During Recess Faculty Attend Conferences.

National Educational Societies Convene.

Many of the educational conferences, held in all parts of the United States during the last week in December, were attended by faculty members of C. C. College Art Association.

Miss Sherer attended the conference of the College Art Association of America held at Cornell University. The most important development has grown out of that act of generosity in contributing relief to

On Saturday evening, January 16th, the Wesleyan Glee Club will give a concert in the gymnasium for the benefit of the Endowment Fund. The tickets are a dollar each, and will include both the concert and a dance which will be given later in Colonial Hall. The tickets may be procured from Lydia Chatfield. The music will be furnished by the Wesleyan orchestra.

The program of the concert follows:

I. (a) Campus Song (L. J. Magee '16) (b) Secrets (C. E. Smith '19) (c) Love Song (Fleiger) (b) Serenade (Victor Herbert)

III. (a) Ring and the Rose (Folsom) (b) Rolling Down to Rio (German)

IV. (a) Farewell to Casablanca (Londonderry Air) Kreider (b) Dance Isangane (Nchesa)

V. (a) Prayer of Thanksgiving (Liker) (b) Willson's Air (Clarke)

The Elshuco Trio, one of the most famous of chamber music organizations, is soon to be heard in New London. This concert is the third in the College Concert Series. It will occur Monday evening, January eighteenth, in the Bulkeley Auditorium. The Elshuco Trio played in New London two years ago, and won such a following that a return engagement was sought. The Elshuco Trio represents in its field what the Flemington Quartet represents in the field of the string quartet. Besides having been made

During Convocation hour, Judge William Lloyd Huggins, of Kansas, representing the National Employers Association, addressed the college. President Marshall introduced the speaker of the afternoon.

Judge Huggins began his address with a word concerning women's growing interest in public affairs, which is causing some fear to the average man that changes have all been brought about by the Industrial Revolution of the eighteenth century, which caused a change in the situation between employers and employees out of which has grown modern industry and modern world markets causing world problems to be studied. One of the chief problems is, thus, distribution, if not production.

The relationship between employer and employee brought the worker to become merely an atom of a mass, a ten-cent machine, who was at a loss to approach his employer. Capitalism is organized, and as a result, labor was organized.

Great power can hardly be trusted to impotent beings, unless the monarch at the head is of a superior nature, the power not always being used for altruistic purposes. The power, thus, of the labor organization in this country, already by one state which can act on strikes and labor supporting the public, while the government maintains a policy of "hands off" and is unable to act. Judge Huggins quoted Samuel Gompers, late President of the American Federation of Labor for 44 years, believing him to be "safe" with the labor problems, denying the right of the law to intervene in strikes, and adding, "Labor will not remain in its infancy for 10 years longer, it must be enabled to better conditions. The general public can only solve this problem by the so-called "hobbies" in congress and other lack of legis-

The labor organization has really altruistic purposes and high motives, but only for the betterment of the labor conditions.

TO PRESENT PRISON CONDITIONS IN AMERICA.

A rare opportunity is offered to the friends and students of Connecticut College to attend the next Convocation to be held January 19th. Frank Tannenhaus, probably one of the best informed and well-known men on the question of the prison condition in America, speaks on the subject, "The Prison and the Prisoner."

There is hardly another man so ably fitted to speak upon this vital question, as Mr. Tannenhaus, who is the acknowledged authority in this subject.

Tannenhaus first saw the inside of a prison on the occasion of the taking part in an unemployment agitation in the Bowery. Having run away from home at an early age, he continued his education on the streets of New York and finally took collegiate training at Columbia. His studies of the conditions in American prisons have been the cause of further investigation and of ultimate improvement of the situation.

During Convocation hour, Judge William Lloyd Huggins, of Kansas, representing the National Employers Association, addressed the college. President Marshall introduced the speaker of the afternoon.

Judge Huggins began his address with a word concerning women's growing interest in public affairs, which is causing some fear to the average man that changes have all been brought about by the Industrial Revolution of the eighteenth century, which caused a change in the situation between employers and employees out of which has grown modern industry and modern world markets causing world problems to be studied. One of the chief problems is, thus, distribution, if not production.

The relationship between employer and employee brought the worker to become merely an atom of a mass, a ten-cent machine, who was at a loss to approach his employer. Capitalism is organized, and as a result, labor was organized.

Great power can hardly be trusted to impotent beings, unless the monarch at the head is of a superior nature, the power not always being used for altruistic purposes. The power, thus, of the labor organization in this country, already by one state which can act on strikes and labor supporting the public, while the government maintains a policy of "hands off" and is unable to act. Judge Huggins quoted Samuel Gompers, late President of the American Federation of Labor for 44 years, believing him to be "safe" with the labor problems, denying the right of the law to intervene in strikes, and adding, "Labor will not remain in its infancy for 10 years longer, it must be enabled to better conditions. The general public can only solve this problem by the so-called "hobbies" in congress and other lack of legis-

The labor organization has really altruistic purposes and high motives, but only for the betterment of the labor conditions.

TO PRESENT PRISON CONDITIONS IN AMERICA.

A rare opportunity is offered to the friends and students of Connecticut College to attend the next Convocation to be held January 19th. Frank Tannenhaus, probably one of the best informed and well-known men on the question of the prison condition in America, speaks on the subject, "The Prison and the Prisoner."

There is hardly another man so ably fitted to speak upon this vital question, as Mr. Tannenhaus, who is the acknowledged authority in this subject.

Tannenhaus first saw the inside of a prison on the occasion of the taking part in an unemployment agitation in the Bowery. Having run away from home at an early age, he continued his education on the streets of New York and finally took collegiate training at Columbia. His studies of the conditions in American prisons have been the cause of further investigation and of ultimate improvement of the situation.
The CHURCHES TO PROMOTE WORLD PEACE.

Asks Support of Students.

College students want to know, and they have the right to know, the churches are doing to promote the cause of peace. It must be true in the consciousness that they have not always "measured up" in this issue. The church has been too much concerned with too much stammering, too much indecision. Surely, not the story of the church is that the dead past bury its dead. The churches, at least so far as they were speaking in the Munich Conference, now regard the establishment of world peace as their most serious task. There is no longer any disposition to "blame" the eyes. The eyes are now prepared, but the whole way for the elimination of organized warfare as a method of settling international disputes.

This purpose was clearly indicated during the National Council of Churches on the Churches and World Peace that met in Washington, D. C., December 1-3. The representatives of some thirty denominations met together to plan for a common offensive against the common curse of humanity-war.

Certain resolutions were therewith adopted that will challenge the thinking of every student of world affairs. For instance, are two arguments which penetrate to the very depths of this momentous issue.

"The Church, the body of Christ all over the world, in behalf of the national divisions, should henceforth oppose war as a method of settling disputes between nations. It is not contrary to the spirit and principles of Jesus Christ, and should declare that it will not as a Church sanction war."

"The church should advocate the right and the duty of each individual to follow the guidance of his own conscience in determining whether he will participate in war."

The constructive military training in our schools and colleges was hit squarely between the eyes. Too often our students are presented with an ideal situation! Here, Nature has given us the ideal real. Not one grey stone, one far view, one shining glint of river and sea would we change. But a constructive presentation of individuals as well as of sloping hill. To advance the college toward the ideal, it is imperative that every member follow the ideal of the best that is within her. Connecticut is not meaninglessly built upon a hill. Don't try to level the hill, which so many have said makes an ideal situation for the college. Climb the hill in spirit as you climb it in body after day. Be resolved that through you the college may keep her heights and truly advance toward our ideal of her in this New Year of 1926.

GERMAN STUDENTS HAVE COLLABORATIVE ASSOCIATION.

Co-operate to achieve aims.

As concluded from page 1, column 3.

{Omitted.

GERMAN STUDENTS ORGANIZATIONS.

To cooperate and to achieve aims.

Connecticut College News

Established 1811

Issued by the students of Connecticut College throughout the college year from October to June, except December 24.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at New London, Connecticut.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief

Josephine Henderson '28

News Editor

Tracy 27

Features Editor

Sally Ruben '29

Sports Editor

Eleanor Scoville '28

Assistant Managing Editors

Dorothy Goldman '27

Ellen S. Clark '27

Assistant Business Manager

Harriet Taylor '27

Assistant Managing Editors

Irma Peterson '26

BUSINESS MANAGER

Barbara Tracy '27

MANAGING EDITOR

Dorothy Goldman '27

ASSISTANT MANAGING EDITORS

Ellen S. Clark '27

BUSINESS MANAGER

Harriet Taylor '27

MANAGING EDITOR

Irma Peterson '26

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

CONFERENCE URGES VALUE OF STUDENTS OPINION.

Delegate Propose Permanent Organization.

The National Colloquial World Court Conference was held at Princeton University on December 12th. Over one hundred and twenty-five colleges and universities assembled at the Princeton Congress to consider the following proposition: 1. To express the undergraduate opinion of the United States on the World Court. 2. To consider the formation of a permanent organization through which undergraduate opinion on national and international affairs may be effectiveness expressed.

A debate on the subject, "Should the United States Join the Permanent Court of International Justice," made up the opening program Friday night. Senator Irving L. Imswort, viewing the World Court as a piece of machinery in itself for World Peace, took the affirmative, while Cudmore Darrow, considered in relation to the many factors which determine peace and war, argued the negative. Round-table discussions groups on topics touching the World Court under the leadership of such eminent men as Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Hubert Asbury, former editor of the World War, Henry L. Stimson, were held Saturday morning.

The afternoon was spent in open forum on the question of American participation in the World Court. The meeting, free from propaganda of any kind, ended with a vote to be heard. The sentiment of the large majority of delegates for participation in the World Court under the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge terms as one step in a peace policy seemed in accordance with this sentiment the resolution committee framed at the end of the meeting. It was passed at the beginning of the evening program. Whereas, we, the representatives of these 250 institutions of learning, desire to have the security of peace in the World and for all peoples.

Be it Resolved that we advocate to the President and the Senate of our country adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice under the so-called Harding-Hughes-Coolidge terms.

After the passage of this resolution representatives spoke of the function of the spirit and accomplishments of the Conference and George R. Vin- cent, head of the Rockefeller Foundation, laid before the delegates a challenge and steadfastly to the ideal which the Conference stands for.

A long discussion relating to the formation of a permanent organization concluded the Conference. Three purposes of the Federation as contained in the temporary Constitution which was adopted by the delegates (not committing their respective colleges) are:

1. To achieve a spirit of unity among the students of the United States of America and to make the works of science more known to the public. While there Dr. Fernald was made a delegate to Sigma Delta Epsilon, a graduate women's scientific fraternity. She also attended a dinner given for visiting botanists at the Missouri Botanic Garden at St. Louis, which is said to be the second largest botanical garden in the world.

Society of Naturalists.

Miss Barrows attended some of the meetings of the Zoology section at the Conference of the American Society of Naturalists at Yale University and was also present at the Scientific Societies' Conference of Peabody Museum. The vastly informative sessions were all arranged from the evolutionary standpoint, and the Peabody museum is a significant occasion for us who live so near since it will be open Sundays from 2:00 to 4:30 and week-days from 9:00 to 1:30.

Modern Language Association.

Dr. Kip attended the forty-second annual conference of the Modern Language Association of America held at Chicago University. The conference was the largest in the history of the Association and could hardly have been held at a university smaller than Chicago. The two days of the conference were well arranged and the papers all included those of the Romance languages, the Germanic languages, and English, each had many sub-sections so that a wide scope of choice was offered and varied and comprehensive program provided.

Philosophical Association.

Dr. Morris was at the conference of the American Philosophical Association which met at Harvard University on December 12th. Among other things, the International Congress to be held in Cambridge in December will be many eminent philosophers, repre- senting the Philosophical Assns of most of the European countries. From the given Convocation lecture here at C. C., was elected President of the American Philosophical Association for the coming year and will officiate as the pres- ident at the International Congress.

During recess Faculty attend conferences.

One conference was on the modern trend of the teaching method, and the importance of the application of psychological and statistical methods to economic problems.

Association for Advancement of Scientific Research.

Mr. Lewis Fox, Princeton 20, who played the largest part in bringing about the World Court Conven- tion and arousing interest in the conference, was elected first President of the new permanent organization.

Among the problems discussed at the first meeting of the Association was one of arousing and maintaining student interest in the conference and questions looking forward to the re- petition of a similar conference next year. An invitation was accepted from the University of Michigan to hold the meeting there in 1927.

The success of this Conference and the Pupils' Congress was given by each individual college and each individual student. Opportunity will be given for the students of the other students of the world. The As- sociation is now a permanent concern with yearly meetings of four officers. The whole German Republican contri- bution through the war with American conditions the German student needs are still very great; there are, for example, about 26,000 students who receive only $25 a month. But at least we are making progress for the work of education to continue.

ROBINSON BRENKE, 1926.
OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS GOING TO EUROPE THIS SUMMER.

The official national student organizations of Europe are preparing to offer special opportunities to a limited number of American students traveling abroad this summer. Two programs are being arranged under the auspices of the Confederation Internationale des Etudiants, which is a federation of national student organizations in charge of various joint international undertakings. Co-operating agencies are the International Student Service (formerly European Student Reliey) and the German National Union of Students, which is the principal student organization not included in the Confederation Internationale des Etudiants. Over here, an advisory committee of educators is forming.

The plan is for small parties of American students—not over twelve or fifteen in each group—to travel through Europe with student guides, being received as they go by students, universities, authorities, statesmen, leading minds, distinguished hostesses. They will visit museums, palaces, cathedrals, factories, villages; but not as sight-seers. These journeys are to be for acquaintance with people, their customs, and their ideas. The scenery, the art, and the historic grandure of Europe will be seen as the back-drop against which a living drama is enacted.

Although they include features outside the scope of the regulation sight-seeing tour, and are more difficult to arrange, the journeys will be less expensive. The European student organizations are connected in divers ways with their governments and can secure, for their guests, rail reductions. Continued on page 4, column 2.

THE VENUS SHOP

93 STATE STREET

Specializing in

NOVELTY Hosiery
NOVELTY GLOVES
NECKWEAR and LINGERIE

RUDDY & COSTELLO

Incorporated
JEWEiers and OPTICIANS

52 State Street
NEW LONDON, CONNECTICUT

Don't Wear Borrowed Plumage
BUY YOURS AT

The Fine Feather

111 Huntington St., New London

The Specialty Shop

MANWARING BLDG.

Waists, Neckwear, Corsets
THE COLLEGE GIRL'S MECCA

MISS LORETTA FRAY

REPRESENTING THE
M. H. HARPER METHOD OF
SHAMPOOING, SCALP TREATMENT
FRACIAL, MAJOR
MARLING AND PERMANENT
WAVING
Hair Goods and Toilet Articles for Sale

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL ATTACKED AGAIN.

An anonymous writer in The Outlook of January 6th states that theظهر that college football is becoming "helping alumni." An editorial comment states that the writer of this article is clearly identified with college athletics and a keen student of football.

"The biggest menace to college football to-day" he says, "is the helping alumni. A team must win. A coach must turn out a winning team or the Roman mob turns thumbs down and off comes his head."

"Halfback Grange is a quite natural evolution of the college football system. He is simply the forerunner of other star players who will join professional teams. A star football player is glorified, deified, and his true importance on the campus magnified until all sense of values is lost."

The writer then takes the case of a younger entering a big college. He is filled with ambition to play football. But he comes from a high school whose team had little reputation, and he is side-tracked by the coaches, who prefer those players who come with ready-made reputations. Therefore, the writer concludes, "The boys who actually need the coaching and the physical and mental development don't get it! The stalwarts who need it least get all of it! That's why I say that football in colleges has been inverted."

The author suggests as a remedy that the college coaching staff organize at the beginning of the season a great many campus teams to play against one another, and thereby give the benefits of the game to all interested. He closes with a plea to "Put football back into the original place it held among college things." He is opposed to the "nonsense of choosing 'All-American' teams or any other kind of 'All teams.' He states that, now that Walter Camp is here, such complications are worth less and that even in the last ten years of Walter Camp's life his selections were a superhuman task and did not meet favor everywhere. "So let's be reasonable," says the author, "and stop this peculiarly American brand of nonsense... Let's get back to normality!"

When You Buy WALK-OVERS
YOU BUY THE BEST
237 State Street, New London

LAMPS Lamp Attachments
SHADES, BOOK ENDS, FLAT IRONS,
CURLING IRONS, ETC.

The J. Warren Gay Electrical Co.
19 Union Street, New London, Conn.

Don't Wear Borrowed Plumage
BUY YOURS AT

The Fine Feather

111 Huntington St., New London

The Specialty Shop

MANWARING BLDG.

Waists, Neckwear, Corsets
THE COLLEGE GIRL'S MECCA

MISS LORETTA FRAY

REPRESENTING THE
M. H. HARPER METHOD OF
SHAMPOOING, SCALP TREATMENT
FRACIAL, MAJOR
MARLING AND PERMANENT
WAVING
Hair Goods and Toilet Articles for Sale

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL ATTACKED AGAIN.

An anonymous writer in The Outlook of January 6th states that theظهر that college football is becoming "helping alumni." An editorial comment states that the writer of this article is clearly identified with college athletics and a keen student of football.

"The biggest menace to college football to-day" he says, "is the helping alumni. A team must win. A coach must turn out a winning team or the Roman mob turns thumbs down and off comes his head."

"Halfback Grange is a quite natural evolution of the college football system. He is simply the forerunner of other star players who will join professional teams. A star football player is glorified, deified, and his true importance on the campus magnified until all sense of values is lost."

The writer then takes the case of a younger entering a big college. He is filled with ambition to play football. But he comes from a high school whose team had little reputation, and he is side-tracked by the coaches, who prefer those players who come with ready-made reputations. Therefore, the writer concludes, "The boys who actually need the coaching and the physical and mental development don't get it! The stalwarts who need it least get all of it! That's why I say that football in colleges has been inverted."

The author suggests as a remedy that the college coaching staff organize at the beginning of the season a great many campus teams to play against one another, and thereby give the benefits of the game to all interested. He closes with a plea to "Put football back into the original place it held among college things." He is opposed to the "nonsense of choosing 'All-American' teams or any other kind of 'All teams.' He states that, now that Walter Camp is here, such complications are worth less and that even in the last ten years of Walter Camp's life his selections were a superhuman task and did not meet favor everywhere. "So let's be reasonable," says the author, "and stop this peculiarly American brand of nonsense... Let's get back to normality!"

Putnam Furniture Co.
Established 1869
Furniture, Rugs, GLENWOOD RANGES
300 Bank St., New London, CT.

After her savings were liquidated by the depression, Miss Annabel Putnam, a college graduate who taught for many years, started a small furniture store in a small Connecticut town. Today, Putnam Furniture Co. is one of the largest furniture stores in the area.

When You Buy WALK-OVERS
YOU BUY THE BEST
237 State Street, New London

LAMPS Lamp Attachments
SHADES, BOOK ENDS, FLAT IRONS,
CURLING IRONS, ETC.

The J. Warren Gay Electrical Co.
19 Union Street, New London, Conn.

Don't Wear Borrowed Plumage
BUY YOURS AT

The Fine Feather

111 Huntington St., New London

The Specialty Shop

MANWARING BLDG.

Waists, Neckwear, Corsets
THE COLLEGE GIRL'S MECCA

MISS LORETTA FRAY

REPRESENTING THE
M. H. HARPER METHOD OF
SHAMPOOING, SCALP TREATMENT
FRACIAL, MAJOR
MARLING AND PERMANENT
WAVING
Hair Goods and Toilet Articles for Sale

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL ATTACKED AGAIN.

An anonymous writer in The Outlook of January 6th states that theظهور that college football is becoming "helping alumni." An editorial comment states that the writer of this article is clearly identified with college athletics and a keen student of football.

"The biggest menace to college football to-day" he says, "is the helping alumni. A team must win. A coach must turn out a winning team or the Roman mob turns thumbs down and off comes his head."

"Halfback Grange is a quite natural evolution of the college football system. He is simply the forerunner of other star players who will join professional teams. A star football player is glorified, deified, and his true importance on the campus magnified until all sense of values is lost."

The writer then takes the case of a younger entering a big college. He is filled with ambition to play football. But he comes from a high school whose team had little reputation, and he is side-tracked by the coaches, who prefer those players who come with ready-made reputations. Therefore, the writer concludes, "The boys who actually need the coaching and the physical and mental development don't get it! The stalwarts who need it least get all of it! That's why I say that football in colleges has been inverted."

The author suggests as a remedy that the college coaching staff organize at the beginning of the season a great many campus teams to play against one another, and thereby give the benefits of the game to all interested. He closes with a plea to "Put football back into the original place it held among college things." He is opposed to the "nonsense of choosing 'All-American' teams or any other kind of 'All teams.' He states that, now that Walter Camp is here, such complications are worth less and that even in the last ten years of Walter Camp's life his selections were a superhuman task and did not meet favor everywhere. "So let's be reasonable," says the author, "and stop this peculiarly American brand of nonsense... Let's get back to normality!"
NOTICE!
Because of the strain of extra curricular activities, Florence Hopper has resigned her position as President of 1927. By order of succession, Lois Penny, Vice-President, has become President. Lois Bridge was the President. Lois Penny, Vice-President, has resigned from her position as President of 1927. By order of succession, Mr. Frank Tanenbaum.

F. C. HARRIS CO.
High Grade Candies and Toilet Articles
119 State Street, New London, Conn.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

NEW LONDON'S LEADING THEATRES
CAPITOL
Keith Supreme Vaudeville
CROWN
Photoplays De Luxe
LYCEUM
Legitimate Attractions

Wire Us and We'll Wire For You
Largest Radio Store for Parts and Sets
Tell Us Your Radio Troubles
T. J. EeALAHAN
Fixtures, Supplies and Appliances
Electrical Contractor
Estimates Cheerfully Given
51 Main Street, New London, Conn.
Phone Connection

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

CHAOTIC—BUT WHY?
Chaotic is the term one may apply to the system of modern education. Our professors are nurses, our tutors are policemen. In one class we proceed a few pages at a time; in another, a volume or two a week. Here we are lectured at as unruly children, while there we are treated like learned graduates. Youth is clamoring for more liberty; professors and educators are writing magazine articles on the ideal modern university. And even here at Radcliffe (one of the most liberal of colleges, we believe) there are discontented murmurs. Restless, wondering, we stroll along. There is no golden mean. Unfortunately, we are only murmuring—and nothing happens. We have forgotten that the professors may like to hear our thoughts without which he has little idea of our ability. We have forgotten that the Curriculum Committee exists with its main purpose of improving or adding courses through constructive criticism. Probably it would welcome our opinions. Even in the "Harvard Crimson" did it might conduct a student criticism of Radcliffe courses. Such open judgment would, indeed, be preferable to the present vague questioning. Through the exposition of our views the professor would learn that we, too, are interested in the advance of education. And so, he would be stimulated to better understanding which we, by formulating our discontent into criticism, would discover whether or not there is cause for it, and if there is what part of the blame rests on us. —The Radcliffe News.

OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS GOING TO EUROPE THIS SUMMER.

The program is as follows:
Tribe in B Flat Major, Opus 99
Franz Schubert
Allegra Moderato
Anhante Un Poco Mosso
Scherzo: Allegro
Concerto: Allegro Vivace
Sonata Appassion B Minor
Jean Baptiste Becury
Largo
Allegro
Adagio
Allegro con Spirito
Tribe in B Minor, Opus 32
Anton Stepanowitch Aresky
Allegra Moderato
Scholastic Allegro Molto
Elegia Adagio
Allegro non Troppo

STRAUSS & MACOMBER WATCHES, DIAMONDS and JEWELRY
123 State Street, New London, Conn.
Fine Watches Repaired and Adjusted

SILK HOSE
GOOD VALUES
At 98c, $1.35, $1.59, $1.95
THE SINCLAIR & LITTLE CO.
50 and 52 Main Street

JUDGE HUGGINS DISCUSSES CIVIC ASPECTS OF LABOR.
Concluded from page 1, column 3.

In the evening, Judge Huggins addressed a class in New London Hall. He supported strongly the judicial branch of the government, and cited cases, which organized labor had lost at fault. The basis of the attacks of organized labor was on the independence of the judicial system of the country.

ELSNUCO TRIO WILL APPEAR AGAIN
Concluded from page 1, column 2.

famous through their work in the trio, these artists are all famous as soloists. William Willeke is the veteran of the trio. He is one of the half-dozen great cellists of the world. He has been a soloist with great orchestras, and also has been a conductor. Mr. Willeke has composed several pieces which have been played by Kreisler and other noted artists.

Aurelio Gonsal, the Anglo-Italian pianist of the ensemble, is a celebrated soloist. He has excellent technique. William Kroll, the violinst, is one of the finest of the younger generation of violinists. He has given many successful solo recitals.

COLLEGE STYLE SPORT HATS SLICKERS, SWEATERS Fur Coats, Scarves, Corticelli Hose

The Quality Drug House of Eastern Connecticut

The NICHOLS & HARRIS CO.
ESTABLISHED 1866
High Grade Candies and Toilet Articles
118 State Street
NEW LONDON,CONN.