EASTER SERVICE HELD OUT-OF-DOORS.

Sunday morning at nine-thirty, the college gathered on the south side of New London Hall for a brief Easter morning service under a grey sky. Even the few drops of rain on Easter benediction could not detract from the beauty of the hymns led by the choir and accompanied by the little organ, or of the Resurrection story, or the lesson drawn from the hymns. The closing benediction, given by the President Marshall. When the Easter festival is placed so late in the season, surely the college gathered for this morning service at college makes up for the loss of Easter day at home.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF THE STAFF CHosen.

Charlotte Beckwith '25, will be Editor-in-Chief of the Connecticut College Monthly next year. Owing to an unprecedented lack of Junior members the Necs Staff presents Miss Beckwith to its membership to the college body. At a meeting of the Service League on Wednesday, the candidate was elected unanimously.

NOMINATIONS FOR SERVICE LEAGUE PRESIDENT.

At a special meeting of the Service League held on Wednesday night in the gym, Emily Warner and Amie Alley were nominated for President of Service League.

CERVANTES' DAY CELEBRATED.

The Spanish Club commemorated the birthday of Miguel de Cervantes, the author of Don Quixote, with a reading of some of his most famous works by members of the Extension Club. The Spanish-English equivalents of the passages were given in pantomime. The costumes were very colorful and the acting of the players most amusing to the audience. Several members acted out the word "Don Quixote" in charade form, and a very picturesque Spanish serenade was sung by Dorothy Ward and Katherine Renwick.

This is written to the student whose growing library of good books is one of his greatest delights. The "New Student" is again here to instruct him in the increase his library by adding those books which he likes the best of all. To those who will send the paper a review and criticism of their favorite books especially, the editor wants to state that the replies are anonymous. After reading the reviews, he will send a copy of the book reviewed, in a good edition. Articles can be dealt with, an author, or a period; in the latter case the writer should state which book of that author or time he would like to have.

Booth Tarkington

On Campus.

Dramatic Club to Present "Intimate Strangers."

The Dramatic Club has chosen for its Spring Play Booth Tarkington's mystery-comedy, "The Intimate Strangers." The first performance will be given Friday, May 2nd, in the Prom guests. Other presentations will be made on May 16th, for the general public, and on June 16th, for the commencement guests. The play was presented in New York last year with Henry Fonda and Glenn Hunter in the leading parts of Isabel Stuart and William Ames. The play is in a纪录 that Isabel and Ames are strand in the guise of a strange man proposes to the strange woman before the train arrives and with this start, "The Intimate Strangers" proceed through many scenes with amusing situations which suffice and amuse.

The cast for the play is as follows: Isabel Stuart—Billie Burke; William Ames—Steve Baker. Virginia Kellen is coaching the play, Elizabeth Philips has charge of costumes, and Sara Crawford heads the scenery committee.

STUDENT FORUM PLANS CAMP.

Students at Bryn Mawr, Dartmouth, New Haven, and North Carolina will co-operate next summer in maintaining an Intergallegiate Camp at Glendower, New York, July 1st to September 15th. These students have presented an Intercollegiate Forum which organized the enterprise last summer. Delegates from colleges, universities and Labor Schools are expected to visit the camp during the summer. Twenty-five scholarships are available to pay the expenses of labor delegates.

The camp will give students the opportunity to meet some of the leaders of American thought, not only in lectures and discussion, but in the frank and free comradeship of the open air. A number of educators, churchmen, business men, labor leaders and social workers will visit the camp during the announcement meetings.

Among those who are expected are Dr. Stephen F. Dallas, Director, Institute of International Education; Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, Community Church, New York; Dr. Edward H. Kilpatrick, Superintendency Committee; Professor William Fielding Osborn, Dean of Economics, Barnard College; Professor Stephen S. Wise, Free Synagogue, New York.

The first conference of the United States League of Women Voters will be held on this question of the social status of the child. The principles of the forum are the following: One principle is to be sure that the child is understood the teacher. Another principle is to establish the fact that a certain thing is bad, the bad act will be the first thing the child will do when he gets angry. Also, everyone likes attention, and if one does not get it through doing good things, he will through doing bad acts.

The principles, in fact, to notice and reward the good things.

The adult count a great deal with a child.

The reception was held for Dr. Johnstone Tuesday evening in the Faculty Room of the Library.

ELECTIONS.
The elections for next year's officers are through the Silver Bay Group, in suggesting to the college the qualities of some ten qualities required in a candidate for office, has stimulated college interest in the campa-gains of a high degree.

The qualities recommended are fundamental and are essential to any leader of college activity. It is not too much to ask that a girl in office have executive ability and a sense of responsibility; nor is it too much to expect her to exercise sympathy and tact in meeting the inevitably annoying problems of campus life.

When the Silver Bay test is applied to a girl, personalities are fortunately left out. It is easy to recognize in another girl one's own faults and to condemn her because of them. The proposed standard excludes judgment on all the perpetual personality changes from which we all suffer. It is sufficiently broad to include all the major requisites of character, but not only for a Student Government President, but for candidate for office.

The emphasis of qualities being required by the office being applied.

A student body which elects its leaders with these qualities in mind has no cause for unjust criticism of its officers when they assume their positions. The sympathy, tact, and perseverance cannot all be on one side.
The individual members of any organization must assume their share of the responsibility for carrying on the work. The shifting of responsibility for a failure on her part by
a member of an association to the chief officer is not only a future
attitude, but a member of the college organization to create that thought. Would it not be well to consider our actions and our words when we can be used as we have witnessed to our own disadvantages and disappointments? People are judging us when we do not know it,
and one unforseeable act might cast
its shadow to darken the whole college.

The central tenet of all the activities is that every member of the organization must assume their share of the responsibility for carrying on the work. The shifting of responsibility for a failure on her part by
a member of an association to the

ALUMNAE.
Our Own Scandal.
Now that the expiation of crime in the press has become quite the thing, we reluctantly submit some startling reactions of the Crime Wave upon our own number. According to advice from Bristol, Connecticut, more than ONE-HALF of the Alumnae Body are uneasily in possession of property that does not belong to them. Only one hundred and thirty-eight out of three hundred and nine hold a speed record upon the books of the Alumnae treasurer?
Do you belong to the One Hundred Thirty-eight?
Or to the guilty "Compact Majority"?
These words reach our alumnae, we shall already have closed the period of our Lenten observances, and shall have started upon springtime duties with a quickened consciousness of our duty to our fellows, and high resolve to fulfill that duty.
Shall we fail our association only in its fifth year—while we are still linked by the bond of recent memory and the potent inspiration of college days?
We are deeply ashamed that this confession must come thus publicly to the ears of the world. But it is our conviction that the fault lies not in purposeful neglect, but rather in the carelessness attendant upon a busy life that is lived apart from college walls.
Then let your Easter gladness be not dimmed by the consciousness of a duty not performed, but rather be brightened by the realization of having stood by, as in college days, at the call of one's colleagues.
Dues, via remitter, at $2.50 a year, are payable to Grace Coombs, 336 Main Street, Bristol, Conn.
Checks are considered receipts, as well as money orders. If additional receipts are required, the treasurer should be notified.

OBITUARY.
Ruth Burnham, ex-'22, of East Hartford, passed away on March 24, after an illness of a week with blood poisoning, resulting from infection of the face.

News of '20.
Writes Leah Pick '20, from Chicago: "I am planning to be East in time for Fanchon's (Hurtman) wedding and then hope to visit at college. It will be the first time since graduation. My parents and I are sailing for Europe May tenth, and you will soon hear more. I only arrived from Europe, however, and so we are all very glad you are coming."
And this from Sarah Lewis, accompanied by a generous contribution to the Annual fund: "I am writing here in California, especially San Francisco, it is such a live place I am afraid that even though New London is my home, I can never be content to live there again. I hope to go back sometime soon and see everybody once more.

A vacation time will soon be here. I intend spending mine in Seattle and Vancouver, but maybe I should hold my hopes in reserve until after next week, when I take my first aeronautic ride. I guess good old firs will look mighty good to me, although people say that the air is as safe as the land, and I don't know but they are right for we had a slight earthquake here only last week."

JUNIOR MONTH REPRESENTATIVE CHOSEN.
Miss Emily Warner, '20, has been appointed to represent Connecticut at the Charity Organization Society, in New York, during Junior month. There, from July 4th to August 2nd, a group of girls, each representing a college, will have the opportunity to become acquainted with various phases of social work. Under expert supervision they will visit such points of social interest as Ellis Island, Sing Sing, and homes for the mentally deficient.
