We dedicate Koiné 1971 to the many facets and potentialities of the individual.

The individual is able to express himself through many identities. For us, the student on campus, the range of these identities is extensive and we enjoy the time and freedom necessary for their development. We may choose to define ourselves as academic, social, introspective, or, particularly today, political entities. It is during this period that we come to know ourselves and to set the framework for a life in the future community.

We are, in one sense, like the archery target, a core about which radiate our modes of existence. Because each ring appears to emanate from the smallest, and because the circular nature of the rings leaves no distinction between the beginning and the end, the target is a whole and infinite symbol. We, too, are whole and infinite beings. Though we move through the world with various functions we cannot separate the source of our being from its manifestations. In poetic terms the yellow of the central circle symbolizes the corona of the sun, a source of light and life. So are we the source from which our worlds flourish, and we are ever profound.

We are, in a second sense, like the archer who aims the arrows and whose attention is constantly directed towards the bull's eye. His practice, be it less than successful, enhances his knowledge of reaching the goal to which his actions have been committed. So we too are striving to reach the core of our being through our various modes of existence. Our commitment to humanity emerges from our commitment to ourselves.

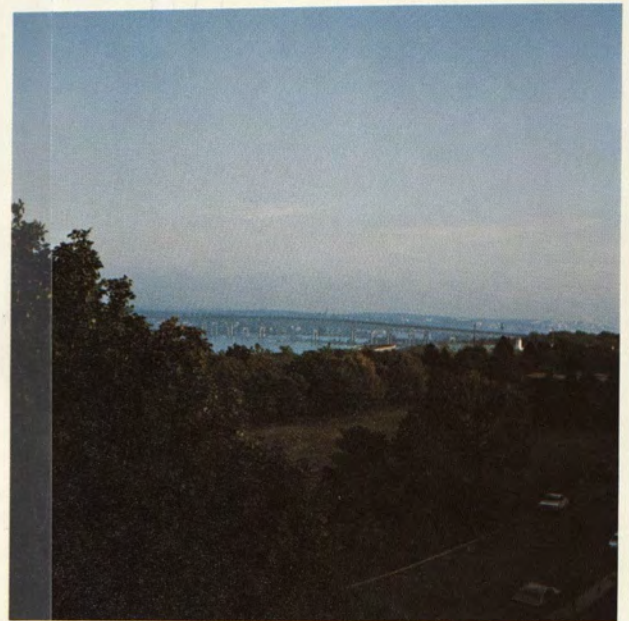

This is our time.

This is our practice.

Not in Utopia—subterranean fields,—
Or some secreted island, Heaven knows where!
But in the very world, which is the world
Of all of us,—the place where, in the end
We find our happiness, or not at all!

Wordsworth

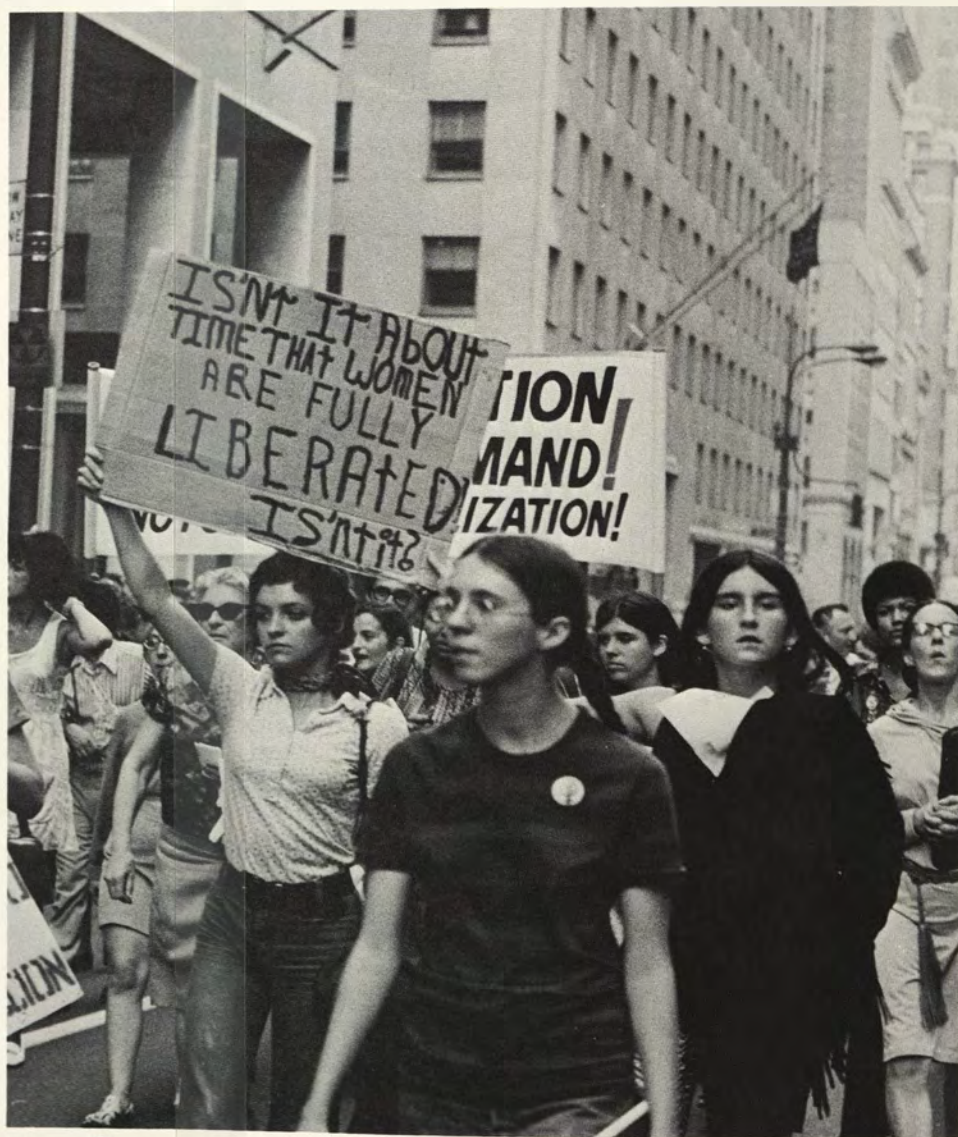

Sure, I want to feel that I have a choice in who and what I am going to be and how and where I'm going to go about doing it. But I don't want to give up the sheer joy of being a woman. Not for anything! It's fun to be soft.

Joan Rivers

And a man said, Speak to us of Self—Knowledge.

And he answered, saying:

Your hearts know in silence the secrets of the days and the nights.

But your ears thirst for the sound of your heart's knowledge.

You would know in words that which you have always known in thought.

You would touch with your fingers the naked body of your dreams.

Kahlil Gibran

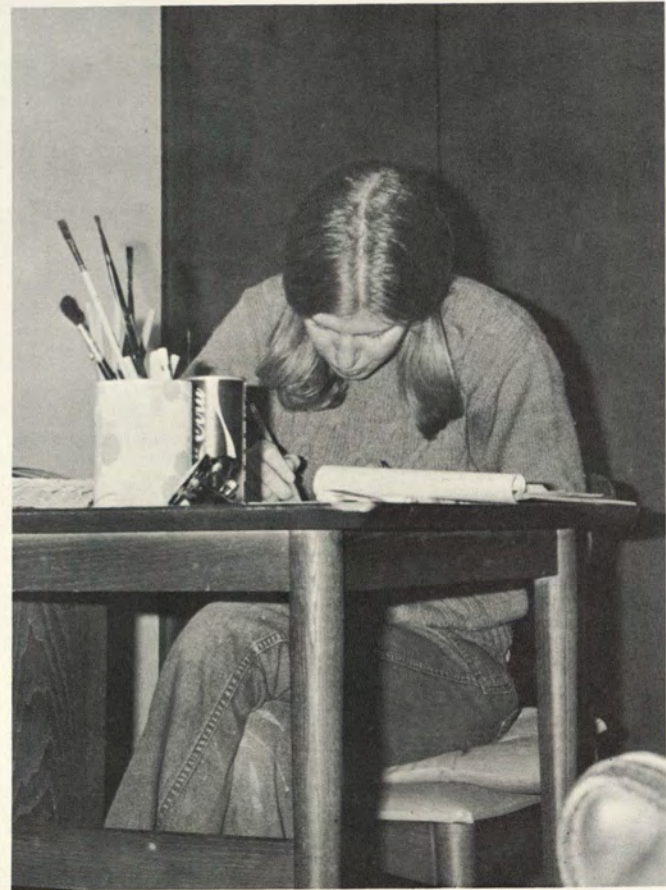

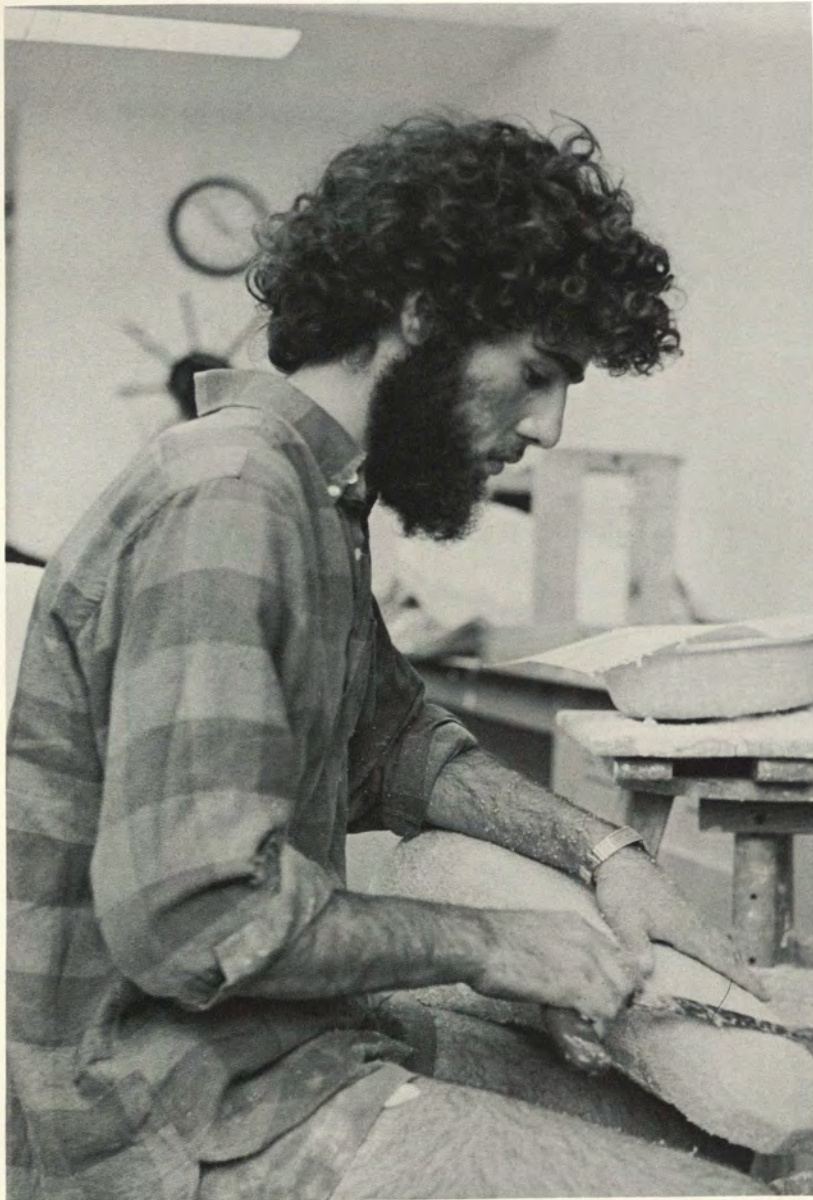

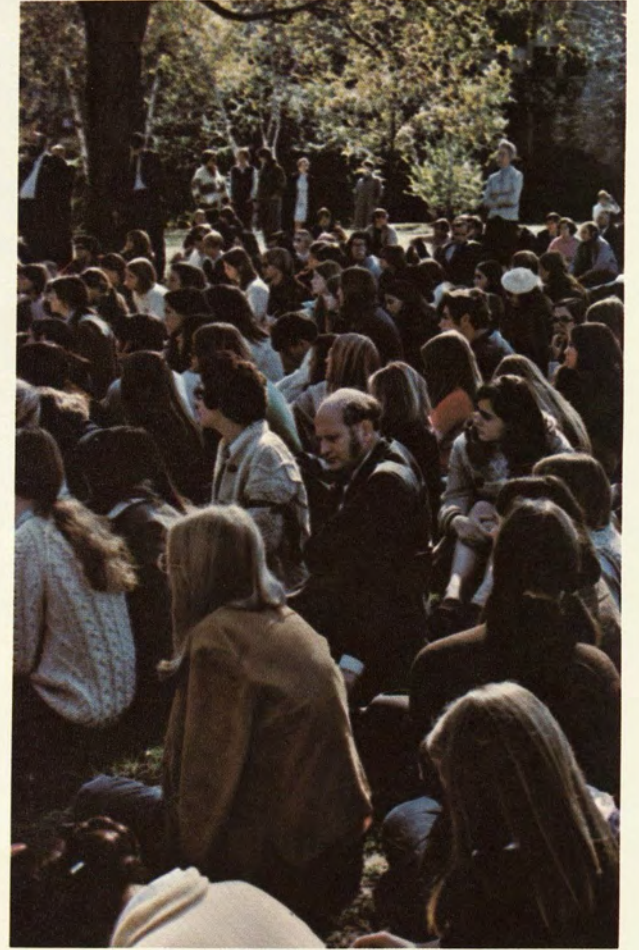

Beginning my studies the first step pleased me so much,
 The mere fact consciousness, these forms, the power of motion,
 The least insect or animal, the senses, eyesight, love,
 The first step I say awed me and pleased me so much,
 I have hardly gone and hardly wished to go any farther,
 But stop and loiter and loiter all the time to sing
 it in ecstatic songs.

Walt Whitman

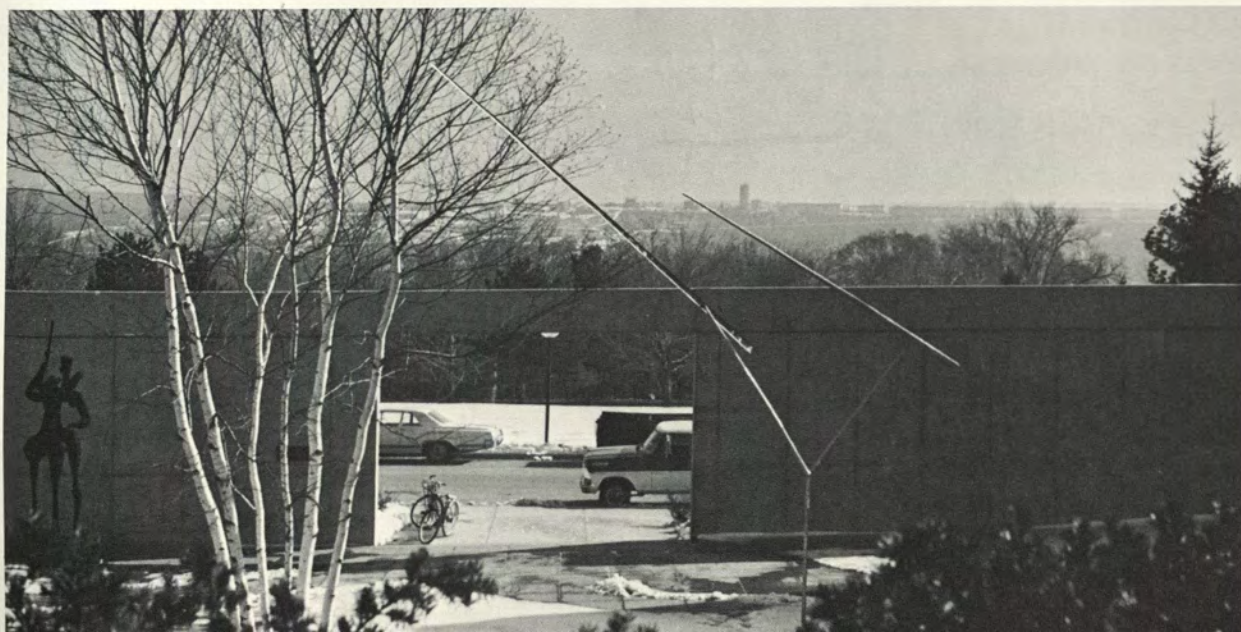

We were brothers all
 In honour, as in one community,
 Scholars and gentlemen.

What We Have Learned

What is the legacy of May? As we start a new academic year the question in many minds is, Where do we go from here? Now that the emotional impact of the May Strike has faded, we are left with questions which require deep thought. President Shain made a comment in his Convocation speech which poses the central question. "The purposes of the college should be best fitted to serve the needs of the community, in the end, the disinterested, intellectual ones."

Good education does not emphasize solely the individual. Some education cannot be the self-expression of the individual. If the student possesses the gifts and ability, he holds some obligation to understanding his history and culture, his inheritance. It is this understanding, possibly, which makes him at home and gives him perception. A good education, then, does not emphasize merely what the individual must do, it emphasizes what the individual should do.

SEPTEMBER 1967—MAY 1971

Come, I will make the continent indissoluble;
I will make the most splendid race the sun ever yet shone upon;
I will make divine magnetic lands,
With the love of comrades,
With the life-long love of comrades.

I will plant companionship thick as trees along all the rivers of America, and along the shores of the great lakes, and all over the prairies;
I will make inseparable cities, with their arms about each other's necks;
By the love of comrades,
By the manly love of comrades.

LIGHTHOUSE INN

"For eating, Lighthouse Inn overlooking the ocean is best—but what a price to pay for water."

Peter M. Sandman and Co. must have their little joke. They should come for the "Weeknighter" when dinner—Sirloin, Prime Rib, Stuffed Shrimp, or Rock Cornish Game Hen at $3.95 gives a date and her escort change enough from a ten for a pre-prandial Martini.
