despite the end of the series, some fans are still divided.

"I can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans," said John Reuss and Peggy Vettovalli, fans who have been supporting the Red Sox for years.
Wet Win for Men's Soccer

An exciting come-from-behind victory has the team...

Sam Lesser Leads Conn Sailing Team

The Team Finishes Season in Fourth Place

By MATI SKEDAS

The 1999 sailing team has produced another strong finish for the Collegiate Intercollegiate Sailing Association.

Well volleybal...
First Year Water Polo Team Exceeds Expectations

By CHARLES HASSELL

The first-year women's water polo team has surprised everyone who expected a losing season, as they currently own a losing record and enter this Wednesday's game against Bowdoin. The Camels have played nine games, only winning two, and losing seven. However, they have come abattle against a talented Colby squad, coming up short against their offense.

The team is led by coach Ken Ralph, who has been with the program for over ten years. Ralph is known for his dedication to the sport and his ability to work with his players. The Camels have played four games against teams ranked in the top ten, with only one loss to Wesleyan. Ralph has been pleased with the team's progress, stating, "It's been a learning experience for everyone involved." Ralph has been experimenting with new lineups and strategies, trying to find the best combination of players for each game.

The Camels have been particularly successful in their defense, allowing only 17 goals in their nine games. Ralph has been impressed with the team's ability to work together on the defensive end, saying, "They have been playing well as a unit." The Camels have also scored 35 goals, led by Sarah Hurst who has scored 13 goals and added two assists. Ralph has been pleased with Hurst's performance, stating, "She has been a consistent scorer for us."

The Camels have also been successful in their pool play, finishing with a 2-3 record. They have yet to face a team ranked in the top ten, but Ralph is looking forward to the challenge. He said, "We are confident that we can compete with the top teams in the league." The Camels will continue to work hard to improve their skills and increase their chances of success in the upcoming games.