Lyric by EDNA STANTON WHALEY
Music by F. H. BISHOP

Moderately slow

When the sky in the East flames crim-son and gold In the light of the morn-ing sun, When in clear lift-ing voice sweet song birds re-joice, Hid-ding wel-come to day just be-gun; Then I pass on my way to the la-bor of day, And your smile as we part thrills me through,— For it and with much expression short-ens the day till the light fades a-way, And eve-ning brings rest and you,— And

There's A Long, Long Trail

1.
Nights are growing very lonely,
Days are very long;
I'm a growing weary only
List'ning for your song.
Old remembrances are thronging
Thro' my memory,
Till it seems the world is full of dreams
Just to call you back to me.

Chorus
There's a long, long trail a-winding
Into the land of my dreams,
Where the nightingales are singing
And a white moon beams:
There's a long, long night of waiting
Until my dreams all come true;
Till the day when I'll be going down
That long, long trail with you.

2.
All night long I hear you calling,
Calling sweet and low;
Seem to hear your footsteps falling,
Ev'rywhere I go.
Tho' the road between us stretches
Many a weary mile
I forget that you're not with me yet
When I think I see you smile.

Listening for your song. Old recollections are Everywhere I go. Tho' the road between us

Thronging stretches Many a weary mile, Till it seems the world is Thro' my memory. I forget that you're not full of dreams Just to call you back to me. When I think I see you smile.

REFRAIN Evenly with much expression

There's a long, long trail winding into the land of my dreams, Where the nightingales are singing And a white moon beams: There's a long, long night of waiting Until my dreams all come true; Till the day when I'll be going down That long, long trail with you. There's a you.
