The Voice Staffing Shortage: May Shut Down Next Year
By THOMAS P. MCEVOY
news editor

At their meeting last week, the Student Government Association (SGA) approved the formation of an athletics advisory committee. The committee consists of Director of Athletics Francis Shields, Sports Information Director William Illingworth, two male and two female student-athletes, two SGA senators or class presidents, two assistant athletic directors, and one male and one female administrator. The committee will meet at least once a month and serve as a liaison between student-athletes and the student body. According to the SGA committee member, the committee will work on solving student-athletes' concerns, which are not adequately addressed in their clubs or on the assembly executive board. Some of the concerns the committee will discuss are budgetary concerns, academic performance, and student-athlete representation on the assembly executive board. The main goal of the committee is to create a forum where student-athletes can discuss their concerns with the athletic department.

John Nugent, Senior Research Analyst of the College, expressed concern that generally, only one half of Conn students selected the College as an alternative to their current college. Nugent added that these students were more likely to be satisfied with their current college than those who did not select Conn. The college should aim to address these concerns and improve student satisfaction.

Conn to Participate In NSSE Questionnaire
By THOMAS P. MCEVOY
staff writer

Connecticut College will participate in The National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) for the first time this year. The survey is a national survey conducted by the Higher Education Research Institute (HERI) at UCLA, which assesses student engagement in higher education. Conn is one of the few institutions in the region to participate in the survey.

NSSE is a survey that measures the extent to which students are engaged in their college experience. It assesses the quality of student learning, including how much students are challenged and how much they are able to learn. Conn has decided to participate in NSSE in order to improve student engagement and to better understand how students are interacting with the college.

The survey includes questions about student activities, such as academic work, extracurricular activities, and student interactions with faculty and peers. Conn will use the results of the survey to identify areas where improvements can be made and to develop strategies to enhance student engagement.

Conn’s participation in NSSE will help the college to better understand how students are learning and what they are gaining from their college experience. This information will be used to improve the quality of education and to enhance student learning.

Office of Residential Life Chooses 2006-2007 Housefellows
By BRUCE M. G. ERENOZ
news editor

On Tuesday the Housefellow Selection Committee chose the Housefellows for the 2006-2007 academic year. The committee, which is composed of David Milstone, Dean of Students, and Anna Hopkins Gros, Associate Dean of Student Life, Shelly Metivier, Director of Residential Life, and area coordinators Sara Patch and Joseph Anzalone, chose 46 students to serve as housefellows.

Heather Michelle MEEP
photographer

Students in Art 103 (Digital Processes) placed their work on display for the first time in the semester. The course incorporates elements from both two-dimensional and three-dimensional art. Members of the College community were able to enjoy these students’ work in Cummings this week.

Continued on page six

SPORTS
The men’s basketball team was selected for the NESCAC tournament, while the women’s hockey team suffered defeat in the end of the regular season.

Check out our website at thecollegevoice.com for more news and community information.

The Voice faces the potential of shutting down next year because of the lack of student labor. With the vast majority of student labor already dedicated to the role of student editor, a lack of other students willing to take on leadership responsibilities next year, the future of next year’s editorial board is in doubt.

The editorial board is responsible for each year recruiting new members into the Voice. Normally beginning after Spring Break, the editorial board starts accepting applications for openings and notifies applicants a few weeks before the end of the semester whether they have been accepted or not.

Traditionally, student editors have been the most likely students to apply for openings within the editorial board and to be accepted. However, because this year’s staff is unusually small, openings will not be filled without outside recruitment.

As of yet, few students have expressed interest in joining the board. "I think a student run-newspaper is one of the cores of a liberal art institution," said David Milstone, Dean of Student Life, regarding the possibility that the Voice will not publish next year. He noted that a "thriving campus" published a campus newspaper is one of the benefits of a liberal arts education. "Without opinion, we lose a tremendous asset," Milstone said.

Acknowledging that student participation in the Voice has been weak so far, Milstone added that he was focusing on interest from students in joining the Voice. "I need people to join," to make the educational value that comes from the newspaper realizable," he said.

Milstone mentioned that the College administration considered the Voice as a serious asset of the College and therefore well worth keeping. "I think the administration takes the Voice very seriously as a voice of the students...not just as a paper," he said.

This year the Voice has been the most likely students to work in Cummings this week.

Thu, Feb 17, 2005
Connecticut College, New London, CT
First Class
Flat Rate
U.S. Postal Service
Permit #55
New London, CT

Office of Residential Life Chooses 2006-2007 Housefellows

Slight Increase in Apartment Floor Creates Shift in Student Population for Older Residents
By BRUCE M. G. ERENOZ
news editor

On Tuesday the Housefellow Selection Committee chose the Housefellows for the 2006-2007 academic year. The committee, which is composed of David Milstone, Dean of Students, and Anna Hopkins Gros, Associate Dean of Student Life, Shelly Metivier, Director of Residential Life, and area coordinators Sara Patch and Joseph Anzalone, chose 46 students to serve as housefellows.

Heather Michelle MEEP
photographer

Students in Art 103 (Digital Processes) placed their work on display for the first time in the semester. The course incorporates elements from both two-dimensional and three-dimensional art. Members of the College community were able to enjoy these students’ work in Cummings this week.

Continued on page six

SPORTS
The men’s basketball team was selected for the NESCAC tournament, while the women’s hockey team suffered defeat in the end of the regular season.
SAC Needs Students To Keep Conn Fun

Last week, elections for junior J-Board rep and SAC reps took place on Camelweb to fill positions left vacant by students studying abroad this spring. There was a close contest between the two juniors running for J-Board, but unfortunately, no one ran for the SAC position.

With an executive board and representatives from every dorm, why is it such a big deal if two positions aren't filled? Doesn't SAC have enough personnel?

SAC's efforts are based on committees and specialized groups, each one focused on specific events which students rely throughout the year. There is a giant group that works on Floralia, Reps slave over Winter Formal preparations, Friday Night's Live has it's own staff. The members of SAC from the junior class also have activities that they are responsible for. The College Voice reserves the right to edit letters for clarity and length. No unsigned letters will be published. Letters should be single-spaced, no longer than 300 words, and must include a phone number for verification. Please send all letters as a Microsoft Word attachment to cvoice@conncoll.edu.
ON STATE STANDS UP TO JUDICIAL TURPARY

Democratic law-making, then, is the greatest enemy of the pro-life action. Aside from the support for on-demand abortion itself, I can conceive of nothing that could demonstrate so effectively the moral bankruptcy of the movement. America is supposed to be a country in which the people decide how it governs itself, but the pro-abortion crowd wants no part of it, at least in terms of the abortion issue. Judicial tyranny, such as which has been imposed on West Virginia, in a country is a fine use for continu- ously unfettered expression to defend this country. (Note: the ultimate value to the pro-life movement of the South Dakota House’s action will likely be limited. If not negligible. Assuming the bill will also pass to the Senate. South Dakota’s Senate and signed into law, the law will still be unconstitutional, as defined by the highly suspect standard of Roe. Further, this effort will in all likelihood collapse the anti-action organizations like NOW and Planned Parenthood, swelling their coffers with money that will be used, for example, to stand any South Dakota Supreme Court nominees put forth by this movement.)

Regardless of the end result of this episode, and despite the flares in the bill that they have passed, the legislatures of the South Dakota House are almost nothing but a judicial tyranny. Perhaps more state- ment is due on this subject. Another thing that can be done is, if halff a month required to find and exchange news about the environment. A typical fight over the issue of land use in the House during the first session of the year is removed from society. Only those groups who toe this line will be rewarded. We are going to cover this issue in our next meeting. No matter what the answer, this is a great example of what to do.

The aid given to these countries, particularly the West, particularly the Muslim areas which will weaken the West. Yet we should be talking about ending the arms trade. The aid to the West, and particularly the Muslim countries, is one of the best ways to encourage the West to condemn the Palestinian.

Progressive groups on campus, as well as CCLEs need to focus on these issues of human rights in the Muslim and Arab world. They should be talking about ending the arms trade that not only rewards those exporting weapons but also gives us extra incentive to venture into Middle East.

The greatest enemy of the movement. America is supposed to be a country in which the people decide how it governs itself, but the pro-abortion crowd wants no part of it, at least in terms of the abortion issue. Judicial tyranny, such as which has been imposed on West Virginia, in a country is a fine use for continu- ously unfettered expression to defend this country. (Note: the ultimate value to the pro-life movement of the South Dakota House’s action will likely be limited. If not negligible. Assuming the bill will also pass to the Senate. South Dakota’s Senate and signed into law, the law will still be unconstitutional, as defined by the highly suspect standard of Roe. Further, this effort will in all likelihood collapse the anti-action organizations like NOW and Planned Parenthood, swelling their coffers with money that will be used, for example, to stand any South Dakota Supreme Court nominees put forth by this movement.)

Regardless of the end result of this episode, and despite the flares in the bill that they have passed, the legislatures of the South Dakota House are almost nothing but a judicial tyranny. Perhaps more state- ment is due on this subject. Another thing that can be done is, if halff a month required to find and exchange news about the environment. A typical fight over the issue of land use in the House during the first session of the year is removed from society. Only those groups who toe this line will be rewarded. We are going to cover this issue in our next meeting. No matter what the answer, this is a great example of what to do.
Concert Review: Mest, Scary Kids Scaring Kids, and Allister

The Alternative music scene is a rely on a simple drum and guitar
as a backbone, but are worthy of a listen in today's world. Their debut album is "This Time" and "Can't Take This" points to a truly talented and promising band who possess strong vocals, catchy hooks, and overall quality with quantity. These bands include Mest, Scary Kids Scaring Kids, and Allister.

Mest is a band that hails from Canada and they are a four-piece band consisting of Michael Tait (lead vocals), Alex meditation (drums), Josh Leavy (guitar), and Mike McGuire (bass). Their sound is described as a blend of rock and pop punk, with catchy hooks and powerful vocals.

Scary Kids Scaring Kids is a band that hails from California and they are a four-piece band consisting of lead vocals, guitar, bass, and drums. Their sound is described as a mix of rock and pop punk, with catchy hooks and powerful vocals.

Allister is a band that hails from the United States and they are a four-piece band consisting of lead vocals, guitar, bass, and drums. Their sound is described as a mix of rock and pop punk, with catchy hooks and powerful vocals.

The Webster Theatre, Hartford
Friday, February 10, 2006

BY BEN FISHER

The music scene is set, the lights are dimmed, and the audience is ready. The band takes the stage and the crowd erupts into a massive cheer. The band members are dressed in casual clothing, ready to perform. The lead singer addresses the crowd and the band begins to play.

The atmosphere is electric as the band plays their first song. The crowd is dancing and cheering, creating a lively and energetic atmosphere. The band continues to play, with the lead singer belting out powerful vocals and the rest of the band providing a solid and steady rhythm.

After the first song, the lead singer addresses the crowd again, thanking them for their support and introducing the next song. The band plays their second song, which is slightly different in style to the first. The lead singer's voice is softer and more melodic, and the rhythm section provides a more laid-back feel.

The band continues to play, alternating between high-energy rock and more melodic, acoustic-based songs. The crowd is fully engaged, with many members dancing and singing along. The lead singer interacts with the crowd, inviting them to join in on the singing and dance.

As the concert draws to a close, the band plays their final song, which is a high-energy rock anthem. The crowd is fully engaged, with many members dancing and singing along. The lead singer interacts with the crowd, inviting them to join in on the singing and dance.

The band takes a bow and the crowd erupts into a massive cheer. The lead singer thanks the crowd for their support and the band begins to disperse.

The alternative music scene is a reliance on a simple drum and guitar as a backbone, but are worthy of a listen in today's world. Their debut album is "This Time" and "Can't Take This" points to a truly talented and promising band who possess strong vocals, catchy hooks, and overall quality with quantity. These bands include Mest, Scary Kids Scaring Kids, and Allister.
Music Genome Project: Opening Pandora’s Box For The Musically Curious

BY RACHEL GAINES

The Music Genome Project allows you to create stations of music analysis, we think you could say a little crazy,” according to Westergren. “But now that it has been quite an adventure, you could say a little crazy,” according to Westergren. “But now that we’ve created this extraordinary collection of music analysis, we think we can help be your guide as you explore your favorite parts of the music universe.” Although “music informers” may sound corny, the term at Pandora truly feels familiar, and is a perfect alternative to the same old pop on the radio and the repetitive nature of CDs and iTunes. Since Pandora is free, there is no reason not to check it out. Start exploring at www.pandora.com.

Pandora allows you to create stations based on the characteristics of the music you listen to on the web-site. Pandora does not put tunes on your computer. It is a radio station, so it plays each song once and moves on. In defense of the site, each song has a link to the iTunes music store and Amazon.com, so listeners can buy songs or albums without even navigating away from the site. It has been quite an adventure, you could say a little crazy,” according to Westergren. “But now that we’ve created this extraordinary collection of music analysis, we think we can help be your guide as you explore your favorite parts of the music universe.” Although “music informers” may sound corny, the term at Pandora truly feels familiar, and is a perfect alternative to the same old pop on the radio and the repetitive nature of CDs and iTunes. Since Pandora is free, there is no reason not to check it out. Start exploring at www.pandora.com.

And the Grammies Go To...U2

BY CLAIRE DOWD

The Grammy Awards always guarantees two things: last-minute choices and U2 winning at least three of their gold-glove trophies. If you are lucky, you might catch a glimpse of an extraordinary ensemble of all-star performers. The 48th Annual Grammy Awards were surprisingly early this year, although I consider Kelly Clarkson some sort of deal with the academy; it seems as if every time they release an album, they win several awards. All That You Can’t Lacerate Behind won awards in both 2000 and 2001, and “With or Without You” the first single off of How to Dismantle an Atomic Bomb won a Grammy in 2004. Conspicuous? I think so.

There was no major sweep this year, is a Sarcastic and North Jones, but there were some other big winners. John Legend won the coveted “Best New Artist,” and in 2001

We’re looking for a few Exceptional Students.

At Quinnipiac University, law school, you’ll find everything you need to succeed. From a challenging yet supportive academic environment to faculty members who will become lifelong colleagues, you’ll have access to live-clinic, direct client contact, and externships, ranging from $10,000 to full tuition. For more information, visit http://law.quinnipiac.edu or call 1-800-662-1944.

There is no way to say a little crazy,” according to Westergren. “But now that we’ve created this extraordinary collection of music analysis, we think we can help be your guide as you explore your favorite parts of the music universe.” Although “music informers” may sound corny, the term at Pandora truly feels familiar, and is a perfect alternative to the same old pop on the radio and the repetitive nature of CDs and iTunes. Since Pandora is free, there is no reason not to check it out. Start exploring at www.pandora.com.

You have options

Is anyone asking what your plans are for graduation?

Massachusetts School of Law students ACHEIVE

Get the same edge that MLS graduates enjoy in almost every professional realm. Law, Business, Education, Healthcare, Government, Law Enforcement

A Juris Doctorate degree puts you ahead of the competition.

A Juris Doctorate from MLS affords you the freedom of that competitive advantage without the worries that others suffer behind a mountain of debt.

Interested? Come check us out:

Massachusetts School of Law
Woodland Park, 500 Federal Street, Andover, MA 01840
(978) 681-0800 www.MLSlaw.edu

WRITE for the Voice...

...OR DYE TRYING

E-MAIL CCVOICE or CALL X2812
NEWS

Judge Patricia Wald 48 Speaks on American WMD Intelligence

BY YONATAN R. FREEMAN

Last Tuesday Judge Patricia Wald, a Connecticut College class of 1948 graduate, delivered a speech to a packed auditorium. It came to attention, SGA members admitted to having been upset unfounded or inconclusive.

"The value of information like facts.org, and www.killercoke.org. I was young and, quite frankly, I chose Coca-Cola because I was brought up to see it as the best."

After the issue was brought to attention, SGA began research in order to either disprove or validate the claims made against the multi-billion dollar corporation. Two major allegations brought against Coca-Cola involve paramilitary activity in Columbia, as well as espionage and environmental issues in India. Although research on the topic did yield a rolling in India, in which Coca-Cola was forced to pull labels on its products stating that they contained various innocents, other issues were unfounded or inconclusive. The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 18-6-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions) with the original wording of the letter, which explicitly admitted a violation against human rights on behalf of the corporation. Such violations are alleged as of yet, due to lack of evidence obtained.

In response to the Connecticut College community's concern about the ongoing controversy, however, SGA submitted the letter, which would allow students who do not wish to support Coca-Cola to enjoy similar products produced by different companies.

"I took the Pepsi challenge blindfolded when I was young and, quite frankly, I chose Coca-Cola...and then still support it now," stated student David Kendel, after hearing about the claims made against the makers of his favorite soft drink. "I mean, every business has fraud, and it's fine, but I think of students who would like to try to get a job."

Information regarding both sides of the ongoing controversy can be found at www.coca-cola-facts.org, and www.killercoke.org.

---

Athletics Committee

 algumas dos faculdades, a academia é vista de uma forma diferente.

"There may be some wonderful untapped resources in..." Michelson noted. "There are several that were mentioned at the beginning of the new issue." Michelson said that some areas on campus did not receive the needed deliveries, issues. He also remarked that communication in today's society is based on pieces of short information that can be exchanged across the Internet, and other media forms. As a result, Milstone reasoned, people may want to use the campus newspaper to get a better sense of why their leadership is involved in separate acts.

The College's only student-run newspaper is a community was astray when it came to estimating Iraq's WMD capacity before the US invasion, despite efforts to demonstrate disagreement by writing essays to the contrary. As of now, the committee still has not received any response from students or faculty, which it prides itself, such as the College's peer institution, State San Marcos and Tufts-Urbana. Considering different problems faced by the competition doesn't offer any advantage, the College would get far more promising results if it were to simply to the committee.

Michelson,后提到，尽管大多数人认为它有害，但在一定程度上，它仍然支持它。他强调，如果学生不接受，那么它就会变得不可接受。另一方面，学生可能会认为这些信息对他们的利益没有影响。如果您对科学知识有任何疑问，请随时联系我们。
Crime Log: February 8-14

Crime: March

2/8 06:40 AM Arrest - Jericho

2/9 03:00 AM Medicinal misuse - Wright

2/9 01:30 AM Medicinal misuse - Fewing

2/9 00:45 AM Motor vehicle accident - West of MPROB

2/9 00:30 AM Motor vehicle accident - South Lot

2/9 00:30 AM Medical emergency - Taft St.

2/9 00:20 AM Medicinal misuse - 4th St.

2/9 00:18 AM Medicinal misuse - LaRue St.

2/9 00:10 AM Motor vehicle accident - Harkness Rd.

2/9 00:06 AM Medical emergency - Emergency Phone

2/9 00:06 AM Medical emergency - Cleveland

2/8 11:37 AM False alarm - Hamilton

2/8 08:31 AM Medical emergency - Catering Van 3

2/8 07:30 AM Magnetic card reader

2/8 05:35 AM Car Burglary - Alano Club

2/8 05:30 AM Medical emergency - Cro Blvd.

2/8 05:22 AM Medical emergency - Marshall

2/8 05:00 AM Noise complaint - Marshall

2/8 04:21 AM Animal control - Jaramillo

2/8 04:12 AM Animal incident - Cro

2/8 03:06 AM Animal incident - Barlow

2/8 12:52 AM Animal incident - K"hler St.

2/8 12:47 AM Animal incident - Cro

2/8 00:12 AM Animal control - 53rd St.

2/7 09:00 PM Animal incident - Off-Campus

WANT THE VOICE TO EXIST NEXT YEAR?

The Voice is Losing a Number of Editors After This Year. Without Replacements, the College May Lose Its One and Only Student-Newspaper.

JOIN THE VOICE TEAM NOW TO GAIN EXPERIENCE -- MANY EDITORIAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE FOR 2006-2007!

Final Semester: Yoni Meets The Seniors

Yoni: Where are you from, and where do you live?
CV: I live in Providence.
Yoni: Are you the type for after graduation?
CV: Yes.
Yoni: What is your major?
CV: Sociology and Race Relations.
Yoni: What has been the most exciting thing about campus?
CV: The location - you can't walk off campus and do something.
Yoni: Do you have sweet potato fries at every meal?
CV: No, but we do have them.
Yoni: What is the best food you have had in Harris?
CV: Matzo ball soup.
Yoni: Do you have anything to say to the rest of the senior class?
CV: You seniors.

The Cheesecake Factory in Providence.

CV: See you at graduation!

Crime Log: February 8-14

Medical emergency - Marion Ave.

Medical emergency - Commercial Ave.

Motor vehicle accident - Carleton Rd.

Motor vehicle accident - West of MPROB

Motor vehicle accident - South Lot

Criminal mischief - Wright

Criminal mischief - Mr. Stenzy

Criminal mischief - West of MPROB

Criminal mischief - Wiggins

Criminal mischief - Larrabee

Criminal mischief - Cassels

Drug incident - Burdick

WANT THE VOICE TO EXIST NEXT YEAR?

The Voice is Losing a Number of Editors After This Year. Without Replacements, the College May Lose Its One and Only Student-Newspaper.

JOIN THE VOICE TEAM NOW TO GAIN EXPERIENCE -- MANY EDITORIAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE FOR 2006-2007!
Snake Makes Friends With Its Food

A rat snake and a dwarf hamster have struck up a strange friendship, living side by side at a zoo near Tokyo.

Aochan the snake was offered the rodent to munch on after it turned its nose up at its usual diet of frozen mice. But instead of killing the hamster the snake made friends with it and the two have lived happily together in the same cage since October last year.

The hamster has been named Gohan, which means 'meal' in Japanese. Aochan has gone back to eating frozen mice. Gohan appears to be so happy in the presence of his new buddy that keepers say he is regularly seen to fall asleep on top of the reptile.

"I don't think there's any danger. Aochan seems to enjoy Gohan's company very much," zookeeper Kazuya Yamamoto told the Associated Press news agency.

Unusual partnerships

It's not the first time predators have befriended animals they might usually view as a potential meal. In 2002, a lioness at Samburu National Park adopted a number of baby antelopes.
Women's Hockey
Continued from page 10
...the ball was on or near the line on a route to a 60-51 victory. Every player ...the Cardinals were up 35-27 in the game, scoring on a team with a 13-10 overall record and a ...the Camels won't make those rightful queries disappear either. They ...are inspired to a certain point by ...from the month, the Conn men's basketball team was in place to earn a berth in the NCAA Tournament. Coming off the first, the Cardinals entered the ...When Stephen Sheperd poured in a 39-37 lead at the 10:29 mark. With 3:15 to go in the game, the ...Four years after the Cardinals were strong under the banner all afternoon, the Camels' ...must have been the 13-10 overall record and 5-6 in NECs competition. With 4:56 to go in regulation, ...was still thinking that sacrifice was such a berry, berry, good idea.

Basketball Clinches NEC
Continued from page 10
...not shocked if Sammy might abandon his team- ...and scoring was widely distributed, ...twice by the same margin, 5-4. The ...and scoring was widely distributed, ...from the foul line and finished with ...12 points and nine rebounds. The lead ...Camels go on an 8-0 run and added 15 points from free- ...in the consolation round. At 10:29, ...four consecutive matches and trailed two games to none in the two remaining matches. Cynthia Whitman '06, in an ablaze with athleticism that gave her the strength, but her experience ...she scored her second point of the period to make it a 5-4 game. Unfortunately, that was all that was to come as the ......in the post season boasting an 8-1 conference record and is 22-2 overall, the Camels are looking healthy and confident, and are currently ranked the 35th in the nation. As a result of that effort, ...Sheperd poured in a 39-37 lead at the 10:29 mark. With 3:15 to go in the game, the Conn ...with his five assists. Jimmy Sheperd poured in a 39-37 lead at the 10:29 mark. With 3:15 to go in the game, the Conn..."You know, I never had a point in my career when...otherwise, wondering how she would ever be able to force her shots and let Ryan carry the victory away. It was the deciding match and paved the way for the finals in the consolation round. As a result of these two games define the season for the Camels. Determination, enthusiasm, skill and experience were key ingredients that have fueled the Women's tennis team in their pursuit into an NEC's Championship. This weekend should clear up several uncertainties and clinch the Camels Men's tennis to compete in the Hokie Cup which is hosted by Harvard and the following week the team travels to Amherst to battle the individuals. This coming weekend (2/24-2/26) the Women's tennis team will face off against the ...her first game is a tie-breaker, 10-2 and the second by the remaining matches. Cynthia Whitman '06, in a blazing ...back and ultimately overpowered her opponent by winning a tight third set. Nine points were wide marks on the ...Camels won't make those rightful queries disappear either. They ...are inspired to a certain point by...
Men's Hockey: Gett wins, 3-0

The Class of 2006 has been fun sports-wise, according to Senior Charlie Wibode.

The C-2006 hockey team came together for a big high school victory over the Salmon River State University hockey team, 4-0. Charlie Wibode, a senior, said, "Our team has been great this year. We've been working hard to get to the playoffs, and we're really excited to see what happens next." The C-2006 hockey team is currently ranked 15th in the nation.

The Class of 2006 has been fun sports-wise, according to Senior Charlie Wibode. Wibode said, "Our team has been great this year. We've been working hard to get to the playoffs, and we're really excited to see what happens next." The C-2006 hockey team is currently ranked 15th in the nation.