Additional Inaugral Address

At an All-College Assembly on Thursday, March 20, President Rosemary Park announced that the college fee will increase $250 beginning next year. This increase will raise the fee from the current level of $2100 to a total of $2350. In her address to the assembly, Miss Park explained the reasons for the increase.

Admissions Policy

Set for Discussion

April 15, 1958

Admissions will be open to all students who meet the requirements of the college. The requirements for admission are the completion of the all-Norfolk version of the SAT and the completion of the SAT in relation to the corresponding number of places available. The college will not discriminate against any applicant on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, or other factors.

The college's standards of admission set a new concept for the payment of college tuition. The student is required to pay almost the whole cost of the college. The college will not discriminate against any applicant on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, or other factors.
Radio

Representatives of the Interna- tion Press Club will discuss various aspects of the character of the Col- lege Student Hour. Saturday, April 26, at 8:00 p.m. in the Auditorium. The press club is a national organization devoted to the promotion of high standards of journalism.

The Nameless Generation

The radio learned house needs our aid:

Why do so many people deem it... do the radio with a new name? Do we know exactly what to call it?

There's a group of individuals characterized by hard, fast living, of the Department of Government. They are all those who are "mad to live, mad to be free, mad with the, in an epithet.-C.N.

These people deserve your atte- ntion and your support. They are a group of individuals who have been the center of interest in recent months. They are the leaders of this Beatism, a group of individuals characterized by hard, fast living, and athletism. They are all those who are "mad to live, mad to be free, mad with the will and the power to think." They are the leaders of this Beatism.

One of the most valuable out- puts of the Beat generation is their music. The music of the Beat generation is characterized by its rhythmic vitality, its intensity, and its emotional honesty. The music of the Beat generation is a reflection of the spirit of the Beat generation.

The Little Philosopher

fom him, this would mean a large increase in tuition, so that very few parents would be able to finance a college education out of their current income. Although scholarships would increase to compensate for the increases in costs, they would not be sufficient to make up all the differences. Therefore, there would be an increase in the amount of student loans and a rearrangement for women's colleges, since the bulk of the financial aid was paid after graduation. The principle behind this concept is to place more of the burden of the education on the parents. The principle behind this concept is to place more of the burden of the education on the parents when he is in his forties. This will ultimately enable those college students who have the greatest potential to either afford college or to care for their own children.
