Nominations Being Made for New Officers

Candidates Will Be Presented at Amalgamation Meeting On February 24

College-wide student elections will be held Thursday, February 27, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Faculty Men's Lounge in Fanning Hall.

Nominations for the following offices are made by petition: President of Student Government, Chief Justice of Honor Court, Speaker of the House, Vice President of Student Government, President of A.A., and President in Student Service League.

Mary Anne Leman '42 and Nancy Fisher '42 have been nominated for President of Student Government, positions which have been filled out for Lesa Breener '42 and Caroline Wilde '42 as candidates for Chief Justice of Honor Court.

A copy of the following rules for nomination by petition will be posted on the main bulletin board in Fanning:

1. All nominees must be members of the Junior class except Speaker of the House who may be a member of the Sophomore or Junior class.
2. Petitions will be in the election room (Student Government Room) in Fanning basement and completed petitions returned here.
3. Petitions will be issued on the following days between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.:
   a. President of Student Government—Thursday, February 20.
   b. President of A.A. and Student Service League—Tuesday, February 20.
4. Completed petitions are due at noon on the following days:
   a. President of Student Government—Tuesday, February 18.
   b. Chief Justice—Wednesday, February 19.

Speaker of the House—Thursday, February 20.

Membership In Musical Co-Operative Reaches Peak Of Seventy-Five

Dr. Charles Chakerian has announced that the membership in the New Musical Co-Operative has reached seventy-five, although all reports are not in. "For a new organization in such a specialized field," he said, "the results are very gratifying."

Our shipment of records has already been delivered by the 18th. Another is expected in a day or so in the delivery in a few days, and of course we shall be able to stock the orders we received.

Catalogues to be used by the students in ordering their records, are on deposit in the library, in Dr. Chakerian's office, Fanning 431, and in Miss Cothridge's office, Fanning 210.

Rabbi Shankman Speaks At Vespers

The Rabbi Shankman of Temple B'Nai Israel, New London, opened the Interfaith Month Vespers service Sunday evening, February 16, in the Hurwitz Chapel, Dr. Shankman began his sermon by stating that his subject was "The Jew in a World at War."

"My subject itself," the speaker continued, "indicates that there is a special aspect of this war which relates to the Jew particularly. Although Hitler, in 1933, charged the Jews for having stabbed Germany in the back, they were, in reality, only guilty for having given en to mankind a religious civilization and for having given to the world the idea of justice. The Jew, although unable to cause the first wars, before Hitler, because of his tendency to withdraw upon reflection, was invincible that the Jews should have been the first target in this war because Judaism is based upon the fellowship of all men, the sanctity of the Sabbath, the Sabbath day of rest, peace and life and the invincibility of human personality. The preac-ch of democracy is opened to all the principles of Judaism."

Rabbi Shankman continued by describing how Germany was mulitated twenty-two years ago. He to ask, "What would you and I have done in similar circumsions? Has it not been the Pledge?

Let us not have too harsh a judgment upon the Jews who were the first target of this war and has suffered much."

Then the speaker told how the Jew has reacted to this war. "The Jew has always suffered. He has learned to develop a philosophy of life which enables him to 'take it on the chin,' to be strong, to have a stubborn courage, an unconquerable hope. Running through Judaism is the theme of the kinship of all men, and through life and the invincibility of human personality. The preac-ch of Judaism is opened to all the principles of Judaism."

Local Red Cross Preps For Efficient Emergency Service

By Nancy Wolfe '41

Did you know that the national Red Cross Supplies the wool, yarn, and other materials which are distributed by the workshop in the Chapel for British war relief? And did you know that in room 301 of the PALMER AUDITORIUM the Red Cross is making and packing surgical dressings, under the direction of Miss William Morgan of New London?

Maybe you are interested enough to know already that the Red Cross is conducting these two campus workshops, but I'd be willing to wager that few students know about the Disaster and War Preparedness committee, originally organized by the New London chapter, of the Red Cross, in Dr. Gerard Jensen, professor of English, and Dr. Mary McKeown, pro-tessor of chemistry, are playing important roles.

Dr. McKeown told me, in a most enlightening interview the other day, that, following the disastrous hurricane of October 29, 1938, the local Red Cross chapter realized that it was not organized to meet adequately a severe disaster in this region. As a result, a Disaster committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Elmer H. Spaulding, was organized under the auspices of the local Red Cross, in order to meet adequately any future emergency. The Disaster committee began to function, the national government decided to organize the meet-ed personnel of the United States for the final time, and thousands of its members have been enlisted from the three New England states to act as:

- Class of '41, Janet Bauyau, Jane Rogers, and Kitty Pinkston
- Count Alfred Korzybski, professor of oral English at Wesleyan University
- Betty Bowden, and Muriel Thompson
- Dr. William T. Curtiss, and Katherine Mitchell

Anyone desiring tickets can recieve them from Martha Boyle, Plant 201. Whereas the proceeds from the other large dances go in to the class treasuries, the money from this dance goes directly to the Red Cross and power plants in the region. In case certain power plants are dis-ailed, the committee will know what other sources of power are available. It has also enlisted the services of all professional and fomented amateur sending and receiv-ning sets, and has given instructions to the operators for use in emergencases of telegraphy.

The Rescue committee has a file of all the regions in the river that can op-ate blow torches, so that rescue work can be commenced immediately in case of accidents.

The Clothing committee is to contact all the stores in the area, and to take inventory of the number of all types of clothing, blankets, and so forth, and its duties will be to perform this in a given number of hours.

The Shelter committee, said Miss McKeown, is the one of most importance, that of helping those who are affected by these accidents. In all, Miss McKeown said, it is the most important of all. Mr. Fred Reubke, said, that his committee will be concerned in this phase in the emergency.

The opinion of Miss McKeown is that this group of students have the ability to perform this task adequately, and they will be given the necessary training and equipment by the Red Cross. Any student who is interested in helping can contact Miss McKeown, in the spring meeting, or Dr. David Sullivan, a leading surgeon of this territory, was asked to take charge of Southeastern Connecticut.

Philosophy Group From Several Colleges To Meet At Conn. College

The intercollegiate philosophy group, composed of students from Wesleyan university, the University of Connecticut, and Connecti-cott, will meet on February 19 at 7:15 in the cemetary room in Fanning hall. A fifteen minute discussion of the presentation will be presented by a student from each college on the assigned topic: "What Can Youth Do About It?" A discussion will follow.

The full meeting of this group will be held at the New London College on the same day, and the spring meeting will be held at Wesleyan university.
The Second Clause

"A student who is a fellow of the Honor Code who has violated the Honor Code, is in honor bound to admit that student to report herself. This is the second clause in our Honor Code—the clause that is most often neglected, yet the clause that is vitally important in the functioning of our democratic system of government.

The poems published in the Free Speech column [column names] illustrate the second clause of our Honor Code. The members of the class of '43 have expressed themselves about the seriousness of its violation. But it was discovered upon inquiry that the newsmen were failing to uphold the Honor Code. The effects of their letter have violated the first clause by not reporting themselves.

The second part of the Honor Code may seem even more difficult to carry out than the first. But if admittance is undertaken in the right spirit the difficulties vanish. Anonymous notes or friendly advice are successful forms of social pressure. Personal ill-will does not enter the picture. Admissions should be a sincere and sympathetic attempt to help someone else to realize her responsibility and to accept her part of a democratic system of government.

Because the failure of the second clause so often implies the failure of the first, the success of the Honor Code depends upon the cooperation of every student. Let's make both clauses an active part of our campus government.

The Free Speech Follows

Dear Editor:

We, as a group of very disappointed sophomores, would like to bring to the attention of fellow students. We have pondered for some weeks whether or not the "Free Speech" column in the College News was the place to voice this subject. We, however, felt it an awfully fine prose style for so good a book. The book follows in the Gothic tradition of southern school, is morbid and morose in mood, yet reveals insight and a skill in the use of the writer.

"Virginia," the newest technical and production in the Hollywood series honoring the state, was shown recently in New York. It is notable for an introduction of a newcomer to the screen—a young and beautiful actress, Striking Haydn.

The Voyage Shows Promise Of Fame

By Lee Elting '42

Two new plays opened last week in New York, "Out of the Frying Pan," written by Francis Siegel, with "Claudia" by Rose Franken, with the help of Dr. Glore, Donald Cook, and Frances Starr. "Out of the Frying Pan," a comedy about struggling young authors, "Claudia" is a serious play concerning a naive young bride who grows to maturity in the face of shocking tragedy.

Next Friday, February 21st, at midnight in Radio City, there will be a benefit performance to raise money for the American Theatre Wing of the British War Relief. The show will be broadcast, including a two-way hookup with London, and will feature such stars as Gertrude Lawrence, Bea-"Claudia," Lawrence Olivier, Alec Templeton, Zorina, Ed Wynn, and many others.

Carmen McCullers, the twenty-four year old girl who wrote "The Heart is a Lonely Hunter," has published another novel in its Golden Egg, which retells the story she had in her first novel, a southern experience of a young girl. She is the representative of the philosophy which says, "It is not wisdom to believe only vice. And on the inward vision close the eyes, but it is wisdom to believe the heart.

Theresa Barlet is a brilliant, passionate, impulsive woman, who, although widely different from Barlet in character, has two fundamental qualities in common with him. Theresa and Barlet are alike in that they have single-minded hearts, and the ability to give themselves consistently. Their way of viewing the different, it is true, grows gourds from Theresa so that "To be near her is like being with blood," and most people are afraid of the fierceness of her giving and taking in their life. When Barlet, however, men feel at ease; they act naturally. They were meant to act before they hurt and changed them, before they felt a need to express themselves against themselves and against one another.

To read "The Voyage" is a spiritual and emotional experience. It is a satisfying and universal in its implication because it deals with the relation of an individual to himself, to other men, and to the world about him.
Ground Broken for New Additions To Palmer Library

Construction Begun On Three Wings After Open-Air Ceremony

Ground was broken for the three new wings of the Palmer Library on Wednesday, February 19. The event was scheduled in the snow and whipping wind.

Mrs. Porto, the guest of honor, presided over the ceremony with a short address to the students. "When you students look back on this college in twenty years," she commenced, "you will remember that you spent the library as the time when you really started to use the library, the center of your intellectual life, for this great addition to our already fine library marks one of the greatest occasions of our history."

"The library was first confined to two rooms, now chemistry laboratories, on the third floor of New London Hall; then it was moved to London Hall," she continued. "The present library building was opened in 1923, and at that time, the students had two books from New London Hall to the new residence, an organized co-operative effort."

During its recent history the three new wings with the gift Mr. and Mrs. George S. Palmer gave us at the open-air ceremony to the academic building. Our donors realized that this splendid gift would allow the students to grow into the future, so they have given it for our present additions. This gift will help to further develop and strengthen the magazine."

President Blunt then broke ground, and was followed by Miss Lavalla, who presented Miss Miss Johnson, granddaugther of Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer, and Mr. Valentine Choppell, who represented the trustees. The four class presidents, Sally Stewart '44, Betty Gossweiler '43, Lois Brown '42, and Virginia Choppe '41, represented the student body in breaking ground.

The Reverend Mr. Paul Lumbaert, the guest of the Senior class, expressed the appreciation of the students for the new additions.

Dr. Brown Explains Why Chaucer Has Survived For Six Hundred Years

"Why Chaucer has Survived Six Hundred Years" was explained by Dr. Carlton Brown, noted Chaucerian who was formerly a professor at the University of California, and at the Bryn Mawr College, in a lecture which filled the library in Fanning Hall at 7:30 p.m. on February 24.

"In Chaucer's time," the speaker said, "the success of his literary work was determined by the success of his work as a printer."

Dr. Brown outlined the sources of Chaucer's work, and the development of the language which he used. He pointed out that Chaucer's work was not only a reflection of the times, but also a commentary on them.

"Do you ever have time for any but work?" I asked Dr. McCombs when she returned from her call. "Until this year I've never figured more than twenty minutes a night," she replied, "but now about my only exercise I'm on duty two mornings a week, and walk with my scotty dog."

When she vacated the automobile, she疱ered the Beauties of color photography, to which she is devoting her energetic efforts at the moment. Despite the temptation to try medical photography, she keeps strictly to the scien tific phase of the art, chiefly because she is already involved.

"Of the thirty-three noted doctors, and has been practising with Dr. Galen ever since."

Miss Blaisdell is now being recognized by the critics worldwide for her accomplishments in film making which blend music with drama to achieve greatness. With her charming personality and technical talent she has been able to succeed in a field formerly dominated by men.

New War Phase
Recent events point toward a new phase of war, a phase, William Churchil told the British Empire in a broadcast last week, of greater violence. Britain fears a German U-boat offensive on convoys carrying supplies, and German diplomats, through Spain against Gibraltar and through the Balkans against Greece. Factors which point not good for the Allies are the situation in Yugoslavia wherein a conference between German officials and Yugoslav representatives indicates pro-Nazi support and the shake-up in the Vichy cabbin. This anxiety might possibly pave the way for the return of pro-German Leval to the French cabinet.

Tension in the Far East seems temporarily alleviated because President Roosevelt’s press conference in which he minimized an impending conflict with Japan, and a like statement issued by the spokesmen for the Japanese cabinet, Ken Tachi. Tension was partly due to an unfounded rumor that the Japanese government might be considering removing its capital from its home in its American and British Embassies. The real issue at hand is Japan’s probable thrust at Singapore and the Dutch East Indies.

However, Italy has officially asked the United States to close its consulates at Naples and Palermo because these cities are in the war zone and the Italian government wishes to keep all foreigners out of danger. Whether danger from enemy attack is the real reason or whether this measure is a means of cutting off sources of information is matter for speculation.

"Lend-Lease" Bill
The "lend-lease" bill for all-out aid to Britain and other nations introduced in Congress on January 10th was passed by the House of Representatives on February 8th. The bill is now before the Senate for debate. Voting on the bill has a typical followed party lines with Republicans voting against it but Wendell Willkie’s support seems to indicate a split in the party principles. The Senate Committee made a vote of 15 to 9 approved the bill with its seven amendments which preserve Congress’ power in the "power of the purse" and power to declare war. The original part of the bill giving the President power to "lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of defense articles to the nations whose defense is vital to ours," is still intact although somewhat restricted by amendments.

Hopkins And Wilkie Return
Last week saw the return of Harry Hopkins and Wendell Willkie from England where they had gone to study conditions and report back to the United States. Both men were immediate aids to Britain and consequently a speedy passage of the "lend-lease" bill.

Mr. Willkie is also considering a trip to China to survey the undeveloped areas. Accurate information of conditions in the Far East will be of utmost importance in view of the suspense with which the world awaits Japanese movements in relation to its co-operation with the Axis powers.

Roosevelt Presents Plan
Former President Roosevelt brought forth a plan to feed the Russians as a test of whether or not supplies could be sent to the starving countries of Europe under Nazi domination. The German government has made no official statement about allowing the plan to go through but the British are opposed on the basis that the best way of winning the war is to prevent all food from going to Europe, thus preventing the probability of its falling into German hands.

Increased Taxation
The National Economy League proposed a 10 per cent income tax on all individuals as a measure to prepare the House of Representatives on February 8th. The bill is now before the Senate for debate. Voting on the bill has a typical followed party lines with Republicans voting against it but Wendell Willkie’s support seems to indicate a split in the party principles. The Senate Committee made a vote of 15 to 9 approved the bill with its seven amendments which preserve Congress’ power in the "power of the purse" and power to declare war. The original part of the bill giving the President power to "lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of defense articles to the nations whose defense is vital to ours," is still intact although somewhat restricted by amendments.

Red Cross Makes Plans For Emergency Service
Red Cross workers are examining the number of their buildings which could be used for the care of evacuees or in case of fire.

Dr. Michael Rabin has been placed in charge of the Red Cross emergency service in New London.

Dr. Rabin has been a member of the Red Cross since 1922 and has been active in various emergency services.

Dr. Rabin said that the Red Cross is ready to provide emergency services in case of a disaster.

The Red Cross is also preparing to provide medical and dental services in case of need.

The Red Cross is working closely with other emergency organizations to ensure a coordinated response.

The Red Cross encourages everyone to be prepared for emergencies and to support their efforts.

Dr. Rabin said, "We are ready to respond quickly and efficiently to any emergency that may arise."

The living room of Mary Harring's House was a scene of gayness and excitement Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. J. R. Von Maur (nee Faith Maidock '43) visiting from her home in Middletown, was surprised by a mammoth shower of towels, glasses, dishes, groceries, hankie sets, electric coffee pots, and kitchen ware, right on down to the traditional rolling pin. About forty girls were on hand to see Faith register complete amazement when she first viewed the crowded room. The girls really did it up right, even to serving coffee and mints to the howling mob. The best of everything to you, Faith, and may you come down to visit us often!

A library oddity at Washington State college is the "smallest Bible in the world." The tiny volume—only one and one-half inches long and a half-inch thick—contains the full text of both Old and New Testaments. So small is the print that the Bible is equipped with a miniature magnifying glass fitted into the back of the binding.

The Bible is a replica of the family Bible of William Shakespeare, which is preserved in the Shakespeare memorial at Stratford-on-Avon. The Bible also contains a facsimile of Shakespeare's family records.—(ACP)
