Alumnae to be Part of S-A-C Effort Plans Discussed at Annual Meeting

Minutes

The annual meeting of the Connecticut College Alumnae Association was held in Palmer Auditorium on Saturday morning, June 7, 1952. The meeting was called to order at 10:15 by the president of the Association, Mary Anna Lemon Meyer.

As the minutes of the annual meeting in June 1951 were printed in the ALUMNAE NEWS it was duly voted to dispense with the reading of these minutes and to accept them as printed in the NEWS.

The treasurer's report was not read as copies of the report along with the Fund report had been mimeographed and distributed at the meeting. It was voted to approve the report as printed with mention made of a gift of $100 from the New London Club which had just come in.

The report of the Senior Alumnae Trustee, Eleanor Jones Heilman, was submitted by letter and was read by Mrs. Meyer. (See Alumnae News.)

All reports following the treasurer's report were to be accepted by vote at the close of the meeting.

Edith Sudarsky, chairman of the Nominating Committee, reported the following new officers elected to the Association:

Carol Chappell '41—Treasurer for two years
Gertrude Allen Dinsmore '36—2nd Vice President
Margaret Royall Hinck '33—Director

The Executive Board had appointed a special committee to study the areas of agreement between the original objectives of the Sykes Student-Alumnae Building Fund and the proposed plans for the Student-Alumnae Center projected by the present student body. Winona Young as chairman of the committee gave her report of the findings of this committee. Their first meeting was held in May, 1951, an orientation meeting. This committee realized that the needs in the early days of the Sykes Fund were much the same as those of today's students, and their job was to test the old objectives against the new objectives.

The following motions which now conclude the committee's work were unanimously passed by the committee and were presented to the Executive Board and to this meeting by Miss Young:

That there are definite areas of agreement between the objectives of the original Sykes Memorial Student-Alumnae Building Fund set up by the Alumnae Association and the Student-Alumnae Center now proposed by the students:

Therefore we recommend to the Executive Board that alumnae and students plan a joint effort to raise funds for the Student-Alumnae Center.

Inasmuch as students who appeared before our meeting expressed themselves for the student body as believing the students open to the suggestion that this building be a memorial to Dr. Frederick H. Sykes, as originally planned by the Alumnae Association, we recommend that the building be known as the Sykes Student Alumnae Center.

We recommend that a committee be appointed which will include at least two members from the first two classes to carry out the disposition of the Sykes Fund in accordance with the original aims of that fund.

When asked if the Sykes Fund would be turned over to the present S-A-C Building Fund, Mrs. Meyer stated that a vote would have to be taken from the entire Association.

The report of the Finance Committee was given by the chairman, Janet Crawford How, as follows:

The Executive Board has voted to focus fund-raising activities for three years on the Student-Alumnae Center. The students to date with pledges included have brought their total to at least $12,000, and the Sykes Fund at this time amounts to approximately $23,000. Our concentrated effort, Mrs. How said, will definitely be a part of the College Development Committee's program. Details of our money-raising techniques will be sent later to alumnae.

The president then introduced Kathryn Moss, executive secretary, who welcomed alumnae to the campus and presented her annual report. (See this issue of the ALUMNAE NEWS.)

Mrs. Meyer asked Mrs. How to read the proposed budget for 1952-53, which totaled $18,775. This budget was approved.

Mrs. Meyer reported no statement from the Organization Committee as its work was completed and the amendments to the Constitution had been approved by vote of the alumnae. She mentioned that Alumnae Registers were still available.

She said she had enjoyed her visits to clubs this year and would continue her visits in the Fall. She stated that the motion of the Executive Board to undertake the enlarged money-raising program was presented to the college trustees who heartily approve of its decision.

After several program announcements the meeting was voted adjourned at 11:35.

Respectfully submitted
Sadie C. Benjamin, Secretary pro tem

Alumnae Trustees

The Alumnae Association has been represented on the Connecticut College Board of Trustees this year by:

Miriam Brooks Butterworth	1950-55
Catherine Greer	1951-56
Eleanor Jones Heilman	1949-54

Committee responsibilities held by each of the Alumnae members include the following:

Mrs. Butterworth—

Arboretum Committee
College and Alumnae Relations Committee

Miss Greer—

College and Alumnae Relations Committee
Arboretum Committee

Mrs. Heilman

Education Committee
Committee on Committees
Committee on New Trustees
College & Alumnae Relations Committee (Chairman)

The Development Committee of the Board of Trustees, appointed in 1950-51 to plan and carry out a financing program for the College, has included two Alumnae representatives: Mrs. Charles T. Caddock and Miss Dorothy Wheeler. They have been active in presenting expressions of Alumnae interest in the financing program of the College after discussion in meetings of the Executive Board of the Alumnae Association. This interest now centers in raising funds for the Student-Alumnae Center and such information has gone to all Alumnae for an expression of opinion.

The Trustees have inaugurated a long range plan of financial development for the College with Miss Violet Boynton directing those efforts. Miss Boynton was appointed in July, 1951, to replace Miss Louise Potter in the President's office. As part of the College community, the Alumnae interest in the proposed Student-Alumnae Center will be a most vital one. It is our hope that the College and Alumnae Relations Committee will have a significant part to play in this project.

It is always interesting for us, as Alumnae Trustees, to keep abreast of College and Association activities and it remains a great opportunity for us to discuss the problems and projects of Connecticut College. Our responsibility to the Alumnae Association and to the College is great. We are appreciative of the privilege given us and are eager for your suggestions at all times.

Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor Jones Heilman,
for the Alumnae Trustees.

Executive Secretary

Because of the exigencies of time and space I shall confine the report of my activities for the past year to two subjects. With the permission of the Executive Board I have spent considerable time studying our own Alumnae Fund and those of other Associations, and have reported my recommendations to the Board. Also, at the invitation of the College Development Committee's sub-committee set up to determine the role of the Alumnae Association in the general development plans (Emily Warner Caddock '25, chairman), I have made a report to that group of my opinions concerning Alumnae Association participation. I shall attempt here to give a brief consolidation of the two reports.

It should be noted that with the important exception of the work of the Class Agents and Teams the suggestions dealing with the Alumnae Fund are untried, at least by this Association. Suggestions in the other field discussed have chiefly to do with re-examination, re-evaluation, extension, and in some cases perhaps elimination of activities in which the Association either is or has been engaged. My aim has been to make only such recommendations as are both desirable and workable without undue strain and expense—that is, which are in keeping with the aims, size, and facilities of the College and the Alumnae Association. The digest follows:

The role of the Alumnae Association in this period I believe is to serve as a channel through which the College can effectively carry on the following activities:

I. The dissemination of information.

(As used here "information" covers both educational and publicity activities. No attempt will be made to distinguish between the two, or to define "educational" or "publicity".)

II. The raising of money.

I. The INFORMATION PROGRAM may be divided into—Off-campus: printed, and other information, and On-campus: use of distinguished alumnae, and extended cooperation among alumnae and campus groups.

A. Off-campus, printed.

1. Consideration by College-Association groups of newspaper and magazine publicity. While usually directed by the College Publicity Bureau at the non-alumnae public, this type of information is equally valuable in keeping alumnae readers posted on College affairs. Also it is a necessary aid to alumnae workers, particularly to the club officers. Working out of methods whereby alumnae may assist in extended coverage. Establishment of routine procedures between Publicity Bureau, Association, clubs.
2. Continuation of letters to alumnae from President Park, discussing important topics such as scholarships, admissions, curriculum, student trends.
3. As much printed information to all alumnae as is feasible for the College,—catalogs, picture books, scholarship blanks, admissions information.
4. Re-examination and evaluation of all Association mailings to alumnae,—Alumnae News, News bulletins, all folders, announcements, letters to the entire membership.
5. Alumnae Register—decision as to how frequently published, contents.
6. Reading lists for alumnae, made up in special fields by faculty.

B. Off-campus, other than printed

1. Visit by faculty or administration to every club every year.
2. Occasional meetings of several clubs in the same region, with speakers from College.
3. Visits by faculty, administration, Association officers to areas where there are resident groups of alumnae, but no organized clubs.

C. On-campus, use of well known alumnae for:

1. Convocation speakers.
2. On radio programs.
An excellent beginning has been made, but greater cooperation by alumnae needed for establishment of Conn. College Alumnae on the Radio.
3. Alumnae speakers on special days such as Class Day, anniversaries.
4. When needed by Personnel Bureau as vocational consultants and in vocational conferences on campus for students.

D. On campus — extended cooperation among alumnae and campus groups

1. Entertainment by alumnae of: student officers, daughters of alumnae, scholarship students.
2. Entertainment of alumnae by faculty, students on Alumnae Day (program to be planned and carried out by faculty, students).
3. Improved recognition of Seniors (about-to-be-alumnae) by alumnae.
4. A light touch on many occasions. Perhaps timing of Alumnae Council, Fund Weekend for student play, faculty skits; dancing, games on Alumnae Day. Heightened feeling for, greater use of the dramatic.
5. Admissions work. Alumnae assistance in this area to be planned by a committee of club representatives, faculty and administration, alumnae in secondary schools.

II. The RAISING OF MONEY by alumnae.

A. Annual decision by stated date of Finance and Alumnae Fund committees of Alumnae Fund goal for coming year.

B. Reorganization of Alumnae Fund Committee to include present Agent-Team program for each class, addition of other parts:

1. Chairman of Alumnae Fund. Chief coordinator of all Fund work. Presiding officer, speaker for Fund. Works with committee in planning next year's work, carrying out present.

2. Assistant-Chairmen of:

Class Agents—Keeps organization of Agents-Teams active, intact, functioning on schedule. Works to increase number and amounts of contributions.

Class Gifts—In charge of special efforts by classes, as memorials, special effort at reunions.

Clubs—Keeps clubs informed of Fund needs and progress. Suggests purposes for which club funds shall be used. In charge of club follow-up on alumnae who have not contributed by certain date through Class Agent-Team work.

Special Gifts—Working with Assistant Chairmen of Class Agents and Clubs and the Class Presidents, follows up on leads as to special or large givers. Names of special givers among alumnae and non-alumnae requested of all alumnae. All information coordinated with College administration. Makes list from questionnaire of special interests of alumnae,—for coordination with special needs of College.

Business—Works up list of alumnae in business who will give percentage received from alumnae customers to Fund. Plans for sale, distribution of College articles such as College china, playing cards, etchings, et cetera, being sure to avoid duplication of work of College Bookshop.

Publicity—Has committee composed of alumnae writers, illustrators, photographers, typographical expert. Plans and prepares Fund communications, reports, including regular report for Alumnae News on Fund status and activities.

Events—Plans and carries out occasional special events on campus for purpose of making money for the Fund or some special project—e.g. playlet, historical sketches of the College (similar to Smith College "Heritage" presented at 75th anniversary). Also exhibition of rooms, probably at Lyman Allyn Museum, furnished with objects designed or made by alumnae—furniture, rugs, pictures, ornaments, china, glass ware.

C. Special Projects. The raising of money by alumnae for buildings, endowments, large special gifts, always to be carefully coordinated with Alumnae Fund activities, either becoming a part of the Alumnae Fund effort or being planned not merely to insure protection to the Fund, but to strengthen it. Plans to be made in cooperation with College.

For the purpose of ascertaining methods whereby we may work more effectively, and also more closely with the College, in financial affairs, I have sent questionnaire dealing with their financial activities to fourteen Alumnae Associations of women's colleges, and have received replies from all of them. A digest will be made of this material which will be submitted to the Executive Board.

The foregoing suggestions in the fields of information and money raising are in reality those of many devoted and active alumnae, especially of course those of Connecticut College. They are the result of my attendance with these alumnae at numerous meetings,—annual, Board, committee,—of many discussions and much correspondence with them, as through their Alumnae Associations they are working for the aid and improvement of their colleges.

Respectfully submitted,
Kathryn Moss, Executive Secretary

Clippings From College Publicity Bureau

A random sampling of press clippings coming into the Publicity office at the college during the year, shows a widely dispersed geography with a great diversity of content. Items about the college have appeared from Maine (The Portland Press-Herald) to California (The San Francisco Chronicle). They have covered events from the granting of an honorary degree to President Park by Trinity College to the sad "Cinderella" tale of a college girl's date using the midnight closing time in the dormitories as his excuse for speeding on Moberg Avenue. Following, not in order of importance, not even in order, but as they spilled out of a crammed clipping book, are some of these random samples.

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE, Nov. 18, 1951: "Connecticut College has included a new course in religion in the liberal arts curriculum this year as a result of direct requests from students. "Forms of Christian Thought" is being sponsored by the department of religion but taught by faculty members outside the department. Through a study of representative authors the course attempts to analyze significant aspects of Christian thought in its classical and contemporary forms."

HIGHER EDUCATION (U. S. Office of Education Semi-monthly Publication), Mar. 1, 1952: "The Faculty of Connecticut College, New London, Conn., after a two-year period of experimentation, has approved, effective next year, a reading period of 6 days at the end of each semester. This period of self-directed reading precedes the review period and the semester examination schedule. Courses in which this plan is used do not meet during reading period. It has been found, over a two-year trial period, that most courses have benefited by a "time to read" in which the student plans concentrated study of supplementary course materials. Book lists are prepared and aid is given by the faculty and the staff of the college library. Students are held responsible for materials read, through questions included in course examinations."

NEW HAVEN REGISTER, Feb. 24, 1952 (from weekly Connecticut College Notes, on SCHOOL AND COLLEGE page): "... The Mid-Winter Formal, open to all students and their escorts, was held last evening. The dance, sponsored by the College Service League, finances all the charitable activities of Service League for the year. Completing the week-end is a New England Song Fest which is planned for this afternoon in Palmer Auditorium. Participating in the program are two Connecticut singing groups, the "Schwiffs" and the "Con Chords", and groups from eleven other colleges. Song Fest proceeds will go to the Student-Alumnae Center Fund." . . .

NEW YORK TIMES, Nov. 11, 1951: "Connecticut College has introduced a new inter-departmental course in its liberal arts curriculum. A joint offering of the departments of botany and zoology is the introductory course in general biology . . . which emphasizes the fundamental processes common to animals and plants."

COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY BULLETIN (National Education Association), Dec., 1951: "The faculty of Connecticut College has voted the following changes in its curriculum: a period of six days of self-directed reading to precede the review period and semester examinations; a four-course program for properly qualified seniors with the fifth course released for self-directed study; a plan allowing a qualified senior to replace either six or twelve points of regular course work with honors study under faculty guidance."

CLEVELAND, OHIO, PLAIN DEALER, Nov. 12, 1951 (Editorial "Protect Them"): "In an appeal made forceful by its restraint, the personable president of Connecticut College for Women, Dr. Rosemary Park, told a Cleveland audience the other night that if privately supported colleges of the United States have to turn to the federal government for financial help, they will be caught up in a dominant and dangerous trend of our times: the increasing control over larger and larger areas of human existence by fewer and fewer people . . . There is no stronger buttress of the American political and economic system than the independent college . . ."

BILLBOARD (Stage, Screen and Radio paper): In radio review of 23rd annual inter-collegiate poetry reading festival; ". . . On the credit side, the young fem students were clear-voiced and eager, altho, for the most part, their vocal equipment lacked the depth of feeling necessary to sell poetry on radio. The stand-out exception was Connecticut College co-ed Elizabeth Butler, whose reading of "Leaving Barra" by Louis MacNeice was both technically excellent and warmly sincere." Jane Bundy, April 26, 1952.

HAZLETON, PA., PLAIN SPEAKER, June 12, 1952: "Miss Sarah Deisroth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Deisroth of 325 West Diamond Avenue, was graduated from Connecticut College, New London, Conn. at exercises held Sunday. A major in economics, Miss Deisroth prepared for college at the Knox School in Cooperstown. Her college activities included . . ." (similar items on each of the 182 graduating seniors, with individual pictures went to home town papers).

MADemoISELLE (College Issue), Aug., 1951: Four full pages of pictures of Connecticut College students modeling campus clothes, taken on campus.

NEW YORK TIMES, Feb. 10, 1952: "Connecticut College has announced that financial aid to students for 1951-52 totaled $126,585. Of this amount, $100,000 went for scholarship grants. One out of every five students received such awards. The rest of the fund has been set aside to meet student-work payrolls, a program in which 38 per cent of the students are engaged."

BAY CITY, MICH. TIMES, Feb. 3, 1952: (headline: "Here's Co-ed Who Dotes on Mice, Snakes and Skunks") Story on Ruth Hine '44. ". . . Her approach to the mouse is by way of the trap and the scalpel rather than the shriek and the leap to the mantel."

HARTFORD, CONN., TIMES, Sept. 25, 1951 (Guest Editorial by President Rosemary Park—MORE IS NOT BETTER): "Good teachers are made in many ways, and it takes more than a few courses in education and a clear voice to master the art. Let us not think that by adding to the strictly professional requirements of our teachers, we are inevitably securing better teaching. More is not better in this field. A wise flexibility, while difficult to administer, will encourage many to master this difficult art. . . . Variety is the spice of life and education."

HIGHER EDUCATION IN CONNECTICUT, Feb. 1952: (Issued by the Connecticut State Department of Education) ". . . It was decided also (Connecticut College faculty action) to grant Bachelor of Arts degrees "cum laude" and "magna cum laude" on the basis of grades received for the last three years of study. The degree "summa cum laude" is granted only to students who, in addition to meeting high scholastic requirements, have received departmental honors and have shown unusual maturity and excellence in their work for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Connecticut College."

TULSA, OKLA. TRIBUNE, May 30, 1952: (Picture Caption): "Shown in the pastel gowns which they wore for Holland Hall's baccalaureate services Sunday are the graduating seniors . . . Suzanne Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lindsay . . . who will go to Connecticut College, New London, Conn., and Martha Sharpe Canterbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam S. Canterbury . . . who will also attend Connecticut College." (A number of similar items appear.)

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE, Mar. 9, 1952: "Connecticut College, New London, Conn., through the International Relations Club, is sponsoring its fifth annual United Nations Week End, to be held on March 14 and 15 and to be attended by delegates from seventeen New England colleges."

NEW HAVEN REGISTER, May 4, 1952: "An all-day conference on "Wastes in Education" was held yesterday on the Connecticut College campus in New London. Attending were representatives from 18 secondary schools from the New England area and New York state. Following panel talks in the morning, members of the Connecticut College faculty led group discussions on English, Social Science, Language, Science and Mathematics. . . ."

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. NEWS, Nov. 10, 1951: "Nursery schools which help to mold more stable bodies and more stable family groups are on the increase throughout the country due to the necessity of extending education downward to the pre-school group under five years of age. This interesting information was given by Miss Harriet Warner, director of the Nursery School at Connecticut College, New London, Conn., when she spoke before the Springfield Chapter of the Connecticut College Alumnae. Miss Warner, a Connecticut College graduate in the class of 24, told of her work and gave instances of parents enrolling six-day-old babies so that they might be able to attend the school when they became two years old."

XENIA, OHIO GAZETTE, May 15, 1952: "The new bookmobile librarian to the Greene County District Library is Mrs. Alice B. Howard, a graduate of Simmons Library School in Boston, Mass., and Connecticut College in New London . . . her experience other than library work includes broadcasting, advertising, and free-lance writing. She is the author of "Mary Mapes Dodge of St. Nicholas Magazine," published in 1941 and a Junior Literary Guild choice of that year."

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, STAR, March 20, 1952: "A communique from Connecticut College tells us that Miss Janice Weil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Weil, has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Weil, who is majoring in history at Connecticut College, will be graduated in June."

RICHMOND, VA., TIMES-DISPATCH, Nov. 20, 1951: (Headline: Woman's Club Hears Talk On Hamlet) "Hamlet mirrors modern man in many ways, Miss Dorothy Bethurum, author of articles for literary magazines and professor of English and chairman of the English department at Connecticut College, in New London, Conn., told members of the Woman's Club yesterday in speaking on "Hamlet, 1951." She stated: "The psychological problem of how to keep the reason and emotion in balance to act justly and in honor is the same as in our modern culture." Miss Bethurum said that Hamlet's problem of how to act with justice and honor was caused by two sets of clashing mores, a somewhat outmoded but universal theme in tragedy. The old code of striking first and investigating afterward in conflict with the newer code of reasoning out a just behavior can be translated from the family in "Hamlet" into modern terms of nations. Civilizations die out because they use the older code in the earlier period. They do not test what they believe but act vigorously under impulses. Later the rational factor takes precedence and the people lose the power of acting with conviction. "The intelligentsia have become almost impotent because they can see both sides," she said. She added "Something else that is different about 1951 is the admiration of Shakespeare for man. This is the era of the 'common man', but we should recover the idea that man is not common."

HARTFORD, CONN. COURANT, June 8, 1952: "Students who are graduating from Connecticut College will hear G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange and former president of Trinity College, give the Commencement address."

HERRIN, ILLINOIS, JOURNAL, March 18, 1952: "Miss Jenny Ide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ide, 608 West Cherry Street, Carbondale, and a sophomore at Connecticut College, New London, Conn., was in charge of the Library Committee for United Nations week-end, held last week-end at the college. Delegates from 19 Eastern colleges attended the conference."

COLUMBUS, OHIO, DISPATCH, March 11, 1952: "A poet at young age is Miss Ann Marcus, who has had one of her poems published in the fall issue of 'Quarterly', the undergraduate magazine of Connecticut College, New London, Connecticut."

Glimpses of Reunion . . .

Seniors speak to families, faculty, alumnae at Class Day Exercises. Outdoor Theater, of which lake is backdrop, is part of College Arboretum.

Return to campus of class and College friends plus perfect weather made '52 Reunion gala event for '42, '43, '44, '45.

. . . Caught on Class Day

Members of '53 wait with Laurel Chain as Seniors gather for Procession

The sun was hot, but members of '51, grateful for their sombreros, looked daisy fresh.

(Juline Warner), Correspondent

176 Highland Ave., Leonia, New Jersey

June commencement at C. C. found a nucleus of '19 at the annual alumnae meeting and other features: Winona Young, from Norwich, presented the report of the Sykes Fund Committee, and Virginia Rose, also of the committee, was present from Vermont. Sadie Coit Benjamin, as usual, was busy checking registrations of reunion classes, at the Alumnae Office. Irma Hutzler was also on campus for the meeting and the picnic. At commencement, on Sunday afternoon, in Palmer, Polly Christie and Cassie Bailey Falk, both of Groton, sat among us. Polly, still with the Boat Works in Groton, was looking forward to the excitement of the President's visit to the plant, and to her intended trip later to the West. Cassie, the mother of two daughters, has been filling in her leisure time as secretary in the office of the Groton superintendent of schools. One daughter, is already married and the mother of a two-year-old son; the other is just out of high school. It was "like old times" to find Miss Howe again at the tea, and to see Miss Cary in her little European cap and Dr. Morris with his wand, as marshal, in the academic procession. And what delight, after a perfect Class Day afternoon, to attend the candlelighted stone-wall sing in the moonlight, and to be greeted by "Good evening, Mr. Moon, Moon, Moon", first on the program!

Word comes from two ex-members, Dorothy Abbott Gregory, of Fairfield, and Luna Ackley Colver, Poquonnock Bridge. Dorothy writes of her fifteenth wedding anniversary as Mrs. William Gregory, after being a widow for ten years. Her son, Howard Lockwood, is the father of a little girl, Dorothy's only grandchild. Dorothy works part time in Howland's, Bridgeport, and enjoys the Fairfield Alumnae Chapter. From their pre-Revolutionary home on Fort Hill, Luna Ackley and her husband have been "assisting others in establishing homes," by building a few houses. Luna taught in Stonington High School for twenty years, until 1940. Her husband is with the General Dynamics Corporation (formerly Electric Boat Company).

Jean Sawin Hawley and her husband began Bob's retirement as treasurer of Massachusetts University, by taking a three-months trip to Arizona and California, and returning via a month in Miami with daughter Janice and her husband, Gurdon Woods, son of Eunice Gates Woods. Jean's daughter Barbara has three girls and a boy. Son Gene, just out of Deerfield Academy, will attend Holyoke Junior College. The Hawleys were planning a summer trip to Gaspe and a month in West Georgetown, Maine.

A publisher's notice from Exposition Press brings word of a former faculty member: "The Tick Catches Up With the Tock", and other poems, by Allen J. Thomas, offers "semi-serious treatments of charity, taxes, morality, public responsibility,—and sheer nonsense—Allen J. Thomas has been a teacher in the Philippines, Cornell, Connecticut College, and in Mexico—also an insurance agent for Metropolitan Life, and for a number of years was postmaster at Scotch Plains, N. J. Now retired, he makes his home in Ithaca, N. Y."

Cora Neilan Henrici, of New London, mother of Barbara and Edward, is a grandmother of four: Barbara Ackerman's Mark and Bruce, two and one, of Northampton, Mass.; and Edward's Janice, three, and Baby David of New London. Husband Walter is with the Electric Boat Co. Marion Shea Kirby, wife of Dentist Edward of Norwich, is spending the summer at their Groton Long Point cottage (where "'19-ers are most welcome"). Her Peggy Ann, of Marymount, is a teacher, and daughter Deirdre, a student at Norwich Free Academy. Irma Hutzler, as of September 1 will return to Norwich in a new job with The United Workers after nine years as Home Service Director and Executive Secretary of the American Red Cross in New London.

Robert Luce, son of Jessie and Phil Luce, after graduation from Worcester Polytechnic in June 1951, went to Officers Candidate School and is now serving as an ensign on the USS Ishewood (destroyer). At present he is in the Mediterranean. Marion and her husband are stationed at Newport, R. I.

Miff Howard has returned from an eight weeks' automobile trip through the south during which she visited colleges and universities in order to study their physical education department organization during her sabbatical leave of absence. She also managed to get a vacation in Florida and Alabama. Construction on her new house started in January and she will be at home to her friends at Sycamor Knolls, South Hadley, beginning August 1. It is a grey shingled Cape Cod with white trim.

Admitted to Connecticut College, Class of '56, Lucinda, daughter of Dot Stelle Stone.

The class expresses its appreciation to Dr. Rosoff and Mr. Goodman and their families for the establishment of the Hattie Goldman Rosoff Fund to be used for the purchases of books for the College Library in the field of cultural anthropology.

In May of 1952 a memorial to Hattie Goldman Rosoff '21, who was long active in class and club affairs of the Association, was established by the families of Dr. A. B. Rosoff and Mr. Albert Goodman. The yearly income of this fund of $1,000 will be used for the purchase of books in the field of cultural anthropology.

Ruth McCollum Basset was on campus for Class Day, attending the day's events with her daughter Harriett '51, former holder of the Alumnae Scholarship, and now Mrs. William MacGregor.

Patricia, daughter of Marjorie Backes Terrell, was among the C. C. graduates of '52. An outstanding student, having been elected to Pi Beta Kappa she was graduated with honors.

Married: On May 3, Margaret North to Lewis Clark Spangler of Valley Stream, Long Island.

Ann Frauer Loiacono went to Boston, May 27 for Tony's 25th Harvard Medical School reunion—a three day affair. She reminisced with Lucille Wittke Morgan in the Woman's Shop recently about walking together in our commencement procession.

Sarah Gordon Hahn finds taking care of her husband and her father with whom they live a full time job.

Virginia Hays Fisher is busy with Garden Club and other local interests and gets to New London once in a while for Arboretum meetings. Her elder boy, now at Choate, seems destined to be an astronomer.

Helen Holbrook found Windsor Locks High School going along as usual this year. This summer she has to be home most of the time with a 90 year old father but hopes for two weeks at Hampton Beach.

Olivia Johnson had more than her share of commencements. At C. C. she heard Baccalaureate piped into Palmer Auditorium in company with Kay Moss and Sadie Benjamin, had a brief conversation with Harriet Warner, walked around campus and the Arboretum along with having Baccalaureate dinner in Thames Hall and seeing the commencement ceremonies. June 16, she marched with the faculty and potentates at Mitchell's commencement. Since Olivia's Bachelor of Library Science degree sports an academic hood of gold and black with a lemon-hued silk lining, she claims a resemblance to a bumble bee or a yellow jacket. After a short interlude visiting Dortha White and taking a brief trip with her, Olivia returns for the summer session at Mitchell which begins in July.

Catherine Holmes Brandow, finding "private school salaries too meager for the good ole H.C.L., plunged into a terrifically challenging job trying to guide the destinies of 18 retarded children, ranging in age from 9-13 and in 'Low IQ's' from 41-83. By dint of prayer and vitamins Dear Teacher survived only to catch breath before commuting 85 miles per day to San Diego State College for a second necessary credential."

Elinor Hunken Torpey, replying to my request for news of 24's sons and daughters (all parents take note) mentions George, 21, studying Electrical Engineering at R.P.I., a member of the R.O.T.C., and interested in rifle shooting, sailing and the clarinet; and Janet, 18, entering C. C. in September, '52, having graduated with honors from Mary Louis Academy, and interested in having fun and dramatics.

My husband, oldest son, and I took off for Pittsburgh by bus June 7 to attend Barbara's graduation exercises at Penn. College for Women. "It was our first visit and we were favorably impressed by the lovely small college which definitely lived up to its claim of being a part of the city and yet apart from it. We were rushed to all the points of interest which it had taken Barb four years to discover, sweltered through an excellent Baccalaureate service, were sprinkled on at graduation exercises and then had to hurry back for Larry's High School graduation.

Birth: Sylvia Gray Blanchet to Jeremy and Nancy Hoag Blanchet, daughter of Margaret Ewing Hoag (Ex '25). Sylvia has a brother, Garrett Hoag Blanchet.

Peg's daughter, Margaret, will be in Italy next year where her husband will study architecture on a Fulbright scholarship. Alice is in the class of 1955 at Smith. Peg is interested in work with Displaced Persons while Garrett is busy with law and the President's Loyalty Review Board.

Margaret Cort Palmer rouses envy by hoping to get to commencement activities at College. She is executive secretary and handicap chairman of the Conn. Women's Golf Assoc. One son is in the Arctic with the Navy, the other at the Electric Boat Co. and Peg's daughter is in high school.

Winifred Smith Passmore has one son with the Army in Germany and another at West Point. Winnie is especially interested in conservation.

Miriam Chadeayne ex '25, is still in Ossining and active in club and church work. She reports seeing Helen Nichols Foster at a Westchester Alumnae meeting.

A card from Thelma Burnham indicates a trip to Jamaica and Haiti. Another from Dorothy Wigmore tells of a pleasant Memorial Day weekend in Middlebury and was intended to incite nostalgia by picturing the Middlebury College French school.

Eleanor Tracy Adam is returning to Canaan after spending the winter in New York. Healthwise the winter was rough but Eleanor is feeling somewhat better now.

Gertrude Locke has limited her activities to give companionship to her sister, Muriel who broke her hip in February. Kathleen Boyle and your correspondent threw off the cares imposed by the "Aetna Life" by taking a spring cruise, stopping briefly in Venezuela, Colombia and Aruba.

Sara Jane, daughter of Sally Crawford Maschal of Westport, was a member of the graduating class of '52. Sally and Webb were on campus for the festivities. Sara Jane, a botany major in college, plans to work near home next year.

Helen Ferguson, an outstanding physician in New London, is an enthusiastic horsewoman. She spent her brief vacation riding in New Hampshire, where she took her horse to the camp run by the Porters, who are in charge of campus riding instruction.

Betsy Allen, now living in Newton, Mass., attended Commencement Weekend.

Admitted to Connecticut College in the Class of 1956: Anne, daughter of Charlotte Tracy Browning.

Married: Constance Clapp to Rev. Albert W. Kauffman, D. D., on January 1.

Albert and Connie Clapp Kauffman have been conducting leadership training courses and vacation schools in the two churches of his pastorate. Connie is also Chairman of the Religious Education Committee of the Muskegon Association of Congregational Churches.

Helen Hood Diefendorf's daughter, Carolyn, is following in her mother's footsteps; she is President of her class at Connecticut. Larry Ferris Ayres' daughter, Pat enters Bennington College in September. Larry reports "Barbara Brooks Bixby and Chet paid us an overnight visit in June. Their daughter Elizabeth will be a junior at Dana Hill in September, and son, Benjamin, who graduated from high school with the highest scholastic standing in a class of 369, and has been accepted for Dartmouth, will spend a year at Exeter before entering. Jean Gillette Smith, who has a son in college and another in high school, writes that she is doing television as well as radio writing."

Betsy Linsley Hollis says she still gets homesick for New England, but her description of her seaside home in Bermuda makes me want to go there. Betsy is building up the boys' stateside college fund by taking paying guests in her home. Her older son, Tony, now 12, won a scholarship for high school in a competitive exam.

I brought home several hundred color slides among souvenirs of my recent spring trip abroad. Photogenic highlights included Easter at St. Peter's in Rome, the tulip season in Holland, and a week in Devon and Cornwall.

Inez Hess writes: "This spring Mother and I drove to Kentucky and spent a week with Alice (Hess) Pattison. Now she and the children are with us for the summer. I just returned from a trip to New Mexico—the California coast—Victoria."

Rosky Beebe Cochran writes that after their drive to California last summer, this year she and Tom will be glad to stay home. However, when she wrote in June they were leaving shortly for New England on a combination business and pleasure trip. Before returning to Radnor, they plan to spend the July 4th weekend with Maddy Smith Gibson at her country home in Connecticut, and a day with Margie Ebsen Boehler at her new home in Montague, N. J. Tom's newest book has gone to the printer, and he is now directing a community study of Norristown, Penna.

MRS. ROBERT B. KOHR

(Peg Burroughs) Correspondent

309 Woodlawn Road, Madison, N. J.

Shirley Vogel Cregan writes that she and her husband have recently bought a house and hope to move the first of July. Her new address is 1 Collector Lane, Leavittown, L. I. Shirley has a daughter, Sandra, 7. For the last two years Shirley has been Secretary of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

"Smudge" Gove Studley, ex '29, is living in Washington, Conn., where they own 40 acres and hope to build someday. She and her husband returned from Scotland in October, 1951 after spending three years there, where Vic built a factory, got it into production, leased another and got it going also. "Smudge" saw Peg Carnes in London in 1946.

"Fishie" McElfresh Perry and her husband had a fine trip to Spain last fall. They drove from Paris south through Bourgea, Limoges, Toulouse, and Carcassone. They were in Spain over three weeks, seeing as much as possible from the Pyrenees to Seville. "Fish" says the guide books and magazine articles do not do it justice.

Edith Simonton Whittemore may be found in Dorset, Vt., from May until November. Her husband is owner-operator of the Dorsett Inn and they have a house across the street. As soon as the Inn closes they take trips, last year a cruise to the British West Indies and British Guiana, the previous year they wintered in Florida.

Helen Stephenson White writes that her older son, Dave, has finished his Freshman year at Princeton where he is the third generation to be there and proud of it. Stuart, 15, is finishing 9th grade and aiming for Princeton. Their daughter, Allison is 9 and finishing 3rd grade. Steve and husband have recently had a wonderful trip to the West Coast.

Ad McMiller Stevens keeps busy with two young sons, Tommy, 12 and Bill, 8. Ad loves gardening and is interested in Garden Club, P. E. O. Sisterhood, Church activities, P.T.A., Cub and Boy Scouts. The Stevens have joined a Square Dancing Club which meets during the winter. The whole family plans to take a camping trip to Colorado in August.

Ruth Howlett Navarre leads a busy life as she says "being a walking filing system for the various members of the family and I seem to have plenty to do just running my own little merry-go-round." You will understand the need for a filing system when you hear the family statistics. Joe 3rd, 21, will be a Senior at Michigan State College next Fall; Bob has finished his Freshman year at Notre Dame; Mary Louise, 16 and Bill 15 are in High School; Dick, 12 is in 6th grade, and Christopher, 5, starts kindergarten in the Fall. Bunky's husband was appointed Insurance Commissioner for the State of Michigan about a year ago and has his office in Lansing but the Navarres still live in Jackson. Bunky lunched with Helen Ellis Van Schaacht, ex '29 in Milwaukee about a year ago. Helen has two daughters nearly through High School and a son about 7.

The biggest news in the Kohr household is that C. C. has accepted our daughter, Martha in the class entering College in September.

Ruth Barry Hildebrandt and family live in Scarsdale. Her older son, Dean, Jr., is a junior at Dartmouth and Barry is a junior in high school. Both boys are work-in camps in Vermont this summer. Ruth sees Dorothy Barrett Bertine and Betty Webster Hinman frequently. Ruth Cooper Carroll's husband, Col. Paul Carroll, became famous as aide to Eisenhower.

Edith Allen MacDiarmid is in San Diego until she sells the house. Then she will join Mac in Elizabeth City, N. C. Allen has passed his Plebe year successfully and is on an European cruise. Roy is working in New Haven this summer and is on the Dean's list at Yale. Hughie is in eighth grade and Elizabeth is in first. Edie expects to make a trip to New England this summer.

No others sent news so it was fortunate that Isobel Gilbert Greenwood's husband Tom, now Bishop of the Yukon wrote about their trip to their new location. Packing for the move from Yellowknife to Whitehorse was not easy for they had to decide what they wished to take and what could wait till the rivers were open to follow by boat. They left by plane the Tuesday after Easter. At Ft. Smith, the group, complete with Basque the hundred and fifty pound Great Pyrenees dog in a crate, found the plane had a single door. That problem was solved by taking the dog out, crushing the grate to a diamond shape, pushing it through the door, straightening the crate, hoisting up the dog, and putting him in. At Edmonton, Basque showed timidity in boarding trains, preferring to go underneath. Before the trip was over, he was running up and down the steps with the family. Friends from the British Isles, Canada, and the States met them along the route and provided pleasant breaks in the journey. At Banff the children went to Hot Springs to bathe. In Victoria, the ordination took place in a beautiful service with many bishops in attendance. Early in May the family sailed for Skagway on the last lap of their journey to Whitehorse.

Mabel Barnes Knauff enjoyed representing our class at Alumnae Council in March. Her daughter, Ginny is a Sophomore in High School at W. M. I., while son, Phil, 17, graduated from Governor Dummer Academy and Donald, 14, finished 8th grade in New London. Louise Bunce Warner keeps busy with daughters May Lou, 11 and Loring, 7 and reports seeing Mary Cullen Chappell occasionally as both their families are sailing enthusiasts. From Weston, Mass., Louisa Rhodes Brown reports that daughter, Nancy, enjoyed her Freshman year at Knowlton House, where Miss Oakes is house fellow and William and Helen are still on deck. Last summer, Louisa and family had a wonderful vacation in Great Britain.

Finally raised a response from Dorothy Stevens from the American Embassy in London. Dot reports that this is her 10th year at the Embassy (no mention of what she does). She likes the life in London, and finds that sooner or later most of her friends show up, but she is always anxious to see more of them. Remember, next time you are passing through!

Ruth Caswell Clapp says "No exciting developments from Portland, Conn. Just an exhausting round of church and home duties. Our eldest son, 13, is almost an Eagle Scout, and my other son an active Cub. Both play piano, clarinet and trumpet and daughter, Nan studies modern dance." From the Bayou country 70 miles north of New Orleans, came a card from Lois Saunders Porteus ex '32. Lois has an attorney husband, son Bill, 14, going to Taft in the fall, and a red headed daughter, Ann, 12.

Marion Nichols Arnold visited her sister in Amherst and while there stopped to see Gertrude Yoerg Doran in Holyoke, but never caught a glimpse of any of Gert's five offspring. Marian hopes to get to Ann Arbor, Michigan this summer and if so will try and locate Jean Williams Smith who is moving there from Rochester, N. Y. Jean's husband, Dr. Frank Smith, had been Dean of the Graduate School at the University of Rochester, but has recently been appointed Director of Business Research and Professor of Business Administration at the University of Michigan.

Wish space would permit my quoting in greater detail from a long letter I had from Mabel Hansen Smith. Mabel lives in North Bend, Ore., one mile from the Pacific, where the wind blows hard and cold twelve months of the year. She writes that her family consists of her husband, son Dick, 15, four stepsons, 17 to 25, and six lovely grandchildren, age three months to 4 years. As though a house, garden and family were not sufficient, she drives 45 miles each day through logging country to work in an insurance office. When she returns at night she finds time to do her husband's business accounts and correspondence. Mabel insists she still prefers the east and is looking forward to a trip back there someday; meanwhile she would love to see any Conn. Alumnae who come anywhere near her vicinity.

Virginia Vail Lavino's husband, an architect, has designed some new buildings for Williams College. They also are building a summer home near the college. Each of their three boys has helped design and paint his own room. With all the artistic talent in the Lavino family it should be a lovely place.

Virginia Swan Parrish spent some time with her sister, Janet Swan Eveleth this last winter. She came here from South America for medical treatment for her son who had polio. I am happy to report he has had a good recovery. Ginny and Karl are building a "fabulous new home" (quote from sister Janet) in Baranquilla, South America.

Marge Seymour Martin, her husband, and their two children will spend part of their vacation in Cleveland this summer. I will be anxious to hear how they enjoy living in Montreal, Canada.

My husband, Bob, myself, and our two youngest children Cindy and Andy are going to spend part of our vacation at Broken Rocks, near Port Austin, in Michigan, with Alice Kelly McKee and her family at their summer home. The McKee family have owned and used this property for over fifty years. It is a beautiful spot on Lake Huron.

Born: To Dody Merrill Dorman—twins!

To quote from Dody's letter about the "stupendous production. We have two boys and a girl already, and this was to complete our family. It surely did! We are delighted and the kids are ecstatic though almost unbelieving, as the new boys are still in incubators. We have named them Alan Trowbridge and Christopher Riggs."

Dody hears from Minna Barnett frequently and hopes to see her early in July. Dan and Dody went on a delightful cruise to Bermuda and Nassau in January.

Helen Andrews Keough writes that nothing has changed in almost five years; family, house and job are the same. Buff is 10 now and Andy is almost five and needs five adults to keep him occupied.

Mim Greil Pouzner says she leads a very satisfactory but not too newsworthy a life. In the winter she is busily engaged on social welfare boards and committees, but this summer will be quiet with Laurie 9 and Dan 10 going to camp in Maine. This past winter Mim and Dan had a fascinating trip, island-hopping in the West Indies.

Martha Lubchansky Freeman has two sons, 10 and 14. Larry, the 14 year old, is in the sophomore class at Worcester Academy, and Martha doubts that he will go to C. C. unless socially. She says that Lou Hill Corliss moved to Oakland, Calif. a year and a half ago. Anyone heard from her?

I am writing these notes on my way east to show daughter Pat the real McCoy in New London and find out how a good a saleswoman I am.

Born: To William and Helen Kirtland Pruyn, ex '35, a son, William Kirtland on Feb. 19, 1952.

Marriage: Ruth Fairfield Day to Emerson Day on Feb. 12, 1951 at Hanover, N. H. They are living in Scarsdale.

Bobbie Hervey reports a new and better job. It is with the Francis H. Curtin Insurance Agency in Boston. Bobbie is taking a three weeks' trip in July to Denver, Colorado Springs and a number of the national parks. Dora Steinfeld Todd, ex '35, and her husband are taking their four children to Meshoha, Ont. for the summer. Dora has gone to the family island there since she was teen-ager, but this year the Todds will have their own cottage on the mainland. Teddy Bear Crystal, ex '35, spent some time in Honolulu last summer. This summer she, Judy, 16, and David, 14, are going to California for a month. Teddy has been studying dancing in her spare time.

Gloria Belsky Klarfeld writes, "I am very much involved in our business, Industrial Wiping Cloths, and I have become a full-fledged traveling salesman. Since we sell to big business and heavy industry, I am somewhat of a freak in my field. My two boys, Peter, 4½, and Jonathan, 14½, take every other moment of my life." Yvonne Benac, ex '35, is assistant City Clerk in Norwich. She reports that they have a new City Manager form of government to match New London's. Helen Fine is still working in N. Y. but plans to move to Hartford in the near future.

Virginia Whitney McKee, ex '35, has moved to Hudson, Ohio where she lives in a house which is over 100 years old. Ginnie's husband works for General Tire & Rubber as market research director in Akron. Ginnie is occupied with golf, gardening, bridge and boys(2). She hopes to soon be able to attend alumnae club meetings in Akron or Cleveland. Olive Birch Lillich has moved to the San Fernando valley which she says reminds Fred and her of their happy days in Teheran. The Lillichs went to California for reasons of health and Olive reports that they and their son, Geoffrey, are already reaping benefits.

Ginnie Golden Kent is busy helping with Don's medical work, leading a Brownie troop and acting as Education chairman for the Women's Club. Subby Burr Sanders' days are filled with being a den mother, PTA secretary, Church club chairman and Sunday school teacher, to say nothing of riding herd on her four boys. The older children are going to camp for a month and then the family will gather at the beach for a vacation after Subby and Harry return from a convention in Chicago.

Jo Triebel McKerihan and her husband,

Captain "Chuck" Triebel, commanding officer of the Submarine Base, entertained in June at their home on the Base with a brief reception for President Truman and his party of thirty. The occasion was the President's visit to Groton to attend the keel-laying of the first atomic-powered submarine. Mr. Truman was a delightful guest, Jo reports, and was especially gracious to the younger Triebels — Chuck, Jr. 13, Teddy 11, and Judy 7, whom he invited to visit the White House. Undoubtedly the children will enthusiastically accept the invitation, since their father's present tour of duty will end in August. At that time the Triebels will move to Washington.

Alys Griswold Haman completed her term as Treasurer and member of the Executive Board of the Alumnae Association in July. This labor of love we are sure has been a valuable contribution by Alys to the Alumnae Association of time, effort and ability. Alys and Wendy, her daughter, live in Old Lyme, where Alys is active in church and community affairs.

Rumor had it that Tex McNutt McNeel was to be in New York early in June, but we don't know whether the visit actually materialized.

Dorothy Stewart is in the process of remodeling, inside and out, a house on the Mitchell College campus, and has reached the stage where she thinks she may be living for the rest of her life amid falling shingles and crumbling mortar. But the end is in sight and she's looking forward to entertaining not only the college students and faculty, but members of '36 who visit New London. As of last Fall Dorothy became Director of Admissions and Assistant to the President of Mitchell College, which was formerly the New London Junior College.

Your correspondents want to hear from you, so please write of your summer activities.

Marge Bennett Hires wrote us a newsy letter not long ago. In the spring Marge met Betty Schlesinger Wagner in New York City where they spent the day visiting and sightseeing. Betty was on her way to the College to attend alumnae meetings during Alumnae Council weekend. Marge and her husband, Dick, became camera fans during the winter, attending weekly classes in photography.

We know of five members of our class who have moved recently: Ruth Barr Robb to Meriden, Conn.; Martha L. Cook Swan to Portland, Ore.; Phoebe Nibbs Baer to Norfolk, Va.; Lois Beckwith Ottinger to Chevy Chase, Md.; and Sara Bowman Sun to East Meadow, L. I., N. Y.

From all reports it looks like our class believes in large families, and we think that Virginia Wilson Hart tops the class with five sons and one daughter, ranging in age from 20 months to ten years. "Ginny" finds time to do PTA and Cub Scout work and helps in the political picture in Pittsfield where her husband, Bob, is in his second term as City Councilman. For recreation she manages 36 holes of golf per week. Margaret Ames Cookman, ex, '38 recently spent a weekend with her. Margie has three children, but finds extra time for Junior League, Gray Ladies, and politics.

Betty Wagner Knowlton has four children: Thomas, who was born on Dec. 4, 1951, and Katrina 11, John 9½, and David 8. She writes that she has been President of the Junior League in St. Petersburg this past year. They gave up raising canaries in favor of little Tommy, but now as a sideline have started raising orchids and bees. Ollie and Margaret Talbot Smith and two of their three children vacationed in St. Petersburg last March and visited with the Knowltons. Judith Waterhouse Draper is also a Floridian and loves it. Dan works for Minute Maid Concentrated Orange Juice. He does a lot of traveling, but Judy must stay home with Danny Jr., 7, Nancy 4, and Marianne 6 months. PTA, Church, and garden work occupy much of her spare time, but Judy still loves a round of golf each week.

"Dinny" Sundt Brownlee and her family recently bought a house in Westfield, Mass., with woods, a pond, and a skislope, plus plenty of room for John 11½, Judy 10, Bob 8½ and Bill 7.

Walter and Martha Cahill Wilhelm must hold the class record for changes of residence. In the past 12 years they have moved ten times, but have now settled in Evanston, Ill. Their three lively youngsters are Pamela 9, Walter 6, and Christine 2½. It looks like Margaret Grierson Gifford has migrated to the south for good. Her husband has bought a business in Lookout Mountain, Tenn., where they live with their three children, Tommy 4, Jim 7, and Phyllis 9. "Peg" edits a community paper, "The Mountain Breeze", sponsored by PTA.

Elisabeth Cherry Spier is at the Lahey Clinic in Boston as a Fellow in Anesthesiology. After completing a two-year course, Betty will have her long awaited specialist's rating. She has one son, Peter 4.

A nice note from Winifred Nies Northcott tells of the adoption of their second child, a daughter, Heather, born on March 23, 1952. Howard and Margaret Irwin Langborgh have adopted Roger Victor, 2½ months, on Dec. 4, 1951. They also have a son, Dick 5.

Constance Leavitt Scott lives in Honolulu and hasn't been east since '49. Two children, Mike 11 and Susan 9, plus PTA, Red Cross, Cub Scouts and Brownies keep her busy. Nancy Darling Hwoschinsky has Elisabeth and Peter. Her husband, "Vlad", is President of the MIT Club in Buffalo this year, and Nance tries to spend as much time as possible gardening.

Marriages: Agnes Savage and Paul M. Griswold, Jr., were married March 8. Janet Mead is now Mrs. Gordon C. Fuller and lives in Wellesley Hills.

Children: Grace Hecht Block's first child, Elizabeth, was born Feb. 28. Katharine Hall Watson, born in April, is Estelle Taylor Watson's third child.

News: Jane Goss Cortes has been doing interesting work as a volunteer in the Cerebral Palsy Center in Dallas, as well as "supervising" Hank, 6, and Sally, 1½, in their Cortes designed new home. This summer will serve as reunion time at the Cape for the Cortes, Stelle Taylor Watson and Westy. and Sue McLeod, Adriance and Harris. Sue Adriance's husband is Advertising Manager of G. and C. MERRIAM CO. They have three children, Rocky, 6, Peter, 4, and Candy, 3. Janet Mead Fuller mentioned seeing Phyllis Harding Morton who plays a lot of golf, whereas she still sticks to tennis. Lou and I turned our gang over to their Grandmother's care and went East in May. Had a wonderful time revisiting New York and Connecticut. Mary Chapman Watts and Bob are living in Chestnut Hill, Mass. Chap and

I really talked—as did Eunice Titcomb, who is an assistant to the engineers at Grumman Aircraft, and Betty Bishard, whose job it is to see that her employer, a woman executive, has what she needs when she wants it—be it planning entertainment, running her home, etc! "Bish" seems to thrive on the city life; she is also active in the Junior League projects. Lunched in Darien with Stelle Taylor Watson and family, Susan, David, and the baby. To New London on a perfect May morning. Miss Park graciously escorted us through the infirmary—wonderful, modern plant—after lunch; I bought a "sweat shirt" with the college seal for Dierdre—at last, we of "CC" can put a shirt on our kids for sentiment's sake just as their Dads have been doing in the past; then on to Hartford to see Jean Lyon Loomis, Chet, and their two boys, Teddy and Bobby. Had dinner with Catherine Ake Bronson and Wright, and Dorothy Clinger Vaughn ex '40, and Jim, en route home. Lack of time seems to be the excuse for not being able to say hello to other '39ers—being so near, yet so far was awful for me, you can imagine!

Born: To Walter and Olive McIlwain Kerr, their third child, second son, Robert, on February 21, 1952. To Lee and Dorothy Gieg Warner, a second child, first son, Tatnall, on May 29, 1952.

Travel and Vacation Notes: Jeanette Beebe spent part of the Spring at Bradenton, Fla. Buck and Betty Lamprecht Slobey celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary with a two-week holiday at Sea Island, Ga., early in June. Ollie and Bud Kerr summered on Squirrel Island.

Howard and Annette Osborne Tuttle are living in Beechwood Village, a Cleveland suburb. Howard Jr. is now 2, and the baby Christeen has passed her first birthday. Oz reports that Evie McGill and her family (two small sons) are living on and working a real farm at Chelmsford, Mass.

Sybil Manson Gilmour, ex-'40, husband Allan, and daughter Jane (9½) are on the move. They had just settled in their own home in Foxboro, Mass. when Allan was recalled to active duty as an Air Force Navigator. They sold the house and purchased a trailer, and are now in Sacramento, Calif., prior to returning to Langley Field, Va.

Shirley Dichter Diamond and her husband have their own home and garden in Stamford, Conn., where Phil is an engineer. Until recently Shirley was a radio copy-writer for an ABC affiliate station. She occasionally hears from Eunice Brewster Foss (living in Hampton Roads, Va. and the mother of one son). Viola Hitti Wunder (ex-'40, living in Princeton, also one son), and Marthe Baratte (French Exchange Student, '39, who is teaching at N. J. College for Women in New Brunswick on the same faculty as Prof. Lanza.)

Dick and Jane Clark Heer live in Upper Arlington, Columbus, Ohio, in a colonial house just painted barn red. Their chief enthusiasm, also shared by Pete, 10, is golf. Henry and Jean Balwin Ferstl are living in Millington, Mich. where Henry is a veterinarian. Just getting organized, the present kitchen serves as an operating room and the dining-room as their examining room. They are looking for a larger farm which will provide sufficient space for their horse, two colts, cow and calves. French poodle pup, and Anita (3) and Tom (1½).

Harvey and I returned to Cleveland in July and are busy getting out his shingle for the practice of Gastro-Enterology. Perky Maxted Higgins had a little tea late in June with Helen Stott Heisler (three daughters: Jill, 8; Caroline, 5, and Elizabeth, 1), Naomi Ramsey Lewers (Patty, 8, and Timmy, 4), and Dottie Gieg Warner (Ellen, 3, besides the new baby mentioned above). Especially encouraging was the thought that the years since graduation had treated us remarkably well!

Gladys Bachman returned to campus for Alumnae Weekend, where she and Nat Maas were the only class representatives. On the same trip she visited with Charlie and Sue Loomis Bell (ex '40), and heard of Charlie's promotion to the executive force of Pepperell Mills.

Irene Kennel Pekoc's children are now 11 1/2, 9, 3, and 1 1/2, and she is so busy with them that she is still looking forward to enough free time to make slipcovers for the furniture. Rene reported that Mac and Marty Geer Allen are now living in Whittier, Calif.

MRS. THOMAS P. DURIVAN

204 Broad St., New London, Conn.

Marriage: Catherine Elias to David Marks Bullowa on May 3 in the Cottage at Hampshire House in New York.

Births: Margaret Beall Moseley was born to Margaret Stoecker Moseley and Cameron in May. To Henrietta Dearborn Watson and Joe another boy, David. On March 7, to Alida Reinhardt Greenleaf and Jim a girl. To Dottie Nichols Ham-mill and Tom a daughter, Marian Nichols, on Nov. 17. From Ethel Moore Wills a most encouraging letter—"Tall Tales of construction!" She, Ted, and three children (George 8, Carol 5, and Jenifer 2) all resplendent in mumps—except Ethel—the heroine!) moved into the new house in Birmingham, Michigan—no phone—mud, oil burner exploded, hot water heater and disposal went on strike. But the Wills survived!

And Betty Kohr Gregory sails for Europe on Sept. 3. Frank has been assigned air attache at the Embassy in Paris. Right now they are all on a farewell tour of Mississippi, Louisiana and Ohio. "Assorted plants small animals, and activities—PTA, Sunday School, the Republican Party" plus assorted children, three potential Connecticutites and one male keep Meg Robinson Manning hopping.

There is quite a group developing 'round the outskirts of Philadelphia: Kathy Elias and new husband are there; Betty Hollingshead Seeley and husband have just bought a new home in Rosemont. "B. Q." reports only that Bud is very busy with N. W. Ayer and raising funds for Cornell. Looking forward to not taking a trip east this summer are Kay (Ord) and Bill McChesney, who plan to wallow in the good Seattle climate this year. And finally, Edie Patton Cranshaw wants you all to know of a 7% increase in our class contributions to the Alumnae Fund. According to Edie there are only four classes with a better percentage than ours and only three have given a larger amount. Edie is doing a very fine job—so harness your pennies for the next drive that we may not let her down.

MRS. PAUL R. PEAK
(Jane Worley), Correspondent
2704 Harris Ave., Wheaton, Md.

Forty of us gathered "high upon a sunlit hilltop" for our tenth reunion. In contrast to our own rainy graduation, the weather was ideal. To our class dinner at the Mohican came Dean Burdick and Miss Warner, the latter full of plans for her lengthy trip abroad, Miss Burdick reminding us of those days so long ago when we blew into New London with the hurricane and suggesting that if we thought "we all look just the same" that we should take a glance at our freshman pictures.

Our president for the last four years, Lois Brenner Ramsey, led our class meeting in a breezy manner, as only Loie can. Elected to succeed Loie was Nancy Wolfe Hughes. Her husband Bob is vice-president and treasurer of the Hughes-White Truck Sales Co., in Dayton, Ohio. Their two boys are Robert, III, 9, and James Wolfe, 5. Nance finds time to be a cub scout den mother and participate in the Junior League, church, the PTA, the local citizens committee, and the Dayton Council on World Affairs.

Lilly Weseloh Maxwell is our new vice-president. Lil runs a children's art school in Mystic, Conn., and is active in PTA, the New London Children's Museum board, and the Mystic Art Association. She also takes care of Henry Weseloh, 7, and Carol Louise, 4. Lil's husband Ed owns a paint and wallpaper store.

Treasurer of the Class of '42 is Adele Rosebrock Burr. She and Jack, who is a dentist, and their sons, Peter John, 3, and Richard Charles, 1, have a beautiful home in Yonkers.

Taking over the job of class correspondent is Margaret Ramsay Starr. From now on send your news items to her: Mrs. John Starr, 1780 San Marco Blvd., Jacksonville 7, Fla. Peggy has her own apartment there where she has been a church secretary since John's death during the war. Peggy visited me for two days prior to reunion. Audrey Nordquist O'Neill invited Ellie King Miller and us to lunch.

Ellie and Ray, who is a lieutenant commander stationed at Coast Guard Headquarters, have three children: David King, 9, Patricia Ann, 4, and John Raymond, 3. Ellie had interesting news of her sister, Pat King Helfrich, who is in Burma. Pat and Baird spent six months in China right after they were married and have always wanted to return to the East. Four children didn't stop them. The whole family sailed on the S.S. President Wilson in February. It was quite a trip—all the children came down with measles and chicken pox. Baird is connected with a hospital supply firm and is working on trade arrangements in Burma. They plan to be there about two years.

Peggy and I drove to New London, and had lunch with Mary Stevenson Stow in Wilmington, Del., on the way. Eight-year-old Susie was in school, but Freddy, 7, Rickie, 4, and Martha, 2, were home. Ted is a chemist with Hercules Powder Co. Tying Peggy in traveling the longest distance to reunion was Evelyn DePuy Peterson from Appleton, Wisc. Evie has two youngsters, Frances, 4, and Michael, 1½, and works with the Red Cross bloodmobile, the League of Women Voters, and the Young Republicans. Her husband Talbot is assistant secretary of the Valley Iron Works.

MRS. WILLIAM M. YEAGER
(Betsy Hodgson), Correspondent
15 Reimer Road, Scarsdale, N. Y.

Married: Jean McBeath (ex '43) to Alexander Parker, on April 5 in Marblehead, Mass.

Born: To James and Mary Lou Elliott Dearnley, a second daughter, Cynthia, on February 19. To Bill and Ruth Ann Likely Mittendorff their fourth child, third son, Royal, on May 31. To Urial and Janet Ayres Leach, their third and fourth children, twin sons, Winfred and Randal. Janet has another son and a daughter. To Bill and Mary Lou Shoemaker Turner, a third daughter, Jane. To Jack and Grace Oellers Glaser, a third child, first daughter, Nancy. To Ray and Alice Brewer Cummings, a third son, David. To Robert and Frances Adams Crane, a third child, first daughter, Deborah. To Harley and Katharine Johnson Anders, their first child, a son, James. To Grover and Isabel Vaughn James, their first child, a son, Michael. To Robert and Polly Smith Daggett, a second daughter, Lizette. To Richard and Marjorie Ladd Corby (ex '43), their third child, first son, Richard III.

Forty-three of us were at reunion; and all forty-three of us had the same initial experience. We poked our heads in the door of Windham House, looked blankly from face to face, then slowly began to grin and then scream as we recognized a friend. That first five minutes of trying to reconcile names with faces is horrifying. The few Koine's about were combed from cover to cover, and everybody was guilty through the weekend of a sotto-voiced, "Who is that girl over there?" Jacquelyn Myers Couser's Koine was in the greatest demand. It contains marriage dates, children's names and birthdays, and even an amazing number of clippings, and is completely up to date. If you want any statistics, Jacquie is the person to write.

Jacquie and Filly Arborio Dillard came the farthest—from St. Louis, Missouri, and Eustis, Florida. Nan Thompson Wells and Billy Oellers Glaser both came from Michigan. Ruth Remsen Roberts, Janet Sessions Beach, Isabel Vaughan James, and Lois Creighton Abbott all came from upper New York State.

Friday night Alicia Henderson Speaker, Reunion Chairman, had provided a midnight snack for us, but it and the left over lobster we had brought from dinner at Lighthouse Inn in a bag went begging. We were all so busy talking we never did do anything but drink cokes from the machines in the dorms. The new Infirmary impressed us. Sylvia Klingon Eisen said if she were going to college now she'd just register in the Infirmary and spend four years there. By the time of the picnic in Bolleswood Saturday we all knew each other again and felt as though the calendar had just rolled back nine years. Marion Butterfield Hinman made the kindest remark, "We either look the same or we've improved." After the picnic Connie Haaren Wells presented our class gift of money to Miss Park.

At the class banquet that evening the entertainment, an original song sung by Edith Gaberman Sudarsky, Betty Hammink Carey, Marion Butterfield Hinman, Martha Boyle Morrisson and Florence Urban Wyper was the highspot of the evening. Its nine verses (mostly chorus) moved Jean Kohlberger Carter to comment "I never knew the nine years were so long." Ruby Zagoren Silverstein made up a clever song where we stood and identified ourselves at the appropriate places as career girls (Jane Storms Wenneis, Alice Dimock, Mary Louise Stephenson, Jacquelyn Myers Couser, Marilyn Sworzyn, Helen Borer Jackson) then the mothers of one, two, three, or four (Janet Ayres Leach) and then twins (Constance Smith Hall and Janet again). Betty Crouch Hargrave, Mary Surgenor Baker, Ranny Likely Mittendorff and Joy Hyde Green were mentioned around the table as also being mothers of four children. The best story of the evening was Marilyn Sworzyn's tale of feeling very foolish when she asked her Brazilian teacher of Portuguese if he knew Heliodora De Mendoca Bueno, only to have him embrace her, pull out his wallet and show Marilyn pictures of Hel and her two children—he was Hel's father-in-law. The following slate of officers was elected: President, Emily Carl Davis; Vice President and Reunion Chairman, Silvia Klingon Eisen; Treasurer, Mary Surgenor Baker; Corresponding Secretary, Betsy Hodgson Yeager; Secretary, Evelyn Silvers Daly; Chairman of the Nomination Committee, Frances Adams Crane.

Births: A son, Thomas Deland, to Hewlett and Nance Funston Wing on May 10th. A daughter, Candida, to David and Hedi Seligsohn Piel on May 17th. A daughter, Suzanne to Richard and Sarah Gilbert Marquardt on June 2nd.

The weekend of June 7th was a big one for those of us who attended reunion. Actually there were but 32 of us back, but where we were short in number we were hardly lacking in spirit. Campus was invaded Friday evening with shrieking females bogged down with pictures of families and houses. I hasten to confess that we could hardly be mistaken for students. As Miss Oakes so tactfully put it, we dress better, but once inside the gates I assure you we were not acting our now advanced years. "Gee it's good to see you" rang throughout Knowlton, and what's more we mean it! Friday was strictly get together time. Saturday morning we toured the new buildings and were left overcome with the new infirmary. It's unbelievably lovely and to say that it's the height of efficiency I fear is still an understatement. Saturday morning also saw us at a meeting of the alumnae association followed by a trustee picnic at the arboretum. Then Class Day—the laurel in full bloom and the seniors looking so very sophisticated. I can't really believe that we made such an impressive sight at graduation, yet perhaps we made an even more impressive one this time. For our class costume Betts Starbuck had chosen purple and gold (remember the class colors?) parasols. We were a big hit I promise marching down the arboretum parasols raised. Our class dinner Saturday night was held at Lighthouse Inn, and we retired afterwards to Knowlton where Marcia Faust could have entertained us for months with movies taken through four years of college and our first reunion. Miss Oakes had her point. We do dress better, but they were still wonderful fun to see. So that's the tale of reunion in capsule form. I'm just sorry you couldn't all have been there but hope you'll make the effort next time. It's well worth it.

Only three bits of news not gleaned at reunion. Mary White Rix, ex '45, writes that she, husband Paul and their three children are now settled in Abilene, Texas. Pat Madden Dempsey has also moved—from Summit to Mountain Lakes, New Jersey. She writes that Seb Bauernschmidt has gone to Pearl Harbor where her father will be stationed for several years.

I'm sorry to say that this is my last issue as class correspondent. As I explained at our class dinner I'd love the opportunity of hearing from and about you all, but comes the time when we all say enough is enough. Time marches on and perhaps you'd like a new slant on the news. At this writing I don't know who your correspondent will be, but you will be receiving election ballots for a new president and secretary. June Sawhill Heineman has also resigned for this interim as president. As you know she is living in Mexico and feels that said location is too far away for discharging her duties properly. June resigns as I do with regret. For my own part—thanks for all your cooperation over these seven years and please do keep the news coming for whoever your correspondent may be.

MRS. RICHARD H. RUDOLPH
(Marilyn Coughlin), Correspondent
499 Rutter Ave., Kingston, Pennsylvania

Born: To Tom and Catherine Tideman James, a second child, first son, David Barton, on April 27, 1952. To Mike and Lucy Block Heumann, a second child, Lucy Kate, on March 25, 1952. To Edgar and Mary Margaret Topping DeYoe, a second child, first daughter, Christina King, on March 20, 1952. To Seymour and Deane Austin Smigrod, a son, Andrew Austin, on Jan. 26, 1952. To Charles and Lindy Vail Pierce, a third child, Stephen Morrison, on Feb. 11, 1952. To Arthur and Gloria Frost Hecker, a daughter, Valerie Lynne, on Feb. 28, 1952. To Stanley and Nancy Platt Sands, a second son, Alan Platt, on March 12, 1952. To Jack and Joan Alling Wuert, a daughter, Virginia Mitchell, on April 18, 1952.

Elsie Williams Kehaya, ex '46, writes from her charming, new, modern home in Stamford, Conn. that she and Ery have adopted a son, Ery W. Kehaya II, born June 7, 1952. Ery managed to return from a business trip to Germany in time to welcome the baby boy. Elsie has been supervising the building of their new home and taking brief trips to Florida. She has also seen Ev Bailey Farmer and Len and their two children who live nearby. Not far from Connecticut in Jackson Heights, N. Y., Pussy Wright Pratt and Charlie have had a busy winter. Pussy has been going to the Art Students League where she is in Wm. Zorach's Sculpture Class. She is also studying painting and piano. Charlie is with Walker and Poor, Architects in New York and has been doing outside designing at home.

Marie Ann Bloomer Patterson and Dave are in Evansville, Ind. where Dave is promotion manager of Servel, Inc. They have just presented Susan, 19 mos., and Davy, 4, with a black cocker spaniel. Marie Ann writes also that Connie Hopkins Hyslop and Pete and their three children are back in Denver, Colo. Lucy Block Heumann and Mike are now happily settled in their new home in Kentucky. Lucy Kate, their new daughter, is gaining rapidly and enjoying her new surroundings. Mike is working for General Electric there. Lucy hears frequently from Ellie Kemp Smith Nocentini and Renato who are enjoying life in Florence, Italy. According to Lucy's card, Dana Davies Magee and Curt have moved to Pittsburgh, Pa. now.

Barbie Smith Peck, whose husband's home is near Topper DeYoe, has managed to get together with Topper. Topper has also seen Dorris Lovett Morrill recently. A card received from Corky Cooder Berry brings us up-to-date on her. She has been married a year and a half and has a little blonde daughter 2½ months old. They live in Beacon, N. Y. where Bob works for the Texas Co. and where they have just purchased a new home. Corky writes that Louise Murphy Taylor and her family are living in Wilmington, Del., Bib Rubenoff Mayer and her little girl, 2, are in Rye, N. Y. and Betty Harris and her two daughters are in Washington, D. C.

Janet McDonough Mullen has written to thank all those who wrote notes and last year's reunion group who sent a gardenia plant via Bryna Samuels Spero when Jan was ill with polio. Jan writes that she is in about the same wheel chair-housekeeping class as Joey Crawford Howard. Jan's husband is working for the Electrical Specialties Company in Stamford, Conn. Their son, Jeff, will be two in August. At present Jan writes she is very attached to her one story, push-button home. Besides housework, gardening and the eternal exercises, she finds time to do publicity for the Girl Scouts. Seymour Smigrod, Deane Austin Smigrod's husband, very kindly jotted down news of Deane. Beside the arrival of the new baby, Deane manages to be Vice-President of Education for the Fresh Meadows Section of the National Council of Jewish Women. Lindy Vail Pierce described her hectic search for a house last December when Charles was due at a new clinic Jan. 1, 1952. The clinic in which Charles is the ophthalmologist takes work referred by the General Practitioners between Rutland, Vt. and Hanover, N. H. Lindy with Stephen, 4 mos., Linda, 4, and Christie, 1½, plus a boxer finds the Vermont country very interesting. A letter from Gloria Frost Hecker reported that she had heard from Elly St. John Arnold, who is in Menlo Park, Calif. awaiting Lem's return from Korea and from Aileen Moody that she plans another trip abroad this summer. Barbara Caplan Somers wrote that she is still as busy as ever with her two children and that Lygia de Freitas Johnson and Bruce and their children have moved to the west coast.

Carol Dowd, ex '50 to James Redden, June 14.

Born: To Edward and Polly Green Kemp, ex '50, a son, Kenneth, Sept. 8, 1951. To Robert and Lyn Malizia Schlegel, a son, Jeffrey, Jan. 19, 1952. To Junius and Marlis Bluman Powell, a daughter, Katherine Anne, March 8. To Robert and Barbara Earnest Cunningham, ex '50, a second son, Mark Alan, April 7.

Hartford's G. Fox's seems to be our happy hunting ground. Peggy Miller is an assistant buyer in their Gift Shop, and Gabrielle Nosworthy Ryder works in their publicity department, writing radio and television commercials. Gaby writes that she often sees "nifty fifties" throughout the store—where the elite meet, evidently. Also Popular is the University of Connecticut; both Janet Pinney and Virginia Hargrove toil in the library there.

From Chicago comes good news; Nancy

Puklin reports that she received her M. S. degree in Social Service from the University of Chicago on June 13 and Nancy declares that she is looking forward eagerly to being a "non-student" for a change. From Durham, N. C., comes word that Ann Pass works as a Medical Photographer at Duke Hospital there; Ann claims she loves working in hospitals.

From Massachusetts, much news. Ruth Nelson is assistant program director in the YWCA in Springfield, and is augmenting her work with a course in group work at Springfield College. Isabelle Oppenheim Gould and husband Ralph now live in Worcester, where Isabelle works at Clark University in the Geography Department; "scholarly but fun". Norma Dickinson is working in the Personnel Department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Barbara Harvey lives in Grand Rapids, Mich. now; she has a job with the Allied Restaurants. Naomi Harburg is now in Washington, D. C. where she secretaries for the O.P.S. Your correspondent recently spent a week visiting her there and is glad to report that Naomi is both busy and happy.

David and Sylvia Snitkin Kreiger came all the way up from Connecticut to Brenda Ginsburg's wedding, and Sylvia told me they are now living quite happily just outside of New Haven.

Bucky recently spent a weekend in nearby Portsmouth with Betsy Lindemann Rose, ex '51, who husband, Al, is an Ensign with the Coast Guard.

Annabel Beam is back in Cleveland after a vacation trip to Florida. Martha Harris has also returned from a recent trip east. Phyllis Hoffman spent her vacation at Cape Cod and in New Jersey. Lois Allen is visiting Ronnie Williams in Bermuda and will return as a crew member on one of the yachts which sailed in the Bermuda race. Sue Askin is on her way to Europe with a study tour led by Dr. Negley Tee-ters of Temple University and arranged through Study Abroad, Inc. She will be studying social problems in England, Scandinavia, and finish in Paris. Also in Europe this summer will be Elaine Fensterwall and Jannie Schaumann. Jannie sailed on June 25 with the Connecticut College tour.

Mona Gustafson received her M.A. in psychology from Boston University on June 2. And, an M.A. degree was received by Frances Nevins for her work in history at Radcliffe. Justy and Mary Cardle Lowe returned to Minneapolis after Justy finished Harvard Business School in June. Jim and Louise Stevens Wheatley are in Norfolk, Jim having finished OCS in Newport.

This summer Renate Aschaffenburg will be secretary, business manager, and chauffeur at Camp Alice Merritt, a Girl Scout camp in East Hartland, Conn. Dorie Cramer Olmstead is working with the New Jersey State Department of Labor and Industry. Norma Kochenour Kniseley is doing accounting work for an electronics firm in Watertown, Mass. After a year in New York, Lauralee Lutz has returned to New Haven and is working for a florist. Nancy Moss is a correspondent for the Curtis Publishing Co. in Philadelphia. Peggy Park is the secretary to the head of the program writing department at CBS in New York. In Pittsburgh Mary Martha Suckling is doing market survey work for an advertising agency. Nancy Vail Wilson is a file clerk for American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.

News of our ex-members: Kathryn Cilley is working at the Bursar's office of Connecticut College. Evenings and weekends this summer Kathryn will be a counsellor at the Junior Midshipmen camp in Quaker Hill. Joan Sandgren Bridges was married on March 10, 1950. They have a daughter, Abigail, born June 14, 1951. At present they are living in Monterey, Calif. where her husband (Lt. j.g.) is attending U. S. Postgraduate School. Fiorimonde von Wedekind is returning this summer to her native Switzerland. Maria "Luchi" Echeverria writes from Costa Rica: "You cannot imagine how busy am I. Working in the Social Work field, carrying out social research and studying. The important thing is I feel satisfied."
