1833

I'm sometimes sad, but know not why

Rev. Fitch W. Taylor

Wilhelm Iucho

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/sheetmusic

Recommended Citation
Taylor, Rev. Fitch W. and Iucho, Wilhelm, "I'm sometimes sad, but know not why" (1833). Historic Sheet Music Collection. 196.
https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/sheetmusic/196

This Score is brought to you for free and open access by the Greer Music Library at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Historic Sheet Music Collection by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.

The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.
Sometimes sad, but know not why,
And weep at evening hour; Then greatest murmurs whisper by, And stillness wakes her power. I'm sometimes sad when Cynthia's beams The fountains silver o'er; I wander then among the elms, Where shadows hide my tear, Where shadows hide my tear.

I'm sometimes sad, when friends that were, My sorrows wake anew; They once were

(I'm sometimes sad, &c.)
I'm sometimes sad, when friends that I love are here — but now they are Where weeping willows grow! I'm sometimes sad, when friends that be, Excite the tender sigh; For soon a long absence, they'll say! And so must I, must I, And so must I, must I.

I'm sometimes sad among the crowd, And in the circle ring; And often

I'm sometimes sad, &c. 5.)
when the laugh is loud, I go to bend the knee. I'm sometimes sad, and think I've none To shed a tear with me! And who for Welw^nder will mourn, When

'nneath the pendant tree? When 'nneath the pendant tree?

Sad world! where is thy soothing pow'r, At morn, or ves-per

(I'm sometimes sad, &c. &c.)
Espress: dolce, mild? Or when noontide tells the hour, The charm for sorrows child? The sad I roam, tho' drop the tear. 'Mid light, or shadows gloom, Ere long I'll lay me silent there, Low in the peaceful (Emphas: 8oice.

Tomb, Low in the peaceful Tomb.

(T'm sometimes sad, &c. &c.)