COOP

Building Community, Conn Style

While many Conn freshmen bonded by getting dirty and adventurous together on Conn's Outdoor Orientation Program (COOP), other students were able to learn more about their peers (and their recycling habits) by carefully examining the garbage. Participants in events such as the 1998 Latino Conference and the International Students Conference in Washington D.C. reached beyond the campus to expand Conn's community. Alumni returned for Homecoming 1998 to rekindle connections and commune with their Alma Mater.

Healthy Competition

Throughout the weekend of October 23rd and 24th, Conn's community struggled against their fellow Camels in events that spanned from floor hockey to checkers, egg toss to a spelling bee, and wacky relays to 3 a.m. volleyball. When the dust had settled, Hamilton overcame adversity to emerge as the 1999 Camelympic Champions.

Diwali Dinner

Sharing Traditions

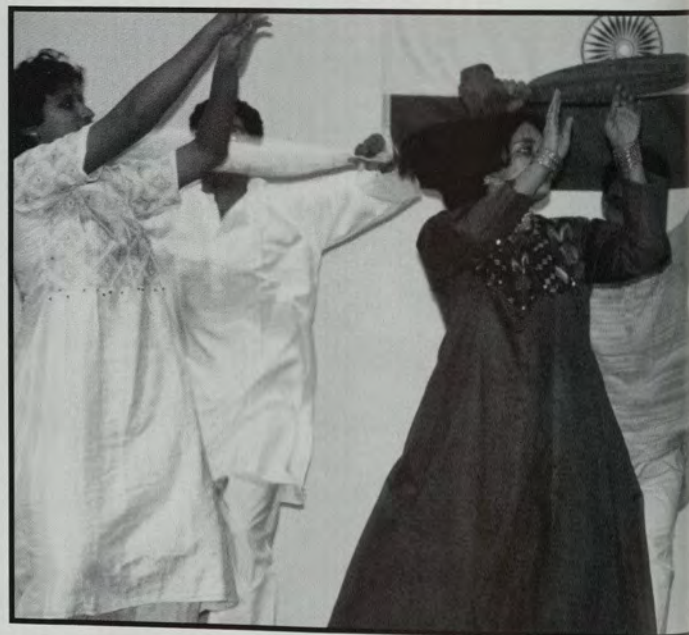

In October, Conn students celebrated Indian culture at CCASA's Diwali dinner with delicious food, a colorful fashion show, and dance performances. Earlier that month, the Camel Connection united students and staff families to revel in the autumn season with crafts, snacks, and hay rides.

Holiday Parties

Volunteer Fair

While some Conn students signed up to help out in New London, others preferred to volunteer at the Holiday Parties and dress in red fuzzy suits to play Santa. Either way, these volunteers put smiles on people's faces.

A Night to Remember

While SAC spent days transforming Cro into Hollywood for Oscar Night, students spent hours primping themselves for the big night. The rooms of Cro became the scenes of several Oscar winning movies. Whether you remember the night or not, it definitely was a night to remember.

Cisla Ball

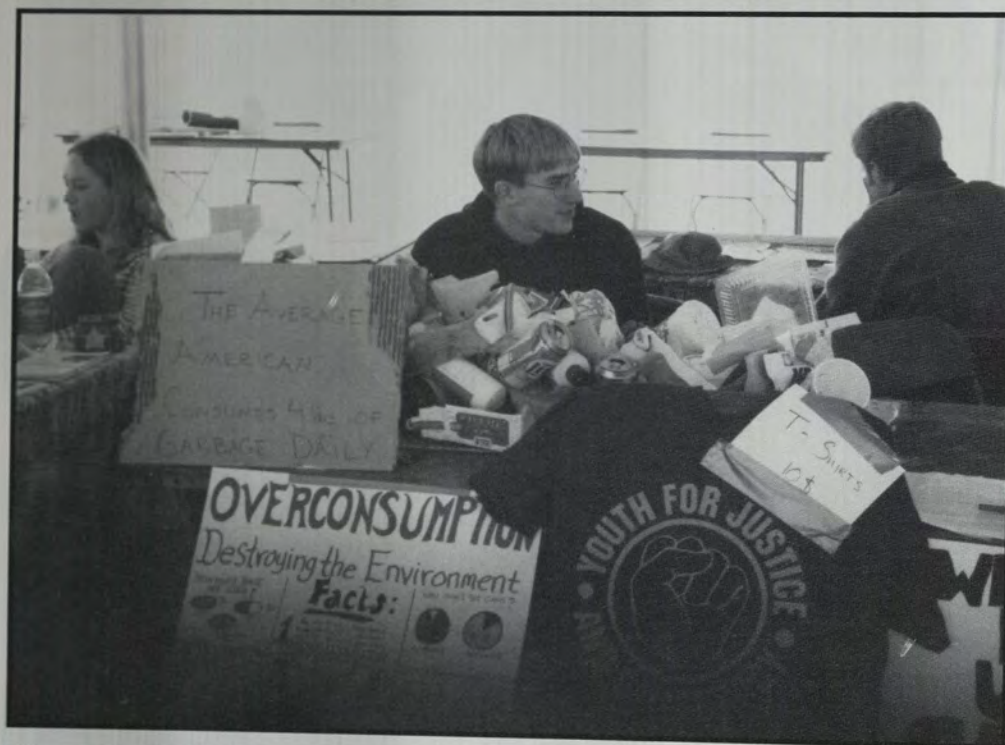

Cinderella?

These two balls proved once again that Conn loves to get dressed up--in their clothes, or in something borrowed from the opposite sex. This year provided something for everyone--whether you like it square...or bare!

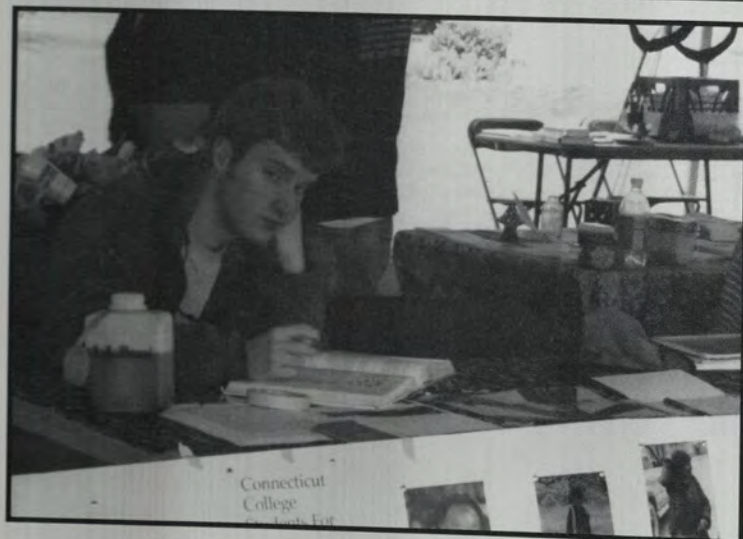

Earth Day

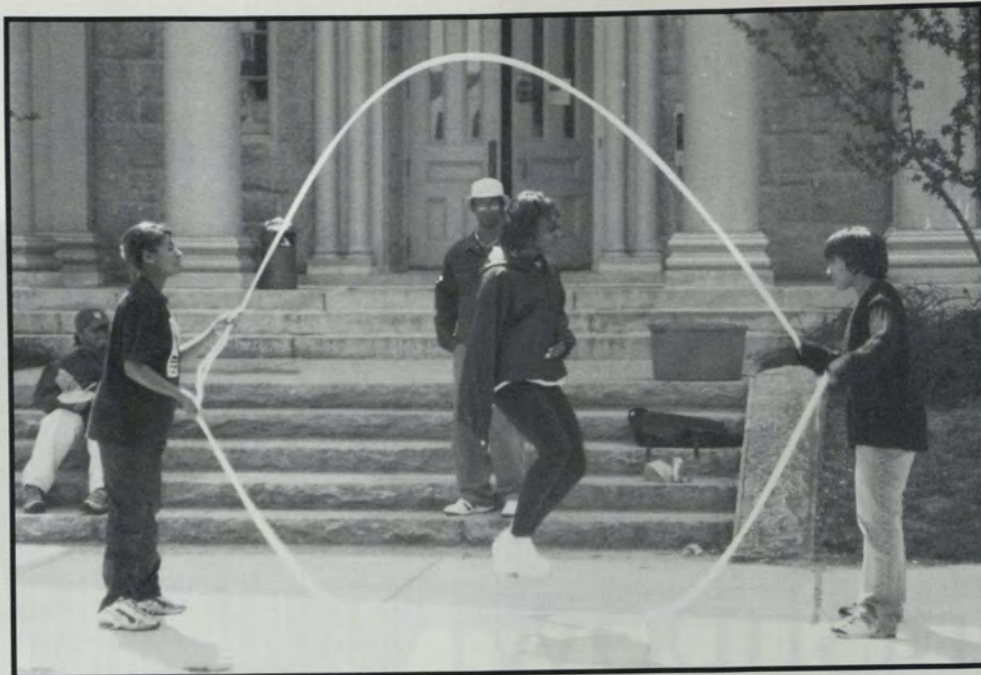

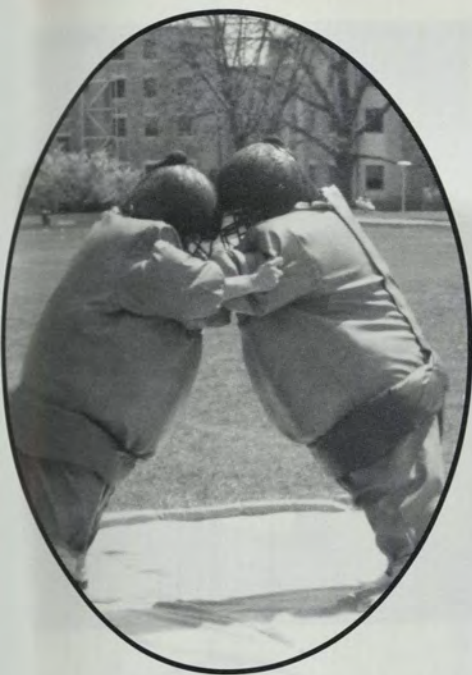

Under the mid-April sun, environmentally conscious students taught others about recycling and other world-preserving tactics on Earth Day, and enjoyed live music and entertainment. A week later, SOAR (Society Organized Against Racism) took the field with Sumo wrestling, a moon bounce, and cotton candy to celebrate racial diversity.

Counting Down...

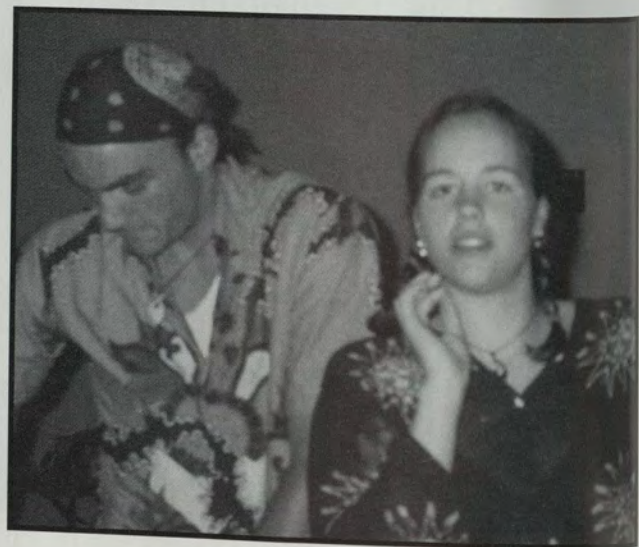

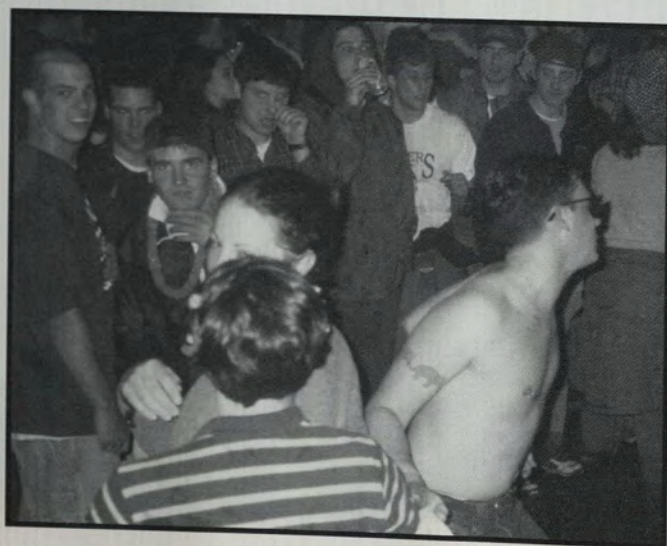

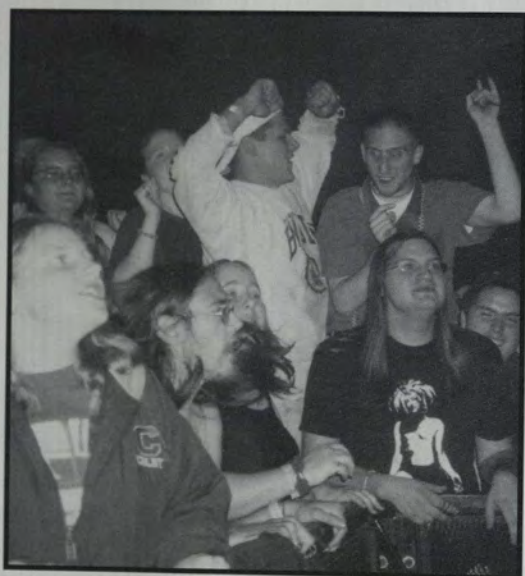

As graduation approached, the seniors were ready to party on any occasion. They drank like fish and let it ALL hang out at the Fishbowl. North met South at the Senior Wedding, where they began to count down their last 50 days on campus.

Nose to the grindstone...

It doesn't matter how many generations of students have passed through our 'ivy covered walls', we still like to get outside and enjoy the sunshine once in a while. Even when that midterm or final paper lurks just around the corner, it is nice to escape into the great outdoors. Too bad its not always possible...

Friends Forever

Doesn't it seem like your first year here at CONN has flown by? Well, four years later, so much will happen, some good, some bad but through it all, your true friends will always be there. Through the laughter and the tears, it is nice to know that there will always be someone there to share it with. Never forget the friends you've made here at CONN because some of them really will be your friends for life.

Not your mother's college experience...

Many a long night has been spent in the library by Conn students through the years. And while the overall experience is still as sleep inducing as ever, the library has changed drastically since 1911. From changing its location as well as its name, to getting state of the art computer systems installed, the library strives to be a welcoming place to Conn students.

Study Break...

Not every spare moment was spent at the library (sorry Mom and Dad). Hangin' with the boys, or just a girls night out, we all found time to relax and unwind. From the hospital like halls of the new Plex, to the construction site formerly known as the fishbowl-- all that mattered was that we were with friends...

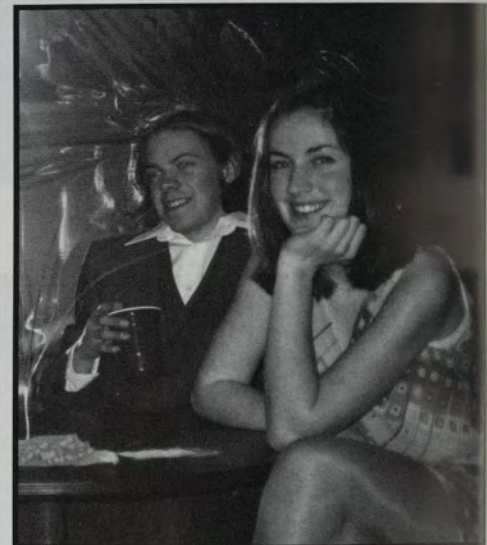

Sophomores

Strike a pose...

Aaahhh... How times have changed. Everyone is swing-crazy this year, but that doesn't mean we're living in the past. Mom might have worn a poodle skirt and Mary Janes, while Dad was stylin' in those groovy bell bottoms and butterfly collar, but formals these days are a little different. While some of us are still living in the days of polyester, most of us just threw on that little black dress kept in the closet for just such an occasion...

When the first graduates left the college on the hill, they had dreams of being teachers and nurses. Our aspirations have widened a lot since then, as witnessed by what we dress up as when given the chance--though whether we have moved up in the world since then is questionable...

Studio 54: sex, drugs, and rock and roll. Polyester suits and free love. Wild parties lasting 'til dawn... and after. The biggest celebs. The Hollywood elite. Everybody who was anybody.

While our version may not have been all that and more, we certainly had a good time. Between thematic dress and balloons at midnight, everyone got involved in the action. And this time around, the only authority was Campus Safety.

Not Just a Pretty Face...

In its earlier years, Conn held a reputation as a school for beautiful girls. Although the faces have changed over the decades, Conn women continually prove to be much more than just pretty faces. The Class of 2000 shines with these talented women who don't mind dressing up, showing off, and having fun!

The Class of 2000 came into the spotlight this year, having discovered and excelled in our places in the college community. As graduation day appears on the horizon, our education, internships, scholarships, research experiences, and pioneering projects ensure that this year's juniors will make a significant impact when we join our fellow alums out in the "real world". Only one year to go!

Cultivating Creativity

The Class of 2000 came out in full force this Halloween, showing the real meaning of Conn College creativity. One dominatrix demonstrated her love for all things vinyl, while another junior returned to his pre-conception roots. While some busted out like cowboys and Indians, others were not so easily identifiable, but everyone showed their Halloween spirit!

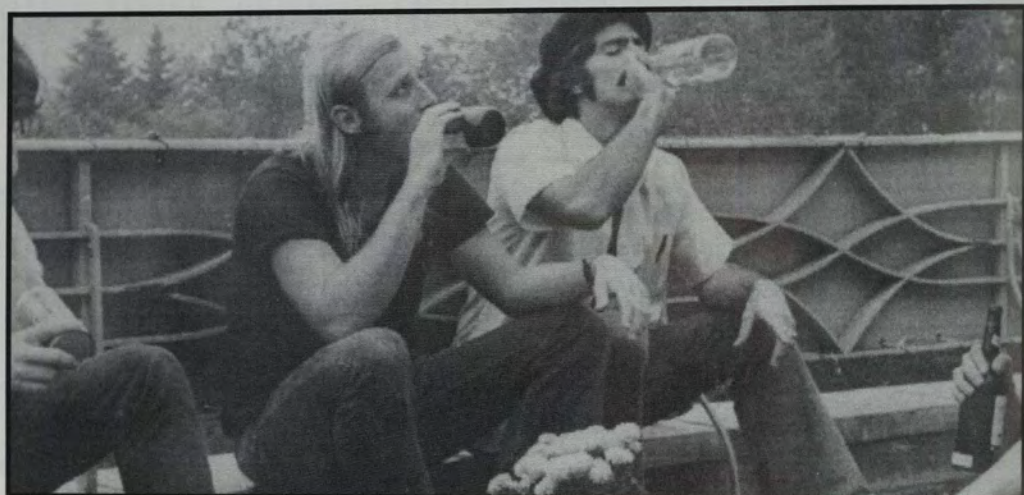

Juniors

Dazed and Confused

Drinking has remained a source of entertainment for students at Conn in the past decades, and the junior class has maintained the tradition. We waited 21 years to be legal, and now it's our turn to take over the campus bar!

Away From Conn...

Whether studying abroad or just visiting, juniors spent this past year all over the world, from China to Tanzania, Sweden to Chile, and every place in between. Over half of the Class of 2000 studied away, making Conn a little lonely for those left behind. Still, having friends across the globe provided great vacation opportunities, and many interesting stories for when we reunite as seniors.

Soup's On...

Chopsticks, tortillas, or just using our hands, it was nice to get away from Harris food once in a while. Margarita's was the place to be on Wednesday's, with college student specials, while sushi was a bit more of a special occasion sort of thing. Snacks, of course, were to be found at any time...

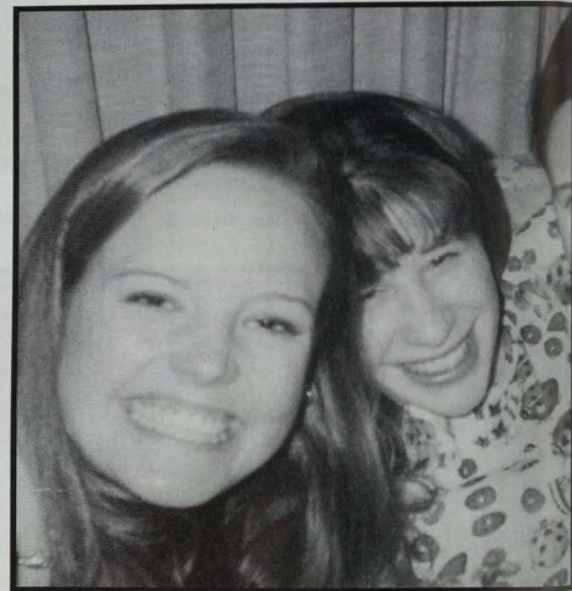

Juniors

Making Faces

Whether they're funny or just plain weird, the faces of the Class of 2000 will not be soon forgotten. We love to have fun, and during our last year we will prove that we can live it up even more. Get ready Conn, cause these faces are psyched to rule the school!

Sometimes it's so easy
To let a day Slip on by Without even seeing each other at all
But this is the time you'll turn back to and so will I
And these will be days we will always recall.
Do you see the sun, it's a brand new day?
All the world's in our hands, now use it-
What's past is past, don't turn around,
Brush away the cobwebs of freedom.

"Ah," I can hear you say, "so it was a build-up to bore us with his buggy jiving. he only wanted us to listen to him rave!" But only partially true: Being invisible and without substance, a disembodied voice, as it were, what else could I do? What else but try to tell you what your eyes were looking through? And it is this which frightens me: Who knows but that, on the lower frequencies, I speak for you?

Karen: You will never know what your friendship has meant to me. You were a sympathetic shoulder during the bad times, and ready with an eager smile during the better times. Your greatest gift to me however was my friendship with Dave, and the self confidence you instilled in me to make that friendship a whole lot more.

The Fam: Thanks for the love, support, tuition and car repairs. You’ve sent me on a good start to life. Thanks for everything.

Thanks also to all the faculty members that excited me with familiar topics, intrigued me with new ones, and befriended me inside the classroom and out.

Bridget: Thank you for your laughter, music and ready advice. Our time together, be it planting a garden, watching ER, chatting over lunch, or hiking in the Arbo, have been among the better times I spent in college.

Steph: I never know what’s going to come out of your mouth next! You’ve made me more open with others and more honest with myself. I will miss kibitzing with you and Bridget while sitting on my

From the beginning, my journey through college has been filled with the many twists and turns and diversions that life tends to give all of us. My thanks to my husband, my children, my family, my professors, my friends and co-workers who have supported me for so many years. I have finally finished this journey and emerged with a degree. I will treasure the diploma but more importantly, I will treasure the people who believed in me.

We decided to put in the extra time and effort this year and do a senior index. This senior index was done to the best of our ability but we will be the first to admit that it is not perfect.

We apologize if the page numbers are listed incorrectly. It is hard sometimes to keep track of every single person.

We would also like to apologize if there is a mistake in someone's quote. We were not able to double check them because the notes everyone submitted were not saved. Enjoy the yearbook!

Pamela,

Life is truly a ride. We're all strapped in and no one can stop it. When the doctor slaps your behind, he's ripping your ticket and away you go. As you make each passage from youth to adulthood to maturity, sometimes you put your arms up and scream, sometimes you just hang on to that bar in front of you. But the ride is the thing. I think the most you can hope for at the end of life is that your hair's messed, you're out of breath, and you didn't throw up.

Keep hanging on to that bar.
Congratulations!

Dear Jeffrey,

Once again I want to tell you how proud I am that you're my grandson. Working hard and getting a college degree is every grandparents' greatest dream. You have fulfilled that dream, and I know that whatever you do in the future will exceed all my expectations.

Dear Boy,

Just four years ago,
 you said to me,
 I'm off to college,
 a doctor I'll be,
 The hospital's not calling,
 the E.R. doesn't page,
 Who would have thought,
 your summoner is the stage,
 So if at the Oscars,
 you find yourself dateless,
 Just call on your sister,
 save a seat next to Gwyneth,
 Supportive I'll be, to the very end,
 Because you're not just my brother,
 you're my best friend!

Good luck with your acting career.
Congratulations boy,
I love you!

Love your sister,
 Robyn

On Your Graduation Day
With All Our Love

Dearest Jeffrey,

I can remember when we left you at Connecticut College four years ago. It seems like yesterday to me. You were nervous, anxious and yet you were ready for another new adventure.

You shared your experiences with us, both the good ones and the disappointing ones. We listened to your problems and watched as you worked them through. You decided which road to travel on and we supported your dreams and goals.

Throughout your high school and college years, we watched you perform on stage in many different roles. Some of your performances even took us to another continent; we never missed an opportunity to watch you shine. You have grown in so many ways and have matured into a very promising actor. We have every confidence that you will achieve your ultimate goal.

Dad and I are very proud of you and all of your accomplishments. Don't stop now. Reach for your shining star, no matter how far away it seems to be. Have confidence in yourself and make your dreams come true. No matter where it takes you - Remember you are never alone or that far from our thoughts and prayers.

Our hearts are filled with love and pride.

You are our SUNSHINE.

We love you
Infinity Infinity.

Wow, I guess the yearbook is done now, if I have time to sit and reflect upon this crazy year, and the part I played in it. When I first suggested to Anne that she and I co-publish Koiné, I don't think I really had any idea what I was getting into-- more hours than I want to count spent in the basement of Larrabee, rallying the troops to meet their deadlines, and proofing all those pages. I have had a fabulous time as co-publisher, and have learned so much-- not only about yearbook, but about working with people towards a common goal, and seeing that goal become a reality.

Anne, you have been the best this year. You and I are two of the most different people on this campus, and I could not have hoped for a better person to work with on this. Congratulations to you on finishing this together. To the rest of the staff, I cannot thank you enough for coming in even when you were swamped with work, and giving us a few hours. Especially to those of you who had no past yearbook experience, I'm really amazed at what you accomplished. I hope you are all as pleased with the end product as I am.

To everyone who has stuck by me these past three years that I have worked on Koiné, and especially this past year, thank you. You are the ones who made this possible, mainly by keeping me sane through it all. Visiting me in the office on those late nights, listening as I vented my yearbook frustrations out on you, and just asking about the progress of the book-- you all helped me keep perspective on this. No, it is not the end of the world if this section doesn't get finished today. There is more to life than this, but this has been and still is a huge part of my life, and I thank all those who have shared it with me this year. I wish you all the best of luck.

CLASS OF 99 CLASS OF 99 CLASS

It is hard to believe that this is the last page I will ever have to lay out for yearbook. I can't believe I am almost done! Being in the publisher position is definitely better the second time around. This time, I knew what had to be done and how to do it.

The first person I have to thank is Megan. Megan, now you know why I had to take a couple of days to think about being a publisher again. The scary thing is that I knew what I was getting myself into by doing yearbook again. It was nice to be able to finally share the responsibilities that come with being a co-publisher. It was also great to have someone else around who understands what we go through to finish the yearbook on time, especially during those times when we suddenly became the editor of a section.

Flame, you have been the greatest. You bought in the eagerness that yearbook needed. One of my friends once asked, "Who does more work on yearbook, you or Flame?" My reply, "We both do the same amount". That is why we worked so well together, we both wanted the 1999 yearbook to be special and we worked hard to fulfill that common goal. This is also why I don't think we are that different. How many times did I say, "Flame, its after midnight, we need to get out of the office." Thank you for being so dedicated. I think it is really a shame that we were too busy with Koiné to take a picture together, it would have been nice to see. Congratulations to you too, Flame, because the 1999 yearbook is done and it looks great.

I would also like to say thank you to our staff, Abby, Alex, Amy, Jared, Lauren, Liz and Nicole, because they put in a lot of time and energy on their sections. I would also like to thank our photographers, Ayanna, Bea, Jamala, Needa and Pietro, for taking pictures for Koiné. Thanks to our senior week staff, Davena, Rebecca, Jasmine, A, Matt and Ryan, for helping out. Last, I want to thank Liz Cheney and Scott McEver for being our co-advisers, Bob Sasena for being our Jostens representative, and Chrys Brummal at the Jostens plant for being so helpful. Thank you all for taking time out of your hectic schedules and making room for yearbook in your life. Please refer to pages 334 and 335 to see our great staff members.

We intended to put what Koiné means in the yearbook but we either forgot or we were too busy to do it. So, this is my last chance to do it,

Koiné

(pronounced coin then a long A) means "common to all".

I hope this yearbook is treasured by everyone because we worked so hard on it.

Good luck everyone!
