College Plans to Begin Renovation of Old Plex This Summer

BY THOMAS BIEYLO

During meeting earlier this month, the Board of Trustees approved the College administration's plan to renovate the Old Plex and adjacent residence hall. The project, budgeted at $500,000, is expected to begin this summer and be completed by the fall semester. The renovation will involve updating the electrical and plumbing systems, replacing windows and doors, and improving the overall aesthetics of the building. The College hopes to have the renovation completed by the end of next academic year. By doing so, the College aims to provide a more comfortable learning environment for students and faculty, while also preserving the historic and architectural value of the building.

Pluralism

BY HALEY HOFMANN

According to the 2004-2005 President of the American Sociological Association, the perception of "ours" vs. "everybody else's" is divided along the lines of culture versus the "civilized," and gave floor to various questions about the idea that the perception of "ethnic." Five-hundred thousand dollars has been raised for the college's possession and will be controlled and monitored by the students in establishing more independent activities for students. The director of the college's possession and will be responsible for the student-run radio station, WCNL 90.9 FM, which is partially responsible for the eminent domain crisis. The College's new Board of Directors will be responsible for overseeing the station's operations and fundraising.

Culture as the Barrier to Assimilation

BY MARYLynn DUSTERS

The lecture on democratic pluralism opened the College's new President, Dr. J. Rose, and will be followed by several other lectures. The College is starting here on its way to becoming a leader in higher education, as well as in the region, ready to serve and ready to serve the students in establishing more independent activities for students. The College's new Board of Directors will be responsible for overseeing the station's operations and fundraising. Specifically, the Board of Directors will be responsible for ensuring the station's operations, and fundraising.

The search to fill the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life.

The College Voice

VOLUME XXX • NUMBER 7 FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 2005 CONNECTICUT COLLEGE, NEW LONDON, CT

HC鸵-transfers ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

WCNl Transfers Ownership to College

BY JONIAH GILLIA

The College of Arts and Sciences began the process of filling the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life.

Students Assist With Katrina Clean-Up

BY ANNA ROSE

Katy Char, a senior at Connecticut College, was one of many students who volunteered to help in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Katy and her friends spent a week in Mississippi, helping to clear debris and assist in the rebuilding efforts. Katy said, "I am so glad that I was able to help in any way I could, even if it was just picking up trash.

College Continues Search For DCC

BY HALEY HOFMANN

The search to fill the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues.

N.L. City Council Candidates Discuss Eminent Domain

BY NIKOLI A. YENGEN

city candidates for the newly-formed New London Party, spoke Monday night about New London's history of granting the power of "eminent domain" to expropriate homes for the sake of economic development. During the opening speech on Culture as the Barrier to Assimilation, the College's 2004-2005 President, Dr. J. Rose, and will be followed by several other lectures. The College is starting here on its way to becoming a leader in higher education, as well as in the region, ready to serve and ready to serve the students in establishing more independent activities for students. The director of the college's possession and will be responsible for the student-run radio station, WCNL 90.9 FM, which is partially responsible for the eminent domain crisis. The College's new Board of Directors will be responsible for overseeing the station's operations, and fundraising.

The College of Arts and Sciences began the process of filling the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life.

Students Assist With Katrina Clean-Up

BY ANNA ROSE

Katy Char, a senior at Connecticut College, was one of many students who volunteered to help in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Katy and her friends spent a week in Mississippi, helping to clear debris and assist in the rebuilding efforts. Katy said, "I am so glad that I was able to help in any way I could, even if it was just picking up trash.

College Continues Search For DCC

BY HALEY HOFMANN

The search to fill the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues.

N.L. City Council Candidates Discuss Eminent Domain

BY NIKOLI A. YENGEN

City council candidates for the newly-formed New London Party, spoke Monday night about New London's history of granting the power of "eminent domain" to expropriate homes for the sake of economic development. During the opening speech on Culture as the Barrier to Assimilation, the College's 2004-2005 President, Dr. J. Rose, and will be followed by several other lectures. The College is starting here on its way to becoming a leader in higher education, as well as in the region, ready to serve and ready to serve the students in establishing more independent activities for students. The director of the college's possession and will be responsible for the student-run radio station, WCNL 90.9 FM, which is partially responsible for the eminent domain crisis. The College's new Board of Directors will be responsible for overseeing the station's operations, and fundraising.

The College of Arts and Sciences began the process of filling the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life.

Students Assist With Katrina Clean-Up

BY ANNA ROSE

Katy Char, a senior at Connecticut College, was one of many students who volunteered to help in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Katy and her friends spent a week in Mississippi, helping to clear debris and assist in the rebuilding efforts. Katy said, "I am so glad that I was able to help in any way I could, even if it was just picking up trash.

College Continues Search For DCC

BY HALEY HOFMANN

The search to fill the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues.

N.L. City Council Candidates Discuss Eminent Domain

BY NIKOLI A. YENGEN

City council candidates for the newly-formed New London Party, spoke Monday night about New London's history of granting the power of "eminent domain" to expropriate homes for the sake of economic development. During the opening speech on Culture as the Barrier to Assimilation, the College's 2004-2005 President, Dr. J. Rose, and will be followed by several other lectures. The College is starting here on its way to becoming a leader in higher education, as well as in the region, ready to serve and ready to serve the students in establishing more independent activities for students. The director of the college's possession and will be responsible for the student-run radio station, WCNL 90.9 FM, which is partially responsible for the eminent domain crisis. The College's new Board of Directors will be responsible for overseeing the station's operations, and fundraising.

The College of Arts and Sciences began the process of filling the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life. The search for the position of Director of College Relations, Connecticut College Dean of Student Life, David Milstone, continued last Friday, at a meeting in the Office of Student Life.

Students Assist With Katrina Clean-Up

BY ANNA ROSE

Katy Char, a senior at Connecticut College, was one of many students who volunteered to help in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Katy and her friends spent a week in Mississippi, helping to clear debris and assist in the rebuilding efforts. Katy said, "I am so glad that I was able to help in any way I could, even if it was just picking up trash.

College Continues Search For DCC

BY HALEY HOFMANN

The search to fill the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues. The search for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences continues.
Vote in Upcoming Election

Over the next few days it will be more and more apparent that the election season is upon us. New London—and you, we are members of this city. We have already seen banners and flyers make their way around the city. Although they are only local elections, they still act as a microcosm for the wider democratic process present in this country when they are held November 8th.

The main issue making its mark this year has been eminent domain. The Kelo vs. New London decision, authored by the Supreme Court's more liberal judges, allows for private property to be taken away and given to private hands, in the name of economic development.

Regardless of what you think of this decision, Conn students have a chance to get involved in these City Council and other board elections by helping out favorite candidates and participating in the democratic process of this city. We are not just students at Connecticut College and Conn isn’t an institution inside a vacuum. It is a part of a community and it is time that “downtown New London” wasn’t just some catchy phrase used by Student Life in their orientation.

To the College’s credit, there has been improvement in strengthening the links between Conn students and New London. They have a program for freshmen, and they have run some stories on campus, whether it is staff, faculty, or even community members attending events. We need to continue Camel education at Connecticut College.

We cannot allow New London to be a disconnected city. We see New London everyday on this campus, whether it is staff, faculty, or even community members attending events. We need to show the same level of interest in New London. During this election season, give back to the community with renewed interest in their local politics.

We recognize that at times the College does a lot and the situation stays the same. This is why Conn students need to get engaged with the politics of this town and not plead apathy.

POLICIES

Advertisements
The College Voice is an open forum. The opinions expressed by individual advertisers are their own. In no way does The College Voice endorse the views expressed by individual advertisers. The College Voice will not accept ads it deems to be libelous, an incitement to violence, or personally damaging. Ad rates are available upon request by calling (860) 439-2813. Please refer all ad inquiries to the Business Manager, Allison Glassman.

Letters to the Editor
Letters to the Editor are due strictly by 5:00 p.m. on the Wednesday preceding publication. The College Voice reserves the right to edit letters for clarity and length. No unsigned or anonymous letters will be published. However, names may be withheld upon the author's request. The College Voice will not publish letters deemed to be a personal attack on an individual. The College Voice cannot guarantee the publication of any submission. Letters should be single-spaced, no longer than 300 words, and must include a phone number for verification. Please send all letters as a Microsoft Word attachment to cveditorIAL@conncoll.edu.

The College Voice

Box 4970 • Office (860) 439-2812
E-Mail: cveditorIAL@conncoll.edu

NEW EDITOR
THOMAS McKEE
ASSISTANT NEWS EDITOR
JOANNA GELLA
SPORTS EDITOR
PETER STERLING
ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITOR
SPENCER TOUCHE

EDITOR IN CHIEF
NIKIKA AMANDERI DENNIS
JULIA LEDERWITZ
RACHEL GIBREEL
MANAGING EDITOR
TOM FREEMAN
BUSINESS MANAGER
ALLISON GLASSMAN
PHOTO EDITOR
DREW PAINTE
ASSOCIATE PHOTO EDITORS
ALEX WATERS
ELIZABETH MITCHELL
MARTHA GALE

ALEE EDITORS
SHANNON SHERWIN
ERIN RUSSELL
ASSOCIATE ALEE EDITORS
CRISTIN DURBIN
THAY CAPPUS EDITORS
JOHN STAVROS
MELISSA PEARL

EDITORS-AT-LARGE
ANNESPACED SIGNAL
THOMAS McKEE
ROBERT GROVER
JULIAR LEFFERTWITZ
KELLY GABBERT
JONATHAN SAVAGE
WITHDRAWN!

AMERICAN HERITAGE • ONLINE EDITION

Opinion

OCTOBER 29, 2005

TUR COLLBGRVOleR • OeToRRR 28, 2005 •3

WITHDRAWN!

NIIQIIl AMARENDRA IYENGAR. OUT IN RIGHT FIELD

Harriet Miers has withdrawn her application to be President Bush's nominee to the Supreme Court. For those who appreciate a bit of history, this is a good thing. The Constitution (whether "liberal" or "conservative"), the extension of her hand to President Bush (how conservative) is a well-settled piece of principles whatever the ideological complexion of her choice (Miers, Bush owes much to the religious leaders in Michigan). Miers, withdraws saying less than she knows. What little it does about the quality of the Court, President Bush is still hoping that the Senate will give him the experience and not attempt to send word to "impeach" the nominee to the Senate. Some liberals have begun to chant that Miers' withdrawal proves that President Bush is merely trying to add the so-called "conservative" to the mix to rectify the放入3 religious group in the Senate and a conservative in the White House. This is a bit of a stretch, but over the past 40 years, a better opportunity to place a conservative on the Court in a more conservative Senate has not occurred.

Miers missed the mark, but the way he fumbled the execution of his plan, President Bush as evidenced by the results of the 2004 election, is more of a conservative.
The tenth anniversary of the Hindu New Year. For the last ten years, Dance was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Diwali Dinner was a small-scale as though her resignation was a testament to her groundbreaking efforts in promoting Diwali Dinner as a way of bringing together the campus community. Everyone Association) has produced the show. CCASA has gone all out this year, and everyone is either talking about it, and everyone is either talking about it or has been a part of the dance traditions of Cloney has Good Luck with Latest Flick
By CHRISTIAN CLASKY

If you were to look back on George Clooney's career and try to pinpoint a peak moment at which he went from being a budding actor to... -in fact, who nearly wrecked the Roman Church - to being one of the most talented actors around, it would be a task difficult to impossible. There is no doubt, however, that that moment did occur, as George Clooney is presently one of the most versatile entertainers in Hollywood. Moreover, his newest film, Good Night and Good Luck, deserves credit as his best work to date. The film stars David Strathairn as Edward R. Murrow, the CBS executive who in the 1950's made it his personal mission to expose Senator Joseph McCarthy's absurd hunt for communism in America.

Expertly directed by Clooney, who also plays Murrow, the film is a showcase of a brilliant performance from Strathairn who carries the gravity of the fight against the government and the magnificence of era in an age of youth with great sophistication. The film also serves as an intense commentary on the power of media, by which all means is unpalatable and has lost almost all touch with the responsibilities it should bear, as the audience leaves the film feeling that the media was at its best and again can be a force for good. It shows that while determining the play with public image holds the potential for vital results.

Equally as important is the film's message or acting in the film's generation. George Clooney captures the essence of early television with vivid diligence. It shows that noble determination could force for good. It employs actual footage of McCarthy rather than casting the role, and while that device enhances the sense of reality, it offers the audience a chance to see what was happening outside the studio at the time. We are given no insight into McCarthy's response to his attackers outside a brief recorded interview. However in the end, the inside story of the story that the audience does experience is poignant and stirring, and it reminds us of the importance of art that is less relevant today than its subject was fifty years ago. It wasn't released too early to be remembered in January, watch for this film to be on the Oscar ballots.

Apple’s Latest Album is an Extraordinary Comeback
By LAUREN NORDSIEK

It’s been six years since Fiona Apple has released an album, and it has been worth the wait. Her much-delayed new CD, Extraordinary Machine, is just another example of how talented the really talented are when they actually get to the moment did occur, as George Clooney is presently one of the most versatile entertainers in Hollywood. Moreover, his newest film, Good Night and Good Luck, deserves credit as his best work to date. The film stars David Strathairn as Edward R. Murrow, the CBS executive who in the 1950's made it his personal mission to expose Senator Joseph McCarthy’s absurd hunt for communism in America.

Expertly directed by Clooney, who also plays Murrow, the film is a showcase of a brilliant performance from Strathairn who carries the gravity of the fight against the government and the magnificence of era in an age of youth with great sophistication. The film also serves as an intense commentary on the power of media, by which all means is unpalatable and has lost almost all touch with the responsibilities it should bear, as the audience leaves the film feeling that the media was at its best and again can be a force for good. It shows that while determining the play with public image holds the potential for vital results.

Equally as important is the film’s message or acting in the film’s generation. George Clooney captures the essence of early television with vivid diligence. It shows that noble determination could force for good. It employs actual footage of McCarthy rather than casting the role, and while that device enhances the sense of reality, it offers the audience a chance to see what was happening outside the studio at the time. We are given no insight into McCarthy's response to his attackers outside a brief recorded interview. However in the end, the inside story of the story that the audience does experience is poignant and stirring, and it reminds us of the importance of art that is less relevant today than its subject was fifty years ago. It wasn't released too early to be remembered in January, watch for this film to be on the Oscar ballots.

Apple’s Latest Album is an Extraordinary Comeback
By LAUREN NORDSIEK

It’s been six years since Fiona Apple has released an album, and it has been worth the wait. Her much-delayed new CD, Extraordinary Machine, is just another example of how talented the really talented are when they actually get to the...
Camelympics In Review

By CHRIS BUONOCORE

Camelympics: a time when students at the College can put aside the pressures of college life and compete in a friendly environment. But most of all, it’s a time when every participant has the opportunity to accept failure. Vet in the end, the very nature of Camelympics is an acceptance of the first loser. To think! Eleven months of rigorous training, all for put back into their small cardboard boxes at the corners of his eyes. Colin Williams of Park as tears glided down his cheeks,工程... alcohol. “I was devastated by the result,” Williams said. “I didn’t think it was possible.”

No one witnessed the storm. “If there were any tears on those faces, there were probably Figaro’s, on other games. You can play for whatever... don’t you feel bad?” The distraught everyone were good at living. It was not unusual for the to return to the University, the College’s previous

In this case, the candidates argued, the current leadership structure and the College’s access to the surplus relies on the relationship between the College and the city. However, the surplus demonstrates the stability of the College that allows players to act like those in the movies. Marshall and Hamilton remainsticks were an essential part of the Colle... waded through mud and rain, they had to figure out how to cope with the elements. They thought... as some of the many projects, other than the food-line, it was... incredible amount of ruin, yet people were hopeful and... Students traveled to the Gulf region to assist with the recovery, the next two

Eminent Domain

continued from page 1

The New London candidates argued that the eminent domain crisis that has gripped New London is a consequence of the city’s decision to annex land by eminent domain by the College’s, previous president, Claire Gaudiani, to renovate the entire campus. Four dormitories were renovated between 1995 and 2000, but financial troubles continued to plague the College from completing the remaining restoration.

Search Continues

continued from page 1

The exact source of this new position has yet to be determined by the administration. However, the search committee believes that the degree will be required, along with administrative experience, academic specialty, and teaching load and function. A full-time position in the area of a Liberal Arts College, with a strong emphasis on the students, is a must. The position will be advertised in professional journals and in national and international academic circles.

As of late, the committee has been involved in a search for a new president. The college has advertised the position in a number of places, and the search committee is currently reviewing the applications.

Common Hour Lecture Reflects on Slave Trade in New London

By TALYSSA MATOS

On Wednesday, October 26th, Anne Farrow, a reporter for the Hartford Courant came to Connecticut College to speak during the Common Hour. Unfortunately, the Common Hour program was interrupted by a power outage in the area. The program was continued on Thursday, October 27th.

Farrow began by discussing the growth of her interest in New London’s slave trade. After her first trip to the city for a trade in New London, she grew interested in the history of the slave trade in New London. After reading the book, Farrow described how she wanted to think about the role of the city, and of course, her home state, Connecticut.

During her talk, Farrow commented on how much she enjoyed the book. It was, for the most part, a primary actor in American history. However, as Farrow stated, “it’s hard to see her book and her city: the North... protected, preserved, and protected from slavery.”

Connecticut, London Harbor, Africa, and the West Indies were connected through the infamous triangular slave trade. On the route, ships from New London Harbor sailed to Santa Luzia to pick up slaves and goods from Africa. From the West Indies, the ships would sail to the West Indies or to the Caribbean in deep off the slaves, and then travel back to New London Harbor to drop off the goods.

The College’s facilities and renovation of the building are key to the College’s success. As the sun sets once more on campus, Farrow, along with the other students, both winners and losers alike, were... pride in their team, the notorious LazWar duo, had too... hare old and wore run Wacky Rockies.

Write news stories for Tom and Joanna. Call x2812 today.

Camelympics In Review

Camelympics: a time when students at the College can put aside the pressures of college life and compete in a friendly environment. But most of all, it’s a time when every participant has the opportunity to accept failure. Vet in the end, the very nature of Camelympics is an acceptance of the first loser. To think! Eleven months of rigorous training, all for put back into their small cardboard... Farrow said, “I was devastated by the result,” Williams said. “I didn’t think it was possible.”

No one witnessed the storm. “If there were any tears on those faces, there were probably Figaro’s, on other games. You can play for whatever... don’t you feel bad?” The distraught everyone were good at living. It was not unusual for the to return to the University, the College’s previous president, Claire Gaudiani, to renovate the entire campus. Four dormitories were renovated between 1995 and 2000, but financial troubles continued to plague the College from completing the remaining restoration.

Search Continues

The exact source of this new position has yet to be determined by the administration. However, the search committee believes that the degree will be required, along with administrative experience, academic specialty, and teaching load and function. A full-time position in the area of a Liberal Arts College, with a strong emphasis on the students, is a must. The position will be advertised in professional journals and in national and international academic circles.

As of late, the committee has been involved in a search for a new president. The college has advertised the position in a number of places, and the search committee is currently reviewing the applications.

Common Hour Lecture Reflects on Slave Trade in New London

By TALYSSA MATOS

On Wednesday, October 26th, Anne Farrow, a reporter for the Hartford Courant came to Connecticut College to speak during the Common Hour. Unfortunately, the Common Hour program was interrupted by a power outage in the area. The program was continued on Thursday, October 27th.

Farrow began by discussing the growth of her interest in New London’s slave trade. After her first trip to the city for a trade in New London, she grew interested in the history of the slave trade in New London. After reading the book, Farrow described how she wanted to think about the role of the city, and of course, her home state, Connecticut.

During her talk, Farrow commented on how much she enjoyed the book. It was, for the most part, a primary actor in American history. However, as Farrow stated, “it’s hard to see her book and her city: the North... protected, preserved, and protected from slavery.”

Connecticut, London Harbor, Africa, and the West Indies were connected through the infamous triangular slave trade. On the route, ships from New London Harbor sailed to Santa Luzia to pick up slaves and goods from Africa. From the West Indies, the ships would sail to the West Indies or to the Caribbean in deep off the slaves, and then travel back to New London Harbor to drop off the goods.

The College’s facilities and renovation of the building are key to the College’s success. As the sun sets once more on campus, Farrow, along with the other students, both winners and losers alike, were... pride in their team, the notorious LazWar duo, had too... hare old and wore run Wacky Rockies.

Write news stories for Tom and Joanna. Call x2812 today.
College Voice: Hayley, could you tell us a little about where you are coming from?

Hayley Curtis: I'm from Long Island, NY. I live in Winthrop, MA.

CV: Why did you choose to come to Connu?

HC: I liked the small campus and honor code.

CV: What are you looking to do during your time here?

HC: Probably anthropology or history.

CV: Do you like your freshman seminar?

HC: I am in one dealing with archeology, and in fact I will continue next semester with that subject as it is very interesting.

CV: What has been surprising so much on campus?

HC: Everyone drinks so much on campus.

CV: What has been the craziest thing you have experienced so far?

HC: I got a concussion from getting my head slammed into the door.

CV: What is your favorite food so far?

HC: Grilled chicken.

CV: Are you in any clubs?

HC: I am in Badminton and intramural sports, in addition to the house council.

CV: Do you have a favorite band?

HC: Fallout boy.

CV: What about a favorite movie?

HC: Hotel Rwanda.

CV: How could you tell us a little about where you are coming from?

HC: I am from Long Island, NY. I live in Winthrop, MA.

CV: Why did you choose to come to Connu?

HC: I liked the small campus and honor code.

CV: What are you looking to do during your time here?

HC: Probably anthropology or history.

CV: Do you like your freshman seminar?

HC: I am in one dealing with archeology, and in fact I will continue next semester with that subject as it is very interesting.

CV: What has been surprising so much on campus?

HC: Everyone drinks so much on campus.

CV: What has been the craziest thing you have experienced so far?

HC: I got a concussion from getting my head slammed into the door.

CV: What is your favorite food so far?

HC: Grilled chicken.

CV: Are you in any clubs?

HC: I am in Badminton and intramural sports, in addition to the house council.

CV: Do you have a favorite band?

HC: Fallout boy.

CV: What about a favorite movie?

HC: Hotel Rwanda.

CV: How could you tell us a little about where you are coming from?

HC: I am from Long Island, NY. I live in Winthrop, MA.

CV: Why did you choose to come to Connu?

HC: I liked the small campus and honor code.

CV: What are you looking to do during your time here?

HC: Probably anthropology or history.

CV: Do you like your freshman seminar?

HC: I am in one dealing with archeology, and in fact I will continue next semester with that subject as it is very interesting.

CV: What has been surprising so much on campus?

HC: Everyone drinks so much on campus.

CV: What has been the craziest thing you have experienced so far?

HC: I got a concussion from getting my head slammed into the door.

CV: What is your favorite food so far?

HC: Grilled chicken.

CV: Are you in any clubs?

HC: I am in Badminton and intramural sports, in addition to the house council.

CV: Do you have a favorite band?

HC: Fallout boy.

CV: What about a favorite movie?

HC: Hotel Rwanda.

CV: How could you tell us a little about where you are coming from?

HC: I am from Long Island, NY. I live in Winthrop, MA.

CV: Why did you choose to come to Connu?

HC: I liked the small campus and honor code.

CV: What are you looking to do during your time here?

HC: Probably anthropology or history.

CV: Do you like your freshman seminar?

HC: I am in one dealing with archeology, and in fact I will continue next semester with that subject as it is very interesting.

CV: What has been surprising so much on campus?

HC: Everyone drinks so much on campus.

CV: What has been the craziest thing you have experienced so far?

HC: I got a concussion from getting my head slammed into the door.

CV: What is your favorite food so far?

HC: Grilled chicken.

CV: Are you in any clubs?

HC: I am in Badminton and intramural sports, in addition to the house council.

CV: Do you have a favorite band?

HC: Fallout boy.

CV: What about a favorite movie?

HC: Hotel Rwanda.

CV: How could you tell us a little about where you are coming from?

HC: I am from Long Island, NY. I live in Winthrop, MA.

CV: Why did you choose to come to Connu?

HC: I liked the small campus and honor code.

CV: What are you looking to do during your time here?

HC: Probably anthropology or history.

CV: Do you like your freshman seminar?

HC: I am in one dealing with archeology, and in fact I will continue next semester with that subject as it is very interesting.
Camel Scoreboard

Men’s Soccer: 10/29 CC, 1:00 pm
10/30 CC, 1:00 pm
10/29 Tufts, 11:00 am
Women’s Soccer: 11/12 New England Championship at Harkness State Park, Waterford, CT (5:00 pm)
Field Hockey In Tournament
continued from page 8
aggressive play, the Camels...

Carr-Harris beat Kenerson to give...on the board.

Conn's defense stifled a des...the Red Sox, last year's representative and win-

BBA/T, CACUNC, CANCUN, ACAPULCO, JAMAICA! FREE PARTIES, FREE DRINKS.
Sign up early and save. Organize a small group and you travel FREE.

Or become a CAMPUS REP and GET PAID COMMISSION on each trip sold.
Call today and get started 1-800-GET-SUN-1

---

Men's Soccer Sputters Against Colby, Rhode Island In OT
By ERIC DUBEK
staff writer

The Connecticut College men's soccer team needed a win in their second-to-last conference game and leadership from...a diving Lane and found the back of the net. The game ended 2-2 as the...board.

The win was the Camel's fifth in their last six games. On Saturday, the Camels showed their...that baseball won't go for the trifecta...and probably a win. After watching the Red Sox take...and give the Cubs their first World Series win in 97 years?
Camelympics 2005

The College Voice
congratulates the 2005 Camelympics winners!

GOLD: HAMILTON

SILVER: KNOWLTON

BRONZE: BLACKSTONE & LAMBdin