Numerous Events Scheduled

On Friday, Saturday, Sunday, February 22, 23, and 24 will be the exercises of alumni weekend, which are held each year on the weekend nearest to Valentine's Day. Of all the events which are scheduled to take place, the unveiling of the portrait of Professor Mary Elizabeth Holmes at Holmes Hall, the new refectori, will be the most important. Professor Holmes was held in great regard by all who knew her when she taught here, and it is very fitting that the new refectory should be called Holmes Hall. Present at the luncheon will be all of the alumnae but also those women members of the class who were the colleagues of Miss Holmes. At this time, too, announcements of interest will be made, and the Alumni Council Committee and the first meeting of the Welfare scholarship board will be held.

The exercises of alumnae weekend are as follows:

COUNT VON LUCKNER, RAIDER OF SEA IN WAR, TO BE SYKES FUND LECTURER

COUNT Felix von Luckner, who, during World War, captured 17 vessels of the Allies, while in command of a German sailing vessel, will be the speaker at a lecture for the benefit of the Sykes fund of Connecticut College, March 24th, in the auditorium of the Bulkeley School.

His captures were made during 1917-18 and he became famous for his work as prisoner of war. The vessels captured were sunk and the captives released.

The sea raider is a daring, romantic hero of the great war. He is a member of an old military family, born on March 1, 1886 in a small village of France. His war-time exploits were made well known by a number of the Kaiser, and as an officer on the Central Powers, he was a first ship in the Imperial navy, he fought the battle of Jutland.

The count has been given 27 decorations by his own and other countries since the close of the war. One decoration from the Pope was conferred on von Luckner's kindness to prisoners.

The address, which will be centered on the count's war-time experiences, will be under the auspices of the senior class of Connecticut College. Catherine H. Greer, chairman of the vans fund committee, will introduce the count to the college and friends at the lecture.

Ten years ago upon the death of Dr. Sykes, first president of the college, a fund was established by the students and alumnae of the college in his memory. With the inauguration of the fund, came also the resolution that the special events of the college would present to its faculty, students and friends some speaker of note and fame. The proceeds of these lectures have added to the fund each year until it now amounts to more than $2,000,000.

It is expected that in June at the regular meeting of the Alumnae Association, it will be definitely decided for what purpose the money will be used.

Subject of Next Convocation

We are fortunate to have William L. Finley, the well known naturalist and lecturer, speak to us at Convocation on an interesting subject, "Chimpanzees, That's Right," which promises a wealth of novel information.

As a lecturer during several years under the auspices of the National Association of Audubon Societies, Mr. Finley has become well known among Naturalists. His experiences in the field of bird study, particularly, have been wide and varied and these he has written in two books, two of the least works, 'Lovable Birds and Little Bird Blues.'

Mr. Finley, since 1912, has been a member of the editorial staff of the National Geographic magazine, it is the producer of Finley Nature Films.

A PROBLEM

To Be a Tean Dance. I did bid a man;
A merry time had we.

They were cutting in and waltzing, and so the dance went on.

My man was sad, I knew not why, a troubled frown wore he.

With silent words, the cause I knew.

And then he said to me:

A problem doth confound my sense.

Why do they call it Tea Dance,
When there isn't any tea?

In an effort to relieve the congestion that occurs every evening in the theater district of New York, Police Commissioner Joseph B. McManus has suggested "staggering" the theater hour to distribute the crowd. Under this scheme musical programs of the after-midnight shows will open at 8:30, and shorter performances at 8:50.

WINthrop SCHOLARS
That at last scholarship is being recognized, and given its rightful place of distinction is evidenced by the naming of students of sufficiently high standing Winthrop Scholars. This week-end, the first meeting of that group will be held, and some sort of organization will undoubtedly take place.

In college as young as Connecticut, there is a dearth of the Phi Beta Kappa National Honor Association, but it is pleasing to note that the Class of 1932, under the new Winthrop scholars, are all eligible for that distinction when the college is considered sufficiently mature to have a such chapter here.

Needless to say we are proud of our scholars. Many of them have not only attained a high degree of scholarly excellence, but are active in outside interests as well. The ideal is, of course, the girl who in addition to her A's can attain the good-will and affection of her fellow-students through her good nature, and also to participate in the activities that make up the social life of the college.

Dr. Albert Einstein has a new theory, which he calls even more important than his theory of relativity. It is called “A presentation of the theory in the form of a five page manuscript, is the center of attention in the world of physics. His work has so far attracted much attention among the students, but it is not yet widely known. It has been the subject of discussion among physicists and mathematicians. RECENT ADDITIONS TO THE LIBRARY

The New York Times College Library Catalogue, a work of great value, has been recently published. The catalogue contains a complete list of all the books held by the library, as well as a comprehensive index of all the subjects covered. It is a valuable tool for anyone interested in finding specific information on a particular subject.

Dear Daisy,

I see you are feeling down and need a friend. I can't imagine anything worse than having your own personal problems. But don't worry, I'm here for you.

President
The occasional college student who crosses the administration and then finds himself without an alma mater, thinks he has experienced all the fortunes. If, however, he had crossed his fellow-students instead, he would find himself meeting with such furies as presidents never dream of. The truth is that the presidents run poor seconds to outraged students.

There is, for example, the campus war at the University of Washington, which is just quieting down. The barest details would indicate that the president of the student body talked too much, and brought down upon himself the wrath of the electorate.
