In Singing Mozart

On Sunday, Mar. 27

The Yale College Choir will sing Mozart's Grand Mass in C minor at Palmer Auditorium on Sunday, March 27, at 5:00 p.m., following a performance at Woolsey Hall in New Haven on Sunday, March 20.

The soloists for both performances are Ellis Dimmick, organist, and Gloria Sylvius, mezzo-soprano, both of whom are graduates of Connecticut College where they studied under Miss Leslie; Donald W. Newbold, tenor; and Vincent Cannas, bass.

The attendance this year is of particular interest because Mr. William Heath, director of the Yale College Choir, is the son-in-law of Mr. Arthur Quimby, the CC Choir director.

The Yale College Choir and Connecticut College Choir have for many years presented a joint performance at the coming event. Many students will remember their performances in the spring of David two years ago. The Mass in C minor, one of the most beautiful and inspiring choral works by Mozart. According to CC Choir President John Peryn 19287, the mass is of a most engaging manner, is a challenge to any choir.

Tickets for the March 27 performance, which will cost $1.25 and $5.50, may be purchased through the music department or by telephoning Gibson 2393.

The Connecticut College Choir has for many years presented a joint performance with the Yale College Choir as a public service.

To Conn. College Arboretum: Preservation Of Natural Aspects and Wild State Agreed

On March 14, 1955, at 1:00 the largest special project ever undertaken by the Arboretum, the purchase of Mamacoke Island, near New London, was completed. The additional sum of $13,500 required to complete this purchase was then handed over to a representative of Merrill, Chapman and Scott Corporation. This added to the original down payment of $1,500, allows the Connecticut Arboretum Advisory Committee, to call Mamacoke Island theirs.

The land is being deeded to the college with the provision that it be used as an arboretum for recreational, educational, and scientific purposes. It is to be known as Connecticut College as a public trust. The island and salt marsh are the only tracts of land in their wild state with all natural conditions preserved. No roads will be built.

Mamacoke Island stands out in the harbor of New London as one of its most attractive features, and has been described as one of the most beautiful view points by foot and by boat. It is located just north of the New London city line in Waterford and across the river from the Sub Base.

Chaplain O'Grady To Speak Sunday

Speaking at the vesper service Sunday, March 28, will be the Rev. Gerald O'Grady, chaplain of Trinity College, Hartford, where he is also assistant professor of religion.

A graduate of Williams College in 1940, he did his theological work in the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge, where he was as assistant to the Episcopal chaplain at Harvard and Radcliffe College. He is a chaplain at Cornell, where he was acting chaplain to the military forces during World War II.

Chaplain O'Grady has been the subject of an article on college work of the Diocese of Connecticut, vice-chairman of the Connecticut Commission on Higher Education, a member of the Connecticut Council of Churches, Secretary of the New England Council of Churches, a member of the Officers of the United Presbyterian Church of Latin America, and of the Guild of Carillonists of North America.

Students Observe At Nursery School
by Lorle Goodman '58

There's a cottage on Williams Street just behind the chapel where, the voices of children may be heard from nine in the morning to one in the afternoon. This cottage is the Connecticut College Nursery School, where, under the supervision of Miss Warner, the children work and play. It is here, too, that interested educators and child development majors spend much of their time observing the children furnishing aid to Miss Warner.

In the yard, there are all sorts of activities to keep the children pleased. For the energetic youngster, the competitive spirit there is the shuffle gym, and the slide. For the less active, the rabbit at the rear of the yard, the sand-box. For the animal lover, there is a victrola and variety records. The interior of the school also provides a pleasant atmosphere for the children. There are pooh-poo corners, pictures of animals on the walls and story books inside the many cases. There are poodle curtains on the windows, pictures of animals on the walls and story books inside the many cases. The observers, the children and furnishing aid to Miss Warner.

Those girls who work at the school are given the opportunity not only to take an active part in the children's daily routines but also, to observe the children through a screen. The observer's side of the screen is in the cellar, and is often removed from his cage so that he may be played with. The porch, for the music lovers, there is a victrola and various records. The interior of the school also provides a pleasant atmosphere for the children. There are pooh-poo corners, pictures of animals on the walls and story books inside the many cases, which line the hall. In addition, each room has comfortable chairs and tables which are child-sized. In this atmosphere, the children are taught to develop their tendencies in finger-painting and other such activities. Here, also, the children are given fruit juice at mid-morning, and a large dinner at noon.

WINSTON tastes good—like a cigarette should!

- No wonder so many college men and women are getting together on Winston! It's the filter cigarette with real flavor—full, rich, tobacco flavor! And Winston also brings you a finer filter. It works so effectively, yet doesn't "thin" the taste.
- Winstons are easy-drawing, too—there's no effort to puff!

WINSTON is really going to town!
