President Blunt Announces Plans for New Dormitory

Ground Will Be Broken This Spring For Building Adjacent To Jane Addams

"I want to tell you before the general announcement that we plan to build the new dormitory adjacent to Jane Addams House this spring." President Blunt made this statement in chapel yesterday, January 13.

The plans are almost completed, contracts have been given to the architects and builders of Jane Addams House and to Mr. Howard of Harmon of New York, and A. F. Peaslee, Inc., of Hartford. The building will be opened next fall; it is being begun earlier than was Jane Addams House so as to be more easily completed by the time the college opens.

Attached to Jane Addams

"You remember the original plan for Jane Addams House attached to Jane Addams," said Miss Blunt. "It will extend a little east and then south, actually attached to the present structure. It will be just as separate from Jane Addams House for students as are the two between, but the two will be a unit as to homekeeping." Jane Addams' kitchen is large; it was built for two buildings and next year it will serve both.

There will be rooms for seventy-five girls, almost wholly singles; there will be three or four doubles. There is to be a good sized living room, a reception room, and a dining room.

"It is hoped that this is the best plan of all. We asked the three presidents of the three new dormitories for their ideas. (Continued to Page 6, Column 1)

C. Leslie Glenn to Conduct 3-Day Religious Conference

Faculty, Students Assist in "Messiah" With Local Group

Solosists Are Margaret Olson, Grace Leslie, Clifford Menz And John Gurney

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented tomorrow night, January 14, as it has been Visiting Professor at Union College, New London, and the New London Oratorios Society and four guest soloists under the direction of Mr. Allen B. Lambdin. The soloists are as follows: Margaret Olson, soprano; Grace Leslie, contralto; Clifford Menz, tenor; and John Gurney, bass. All are well-known artists in New York.

Mr. Lambdin is business manager of the college, and Miss Leslie is assistant professor of music and teacher of voice here. There are many members of both the faculty and the student body in the chorus which numbers nearly one hundred and the orchestra of forty-five.

Among the subscribing associate members are a number of people connected with the college, members of the faculty and administration, and students.

Paul Tillich, well-known German philosopher and pastor, is the featured speaker at the 3-Day Religious Conference to be held in New London. Mr. Tillich is the Burton Lecturer at Union College and will present a series of lectures in the college chapel on "Religious Thought." The lectures will be in German and translation will be provided.

Peace Propaganda to be Spread in News Column

To make Peace more than a hollow word, let alone a word spoken daily in all parts of the world even though the horizon now may be gloomy. A column prepared by members of the campus Peace Group aiming to acquaint the student body with Peace and War Fronds will appear in the News each week. The first of this series appears on page two of this issue. The column will be entitled "Peace Patter."

SENIORS TAKE NOTICE

Betsy Dixon will be in her room, Windham 215, Thursday, Jan. 18, from 1:00-6:00 to receive payments for your class dues. Do this promptly and save yourself the trouble later.

Not Drunk—Just Dizzy

New York, N. Y. (ACP) Scientists have solved a problem that has long troubled physiologists as well as liquor store proprietors: why does alcohol make a person drunk?

Dr. Harry W. Nissen of the Department of Psychology of Yale and the Institute of Human Relations, spoke Monday night in Windham and showed movies on “Social Cooperation and Alcoholic Drink” to demonstrate the benefits of the Psychology Club.

Dr. Nissen took his A.B. at the University of Illinois and his Ph.D. at Columbia. He has specialized in the study of speculations about the social awareness of African animals during the restoration of their habitats.

Physiologists have noticed an amazing similarity between the symptoms of alcoholism and those of the mountain climber who suffers from altitude sickness because of the decrease in air pressure at high altitudes. The two doctors suggest treatment with combined oxygen and carbon dioxide as a result of their recent experiments.

Halls of the buildings at the College of Mount St. Joseph in Cincinnati are now equipped with indoor filling stations. A penny in the slot will release enough ink for a fountain pen filling.

Carolleled to upper classmen. Got cold feet and laryngitis. Christmas Eve party—except for the snow there wasn't any. Stayed up all night, Saw the sunrise on a rock.

Friday, December 23
Went to several classes. Heard songs in Spanish and did a crossword puzzle in Spanish. Did not go to the 15th birthday because I looked so awful and had soap suds on my chin but Jim called so I had to.

Saturday, December 19
Thought I would get some reading done but I overstudied. Went to Harry Goodman. Saw a lot of Connecticut girls there. I never thought so many people.

Tuesday, December 22
Went to see six of my classmates. They're much nicer now that I'm out of purpul. Saw the prinipal. I don't think I'll see her again until February. Tried to break her in to expected marks. Have no date for New Year's Eve as yet—it's getting under my skin.

Came down with the grippe. Was put in with a thermometer and colds of water and fruit juices. I've put to bed with a thermometer and cold feet and laryngitis. Christmas Eve party—except for the snow there wasn't any. Stayed up all night, Saw the sunrise on a rock.

New Year's Eve—were my new dress. He liked it! At midnight he gave me his pin. I was so happy I popped like a balloon. So this is what college has been doing for me! I've gotten myself for a while, you might say. What price glory! I couldn't do it without him.

Another silk dress which would be grand to wear now and then in the spring is a dark red and white print. It has a high cow neck line, gathers over the shoulders, a full "swing" skirt, and a red and white pleated feather belt. The print is a design of widely-spread, modernized white feathers.

I saw a darling dinner dress—yes, perhaps you might like it, too. It is a narrow shoulder coat, a kind of knitted collar and tie—the sleeves are puffed—tiny rhinestone buttons trim the front—and yards and yards of net make up the swirly skirt!

Large—square, metallic, chiffon handkerchief in red or white with silver metal thread shot through the material.

Angora sax in any color to match your sweaters—they are topped with a wide band of "elastic angora" which keeps the sax from slipping down at the heel.

Good-bye now, Dede.

Oh! Professor!

Professor Schlitz, at a certain southern college, went all his students to answer "here" instead of "there." When he called roll, Per- verse Mr. Space usually insisted on answering "present" when he heard his name—much to the displeasure of the professor.

One day Professor Schlitz was in ill humor. He called roll and got the class to appreciate "present" from Mr. Space.

"Present, hell," shouted the pro-fessor, "you're here like the rest of us. This ain't no Sunday School!"

Because 57 members of last year's freshman class at Massachusetts In- stitute of Technology were sent forcibly to the institute's cabin at Lake Massapoag and held there in chains overnight, Dr. Karl T. Com-pton, president, and the student body have taken joint actions to wholesale kidnappings of freshmen.

not sincerely love this college, I would not bother to pass judgment upon any phase of it. It is only by avoiding an awareness of its defects that it can be made more perfect.

"57" instills a personal touch when she states that my "experience in this college with regard to drama- tic productions has been relatively little." I cannot see why I must make an active part to be permitted the privilege of criticizing college dramatics.

In brief, there was only one sound argument presented in the letters. "I did not set forth any constructive suggestion." There is but one meth- od to improve our productions, and we shall agree on this—at least. We should have a course in acting. Nearly every student who tries out for a part in a play has no clear conception of the role, of the necessary technical terms, of proper diction and breathing, of stage presence, of the art of creating another individual—of acting. An essential addition to our curriculum is a course offering us the fundamentals of acting, not only to be called to our productions but to give us a more clear conception of the beauty and fineness of acting as a great art. It is not a luxury! It is an immediate necessity! I plead for an adequate drama course.

And with that, the defence rests.

New Dormitory Plans Announced

Many of the suggestions have been incorporated in the plans.

Housing Problem Relieved

"Again we are bringing students from off campus and diminishing the small doubles on campus. I cannot say too often why we want new dormitories—we want to give our students the best possible conditions for work, play, friendship, and growing up."

The financing has not been completely settled; there is an annuity gift of $50,000 and a few other gifts. A number of parents have helped, and the administration has helped, and the administration will borrow if necessary.

In view of the new building and the fact it may be necessary to borrow... Miss Blunt and the administration ask the students to take care in one economy, electricity. "Please be good enough to put out the lights when you leave your rooms," asked President Blunt. "It is a good saving and we appreciate it.

"I know you rejoice and I think we are to be congratulated on this new building. We are working on plans for the auditorium, but that, of course, will not come so soon."

Ithaca, N. Y. (ACP)—Cornell University's record enrollment this year has gratified university authorities for three reasons. Analysis shows that an increased number of children of Cornell graduates have registered, there is a broader national distribution of students, and there are more students from foreign countries.

Honest Answers

1—Your Freshmen... Goldsmith, wasn't it?... Gray, of course. Correct: Thomas Gray.

2—Those Sophs. Four something, I guess. A four footed animal, unless it's something in mathematics. Correct... A cardinal number, the number indicated by I with 15 other.

3—Intelligent Juniors. I'm too tired! Guess it's 2 and 1/7. It's 2 and 1/2. Correct... 2 and 1/2. Original question: What is one third of 2 and 1/2?

4—Our Graduating Seniors. It isn't a prize, is it?... Some kind of house-bound. Correct... A cow-stall.
