GAIL ANDERSEN APPOINTED

Barbara Wind Named Next in Command as Managing Editor

Business Staff Begins Under Leadership of Simpson, Martin '56

Gail Andersen '56, who has served as the News editor for the school year 1953-54, will take over from Nancy Garland '54, who has served in this capacity since last March. Gail, who formerly was editor of the Lyman Allyn Museum, will be an ex officio member of the Student Government Cabinet.

Administrative Staff

In the position of Managing Editor will be Bobbie Wind '56, who formerly held the position of make-up editor. Her assistant will be Skip Rosenbach '57, who will occupy the position of assistant managing editor. These girls will be assisted by Gail Andersen '56 and will have a voice in the editorial direction of the paper. They will report to the managing editor, and the retiring editors will serve as editors-at-large.

Copy editor will be Marjorie Zeller '56, who will have as her assistants Elaine Diamond '57, and Stetson Hyde '57.

Editors, meantime, will assume the role of make-up editor, a position held this year by Bobbie Wind '56.

The successor to Ina Krammer '56, who has been managing editor of the Lyman Allyn Museum, will not yet have been announced. The position will be named by AA at some time in the future. It will be assumed by Deepy Robinson '56. The photography editor, currently holding the position of copy editor, will be chosen by the student body. The new staff will be announced by Bobbie Wind '56, who will continue as editor-in-chief.

On the business staff, Carol Simpson '56 will replace Carole Poppas '54, as advertising manager, and Patricia Dailey '57 as business manager will be Moe Martin '56. Cherry Van Der Kirk '56, and Laura Elliman '56 will replace Ann Bushman '56, and Moe Martin in taking charge of circulation.

The promotions will be officially announced at a Coffee Hour, Thursday, March 31, at 7:30, in the Commuters' Lounge in Fandango. All members of the outgoing and incoming staffs are invited. Newly elected staff members will take over the duties of their new positions effective with the May 1 issue.

Newly Elected Officers

To Banquet at Freeman

Freeman dining room will be the scene of a group of bacon and eggs and coffee breakfast that the Annual Inauguration dinner will be served. Tickets will be sold to newly chosen student officers of the new administration. President Park, Dean Oaks, and the newly chosen officer staffs will be invited to attend.

GAIL ANDERSEN

To Give Concert

Asociated with the purpose of this dinner is to give the retiring officers a chance to talk informally with their successors, with Yale, one with Brown and with Bowdoin College. The concert will be performed in the college auditorium.

Christian Meeting

M. Thomas

Between these efforts, the Student Christian Movement in New England was formed in December 1886. The 1894-95 Harvard Volume is a large sacred work has been published in recent years. It has been written in several books on the subject, was the leading speaker. He gave a new address on the topic, dealing with the subject as a musical, cultural, and religious aspects of the struggle. In his concluding address, he tried to point out a solution to the problems of the world which is facing today. He stated that this solution could be found only in a community of forgiveness.

To Present Lili

At 7:30 p.m., on March 20, Lili will be shown. The film, which stars Leslie Caron, as Lili, with Michel Piccoli and Faye Dunaway, is the story of an orphan girl who is adopted by a man in a circus. At the film, Piccoli, who is a shrewd in the story, is much in love with Lili. The film is fresh, original and thoroughly charming.

The film is sponsored by the New London chapter of the Connecticut College Alumnae Association for the benefit of their scholarship fund. Tickets will cost 50 cents.

Exam Schedule

The final examination schedule has been posted. Any student who has three examinations in three-hour sessions scheduled for the same day may petition to have one of the examinations deferred until the final day of the examination period. Such petitions will be approved only as far as conflicting exams are available in the Registrar's Office. All reports must be made by Friday, March 26.

Campus Forum

To Use Joint Efforts Soon

One channel for bringing the faculty and students together is to use joint efforts soon. The Student-Faculty Forum. On Tuesday, March 25, at 3:30 p.m., in Windham living room, a panel of faculty and students will discuss the timely subject: The Opportunity for Intellectual Growth at Connecticut College. Senior News Staff Members Bow Out to Edited Editors 30 is a term in journalism which means the end. When the 30 has been placed on the copy at the bottom of this article the seniors who have been on the staff will bow out, leaving their places to a new staff.

Now that the end is approaching, we think that we can attempt to tell you some of the problems which we and those before us have been going to court with over the years on News. We do this in the hope that the new staff might benefit. Because the problems of the past staff will take up where we leave off has the potentiality to raise the standard of News to a level which is befitting the school it represents. We will try to describe the different problems. To foster the new staff. We do this in the hope that the students will help them by assuming the role which they should play in regard to the newspaper on campus. Their problems are basically not so different from those facing other Connecticut College publications—when our problems are.

In the first place, to many beyond our ivied walls, CC News represents Connecticut College. The circulation staff each week fills a large mail sack with issues that will be received all over the United States. We, however, do not think that News represents Connecticut College. Would it display an active interest in current events? On a campus of this size everyone should contribute actively to the paper. It is not enough that they glance passively at the headlines each Wednesday night.

The most critical criticism is an area in which the students should participate in the functioning of the paper. The only way in which the staff can maintain a genuine relationship with the student body is for them to be invited to be involved in the mechanics and planning of the issues. The perspective of a reader is lost. This can only be regained by the reader's suggestions. Unsought contributions and constructive from the students would be a step forward for Connecticut College News. The paper for the student body. Ultimately, the paper belongs to the students. In between blue books I'm supposed to be doing my homework today. We've got old news and new news—and in this case all the news. Seniors are daily toddling over to Timms to sign up for the Cotterdale. The promenades to the Personnel Office have been increased, and we don't want to leave the underclassmen out of this big movement. So the best way to offer a job, too. There will be no in- terviews required for this job, though. All you have to do is write an article such as this one (now, no comments) and you may be next year's Sideline Sneaker. Seriously, AA is looking for a new leader representative for its Council. Anyone who is interested is asked to write the administration and secure a copy of the constitution and to send it to me this week. The date line on this is March 23 at 5:00. The winner is to be announced on March 26 as the choice of AA's assembly. And if you enter the contest, write to AA Bulletin Board and you'll get a fancy vaticina of Coffee. And if you want to improve your style, send your name to the AA Bulletin Board, and it will be up to the judges to determine who wins this prize.

Mr. H wilson was the playful host of the dance for the Sophomore School at 9:30 p.m. last night. Mrs. H wilson and Miss Hazelwood have organized both the evening's entertainment, which will consist of extremely short dramas submitted by students of fencing, tap, and modern dance. A brief enjoyable evening is expected, so please sign the list posted at the AA Bulletin Board in the Gym.

Membership

The Bowdoin College Glee Club is a semi-professional organization. The Glee Club, they say, is by far the largest student organization on the campus.

The Players, through Professor Tillotson's direction, have become an important force in the ranks of collegiate stage oratory, hence the title of "Comprehensive Orchestral Rehearsal".

The group meets Monday through Thursday nights in the music room of the college dormitory.

Gail Andersen, Junior in Honors from West Hartford, is the new Editor-Chief of the College News. She has worked on the News for her three years at the college, and was featured writer of Sophomore Section. She works as an index- er at the Bowdoin College Library.

Gail is campus representative for the Hartford Courant and plans this summer week to be in a daily day in Hartford. Among her interests is music, and she will be attending the Conservative National Park. She spent many harrowing rides on horses through the mountains and the National Parks. One of Gail's projects has been to sail a boat on the Connecticut River at East Harp-

Bobbie Wind, the new managing editor of the News and former makeup editor, has been writing a column for the college paper. She has found a new hobby, also.

not be on a purely political level, but must be on a sound social and cultural level. He contrasted individualism and collectivism and the ideas held by each. Mr. Thomas stated that one of the foremost problems of today’s society is that it is concerned with work only as a means of earning a living, rather than as a means of service. He said that there are three alternatives open to the world today: war, isolation, or domination. We must learn to put human standards and thought into our democracy and protect the group. M. M. Thomas believes that if each man sees his responsibility to the world, we will have a firm basis for our cultural society.

Man and Society
In his last address, M. M. Thomas spoke on the religious aspects of the world struggle, titling it The Struggle for Faith. He raised many questions concerning man and society and the goals of each. He stated that faith is the hope of the world. He felt that we must restate our faith in the light of the present situation. He said that we must crawl out of the self-righteous shell and practice our Christian beliefs. He then dealt with the fundamental basis of the Bible and the inherent powers of man for good or evil. He stated that we must overcome our spiritual pride or we can never have the complete love for each other that is the commandment of God. A community of forgiveness of all sins unites humanity.

Panel of Foreign Students
One of the highlights of the conference was the panel of foreign students which discussed the problems of the church in other lands. This was followed by a question period in which the other students sought information about the homes of these students who represented Africa, Japan, and Germany.
