NEWS

New London debuts financing buildings' renovation plan.

SPORTS

Women's Volleyball faces staffing shortages and long hours.

A&E

Weather Concert provides avoidable pleasure.

---

College Faces $100M in Deferred Maintenance

By: BOB JACOBS

Connecticut College faces a difficult financial situation in its attempt to meet the needs of its campus.

The total needed to cover all maintenance projects exceeds $100 million. The college's maintenance budget is currently at $7 million, but it needs to be at $25 million.

The college has been experiencing staffing shortages in its Dining Services department, which has led to increased costs and decreased efficiency.

The college is facing a difficult financial situation due to the need for significant investments in deferred maintenance and staffing. The college is working to address these issues, but it will require significant funding to make the necessary improvements.

---

Distinguished Alum Practices A Unique Brand of Math Magic

By: COLEY WARD

Edward Berger, a math professor at Connecticut College, has been performing his comical tricks for years. His latest trick, which he saved for last, saw Dozens of people forced to squeeze into the aisles and along the back wall. Some even chose to listen from the stairwell in the back, through their views were completely obstructed.

"It's fun to come back and see the campus, which is very difficult to manipulate the text," said Berger. "It's fun to come back and see the mathematics field. He has been the subject of several radio and television stations, including National Public Radio and NBC, and is very popular keynote speaker at conferences around the nation and UCLA.

"I barely got a seat," said Berger. "I am glad I did manage to get in, but it was a bit of fun, more enjoyable than I would have anticipated."
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Spot on the Board of Trustees

Conn Students and Faculty Deserve a Spot on the Board of Trustees

By Timbarco

Meghan Sherburn

Associate A&E Editor

Opinion Editor

Micah Weisberg

Layout Editor

Ian Abrams

Seryl Linsky

All Trustees must approve the final size of the college without a single student vote. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes.

The College Voice will not accept ads it deems to be libelous, an incitement to violence, or personally damaging. Ad rates are available upon request. No ads for alcoholic beverages, tobacco, cigarettes, or any products or services that promote harm. Ad rates are available upon request. No ads for alcoholic beverages, tobacco, cigarettes, or any products or services that promote harm.

The student health insurance is indeed accepted at Memorial Hospital. However, Lawrence and Memorial Hospital, and our plan, which includes over 140,000 subscribers on campus, was targeted to protect the students of needs residing here. Every student of Connecticut College who is insured with our plan would cover an ambulance or emergency room visit. Each family plan faces insurance companies against our company and strike the coverage of the agreement, if the coverage were found to be inadequate, the student health insurance would be charged to the student. No one from your voice group asked about insurance coverage.

Hypoallergens and other scientifically advanced alternatives (EMTs) were not our right matters. In a true emergency, for the health of the student, we as doctors want to perform a medical capacity. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes. The Special Staffing committee can recommend what committees, advise more students, and teach to larger classes.

I can honestly say that the Voice articles critical to the closing of the 24-hour office on our main campus of the dedication of our evening and night nurses who commit to being there for students. Indeed the last hour is about 24-hour availability of free condoms. Condoms can be found in our campus health centers in the parts of the world without names. We welcome responsible input from the students we serve, and we are ready to listen and learn.

I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic.

The idea that America has little culture to support for creative technologies.

Our nation. Our pride. But it was my home. I woke up every morning and looked out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window; and every morning I knew that I was looking out my window.

I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall. I am still cry when I see them fall.

I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student. I don’t have the word “blame” being thrown about, tossed away, and retrieved by the next over-educated student.

I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic.

I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic. I am writing to you in response to two articles addressed to Student Health Services and our new format as an outpatient health clinic.
OPINION

UNDERSTANDING WEST AFRICA'S DILEMMA

We often make the mistake of referring to problems in Africa as "African problems." It seems somehow natural to attach some sort of collective guilt to Africa as a whole. For example, who is responsible for the World Bank to be in a difficult situation? Most of these countries are responsible, for they have been overindulgent in luxury, indulging in excesses of life, etc. However, this is the result of their own policies, which have been nothing but self-defeating. The problem with Africa is a self-imposed, not a collective problem. It is the result of the policies that have been in place for decades, and it is the result of the lack of political and economic stability in the region. The solution to Africa's problems lies not in blaming the continent as a whole, but in looking at the individual countries and the policies they have implemented. It is only by understanding the specific issues of each country that we can begin to find solutions to Africa's problems.

Ben Vook-Gersh - INTO AFRICA

WOVEN CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

A couple of weeks ago, my representative Barbara Lee was one of the few who spoke against giving President Bush the authority to go to war against terrorism. She spoke against giving President Bush the authority to go to war against terrorism because it is not only a breach of the law, but a breach of the principles upon which our country was founded. She spoke against giving President Bush the authority to go to war against terrorism because it is not only a breach of the law, but a breach of the principles upon which our country was founded.

Barbara Lee, speaking on the floor of the house said, "If we're going to fight a counterterrorism war, we're going to have to understand America in our basic freedoms.

Are You Now, or Have You Ever Been a Pacifist?

Pacifism has become a fashionable business in the United States. Pacifism is beginning to be seen in our society as a way to show our commitment to the principles of non-violence and peace. However, there are some who argue that pacifism is not only ineffective, but actually harmful. For example, one writer argues that pacifism is a "wimp" policy that is not effective in the face of terrorism. Another argues that pacifism is a "soft" policy that is not effective in the face of terrorism.

This article discusses the issue of pacifism and its effectiveness in the face of terrorism. It argues that pacifism is not only ineffective, but actually harmful. It also argues that there are other, more effective policies that can be used to combat terrorism.

TO SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY

E. J. Dionne Jr. - AND JUSTICE FOR ALL

Throughout the twentieth century, leaders have used times of national crisis and emergency to push through laws that are unconstitutional. At such times, the government is often able to push through laws that would be unconstitutional at other times. For example, during World War II, the government passed laws that would be unconstitutional today. Did we justify those laws because they were passed during a time of national crisis?

I don't understand how pacifications can be so powerful.

Another letter suggested that I knew the country to be a mess in the face of Osama Bin Laden. It's not hard to

No, we've never called September 11 a tragedy at any rate a hundred times by now. But the larger tragedy will come if we never move on from the events of that day.

No, but that's not the problem. The problem is that we have not yet learned how to deal with the aftermath of September 11.

No,because the people who were attacked on that day were from all over the world.

No, because America is not the only member of Congress to take action to prevent terrorism.

TO A PROBLEM THAT WON'T GO AWAY

Even before the Taliban fell to the American forces, there was a sense of momentum from the international community towards the idea of setting up a government in Afghanistan that was open and inclusive. The Taliban's focus on women's rights and freedoms was seen as a positive development, and there was a hope that this new government would be able to provide a stable and peaceful environment for all Afghans.

However, even before the Taliban were fully defeated, the US government began to move in the opposite direction. They began to push for a government that was more aligned with their own interests, and this led to a series of events that ultimately resulted in the collapse of the Afghan government.

The US government, in its efforts to secure peace and stability in Afghanistan, has been accused of numerous violations of international law. These violations include extrajudicial killings, enforced disappearances, and torture.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.

The US government has been accused of violating international law and human rights standards. The US government has been accused of using violence and force to achieve its goals, and this has led to a series of events that have resulted in the deaths of many innocent Afghans.
because of 1) oil (economics) and 2) if Iraq was allowed U.S. military supplies and U.S. backing to keep over a million Palestinians under a repressive police state where they are not allowed to leave their homes but for mention the repeated massacres of villages and bombing we blocked whomwe trained, funded, and supported, the Taliban their hiring of right-wing paramilitary death squads to intimidates carried out by U.S. corporations-Chomsky:
are countries like the US which use violence for politi-only country condemned by the World Court for inter-US of course dismissed the Court's judgment with con-from their~omes '~destrOy 70% of the country _ drinking water, or the civilian power stations and water leaving 200,000 corpses and four countries in ruins. In the same years the US was carrying out large-scale renovation elsewhere, including the Middle East to cite one, the car-bombing in Beirut in 1983 ousside a university civilian targets _ instead of engaging the Nicaraguan port for . filled with people at the time? Of course not, but that is we never heard about the hundreds of 1990s and by far the leading recipient of US arms aud
v.,
years ago. This is only a small sample.
"...It's "worth it" that millions are dying and have died in a direct result of our sanctions against Iraq.
This is the evil" of the world ... now, just 4 months later, all of a sudden another "great terrorize workers into compliance; or Union Carbide,
"cowards" talk of the "cowards" who perpetrated the horrible in Kosovo under NATO bombs), and with every ling their targets every time, just like a video game on
"I mean, forget about the "depleted uranium missiles", (least medical bother) we used, and now of the the (low level nuclear bombs) we used, and now all of the their reaction to the Qana massacre in 1996, which caused so ironic and ridiculously hypocritical when our "lead-
the like Basra, for instance- with no real militarytargets, but
and began to decline to previous levels only in 1999, hit with missiles from hundreds of miles away (makes it sharply in 1984 as Turkey launched its terrorist attack
v.,
"I'm afraid of course, to mention the mass killings and particularly "American business and industrial"
Nor was this before the bombing started. The Taliban do not worry about killing their own people...they are the very clueless people...they are in the position of
to say that America is the greatest perpetrator and supporter of terror on this planet-
and many others.
"I don't know the question baffling. The US is, after all, the
some 18,000 Lebanese and Palestinian civilians, not in ar
al reaction to the Qana massacre in 1996, which caused
so ironic and ridiculously hypocritical when our "lead-
the like Basra, for instance- with no real militarytargets, but
and began to decline to previous levels only in 1999, hit with missiles from hundreds of miles away (makes it
sharply in 1984 as Turkey launched its terrorist attack
v.,
"I'm afraid of course, to mention the mass killings and
particularly "American business and industrial"
Nor was this before the bombing started. The Taliban
do not worry about killing their own people...they are the very clueless people...they are in the position of
to say that America is the greatest perpetrator and supporter of terror on this planet-
and many others.
"I don't know the question baffling. The US is, after all, the
some 18,000 Lebanese and Palestinian civilians, not in ar
al reaction to the Qana massacre in 1996, which caused
so ironic and ridiculously hypocritical when our "lead-
the like Basra, for instance- with no real militarytargets, but
and began to decline to previous levels only in 1999, hit with missiles from hundreds of miles away (makes it
sharply in 1984 as Turkey launched its terrorist attack
v.,
"I'm afraid of course, to mention the mass killings and
particularly "American business and industrial"
Nor was this before the bombing started. The Taliban
do not worry about killing their own people...they are the very clueless people...they are in the position of
to say that America is the greatest perpetrator and supporter of terror on this planet-
and many others.
CISLA Student Studies RU40, Abortion in France

By Lauren Barnes

Sarah Malquias ’02 left for her winter internship in France expecting to learn about the new abortion pill RU40. Two months later, she returned with new eyes and much more.

Malquias described her internship as an eye-opening experience that gave her a better understanding of the social, political, economic, and religious differences between France and America, as well as the medical viewpoint that was lacking for her.

"In the two months I was there, I watched abortions as they were being performed," said Malquias. "It got so dull to the women before and after the procedure and learned about the good and bad aspects of RU40." Malquias found her internship through Center for International Studies in the Liberal Arts, a Connecticut College program designed to help students understand foreign culture as they work in their major area of study. This past summer, internships ranged from working on a magazine in Russia to interning with a fashion company in Japan.

After spending a semester abroad in Paris, Malquias put her acquired language skills to use at a Family Planning clinic in the north of France. There, she sat in on the interviews between the women receiving abortions.

"Where it wasn't the most comfortable topic, it was really interesting to hear each woman's perspective," she said. "They were really open with me and were very willing to answer all my questions." Until recently, RU40, a drug designed in France, was not used in the United States because anti-abortion activists said that making that move would be more convenient for the general public. People were really skeptical about my project because they didn't want some random American working inside their abortion clinic," said Malquias.

Middle class to minority housing during her stay in France. She was completely on her own and forced to improve her language skills.

As a senior this year, Malquias is now writing her thesis, in her opinion, the most difficult part of the project. She recognizes the amount of work it will take, but has found the experience rewarding and knows that it will benefit her in the future regardless of what she chooses to do.

"CISLA was a lot of work but it definitely paid off," said Malquias.

"I improved my language skills enormously, and came back having done what I set out to do. I recommend it to anybody because, not only do you learn about your area of study, you become a more interesting person in general. CISLA is unique to our school and once you graduate, there won't be a lot of people out there with the same opportunity." Sarah Malaquias '02 studies RU40, an abortion drug not legal in the US, in Paris. (Courtesy)

College Shops for New ERP System dilemmas in the country capable of servicing the system. The impact of an information system breakdown could have devastating effects on the college. These include a lack of ability to charge and receive payment, delay in processing student reports, register or bill students, or pay college employees.

continued from page 1

In addition, currently the greater the breakdown, the greater the cost that would have to be put to the same obstacles.

The need to replace the system has existed for a long time, but is only now receiving attention because of the high cost.

"The kind of system that we need in order to cost out six to eight million dollars that we would have to invest over three to five years," said Maroni. "We would very likely defer finance a portion of the system. It translates into an annual cost to the college of the $700,000 range.

Maroni expects that "We'll spend about $200,000 in this budget year with work with the consultants reviewing systems."

In 1997, the college attempted to implement Peoplesoft System, installing it in the admissions department, but the system was abandoned after it was determined too costly.

The college is considering a half dozen systems, including Peoplesoft. By February, two or three finalists will be selected to deliver presentations to the college.

Hill expects that within a year the gradual process of implementing the new system will be new and the college has not forgotten the partial functioning by January 2003 and in full basic function in July 2004.

The Steering Committee will make the final recommendation to the Board of Trustees. The Evaluation Committee, made up of college administration leaders, and chaired by Registrar Allan breadcrumbs and 13 database manager Brian Spring Break 2000!!!

Check deals on websites for student discounts. Advertise on your school bulletin board, in the student newspaper, and talk to student government.

Acapulco, Mazatlan, Jamaica, Bahamas, South Padre, Florida.

Information/Reservations 1-800-545-4469 or www.atlantic-

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

www.swedishprogram.org

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.

Another fine dining experience made possible by Fleet.

The Fleet Student Banking Package. Total Access To Your Money.
Galileo a controversial figure in his re-learning the Italian language and travels to Italy to research and transcribing the book which the book is centered.

Dava Sobel Talks Fathers, Daughters & Galileo

On Friday, September 28, Dava Sobel, author of Longitude and Galileo's Daughter, delivered a lecture in the Hygienic Art Gallery in New London, Connecticut, as part of the college's summer reading program. Sobel explained how Galileo and his daughter, Marie Celeste, were full of knowledge and science and how their relationship was beyond human understanding.

Sobel admitted that she hates to end a lecture to students who were other forms of mixed media for the science. She described her work as “combining the material I worked with the abstract, giving the viewer an experience that I don’t know how to explain.” Sobel clearly put a lot of time into creating works that accurately contain even a small aspect of her own face and Marie Celeste’s connection.

Dava Sobel...
Weezer No Teaser, They're a Crowd Pleaser

By James Ginn

I went to a Backstreet Boys concert and watched as a small boy, who could not be older than 5, stage-dived onto the stage, took the microphone and sang "I want it and I want it and I want it and I want it. (And I want it)

"Okay," he went on to say. "I want it and I want it and I want it and I want it. (And I want it)

Don't you want it too?" Everyone in the audience started to whistle and iterated the chorus as a young boy.

Weezer released their first album in May of 1994, a self-titled work that was refreshingly different from the pop tunes that everyone wanted to hear. It was a minor hit, but the band had caught the ear of music lovers throughout the country.

Weezer and the Backstreet Boys are both bands on their respective album "Green Album," which was released in 1996.

As an avid fan, I have found that this show I don't miss, on "SIMPSONS," has captured the essence of "Green Album" perfectly. The humor and wit that are so characteristic of this album are perfectly mirrored in the show.

Throughout the show, the characters are depicted as being relatable and true to life. They are not perfect, but they are relatable. The humor that is so characteristic of "Green Album" is perfectly mirrored in the show.

The most gripping moment comes when the band is performing "Buddy Holly" and the audience is摄影, singing along. The effect is electric, and it is a testament to the band's ability to connect with their fans.

As Weezer got ready to sing their last song, "Underdog," they would allude to the feeling of pride that one experiences when everything seems to be going well. They would allude to the feeling of pride that one experiences when everything seems to be going well. They would allude to the feeling of pride that one experiences when everything seems to be going well. They would allude to the feeling of pride that one experiences when everything seems to be going well.

The Weezer concert was one of the most gripping moments of the year. The band's ability to keep the crowd engaged and free of boredom was truly remarkable.

The introduction of non-traditional clothing on the musicians was a departure from the traditional attire that is typical of rock bands. It added a certain edge to the performance, and it was a testament to the band's ability to push boundaries.

The most grievous complaint that I have is that the album cover was not representative of the music on the album. Weezer has always been known for their catchy, upbeat sound, and the album cover does not do justice to their music.

The Weezer concert was one of the most gripping moments of the year. The band's ability to keep the crowd engaged and free of boredom was truly remarkable.

The most grievous complaint that I have is that the album cover was not representative of the music on the album. Weezer has always been known for their catchy, upbeat sound, and the album cover does not do justice to their music.

The most grievous complaint that I have is that the album cover was not representative of the music on the album. Weezer has always been known for their catchy, upbeat sound, and the album cover does not do justice to their music.

The most grievous complaint that I have is that the album cover was not representative of the music on the album. Weezer has always been known for their catchy, upbeat sound, and the album cover does not do justice to their music.

The most grievous complaint that I have is that the album cover was not representative of the music on the album. Weezer has always been known for their catchy, upbeat sound, and the album cover does not do justice to their music.
Special College Pricing
12" Cheese $5.99
14" Cheese $7.99

subs salads buffalo wings jalapeno poppers cheesy bread cinastix

New London/ Waterford
442-9383
Behind Blockbuster Video

Open for lunch daily
11 A.M. – 11 P.M
Fri + Sat 11 A.M-Midnight

September Special:
Large one topping $9.99
Free cheesy bread

TUESDAY BUY 1 GET 1 FREE!
(Buy one pizza at regular price get a second of equal or lesser value free)
Colleges has $100 Million in Deferred Maintenance

continued from page 1
Many departments are struggling to prioritize maintenance projects. Physical Plant maintains a backlog of all the known projects on campus.

"We have a complete priority of all the maintenance projects, categorizing the type and priority of the projects, however, we are not funded enough to complete these projects," said Hammond.

Another area of concern is that there are not enough funds in the maintenance budget to complete projects on time. "The current situation is becoming negative for the maintenance department," said Hammond.

The maintenance department has to keep a list of projects that are needed to be completed and the priority of each project. "The list of projects is constantly changing and we are not able to complete them in a timely manner," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the condition of the buildings. "The buildings are not in good condition and we are not able to fix them in a timely manner," said Hammond.

Another concern is the lack of funds to hire qualified maintenance workers. "We are not able to hire qualified maintenance workers due to the lack of funds," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the safety of the students. "The buildings are not safe for the students and we are not able to fix them in a timely manner," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the financial situation of the college. "The college is not able to afford the maintenance projects," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the future of the college. "The college is not able to afford the maintenance projects in the future," said Hammond.

In conclusion, the maintenance department is struggling to prioritize maintenance projects, keep a list of projects that are needed to be completed and the priority of each project, keep the buildings in good condition, hire qualified maintenance workers, and fix the buildings in a timely manner. The maintenance department is also concerned about the financial situation of the college and the future of the college.

College Provides Budget Surplus for Year

continued from page 1
... or College's main campus. The college has a main campus on the north side of town, and we are not able to complete all the projects in a timely manner," said Hammond.

Another concern is the lack of funds to hire qualified maintenance workers. "We are not able to hire qualified maintenance workers due to the lack of funds," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the safety of the students. "The buildings are not safe for the students and we are not able to fix them in a timely manner," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the financial situation of the college. "The college is not able to afford the maintenance projects," said Hammond.

The maintenance department is also concerned about the future of the college. "The college is not able to afford the maintenance projects in the future," said Hammond.

In conclusion, the maintenance department is struggling to prioritize maintenance projects, keep a list of projects that are needed to be completed and the priority of each project, keep the buildings in good condition, hire qualified maintenance workers, and fix the buildings in a timely manner. The maintenance department is also concerned about the financial situation of the college and the future of the college.

In conclusion, the maintenance department is struggling to prioritize maintenance projects, keep a list of projects that are needed to be completed and the priority of each project, keep the buildings in good condition, hire qualified maintenance workers, and fix the buildings in a timely manner. The maintenance department is also concerned about the financial situation of the college and the future of the college.
Soccer

Kessel Plays Camel Soccer After 18 Year Hiatus From Game

By RYAN FORSTER

Kessel is content though, even if her role on the team won't bring her the national recognition she so desperately wanted when she decided to return to college. In her own words, she "didn't mean for any of this to happen." Her two goals last week and three this week have not lit the fire of expectations. We know that it is the middle of the season, not the end. The women have been playing good volleyball and trying their hardest to meet the level of play of their competition.

The Colby game was a huge confidence booster because we will play well against nationally ranked teams and be forced to step up to their level. The women have been playing good volleyball and trying their hardest to meet the level of play of their competition. The Colby game was a huge confidence booster because we will play well against nationally ranked teams and be forced to step up to their level. The Colby game was a huge confidence booster because we will play well against nationally ranked teams and be forced to step up to their level.