Trustees Announce
Three Members Are Added to CC Staff

Three appointments to the Connecticut college staff were announced following a meeting of the board.

Miss Katherine Finney was appointed assistant professor of economics. She has been on the faculty of the University of Nebraska and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago. Dr. John C. Bennett was appointed as an instructor in the department of music. He has been assistant director of music at the University of Connecticut and has been on the staff of the Connecticut college orchestra.

Interfaith Month
To End With Talk
By Dr. J. Bennett

Dr. John C. Bennett, Professor of Church History and Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, will be the speaker at the final interfaith service at the Harkness chapel on Sunday, February 27. A native of New Jersey, Dr. Bennett was educated at Phillips Exeter academy, Williams college, Union college, Oxford University (Mansfield college), and the Union theological seminary, where he received his B.D. and S.T.M. degrees. He has also been awarded an honorary D.D. from a church divinity school.

After attending for a year at the Virginia Seminary, he was appointed assistant professor and then associate professor of Christian theology at Auburn theological seminary. From there, he was called in 1936 to be the Church of the Brethren and then to the Union theological seminary, where he has taught since 1930.

Transfer Honored

Comrie Rudd from Fall River, Mass., was a transfer here after Colby junior college, her life for the future is well planned. She has been accepted at the Yale school of nursing in New Haven for a two-year and one-quarter year course beginning next September. When she graduated from Colby college, Comrie received a special award for excellence in the secondary school. Her hobbies are sports of all types. She is president of the Omicron chapter of the school, a member of the Spanish club, and a member of the religious education group. She is a native of Newton.

Will Discuss Post-War Plans

PhD Betes’ Majors, Hobbies
And Plans Widely Different

President Dorothy Schaffer, during her chapel talk on Saturday, February 22, announced the names of those students elected to Phi Beta Kappa for the spring term. The new members, Ruthie Nash, Ruth Hine, Jean Buck, Nancy Bennett, Constance Rudd and Barbara Thompson, were installed at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. President Enslow is the Winthrop speaker for the year.

Press Board Editor

Ruthie Nash, a government major, was twenty-one last week, one of her many interests is music; she sings once a month at the Baptist church and is a member of a trio consisting of herself, Jane Coble and Barbara Thompson. Ruthie has been on the Press board for four years, she is now editor-in-chief; during vacations she has acted as social reporter for the New London Day. She is a member of the USBA, the French club and the chapel. Her hobbies are sports of all types. She is president of the Omicron club, a member of the Spanish club, and the chairman of the religious education group. She is a native of Newton.

Girls Write Plays For Annual Event

The sophomore and junior class will present its original play the same night.

No class knows the details of any other class’s production.

Three Members Are Added to CC Staff

Three appointments to the Connecticut college staff were announced following a meeting of the board.

Miss Katherine Finney was appointed assistant professor of economics. She has been on the faculty of the University of Nebraska and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago. Dr. John C. Bennett was appointed as an instructor in the department of music. He has been assistant director of music at the University of Connecticut and has been on the staff of the Connecticut college orchestra.

Sykes Fund Drive

To End With Talk
By Dr. J. Bennett

Dr. John C. Bennett, Professor of Church History and Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, will be the speaker at the final interfaith service at the Harkness chapel on Sunday, February 27. A native of New Jersey, Dr. Bennett was educated at Phillips Exeter academy, Williams college, Union college, Oxford University (Mansfield college), and the Union theological seminary, where he received his B.D. and S.T.M. degrees. He has also been awarded an honorary D.D. from a church divinity school.

After attending for a year at the Virginia Seminary, he was appointed assistant professor and then associate professor of Christian theology at Auburn theological seminary. From there, he was called in 1936 to be the Church of the Brethren and then to the Union theological seminary, where he has taught since 1930.

Transfer Honored

Comrie Rudd from Fall River, Mass., was a transfer here after Colby junior college, her life for the future is well planned. She has been accepted at the Yale school of nursing in New Haven for a two-year and one-quarter year course beginning next September. When she graduated from Colby college, Comrie received a special award for excellence in the secondary school. Her hobbies are sports of all types. She is president of the Omicron chapter of the school, a member of the Spanish club, and a member of the religious education group. She is a native of Newton.

Will Discuss Post-War Plans

PhD Betes’ Majors, Hobbies
And Plans Widely Different

President Dorothy Schaffer, during her chapel talk on Saturday, February 22, announced the names of those students elected to Phi Beta Kappa for the spring term. The new members, Ruthie Nash, Ruth Hine, Jean Buck, Nancy Bennett, Constance Rudd and Barbara Thompson, were installed at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. President Enslow is the Winthrop speaker for the year.

Press Board Editor

Ruthie Nash, a government major, was twenty-one last week, one of her many interests is music; she sings once a month at the Baptist church and is a member of a trio consisting of herself, Jane Coble and Barbara Thompson. Ruthie has been on the Press board for four years, she is now editor-in-chief; during vacations she has acted as social reporter for the New London Day. She is a member of the USBA, the French club and the chapel. Her hobbies are sports of all types. She is president of the Omicron club, a member of the Spanish club, and the chairman of the religious education group. She is a native of Newton.

Girls Write Plays For Annual Event

The sophomore and junior class will present its original play the same night.

No class knows the details of any other class’s production.
FREE SPEECH

The Editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. To ensure the validity of all opinions submitted, the editor must know the names of all contributors.

Dear Editor:

Interest in the arts is a growing trend, and New London with its Lyman Alms Library and museum makes no exception. Their small but varied collection ranges from Greek vases and Oriental artifacts to notable sculpture by such important artists as La Chaise and Lebrun.

In addition to its permanent collection, every month the museum features a special exhibition, usually of contemporary art. No one interested in understanding the world of our time can afford to miss these exhibits.

Sincerely,

CALAEBR

Wednesday, February 23, 1944

FREE SPEECH

The Editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. To ensure the validity of all opinions submitted, the editor must know the names of all contributors.

Dear Editor:

Interest in the arts is a growing trend, and New London with its Lyman Alms Library and museum makes no exception. Their small but varied collection ranges from Greek vases and Oriental artifacts to notable sculpture by such important artists as La Chaise and Lebrun.

In addition to its permanent collection, every month the museum features a special exhibition, usually of contemporary art. No one interested in understanding the world of our time can afford to miss these exhibits.

Sincerely,

O.M.I. (Office of More Information) by Helgi Seligsohn '45

There Is No Need for

Load the Gallup poll on your computer. So much has been written about the Gallup poll that I would think this is not necessary. In my opinion, the poll is a load. The results of the poll are always predetermined. The questions are biased. The sample is not representative. The poll is not scientific.

MOVIE MINUTES by Marjorie Alexander '44

* Excellent

Good

Fair

Poor

Why didn't I die?

The Capitol theater will feature today's classic film, The Miracle of Morgan's Creek, from Friday, February 25 through Thursday, March 3. Eddie Bracken and Betty Hutton are the stars and they are well-supported by a strong cast which includes such veterans of the screen as James Cagney and Porter Hall. This picture is a comedy which concerns the adventures of a small town girl by the name of Tracy Knoxbrooke (Betty Hutton) who marries a soldier whom she barely knows and jilted her lifelong suitor.

The situations which result from this state of affairs are extremely amusing. William Demarest as Tracy's love is particularly good in his role, and Eddie Bracken, who is the latter suitor, provides some very good laughs, too. Preston Sturges who wrote the script and directed the picture is also responsible for this vehicle.

Although there have been pictures of much greater note which are not usually of contemporary art. No one interested in understanding the world of our time can afford to miss these exhibits.

Sincerely,

FREE SPEECH

The Editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. To ensure the validity of all opinions submitted, the editor must know the names of all contributors.

Dear Editor:

Interest in the arts is a growing trend, and New London with its Lyman Alms Library and museum makes no exception. Their small but varied collection ranges from Greek vases and Oriental artifacts to notable sculpture by such important artists as La Chaise and Lebrun.

In addition to its permanent collection, every month the museum features a special exhibition, usually of contemporary art. No one interested in understanding the world of our time can afford to miss these exhibits.

Sincerely,

O.M.I. (Office of More Information) by Helgi Seligsohn '45

There Is No Need for

Load the Gallup poll on your computer. So much has been written about the Gallup poll that I would think this is not necessary. In my opinion, the poll is a load. The results of the poll are always predetermined. The questions are biased. The sample is not representative. The poll is not scientific.

MOVIE MINUTES by Marjorie Alexander '44

* Excellent

Good

Fair

Poor

Why didn't I die?

The Capitol theater will feature today's classic film, The Miracle of Morgan's Creek, from Friday, February 25 through Thursday, March 3. Eddie Bracken and Betty Hutton are the stars and they are well-supported by a strong cast which includes such veterans of the screen as James Cagney and Porter Hall. This picture is a comedy which concerns the adventures of a small town girl by the name of Tracy Knoxbrooke (Betty Hutton) who marries a soldier whom she barely knows and jilted her lifelong suitor.

The situations which result from this state of affairs are extremely amusing. William Demarest as Tracy's love is particularly good in his role, and Eddie Bracken, who is the latter suitor, provides some very good laughs, too. Preston Sturges who wrote the script and directed the picture is also responsible for this vehicle.

Although there have been pictures of much greater note which are not usually of contemporary art. No one interested in understanding the world of our time can afford to miss these exhibits.

Sincerely,
Dr. Chester Destler Comments on Deadlock Between the Chief Executive and Congress

by Ruth Hove '44

Dr. Chester M. Destler, chairman of the department of history and government at Connecticut College, said that the current deadlock between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Congress is of the greatest importance in its bearing upon the prosperity of the nation and on planning the peace that is to follow.

"Current differences between the Executive and legislative leaders over subsidies, taxation and spending, all involving the political leaders of the armed services are now the desire of the President to wage an all-out war, which he wants victory but not at too great possible cost, which may end in disaster or disruption of civilization;” he adds that Congress would rather choose inflation by keeping taxes down than curtail profits offarm.

"We cannot, and it gives the usual duties of a chamber, but we cannot, and it gives the usual duties of a chamber, so we have a common fear of the enemy, which is the executive head of both parts of the text were used:

by Janice R. Somach '47

Mrs. Sollenberger mastered the Mazurkas offered a technical problem in the interpretations audience too, as she was called

Dormitories Closed
In Spring Vacation

No dormitory is to remain open during the Spring vacation. Dormitories will close on the 2nd day of May, and the Dean of Students, Mr. Hon. Raymond Nevin, will announce plans for students today.

Mrs. Sollenberger's Recital Prazed for Fine Technique

by Virginia Bowen '45

The Misses Frances and Elizabeth Sollenberger, who have been performing at the Connecticut College music department, will offer a French recital on the 2nd day of May, and the Dean of Students, Mr. Hon. Raymond Nevin, will announce plans for students today.

"New Botany Prize to Be Included; Awards Are Given in Spring"

Among the numerous prizes for students, there are two new prizes that will be given in the College of Agriculture. The first is the Botany Prize, which will be awarded to the student who makes the best contribution to the study of botany. The second is the Botany Prize, which will be awarded to the student who makes the best contribution to the study of botany. Both prizes will be awarded to the student who makes the best contribution to the study of botany. Both prizes will be awarded to the student who makes the best contribution to the study of botany.

The Carleton Brown Memorial Awards, for which the prize sum of $100, will be awarded to the student in fine arts who has shown the greatest promise of making a success in the field of art. The prize will be awarded to the student in fine arts who has shown the greatest promise of making a success in the field of art.

The Misses Frances and Elizabeth Sollenberger were the winners of the Botany Prize. They were chosen from a field of eight candidates, and the prize was awarded to the student who has shown the greatest promise of making a success in the field of art.
GYMANGLES
by Marjorie Lawrence '45

Badminton: The Fight Is On
The student-faculty badminton tournament will begin on Saturday, February 26. This is the first of three matches that will be played, and both faculty and students are out to win. First, however, they’re out for the fun. Students have signed up to play in these games. Ten girls will be chosen for the team by having their names drawn Irom a hat.
How about the rest of us getting a large cheering section out?

Come on out! The fight’s on, and this is one thing in which book learning won’t be needed.

Class Competitions
Watch the A.A. bulletin boards for class competitions. Class mangagers are now being elected, and once teams are organized we will have class competitions in basketball, badminton, and possibly volleyball. Another reason why we should get that “bulletin board habit.”

Dance Recital
In case you should wonder why no modern dance recital is given before spring vacation this year;
just be patient. It is coming.
Dance is an art, and so the recital has been reserved, as it were, and is now on the art week program.
April and art for the modern dance recital.

Past and Future of War Service Committee Will Be Discussed Tonight
A meeting of the Faculty-Student War Service committee will be held on Wednesday night, Feb-uary 23. Miss Florence Warner, the faculty advisor for the committee, announced that the purpose of the meeting is threofold.
Those present will learn what has been accomplished by the committee, the plans for the disposition of the funds obtained from the Community Chest drive, and future plans.

Miss Warner also said, “We should try to be more thoughtful about our use of the telephone and transportation facilities. With the great need of the Army for their use, we should employ these facilities only when it is absolutely necessary and forgo pleasure trips and calls for the duration.”
Miss Warner added the fact that she does not include under the category of “pleasure trips,” travelling to see relatives who wish to see them before the vacation convention on post-war employment: U.S. National Resources Planning Board. After the War—Full Employment, by Alvin Han-
After the War, 1918-1945: Miltary and Economic. Demobiliza-tion of the United States. Its Effect Upon Employment and Inc om e. 1943.

Demonetization and Readjustment: Report of the Conference on Postwar Readjustment of Government and Military Personnel, 1943.
Oxford University. Nuffield College. Employment Policy and Organization of Industry After the War. Introduction by G. H. D.
Cole. (Oxford press, 1943.)
Canada. Chamber of commerce:
A Program for Reconstruction, 1943.
Galloway, George B. Postwar Planning in the United States.
Twentieth century fund, 1943.
Bibliographies:
Pierson, J. H. G. Employment
After the War. (Written at the request of the Postwar Planning Committee of the American Federation of Labor)
Sloan, Alfred P. Post-war Jobs.
1943.
UAW-CIO Postwar Plan.
Beveridge, Sir William, Social Insurance and Allied Services.
(Revised Report); and The Pillars of Security, and Other War-time Essays and Articles.
1942 and 1943.
U.S. National Resources Planning Board. Security, Work, and Relief Policies. 1942. (The Amer-in Beveridge Plan.)
The Fortune Magazine round table. (Proceedings issued as supplements to the magazine)

New Publications Concern Topic for Next Convocation
The following publications having to do with post-war employment problems are now on display in Palmer library for those who wish to read them before the convocation lectures on post-war employment:

Mystic Art Exhibit Now
At Museum Includes Oil
Paintings by Mr. Logan
The Lyman Allyn Museum of New London is now exhibiting the work of the members of the Mystic Art association, an exhibition sponsored by the museum and the Department of Fine Arts of the college.

Included are oil paintings, water colors, and a few pastels. Mr.
Robert F. Logan, Associate Professor of the Fine Arts department, has contributed two works to the exhibition, both of them alia. These paintings, “View From Connecticut College” and “Tenant’s Cove,” the latter of which was painted in Maine, have been done recently.

Also on display this month at the museum are photographs belonging to the American Soviet legation, reproducing Russian paintings.

Western Union
Branch Office
Main Floor, Fanning Hall

“A Good Rule To Go By”
from
THE G. M. WILLIAMS COMPANY
The Old Fashion Up-to-Date Hardware Store
Cove State and North Bank Street

Lanz Originals
AND
Judy ’n Jills
Sold Exclusively at Bernards

Have a Coca-Cola—Muchas felicidades
(MANY CONGRATULATIONS)

...from Caracas to Cleveland

To strike up friendship, your Vayan oil-dollar in South Am-rica says, Have a "Cola", and he’s said, I’m your pal. World-wide, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the genial gesture of friendliness everywhere...just as it is at home with Coca-Cola in your refrigerator.

ROTATED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY Coca-Cola Bottling Co., of New London, Inc.

All people “campussed” may not stay out on campus after 11 p.m. This includes Service League dances.

Victoria Shoppe
The Modern Corsetry
Sportswear—Lingerie—Robes
Glove—Hosiery
Mrs. D. Sity, Graduate Corseteer

The Eleanar Shop
223 State Street, New London, Conn.
Lingerie — Bosiesy — Giveos
Gifts
Full Line of Vans and Needles
Free Instructions
Westerly Circulating Library

Dean’s Grill
You can still get there...
BY BUS

Dining and Dancing
Where the Group Gets Together
Peace and Quiet Are Foreign To the Halls of C. C. Dorms

by Betty Reiffel ’46

With no exams, papers, or other worries to keep Connecticut college girls studying through the wee hours, they thankfully turn out their lights for a good night’s sleep these days and wake up refreshed for the new day. But the moment the supervisor has arrived, the halls of C. C. are filled with the sound of desk drawers sliding, of chairs scraping against the floor, of hands tapping on desks, and of voices raised in conversation. Even in the coffee room, where the students may relax and have a quiet chat, the atmosphere of pre-exam days is still evident.

One day, Sally, a very tired girl, to whom we shall refer from now on as “Sleepy Sally,” into the hand pocket tube. The Mohican Hotel
New London, 11 D.
• 260 Room and Bath
• Restaurant
• 1. Cart
PARKING PLACE

Peace and quiet reign again. Sally, who was so worried that her study would be interrupted by some noisy student or noise from the window, has a good night’s sleep. But no sooner does Sally batter down the door, then another kind of noise is heard.

The Mohican Hotel
New London, 11 D.
• 260 Room and Bath
• Restaurant
• 1. Cart
PARKING PLACE

Miss O’Neill’s Shop
Miss O’Neill’s Shop...
Caught on Campus

The faculty's appreciation of humor was evident during Dean Burdick's address Monday evening, especially on the faces of two of the faculty's delegates, Dr. Leopold Stein and Dr. Morris, who had broad grins but who probably felt they couldn't laugh as hard as they wished because they were facing the audience. The humor representatives certainly did themselves proud.

The group on the third floor of Jane Addams gave Charlotte Renshaw '45 a birthday party not long ago. A former member of their group who endured them in Winthrop, Miss Dorothy Burton, was invited for a reunion. Miss Burton brought her knitting and talked to all those present by telling them that the baby cap she was knitting was for a three year old child. The only trouble was, as one of the guests said, "it wouldn't even fit a dicey doll."

Judy, Burton, where is your sense of proportion?

Connie Rudd '44, one of the aka Sweethearts, who recently Phil Bates, Rappaport, received a call from the President's office last Tuesday to be informed of this honor (we've been told that this is the customary procedure) but she did not know that this was the purpose of the phone call. Miss Rudd appeared for the appointment and President's Office, after giving her the good news Connie galloped and said, but Miss Schaffner, there must be some mistake. I'm only -transferred." Tsk, tsk, such a limitation.

Janet Leech '44 was informed Sunday afternoon via a long distance call from her family that upon successful completion of her officers' candidate course, she will be given the rank of Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. This automatically makes every- one on the third floor of Freeman women's freshman class, and sailors are always in order when passing in the hall. Navel etiquette is the extracurricular activity of her friends from now until June when she actually enters the service. Getting the Ensign in "ship shape" involves an initiation for her friends too. Congratulations, Slink! The ladies will have quite a wave on board.

First Meeting Held by New Philosophy Group

A group of philosophy students held a meeting last night in the living room of Miss Harkness house at 7 p.m. to discuss an article called "The Unimagined America," written by Archibald MacLeish. This was the first meeting of the newly organized Philosophy Reading Group, founded at Connecticut College several years ago. The Intercollegiate Philosophy Group, of which the Reading group was a part, was discon- tinued because of transportation difficulties.

Skis may be worn down town if the weather demands. Skates may not be worn downtown.

Whiffenpoofs Give Midnight Serenade When Ball Is Over

by Miriam Steinberg '46

"George Washington stepped here," said the sign over the door of Kappa Kappa's salon—but C.C. girls and their dates really did the stepping at the Mid-winter Formal on Saturday, February 19. It was a gay crowd that jammed the ball room, girls that were in flowing gowns and their escorts in uniform and tails. Washington and Lincoln (their likenesses), tucked up on the walls, stared down upon the dancing couples as they whirled by. The red, white, and blue streamers softly swayed as the music went from the sweetest strains of the smoothest and

Best Bands of the Land Then

Not content with the musical style of one orchestra, the music committee saw to it that the best bands of the land were repre- sented—this achieved by our in- dependent method of a vic and am- plifying system. The highlight of the evening was the appearance of Yale's renowned glee达到 sisters, the Whiffenpoofs. The girls of Emily Abbey house had some extra special entertain- ment. This evening, they had a formal banquet. The theme of the dinner was George Washington at V. S. T., and the table's novel centerpiece was a toy monkey dressed in tights Washington at- tire. He was perched atop a music box which played "Who's Afraid of Big Bad Wolf" at intervals throughout the meal. Said Jinx Morton, "The dinner was housedome, dinners who cooked it. We did!" The escortes made merry and raised the kitchen staff morale by singing songs of thanks to the student cooks and waitresses.

Whiffenpoof Serenade

Houses of upperclassmen were tuned up until 1:15 a.m. The Whiffenpoof ended the evening in grand style, going from house to house serenading a very, very appreciative audience. The hostesses of the dance were Nora King '47, Toni Blasi, and Patricia Jones '47, Jackie Durrell '47, Sis Tuleman '46, Ann Hogate '46, Pat McGuire '46, Penny Gilpin '46, Glyn Howry '45, Ethel Schall '45, Frankie Smith '44, and Libby Travis Sollenberger '44. The chop- stix, inspired by Mr. and Mrs. Summer Segmentation for her friends too. Congratulations, Slink! The ladies will have quite a wave on board.

First Meeting Held by New Philosophy Group

A group of philosophy students held a meeting last night in the living room of Mary Harkness house at 7 p.m. to discuss an article called "The Unimagined America," written by Archibald MacLeish. This was the first meeting of the newly organized Philosophy Reading Group, founded at Connecticut College several years ago. The Intercollegiate Philosophy Group, of which the Reading group was a part, was discon- tinued because of transportation difficulties.

Skis may be worn down town if the weather demands. Skates may not be worn downtown.

MARVEL SHOP

129 State Street

Keyser Hose
Silk Underwear
Negligees

Charles Guild, Library Custodian, Dies at 82

Mr. Charles E. Guild, 82 year old custodian of Palmer library, died last Saturday after a brief illness. Known to the librarians as "Gazoo," he was a favor- ite at the library for nearly twenty years. He had been a Popular Friend of Student Libraries.

Mr. Guild lived at 37 Bristol Street. He had retired this fall.

Art Weekend Is Still Unnamed; Prize Offered

Students have been reminded that the last weekend in April is Art Weekend, and that a prize has been offered for the best name submitted by any member of the college community.

Whiffenpoofs ended the evening in grand style, going from house to house serenading a very, very appreciative audience. The hostesses of the dance were Nora King '47, Toni Blasi, and Patricia Jones '47, Jackie Durrell '47, Sis Tuleman '46, Ann Hogate '46, Pat McGuire '46, Penny Gilpin '46, Glyn Howry '45, Ethel Schall '45, Frankie Smith '44, and Libby Travis Sollenberger '44. The chop- stix, inspired by Mr. and Mrs. Summer Segmentation for her friends too. Congratulations, Slink! The ladies will have quite a wave on board.

First Meeting Held by New Philosophy Group

A group of philosophy students held a meeting last night in the living room of Mary Harkness house at 7 p.m. to discuss an article called "The Unimagined America," written by Archibald MacLeish. This was the first meeting of the newly organized Philosophy Reading Group, founded at Connecticut College several years ago. The Intercollegiate Philosophy Group, of which the Reading group was a part, was discon- tinued because of transportation difficulties.

Skis may be worn down town if the weather demands. Skates may not be worn downtown.

MARVEL SHOP

129 State Street

Keyser Hose
Silk Underwear
Negligees

Charles Guild, Library Custodian, Dies at 82

Mr. Charles E. Guild, 82 year old custodian of Palmer library, died last Saturday after a brief illness. Known to the librarians as "Gazoo," he was a favor- ite at the library for nearly twenty years. He had been a Popular Friend of Student Libraries.

Mr. Guild lived at 37 Bristol Street. He had retired this fall.

Art Weekend Is Still Unnamed; Prize Offered

Students have been reminded that the last weekend in April is Art Weekend, and that a prize has been offered for the best name submitted by any member of the college community.