Miss Wright CC Friend Tells Of Earlier Rec Hall Drive
by Sue Adier

At 7 North Ridge road, just north of Connecticut College, lives a woman who knows more about the college than almost any other person today. This woman, who has been so influential and active in the college community is Miss Elizabeth Wright, one of the founders, former registrar, registrar, bursar, secretary of the College Library, and Assistant Secretary of Education.

Miss Wright's home is filled with memories of the college since its founding in 1916. She has vivid recollections of the amazing growth the college has made in its relatively short existence.

Miss Wright is a lover of young people and likes to help them as much as she can. The Piece of Circumstances, written by Miss Wright, is a fictional account of an ingenious young man confronted with problems because he was not as wealthy as some of his college classmates. Through my life I have noticed that such intelligent people do have a low opinion of themselves because of their financial status.

Conn. Nearly Had a Rec Hall

Connecticut students are vitally interested in raising enough money so that they can build a Rec Hall. Did you know that Connecticut nearly had such a building in 1916? During the campaign for funds for Windham House, one of the college buildings, Edward Higgins, in contact with Mr. Knowlton, who was interested in giving to the college, came to the college. After his death, the name was changed to Knowlton House.

As Miss Wright finished relating the story of the first recreation building that the college is giving, she mentioned the new possibility for "The Rec Hall."-Page 3

Lock and Key Library

Have you ever thought what it would be like to be without a library? Connecticut College is fortunate in having a beautiful, complete, and well-staffed library, for the use of the students and faculty, as well as for the people from New London and other towns. Lately, however, the supply of books from the library has been dwindling. Statistics show that more books have been disappearing from the stacks this year than any other year.

It seems difficult to believe that students would steal books, from the library, and yet something has happened to them. There is an increase in the amount of reserve books that are taken without being signed out, and there is an increase in the loss of even regular books which are needed for papers. Obviously, measures must be taken to prevent books from disappearing. This Friday, the Student Library Committee and the Faculty Library Committee are meeting with several representatives from Student Government to discuss the problem. But it is up to the students themselves to put a stop to what can only be termed stealing. Are we going to have to resort to a police system at Connecticut to keep track of the books?

It is a matter of consideration for others, as well as a matter of the books. We must solve this problem of taking books, or we may see what it is like to be without a library!-J.L.

Wesleyan Plans for Modified Program

Marking System

Middlesex, Conn.—(T.P.)—Results of a survey, centered upon major changes in the Wesleyan University program, were presented at a joint meeting of the Faculty Curriculum Committee and the College Body Curriculum Committee.

This meeting was suggested for new proposals to be added to the curriculum. It was pointed out that the number of new courses in Russian and Japanese has increased, and there are now thirty-four students taken, along with a good number of other languages.

The meeting focused on the idea of a full pass-honor system under which the difference was that there were to be for juniors and seniors was faculty and determining the educational program. A study which has been developing on this area would appear that the highest level of specialization is possible. It does mean that often the primary aim of a liberal arts college. Twenty-eight students have graduated from the Birch Wathen School, and President W. K. Jordan of Wesleyan University program is presently divided between class room study and field work assignments.

Varied Teaching Techniques

The Harvard-Radcliffe business program is presently divided between class room study and field work assignments. The latter consists of a period of work at an unskilled or semi-skilled job in more than 100 cooperating firms throughout the East and Middle West.

The young women also have the advantage of the Radcliffe business faculty, the case-study method and other teaching techniques developed by the Business School for Graduate instruction in business administration.

The second area--one in which ideas which have been developing on this problem. The essence of the speculation went as follows:

If we look at the present educational policy resembles a business plan. The idea starts from a broad base and works up to a high peak of specialization.

Stronger Educational Venture

"The decision by the majority of the Harvard Business School to join Radcliffe in sponsoring the Program is bound to make this a stronger and more dynamic educational venture," said Mr. Meek. This year 75 graduate students at 23 states, representing 44 under graduate colleges, are enrolled in the co-operative program. Twenty-eight have had at least one year of full-time work experience. Thirty-five percent have five and six years of work experience.

A faculty which makes and sells consumer goods seem to be looking for employees who have a broad background of work experience, "observed Mr. Meek.

"There is, consequently, a significant demand for trained women for market research and sales promotion positions."

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance—cellulose—found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.

2. The Viceroy filter wasn’t just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the perfect filter.

3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroys have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.

4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn’t know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip...and Viceroy costs only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That’s why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette...that’s why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!
