“Indeed then?" says Kathleen "don't think of the like
For I half gave a promise to soothing Mike
The ground that I walk on he loves, I'll be bound"
"Faith" says Rory "I'd rather love you than the ground"
"Now Rory, I'll cry, if you don't let me go,
Sure I dream every night that I'm hating you so."
"Oh? says Rory "that same I'm delighted to here,
For dhrames always go by contrarities, my dear;
Oh! Jewel, keep dreaming that same till you die,
And bright morning will give dirty night the black lie,
And 'tis pleased that I am, and why not to be sure?
Since 'tis all for good luck, says bold Rory O'Moore.

Arrah Kathleen, my darlint you've teas'd me enough,
And I've thrash'd, for your sake Dinny Grimes and Jim Duff,
And I've made myself drinking your health quite a haste,
So I think, after that, I may talk to the Priest!* Then Rory, the rogue, stole his arm round her neck,
So soft and so white, without freckle or speck
And he look'd in her eyes that were beaming with light,
And he kiss'd her sweet lips, don't you think he was right?
"Now Rory leave off Sir, you'll hug me no more,
That's eight times to day that you've kiss'd me before;"
"Then here goes another," says he "to make sure
For there's luck in odd numbers," says Rory O'Moore.
