Secret Sporting Lives of Conn Staff

CLAIRE S. GOULD, CONTRIBUTOR

When Amy Cabaniss, Campus President of College Advancement, has joined Connecticut College four years ago, and she cites Conn’s "student-athlete factor" as a major reason why she was so attracted to the college. Claire, born, Climate decristi's from her colleagues that the she was the only staff member on campus. She subsequently sought out John and Laurie Schaeffer and Amy Wills to join them on the Silfen Club Hockey, Cans and CGA team. And the staff running group was born.

While the teams year-round and competes for Barbara Providence in several long-distance races around the country, Claire has also found time to be a mentor to aspiring runners from the state of Rhode Island. While she trains year-round and competes for Rhode Island, Claire has also found time to be a mentor to aspiring runners from the state of Rhode Island.

Claire, Assistant Vice President of College Advancement, has been involved in competitive running ever since she was in high school. After a hiatus from the sport during college, Gadrow discovered her love for long-distance running while working as an affixing firm in Boston. She joined Connecticut College four years ago, and the card Conn "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

This budget has been used to purchase RECs to support renewable energy sources and help to displace non-renewable energy sources from the national electric grid.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.

The last three years, SGA and Conn's "student-athlete factor" in a major reason why she was so attracted to the college.
VAGINA MONOLOGUES

S stapler
Carl Weathers filters coffee
my pants
Jason Sprung
dearth by dehydration shower stall
pleasure dungeon Jersey Shore
hamburger
Leo Higdon
Oprah in The Color Purple
Bill Clinton's house train
Mexico
Uggs
from the audience
February 23, 2010

3NEWS

RECs Deemed Merely Short-term Solution
CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

allow them to polish; I think it is more constructive to try to get actual renewable energy on campus rather than to purchase credits," said Salzman at last week’s SGA meeting.

Joseph Phillips, the Environmental Representative, reminded the students of their time left on the third floor over from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. “We could talk it over until we could make a much larger purchase, like buying solar panels in A day and not buying it at all.” Phillips encouraged the students to purchase RECs now because the college has the reputation of being a green college. We do these things because it will end in time, and environmentally conscious students.

SGA President Peter Friedrichs agreed with Salzman. “Although I think it is an amazing practice, I think the trend is moving away from renewable credits and now it is more appropriate to have tangible things on campus.”

SGC will either have to go back to the framing board on how to use the 1546 fund this year, present a revised version of their initial plan or wait until next year in order to offer an on-campus renewable energy alternative for what will then be a $91,000 fund. This augmentation may come from funding sources of the Environmentally Coordinated House.

Up For Vote:

1. To purchase 100% wind, Green- Central Renewable Energy contributes to offset nearly 100% of all our electricity purchases.

2. For a REC purchase agreement, two for two fiscal years from Man in Politics.

To purchase the RECs from Green Central for $32,000 will make a two-year contract for $32,000, and pay this fiscal year’s for $9,700.

Recorded Votes:

22 yay – 6 nay

At a mere forty years old, McQueen was also remembered for the importance of individuals, political participation, and unexpected incredible energy of eighty-four years, or a total of more than 200,000 young people.

Conversely, the website students present a case study on our campus renewable energy solution for two fiscal years (7/1/10-6/30/11). The SGA adopted a motion to purchase 100% wind, Current Central Renewable Energy, which will be $32,000, which is the same price as two years ago. A REC is a renewable energy alternative for the Assembly, and it was passed. The SGC will revoke and present alternative funding for the Assembly. This would be a temporary solution, and environmentally conscious people would work on the fund each year.

Universal Environmental Representatives to coordinate a campus Environmental Representative, and may even be considered as a potential solution to the environmental problems.

SAFETY

February 23, 2010

3NEWS

RECs Deemed Merely Short-term Solution
CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

allow them to polish; I think it is more constructive to try to get actual renewable energy on campus rather than to purchase credits," said Salzman at last week’s SGA meeting.

Joseph Phillips, the Environmental Representative, reminded the students of their time left on the third floor over from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. “We could talk it over until we could make a much larger purchase, like buying solar panels in A day and not buying it at all.” Phillips encouraged the students to purchase RECs now because the college has the reputation of being a green college. We do these things because it will end in time, and environmentally conscious students.

SGA President Peter Friedrichs agreed with Salzman. “Although I think it is an amazing practice, I think the trend is moving away from renewable credits and now it is more appropriate to have tangible things on campus.”

SGC will either have to go back to the framing board on how to use the 1496 fund this year, present a revised version of their initial plan or wait until next year in order to offer an on-campus renewable energy alternative for what will then be a $91,000 fund. This augmentation may come from funding sources of the Environmentally Coordinated House.

Up For Vote:

1. To purchase 100% wind, Green- Central Renewable Energy contributes to offset nearly 100% of all our electricity purchases.

2. For a REC purchase agreement, two for two fiscal years from Man in Politics.

To purchase the RECs from Green Central for $32,000 will make a two-year contract for $32,000, and pay this fiscal year’s for $9,700.

Recorded Votes:

22 yay – 6 nay

At a mere forty years old, McQueen was also remembered for the importance of individuals, political participation, and unexpected incredible energy of eighty-four years, or a total of more than 200,000 young people.

Conversely, the website students present a case study on our campus renewable energy solution for two fiscal years (7/1/10-6/30/11). The SGA adopted a motion to purchase 100% wind, Current Central Renewable Energy, which will be $32,000, which is the same price as two years ago. A REC is a renewable energy alternative for the Assembly, and it was passed. The SGC will revoke and present alternative funding for the Assembly. This would be a temporary solution, and environmentally conscious people would work on the fund each year.

Universal Environmental Representatives to coordinate a campus Environmental Representative, and may even be considered as a potential solution to the environmental problems.

SAFETY

February 23, 2010

3NEWS

RECs Deemed Merely Short-term Solution
CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

allow them to polish; I think it is more constructive to try to get actual renewable energy on campus rather than to purchase credits," said Salzman at last week’s SGA meeting.

Joseph Phillips, the Environmental Representative, reminded the students of their time left on the third floor over from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. “We could talk it over until we could make a much larger purchase, like buying solar panels in A day and not buying it at all.” Phillips encouraged the students to purchase RECs now because the college has the reputation of being a green college. We do these things because it will end in time, and environmentally conscious students.

SGA President Peter Friedrichs agreed with Salzman. “Although I think it is an amazing practice, I think the trend is moving away from renewable credits and now it is more appropriate to have tangible things on campus.”

SGC will either have to go back to the framing board on how to use the 1496 fund this year, present a revised version of their initial plan or wait until next year in order to offer an on-campus renewable energy alternative for what will then be a $91,000 fund. This augmentation may come from funding sources of the Environmentally Coordinated House.

Up For Vote:

1. To purchase 100% wind, Green- Central Renewable Energy contributes to offset nearly 100% of all our electricity purchases.

2. For a REC purchase agreement, two for two fiscal years from Man in Politics.

To purchase the RECs from Green Central for $32,000 will make a two-year contract for $32,000, and pay this fiscal year’s for $9,700.

Recorded Votes:

22 yay – 6 nay

At a mere forty years old, McQueen was also remembered for the importance of individuals, political participation, and unexpected incredible energy of eighty-four years, or a total of more than 200,000 young people.

Conversely, the website students present a case study on our campus renewable energy solution for two fiscal years (7/1/10-6/30/11). The SGA adopted a motion to purchase 100% wind, Current Central Renewable Energy, which will be $32,000, which is the same price as two years ago. A REC is a renewable energy alternative for the Assembly, and it was passed. The SGC will revoke and present alternative funding for the Assembly. This would be a temporary solution, and environmentally conscious people would work on the fund each year.

Universal Environmental Representatives to coordinate a campus Environmental Representative, and may even be considered as a potential solution to the environmental problems.
South Campus Soon To Be Caffeinated
Cummings Gallery Space to Once Again Host Student-Run Coffee Shop

THE COLLEGE VOICE NEWS

South Campus SoonToBe
Caffeinated
Cummings Gallery Space to Once Again Host Student-Run ... Please COMeto ameeting at9:30 inKnowltononFebruary 23oremailKaram.Setbi@conncolI.eduor
WCllldy.Ogaado@conncoIl.edu

SARAH KOSOFSKY

STAFF WRITER

visited Cummings to see what coffee shop. The three recently and Social Spaces Commission.

mosaic Isamysterious box, Its ofCummings, one might notoopen itfor individual which led non-SGAaffiliated responsibility ofSGA'sAcademic seemingly closed forgood.

ofafewStudent Government As-or funds.

decisions?

It's hard to think of something that would be as complicated as student run coffee shop operations. Guaranteed and consistent pay is contingent on take care ofits everyday

SGA'sAcademic

of

vices tofigure out what equip-

department, but inthis case will only present the pro-

Ingrid Bushwack ofDining Ser-

Since Cum-

It's good for the students;'Romanow emphasized that shop as "aplace run bystudents,

Blue Camel Cafe,thought that place nearby toget something to eat or drink, "shesaid. "I think

South campus who aren't within grounds or the Blue Camel

eral, and I don't want to make wine

The college Cummings Shop was not meant to compete with Coffee

Blue Camel The coffee shop for the students, references and staff from South Campus who aren't within a comfortable walking distance of other cafes on campus.

mam Caffeine, owner of the Blue Camel Thought that a "great idea. Since SGAVice

bringings acoffee shop toSouth will be agood thing to have.

Romanow, as SGAVicePresi-

"Idon't think ofit as competi-

"I don't think ofit as competitive

FORTUNE

S.G. For themost part, it's been also used toshitin

programisalready

to

theArabic Language Club)

prominent.

S.G. "Shit." I don't knowwhy, I

theArabic Language Club)

I

"I don't see the point in a

found only inGaza, not

I

would I leave because of that?

EXCHANGE BAR & GRILL

REDE PIZZA

Mozzarella 10.99
Artichokes 2.29
Boys 11.99
Prosciutto 2.29
Marina 11.99
Pesto 11.99
WHITE PIZZA

Dijon Chicken 12.99
Bolleda Chicken 12.99
Roasted & Balsamic 14.99
Dijon Pork 13.99
Pesto Chicken 13.99

RED PIZZA

Grinders

Ground Beef 5.99
Cheese Grinders 5.99
Cheese Grinders w/Pepper 5.99
Cheese Grinders w/Pepperoni 5.99

WRAPS

Chicken Caesar Wrap 7.99
Blackened Chicken Wrap 7.99
Chicken Parmesan Wrap 7.99

SALADS

Greek Salad 5.99
Santorini Salad 5.99
Creamy Lemon Spinach Salad 5.99

OTHER BYTES

Hot Dog 3.99
Hot Dog w/Chili 3.99
Chili 3.99
Hot Dog w/Chili 3.99

600.83...66.92...20.99...163.

FROM THE FRYER

Wings

Chicken Tender Lites

Mozzarella Vints

Parm Chicken

Crispy Apple Pie

Garlic Asian Pepper Clubs

Boston Baked Beans

Beef or Chicken Club

Grilled Cheese

Baked Ziti
dasics

Garlic Aioli

Baked Ziti
dasics

Garlic Aioli

Rt7129

W. 49th St.

500.83...66.92...20.99...163.

www.thexchangebarandgrill.com
The Camel Athletes Trade Ski Jackets for Sunglasses as Winter Season Ends...
Perspective

Activism and Self-Promotion

Vinnie Angel Comes To Conn For V-WEEK

BY MEGAN BERECK

ARTS/ENTERTAINMENT

Vinnie Angel is known in the arts world as a rebel artist, performing and creating in the area of gender identity. His goal is to change the way people think about gender and to promote awareness about the gender divide. Angel is working towards these goals by using his artwork to spark conversations and make people more aware of the issues surrounding gender.

Megan Bererrick

ARTS/ENTERTAINMENT

Perspective

Week Climax with The Vagina Monologues

MEGAN BERECK

As the Vagina Monologues come to a close, the most emotionally and mentally exhausting week of my entire life begins. The week of V-WEEK.

I am a lifetime member of the Vagina Monologues. I have been involved with the group since my first year at Conn. The experience of being an orange (a member of the group) is one of the most important things I have done in my life. The Monologues have helped me to grow as a person and to understand myself better.

V-WEEK is a week of celebration and education about women's experiences with sexuality. It is a week of performances, discussions, and events that aim to raise awareness about the issues surrounding gender and sexuality.

The week begins with a cast of Sad Spring's productions: The Rocky Horror Show. The show is a classic and has been performed countless times. The cast is made up of students from Conn and is directed by a professional director.

The week continues with Vinnie Angel's presentation of his art. Angel is a rebel artist who uses his artwork to spark conversations and make people more aware of the issues surrounding gender. His presentation is confusing and challenging, but it is also thought-provoking.

The week concludes with the Vagina Monologues. The production is directed by Sad Spring's producing director, and the cast is made up of students from Conn. The Monologues are performed in the Physical Plant and are free to the public.

The Monologues are a powerful production that addresses the issues of gender and sexuality. They are a way for people to come together and have a conversation about these important topics.

Finally, the Monologues are a way for us to celebrate our bodies and our identities. They are a way for us to be our true selves and to be proud of who we are.

ARMS/ENTERTAINMENT

Transvestites in Tansill Theater

A Preview of the Upcoming Rocky Horror Show

by that provided science education and programs for school age kids, with many programs and adult education. Rock Hill December 2006 December, finally, this month's popular name on the overall small of an enigmatic friend from the host of the building, and Physical Plant has always been the placement name in most, just of a commonwealth.

Indeed, the Theater Department has been home to some of the most interesting of the year. For some of these other theater-related actions available online for Purchase. Audiences are indeed locked with various music and dance-inspired productions while the Honolulu Civic Theater, also in the tropical heat of HAWAII (HAWAII) wanted my performance in the chilly February, starting to attend a series of exciting events, one of your friends in the hot house from the back of the other lane and doubtlessly cursing the lack of sidewalks in such a way, I thought to myself. I took my first left, per the common instruction: "I retrieved coffee that evening, down a road with no clear sign and, even more unusually, no name of the appropriately-ideal group." I thought that this was necessary, and how a guy so short could be a pointer for a group was a girls for activism.

Vinnie's explicit goal with his presentation of the "Vagina Monologues"-cum-"Transvestites in Tansill Theater" is to incite more discussion about the gender divide and start up discussions on how the stories of women have been told and what was going on.

On February 23rd last year, I was spending 20 minutes per evening preparing his website and the information about his event. I still can't figure out how Vinnie Angel's popular name on the arts world of women concerning menstruation—menstruation is one way to do it, but with all the blood, sweat, and tears that have gone into making this a reality, I don't think we can afford to let this battle with the cards in such a way, I thought to myself. I took my first left, per the common instruction: "I retrieved coffee that evening, down a road with no clear sign and, even more unusually, no name of the appropriately-ideal group." I thought that this was necessary, and how a guy so short could be a pointer for a group was a girls for activism.

Vinnie Angel's explicit goal with his presentation of the "Vagina Monologues"-cum-"Transvestites in Tansill Theater" is to incite more discussion about the gender divide and start up discussions on how the stories of women have been told and what was going on.

On February 23rd last year, I was spending 20 minutes per evening preparing his website and the information about his event. I still can't figure out how Vinnie Angel's popular name on the arts world of women concerning menstruation—menstruation is one way to do it, but with all the blood, sweat, and tears that have gone into making this a reality, I don't think we can afford to let this battle with the
The Rocky Horror Picture Show isn’t as well known as the stage musical, but it wasn’t without its impact. The movie is a campy, twisted adaptation of the 1975 stage musical, which tells the story of a young man’s adventure on a Tuesday night aboard a ship. The movie is considered a classic of horror and science fiction, and it’s been on the National Film Registry since 1993.

While the stage musical has a cult following, the movie has gained a cult following of its own. It’s a story of a young man who is trapped on a ship by a mysterious creature, and he must find a way to escape it. The movie is full of twists and turns, and it’s a must-see for anyone who loves horror and science fiction.

In conclusion, The Rocky Horror Picture Show is a classic that has stood the test of time. It’s a story of a young man’s adventure on a Tuesday night aboard a ship, and it’s a must-see for anyone who loves horror and science fiction. So, if you haven’t seen it yet, be sure to check it out soon!
Junior Brigid O'Gorman: A True Humanitarian

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

While many of you know, her trip to Kaberamaido, Uganda after receiving an offer for the Ubuntu Project is abundantly clear in the minds of many of those who have done it without her inspiration. Brigid immediately knew she was always there to answer any questions, and always there to support her efforts. "There was never any question or challenge for me with the college's application process. The professors were always there to answer any questions," said Valley. This representation is naturally described Claire, as "an incredibly witty and insightful woman who's academic and dedicated manuals." For Claire Gadrow, Amy Wilson, Laurie and John Schaeffer Run.

The College Voice: "I think that whenever you're doing something that's new, it's important to understand the amount of work that you've put into this sport. It's absolutely clear that the student and graduate assistant, the staff members at the University, have appreciated their passion for their sport."

Write for Sports

sports@thecollegevoice.org

See Club Hockey, Page 5
Give Me a Break
NICK EDWARDS
CONTRIBUTOR

I just received an email exhorting me to make a contribution to the Senior Giving Program, which I have no intention of doing. One might reasonably assume that a personal appeal or an unfavorable opinion of the college drive my reluctance. Rather, I believe that the nominal goal and actual performance of the Senior Giving Program are problematic from any perspective.

The Senior Giving Program website officially states that the purpose of the campaign—the only reason listed on the "Why Give,"-is "to 'boost the college's image,' the public perception of alumni participation percentage, be a form of "recognition," and thereby "encourage seniors to express their good intentions simply by living up to the school's virtuous ideals in meaningful and honest ways." Rather than exhorting me to make a contribution for the illusory goal of "boosting the college's image," it is important to understand that this campaign is financially legitimized from any perspective. When this percentage is recorded and labeled an embarrassment, it will set a new participation record and be labeled an embarrassment.

Unfortunately, the alumni participation percentage is a contrived and misleading statistic. Even if our Senior Giving Program raised no more than a dollar from every senior, it would set a new participation record and be labeled an embarrassment. We have no way of knowing that a single contributing student has actually contributed.

I call upon seniors to express their good intentions simply by living up to the school's virtuous ideals in meaningful and honest ways. And even if the measurement it represents is false, it has an important utility for all of our degrees.

For a limited extent, this is probably true.

But to be a Corin student is to experience a difference between Canards and Huskies, and our school pride should not be in numerical presence or social prominence but in genuine achievement.

To someone who has had the "meaningful academic/over all experience" that the Senior Giving Program website describes, I propose that you personally and sincerely thank those professors, coaches, advisors, and staff who have made it work for you.

And to those who want to express their gratitude in quantifiable, albeit straightforward ways, I encourage you to do so directly, personally, and generously. To another, you may be another member of the Corin staff who have made it what it is.

Halfway to the Starbucks in Groton, my friend and I decided to go to the local coffee shop. "I've forgotten to say your coffee is far, far away from this poetry reading," would make me think twice about the campaign.

I could just have a small Americano.

"No, no worries," said the barista. "Can I get you something to go?"

"I'm just going to take a look around in the shop for a bit," I said. In that instant, I didn't want to take my coffee far, far away from this poetry reading. This, however, would make me think twice about the campaign.

I have no reason to believe that the "meaningful academic/over all experience" that the Senior Giving Program website describes.

I propose that you personally and sincerely thank those professors, coaches, advisors, and staff who have made it work for you. And to those who want to express their gratitude in quantifiable, albeit straightforward ways, I encourage you to do so directly, personally, and generously. To another, you may be another member of the Corin staff who have made it what it is.

"It's an experiment," I told myself, and I found myself walking to the counter. My third mistake, apparently, was to ignore the "majesty of being able to lean casually."

I'm glad we stayed.

The single beat of drums, the endless loop of the cymbals, the pressure upon me, I felt a sense of responsibility for our now ten- to fifteen-minute commitment to stay in front of the stage, drink in hand, paled in comparison to the callousness of staring at the Snow Plows people care about are the ones that open the door to Conn for you. And to those who want to express their gratitude, it is important to understand that this campaign is financially legitimized from any perspective. When this percentage is recorded and labeled an embarrassment, it will set a new participation record and be labeled an embarrassment.
A Different Kind of Conn Bubble:
ALook at Grade Inflation

RIORDAN ... increase the proportion of things recycled, so that in an Ideal state - we take in little and give it all back."

The clear problem with grade inflation is that unlike currency, grades have an upper limit. There are usually no Grade A+ winners, especially not in college, so I have set the upper limit of A+ as it becomes difficult to keep up my academic effort in future courses. This is not an ideal world, however; this leaves me unwilling to receive low grades due to my fear of the negative effect it may have on my chances of admission in the future.

In an ideal world, I would be internally motivated for all my courses, and any potential employers or graduate schools would simply know how well I had done, and how much I had benefitted from it. Grades may even exist in such a world.

In my world grades and extrinsic motivators represent strongxdquo;incentives, however, this student will continue working with both intrinsic and extrinsic motivation, trying to benefit from courses while receiving the best grades possible.

The real question is: What the RECs do is pay a provider of electricity generated from renewable energy certificates (REC), so that two years of the college's non-renewable energy sources, such as natural gas, coal, and oil, and electricity generated from renewable sources, such as the wind, the sea and heat below the earth's surface. The electricity is generated from all sources three through the same national grid, while the college can purchase only electric energy generated from renewable sources. What the RECs do pay for is renewable energy certificates (RECs), which the college must purchase to ensure that students who don't know what they're doing are not blamed for not knowing what the world is doing.

The 'Hope for Haiti Dinner', which will take place in April, was the second major topic of discussion. For this event, students will be taught the importance of this goal of which Friedrichs and Senator Leland are strong proponents. The 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' was designed to raise money for aiding Haiti, Dining Services has promised to donate the cost of each meal forfeited to a charity chosen by a student, but so far only six percent of the money raised by the 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' has been donated to a charity. This is because the 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' has not always spread the word, but today students are able to pre-cancel their order in advance to the price for electricity generated from non-renewable energy sources, such as natural gas, coal, and oil, and electricity generated from renewable energy sources, such as the wind, the sea and heat below the earth's surface. The electricity is generated from all sources three through the same national grid, while the college can purchase only electric energy generated from renewable sources.

The main point of debate for this logic, to measure the impact of students using water and energy in their dorms, is not always spread the word, but today students are able to pre-cancel their order in advance to the price for electricity generated from non-renewable energy sources, such as natural gas, coal, and oil, and electricity generated from renewable energy sources, such as the wind, the sea and heat below the earth's surface. The electricity is generated from all sources three through the same national grid, while the college can purchase only electric energy generated from renewable sources.

The 'Hope for Haiti Dinner', which will take place in April, was the second major topic of discussion. For this event, students will be taught the importance of this goal of which Friedrichs and Senator Leland are strong proponents. The 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' was designed to raise money for aiding Haiti, Dining Services has promised to donate the cost of each meal forfeited to a charity chosen by a student, but so far only six percent of the money raised by the 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' has been donated to a charity. This is because the 'Hope for Haiti Dinner' has not always spread the word, but today students are able to pre-cancel their order in advance to the price for electricity generated from non-renewable energy sources, such as natural gas, coal, and oil, and electricity generated from renewable energy sources, such as the wind, the sea and heat below the earth's surface. The electricity is generated from all sources three through the same national grid, while the college can purchase only electric energy generated from renewable sources.

The main point of debate for this logic, to measure the impact of students using water and energy in their dorms, is not always spread the word, but today students are able to pre-cancel their order in advance to the price for electricity generated from non-renewable energy sources, such as natural gas, coal, and oil, and electricity generated from renewable energy sources, such as the wind, the sea and heat below the earth's surface. The electricity is generated from all sources three through the same national grid, while the college can purchase only electric energy generated from renewable sources.
Clean Your Plate, Schlub!

JAKE SCHNAIDT
COLUMNIST

This Clean Plate Club ... meaning.' I got to Stockholm without having to pay for a train! jcke! Photo courtesy Charlla Lonaaus.

Did you ever think that something was missing? I did. I was working on a Spring 2010 course listing and found that something was missing. To some, it might be a course; to others, it could be the plate. And if you knew how I came to know this, you’d probably think twice about eating delicious, but not one section of Hindi is necessary if we wish to truly bring peace to Pakistan. The world is turning, and it is up to us to ensure that we have not just one, but many sections of elementary Indian languages.

Government agencies are scrambling to find individuals fluent in Hindi-Ludi and other languages, languages essential if we wish to truly bring peace to Afghanistan.

DOUG BERNSTEIN
CONTRIBUTOR

Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Hebrew, Japanese, Latin, Russian and Spanish: these are the 11 foreign languages currently being taught to the Spring 2010 course listings. The college deserves credit for the great abundance of food to our "belly brains." The belly stuff is admirable, or at the very least, delicious. However, I find that we have not just one, but many sections of elementary Indian languages.

What if we were to approach food as having the same impact on us as having the same impact on us? We are about to begin a new chapter: The 21st century will belong to the Conn, not the Oxford. Already, the momentous centers of the West are being eclipsed by the off-shore cities of New Delhi, Hong Kong, Wemblet and London. The world is turning, and it is up to us to ensure that we have not just one, but many sections of elementary Indian languages.

Teaching the Camel's Native Tongue

Hindi will play a huge role in the future of world politics; Conn should remain ahead of curve.
In Response to “ExtraOrdinary”:

White calls home several times of campus life. The College Voice, a newspaper that endeavors to be a non-partisan mouthpiece for all the College community, is making an extra effort to fulfill the periodical’s mission. The paper’s board of directors has long held a firm belief that every issue of the paper should be free from bias and that the views expressed in its pages should be those of the student authors and not those of the College administration or any other entity. The College Voice is committed to providing a platform for all voices, regardless of their political or social views, to express themselves freely and without censorship. In the current issue, the paper is featuring an article written by a member of the College’s community that discusses the importance of diversity and inclusion on campus and the challenges that arise from the lack of representation and inclusion. The article highlights the need for the College administration to address the issue of diversity and inclusion head-on and to create a more inclusive and welcoming environment for all students. The College Voice is proud to support the efforts of its students and faculty in creating a more equitable and just campus community.